Laws Case Slated For Hearing Today

KLAN TERRORISM, POLICE INACTION TO BE BARED AT OLYMPIC RALLY FRIDAY

Nation Waits Ruling On Restrictive Covenants

Today is a crucial period on the homefront of race relations as the California Supreme Court convenes at 10 o'clock this morning (Thursday), in the State Building, to rule on a dozen restrictive covenant cases appealed from the lower courts. Foremost among these cases is that of the Henry Laws family.

The decisions of the court, which are expected to deal with the constitutionality of race restrictions as well as the technical questions of law, will have nationwide importance in the fight to outlaw racial residential restrictions.

Slated first on the calendar is the celebrated case of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laws, who with their daughter, Pauletta Fears, spent a week in jail for the unbelievable crime of living in their own home on East 92nd st.

The Laws were ordered to vacate their home over two years ago. They moved out but were urged to return by the Home Protective Association, an organization created for the specific purpose of defending the Laws family. When the ruling handed down by Superior Court Judge Allen Ashburn (a Gov. Warren appointee) upheld the decision of the lower court, the Laws

Charges White Man Assaulted, Then Beat Her

Police are holding John J. Matchinoff, white, for criminal assault committed upon the person of Miss Nixie Hazel Barnett, 934½ Euclid ave.

Miss Barnett told police that Matchinoff forced her into a hotel at 1203 E. 7th st. on Friday night, where he assaulted her after threatening to kill her if she resisted. He then sadistically beat her about the head and face.

She sustained lacerations about the head, in which five stitches were taken, and was treated for a badly blackened eye.

THE SIDEWALK

By c. a. b.

WELL, even as early as this, I have been coerced and threatened if I failed to turn my support to the Hon. Frederick M. Roberts for Congress, something terrible would happen to me.

I don't think there is anyone in this section of the city better acquainted with Mr. Roberts' record as a stateman than I. And I am proud to state that I was right out in front when he first ran for and was elected to the California State Assembly on the Republican ticket.

The Republican Party could have sent Frederick M. Roberts head-on to the Congress of the United States at the end of his 16 years in the Assembly.

But did it? No.

There was always a money shortage.

Now, brother ministers and all ye brethren, I want you to think with me for a spell.

Why are the Republicans bent on sending my friend and fellow raceman to Congress now- Get down to the earth, put your ears to the grass roots, 'cause I am going to tell you.

Down there in Washington, and for the first time, there is a little woman called Helen Gahagan Douglas who is not afraid to speak her piece before the Congress in behalf of Negroes and all minorities.

CONGRESSWOMAN Douglas is serving her first term as the 14th Congressional District's representative from Los Angeles, California, and her record as such is outstanding when compared with others in the same type of service.

Mrs. Douglas truly is considered by the Republicans and by such Democrats as Rankin, Bilbo, Eastland, et al in that classification, as a progressive.

Be that as it may, Helen Gahagan Douglas has fought for the defeat of the poll tax, for the establishment of a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee, defeat of the Case Bill, retention of the OPA, Labor's rights to bargain, and all other worthwhile bills that would realize the ideals of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Perhaps one of Mrs. Douglas' shinning accomplishments, as far as the Negro people are concerned, was her research work on the Negro soldier in World War II. The record of the Negro as a soldier, and his ability as a fighter loyal to his government but bitter in his resentment of the domestic foes of that government, was scientifically recorded by the 14th District Congresswoman in such fashion that it elicited the applause from her Congressional opponents and even from those who despise the sort of democracy subscribed to and demanded by Helen Gahagan Douglas.

Mrs. Douglas has fulfilled a hope which stretches across many years, that of naming a young Negro trainee to West Point. David Carlyle, A-1 student of the Los Angeles Public School System, will leave for Annapolis soon.

HELEN DOUGLAS is a good representative. Is this then the reason why the Republicans are determined to use a member of the minority, which she has so valiantly fought for and defended, to oppose her? This is typical republican chicanery. They believe that Negroes will remain loyal to the race and vote for Frederick Roberts, thereby splitting the vote and possibly causing the defeat of Helen Douglas.

But I say this to all Negro voters. What we need is more Helen Douglases in Congress.

My faith in the republican party would be renewed if it would use the funds, which it is now using to defeat Helen Douglas, to recall red-baiting Jack Tenney from the State Senate.

I am satisfied that the intent and purpose of the republican party in supporting the candidacy of Frederick Roberts, is not the democratic one it seems to be. It is not as interested in upholding the principles of democracy by including all people in politic as it is in defeating one of the most progressive candidates in Congress.

I am certain that the republican party is not establishing a precedent whereby a representative from a given district will represent the majority of the people in that district, but that it, like the carpet-baggers, is using a Negro candidate to cloud the issues and confuse the Negro people.

Frantic Mother Asks Public To Help Locate Missing Son

MISSING . . . JOSEPH WESLEY COLE

A frantic mother was still trying to locate her missing son as the California EAGLE went to press Wednesday night. Joseph Wesley Cole, 14 year old son of Mrs. Irma Cooper and stepson of Cyrus B. Cooper, residing at 2046 West 31st street, has been missing since Saturday, June 1.

The Cole youth left home on that Saturday afternoon to visit a barber for a haircut. At 9 p.m. that night he called his mother by phone and told her that he was on the eastside. Mrs. Cooper said that she could distinctly hear a man's voice directing the boy how to answer. When Mrs. Cooper asked her son to tell her definitely where he was, the boy replied that he was at the Lincoln theatre. When she attempted to question him further

Dr. Somerville Acquitted of Drunk Driving

Dr. John A. Somerville, prominent churchman and dentist who on April 22 was arrested at the intersection of Avalon and Vernon ave. on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was acquitted this week by Superior Court Judge Walter S. Gates.

Cross-examination of the two victims of the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Kyle of 2717 Dalton Ave. by Attorney Charles H. Matthews, revealed the fact that they were walking against the signal.

Defense witnesses produced by Attorney Matthews, representing Dr. Somerville, in the person of John L. Thompson of 3629 South Arlington, Edward W. Walker of 717 North Alameda, and Monroe Bonner of 803 East Vernon Ave., testified that Dr. Somerville drove his car into the intersection with the green signal and that he was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the time of the accident.

Warns Merchants of Counterfeit Bills

Counterfeit $50 bills are being circulated in the Los Angeles area and money changers this week were warned by Art Grube, head of the U. S. secret service here, to examine carefully all bank notes of the $50 denomination before accepting them.

Truman Vetoes Case Bill; Plugs Own Measure

WASHINGTON—President Truman finally vetoed the Case anti-labor bill on Tuesday maintaining that the measure "would not lessen but would promote industrial strife."

Truman, however, renewed his plea to congress to approve his own pet anti-labor measure, which empowers the President to proclaim a national emergency any time a work stoppage occurs in any government seized plant, mine or facility. As first proposed by the President, the bill empowered him to draft strikers. That clause has been defeated, however, by the senate.

Meantime, the senate which has been only less vociferous than the house for legislation against workers striking for higher wages, this week had passed and sent to the house legislation boosting the pay of members of congress to $15,000 yearly, a $5000 annual hike.

High Court to Pass on Legality of Louisiana Youth's '2nd Execution'

WASHINGTON—The U. S. supreme court yesterday admitted error and said it will rule whether Willie Francis, 18-year-old Louisiana youth, should be sent to the electric chair a second time.

A court official admitted to reporters and error had been made in the listing of the court's order in the case earlier this week. That order said the petition filed on behalf of Francis had been denied.

Actually the court will hear argument in the new term next October on the plea of Francis that he should not be placed in jeopardy of his life a second time for the same offense. The plea said this would be cruel and unusual punishment.

The youth was strapped in an electric chair last month, and the current turned on, but he escaped death through mechanical failure.

Calls On U. S. To Stop Meddling In Haiti Affairs

Augustus Hawkins Re-Elected; Helen G. Douglas Faces Run-Off; Many Hot Contests Shaping Up

On the basis of final primary election returns, the November finals will see a number of hot contests in Los Angeles county. The final count in the June 4 primaries, concluded early this week, shows the following picture, in addition to the virtual re-election of Gov. Earl Warren, who caputured both Republican and Democratic nominations.

One of the hottest contests is shaping up between Will Rogers Jr., who defeated Ellis Patterson for the Democratic nomination, and the incumbent Republican, Senator William Knowland.

CIO endorsed candidates for state assembly won on both tickets in nine districts, lost on both tickets in eight districts and won the Democratic nomination in ten districts.

Winning on both tickets and virtually re-elected were Lester McMillan, Augustus Hawkins, Glen Anderson, Elwyn Bennett, Vernon Kilpatrick, Ernest Debs,

Ex-Champ Jack Johnson Dies in Auto Accident

RALEIGH, N. C.—A career that flared and dimmed across the nation for scores of years ended at the turn of a dangerous curve near Franklinton Monday afternoon, when Jack Johnson, first Negro to hold the world's heavyweight boxing title, was killed in an automobile accident.

Johnson was driving and apparently lost control of the car while trying to negotiate a curve and the car crashed into a telephone pole, according to Fred L. Scott, the companion of the ex-champion, who was accompanying Johnson to New York from Texas. Dr. W. D. Allison of St. Agnes Hospital here said that Johnson, who was 68 years old, died of internal injuries and shock at 6:10 p.m. Scott was treated for minor injuries and released from the hospital. Johnson had recently concluded a person-

Citizens Invited to Opening of New Dist. Health Center Sunday

Projects like the Southeast District Health Center, at 4920 Avalon blvd., just don't spring up out of thin air. They start first with a dream. Then come the heartaches, the headaches, the hard work and the sacrifice, with enough discouragement and disappointments to test the metle of anyone.

Dr. Ruth Temple, in her unselfish quest to raise the health standards of her people, was the guiding light for this and many other projects. Through the years many other people, who are interested in the welfare of others less fortunate than they, have contributed their time and money to this project.

Along with Dr. Temple, will be remembered Dr. Parrish, civic health leader, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Editor-Publisher of the California EAGLE, Mrs. Betty Hill and many others, who see at last the fulfillment of a dream in this project.

The new southeast district health center at 4920 Avalon blvd. will be officially opened for public inspection on Sunday, June 16, 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., with

Father Dunne, R. Nixon, Lena Horne To Speak

Father George Dunne of Loyala university, outstanding fighter for democratic liberitics, wil expose Ku Klux Klan terrorism in Los Angeles when he speaks before a gigantic 'Stop the Klan' mass rally in Olympic auditorium, 1801 S. Grand ave., Friday, June 14, at 8 p.m. sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy.

The meeting, which will be chaired by Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, will be held in protest of the Klan revival and "failure of city and county authorities to investigate Klan terror incidents and prosecute those responsible," according to William R. Bidner, executive director of the Mobilization.

More than 12,000 persons are expected to attend the mammoth rally. Among prominent speakers will be Russell Nixon, former acting director of Cartel Investigation with U. S. Military Government in Germany. Nixon led in exposing German controls in the I. G. Farben industry in Spain and was appointed by General Eisenhower as American member of the four-power conference on German external property assets.

Also on the program will be William Nutter, chairman of the Pacific Electric Division of the Railroad Brotherhoods; Dr. Max Nussbaum, regional president of the American Jewish Congress and Rabbi of Temple Israel in Hollywood which was desecrated by Klan vandals, and actress Lena Horne.

Heading the entertainment bill wil be the Slim Gaillard trio, famous for its now classic rendition of "Cement Mixer" and a dramatic sketch featuring Hollywood celebrities. Admission will be 60 cents.

William Bidner, who has been prominent in urging community-wide action against the Klan, pointed toward the "casual" attitude taken by detectives toward a Klan incident committed June 6 as "characteristic of police philosophy in regard to 13 terror acts including cross burnings, a brutal beating, destruction of property and threats to lives and homes which have occurred since May 12."

Woman Attorney Wins Divorce

ATTORNEY WILLIAMS

Attorney Martha Malone Williams, prominent in legal and social circles was granted a divorce from her husband, Rev. Percy Williams, by Judge George A. Dockweiler, last Wednesday, in Department 33, of the superior court.

Attorney Williams, stunningly attired in a brown ensemble, trimmed in ermine, in response to questions by her attorney, Earl C. Broady, told the court that there was an irresconciliable marital conflict due to the nature of their respective professions. Her husband, assistant pastor of one of Los Angeles' largest churches, was compeled to remain away from home during

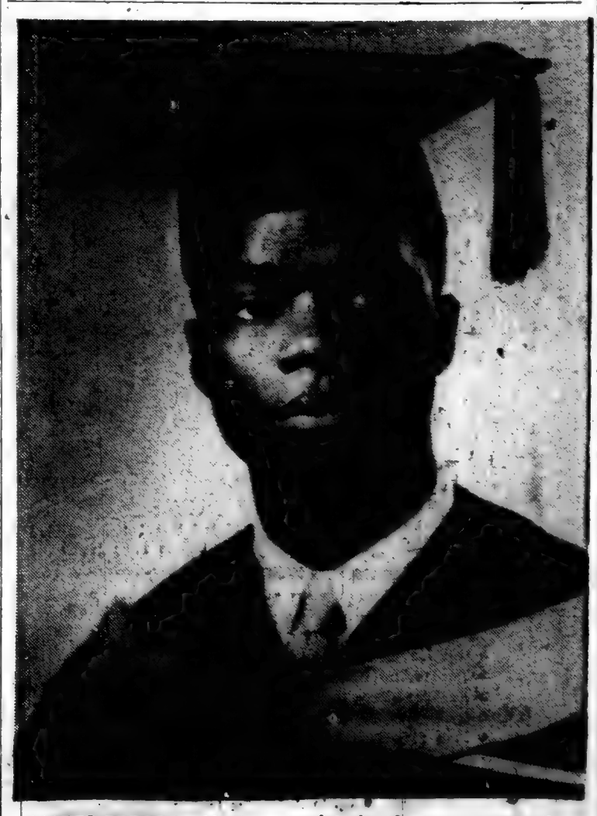
White Draftees Leave Bus As Jim Crow Goes

SUFFOLK, Va.—In the frist hostile reaction to the U. S. supreme court's ruling against racial segregation on interstate buses, 23 white Nansemond county draftees left a Greyhound bus here, complaining that Negroes occupied half of the available seats and refused to double up in the rear of the bus.

The bus was one bound for Washington from Norfolk. The draftees were headed for Richmond for induction.

To conform with the high court's ruling that a state cannot require segregation on interstate buses, the interstate lines have abolished the Jim Crow system from buses crossing state lines.



MAKES RECORD—Having completed a four-year course in less than two and one-half years, Jules Jackson-Haywood, pianist, will receive the B. He is director of music at St. Paul Baptist church of which Rev. John M. Branham is minister.

UN Silent on Appeal by Negro Group It Probe Jimcrow Oppression

NEW YORK—Trygve Lie, director general of the United Nations security council, this week refused to say what action, if any, the council will take on the appeal of the tenth annual convention of the National Negro Congress, meeting in Detroit, Mich., to submit the denial of constitutional rights to 13,000,000 American Negroes to the international tribunal.

The NNC move creates the first test of that clause of the UN charter which invites minorities to place problems of racial discrimination before the body. It also for the first time in the long history of Negro oppression in the United States takes the issue out of the domestic area and into the international arena.

The petition contains a supporting document compiled by Dr. Herbert Aptheker, Ph. D. Columbia, member of the American Historical Society, author of Negro Slave Revolts in the U. S. and many other books on the Negro, in which the facts of Jim Crow oppression are stated and documented.

Copies of the petition were also sent to President Truman at the White House and to Edward Stettinius, permanent U. S. delegate to the United Nations. A letter to Truman stated, in part:

"The Negro people had hoped that out of the war there would come a extension of democratic rights and liberties so heroically fought for by all oppressed peoples.

"Your administration, however, has reversed the democratic program of the Roosevelt government, both internally, and in relation to foreign policy. Great burdens have been forced upon the shoulders of the Negro people.

"Negro citizens find the present conditions intolerable, and are therefore, presenting their appeal to the highest court of mankind—the United Nations."

Named Goodwill Lecturer By Friends Society

PHILADELPHIA — Dr. Herman G. Canady, head of the psychology department of West Virginia State college, has been appointed a visiting lecturer to schools and colleges by the American Friends Service Committee, in line with the committee's policy of presenting Negro scholars, who are experts in their fields of learning, as teachers and lecturers before students of so-called white schools and colleges.

Dr. Canady is scheduled to visit schools and colleges in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware between Oct. 1 and Jan. 31, according to Mrs. Curtis Bok, chairman of the Friends Race Relations Committee. He will spend a week or more at each school, lecturing to classes and chapel groups.

Dr. Canady holds a bachelor of arts, master of arts and doctor of philosophy degree from Northwestern university, and has been head of the psychology dept. of West Virginia State college, in Institute, W. Va., since 1928. He was recently selected to contribute chapters to two books, Psychology for the Armed Services, published by the Infantry Journal in Washington, D. C., in 1945, and Twentieth Century Psychology, published by Philosophical Library in New York this year.

Court Holds Red Cap In Crap Game Killing

Red Cap Willis Moore, who lives at 3607 Halldale St., has been held to answer by a coroners' jury for the crap game killing of Robert Gerald Lynch.

Walter L. Gordon, Jr., attorney for Moore, declared following the inquest that the testimony clearly showed that his client shot in self-defense.

Witnesses stated that the victim, after a heated argument over "quitting the dice game while he was winning," pulled a knife on Moore, who then fired a shot which killed Lynch.

Plan Observance of 71st Birthday of Mary McLeod Bethune

WASHINGTON—The 71st birthday of Mary McLeod Bethune, July 10, will be observed by the National Council of Negro Women, of which she is founder and president, as Fund Raising for its national headquarters.

A Washington committee, representing a cross section of community life is being formed to plan the drive in this city. Directives have been sent to all councils to plan similar celebrations.

Man Victim of Mystery Shot

Early Sunday evening amidst throngs of passersby, Cornelius Lee, 4509 Compton Ave., was shot in the back, in what proved to be the most mysterious shooting of the year.

Lee, who was walking south on the eastside of Central ave., heard a shot and felt his arm go numb as he neared 20th st. He turned quickly, but saw no one who could have shot him, and found no one who appeared to have heard the shot.

He then stopped an unknown passerby who took him to the Georgia st. Receiving Hospital where police surgeons removed the bullet which entered low in Lee's back, ranged upward to the top of his shoulder and lodged under the skin.

Since Lee could give police officers who investigated the shooting no description or facts and since no one apparently saw or heard the shot, the shooting remains a complete mystery.

Phil Regan, Monogram star, opens at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, for a three-week singing engagement.

NACGN Urges Federal Aid in Training Nurses, Abolition Of Jimcrow Hospital Setups

NEW YORK—Concentrated effort in behalf of federal aid to nursing education, complete integration of Negroes in all levels of the nursing field, and legislation to control the education and licensing of practicing nurses are the principal points in the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses' program for the immediate future.

This was announced by Mrs. Mabel K. Staupers, NACGN executive secretary on her return from the final regional conference of the Association held recently in Philadelphia.

Strong resolutions suporting these aims were adopted at each of the three biennial regional conferences held by the Association during the past six weeks. Two weeks before the Northeastern regional meeting in Philadelphia, the North Central region convened in Cleveland, Ohio. The Southernwestern region meeting took place in Los Angeles in April.

The NACGN program also includes activities supporting the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the National Council of Negro Women, the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, and the campaign for a permanent FEPC. Close cooperation, in the interest of the Negro nurse, will also be maintained by NACGN with the National Organization, and the American Nurses Association.

Publisher, Editor Jailed for Court Contempt in Terror Drive Against Ark. Negroes

NEW YORK—Freedom of the press in Little Rock, Arkansas, doesn't include the right to criticize the Free Enterprise Association, according to a recent verdict of the court there.

L. Christopher Bates, publisher of the local Negro newspaper, the Arkansas State Press, and Mrs. Bates, who is editor, are both under jail sentence on contempt charges for editorially criticizing—ten days after the trial—the conviction of members of the CIO Food and Tobacco Workers union by a hand-picked jury. The jury commissioner who named the jury to try the union members is Mark Valentine, vice-president of the Free Enterprise Association. The law under which the FTA strikers face long prison terms is the so-called Anti-Violence Law, which was sponsored by Pappy O'Daniel and the Free Enterprise Association, successor to the notorious Christian-American Association.

(The U. S. Supreme court last week upheld the right of newspapers to criticize court decisions in unanimously reversing a contempt conviction against the Miami (Fla.) Herald and its associate editor.—Editor.)

Behind the frame-ups of Mr. and Mrs. Bates is a story of terror against the Negro workers at the Southern Cotton Oil Co. prior to the FTA strike, according to Laurent Frantz, southern field director of the Civil Rights Congress who is in Little Rock investigating the cases. Conviction of Mr. and Mrs. Bates, as well as those of the strikers, are being appealed to the Arkansas State Supreme court.

An appeal for contributions to support the work of the local defense committee and to aid in a nationwide campaign for freeing the defendants and bringing the murderers to justice is made by Civil Rights Congress officials. Contributions should be sent to 205 East 42nd St., New York 17, N. Y.

Urge U. S. Name Negro to the UN

President Truman has been urged this week to appoint a duly qualified Negro to the American delegation to the United Nations to fill the seat made vacant by the resignation of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. The recommendation was continued in separate communications to the president from the Elks Civil Liberties League, Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., and the Community Political Action, Adolphus B. Clay, president.

The two organizations are communicating with other groups, local and national, requesting that they join them in the request.

2 Men Held In Kidnap Attempt

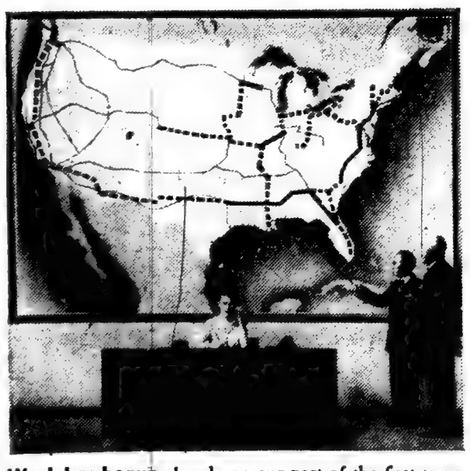
John Byron Lucas, 43, and Otis Butler, 34, both of 1616 East 108th st., this week were arrested by sheriff's deputies of the Firestone Substation on suspicion of the asserted kidnaping of Mrs. Cecelia Kennedy, 38 year old white matron of 5870¼ Holmes ave.

Mrs. Kennedy told officers she and her husband, Lawrence, a cripple, were walking home and, just south of Slauson ave., she was pulled toward a car by one of two men. She said her screams, and the fact her husband tried to fight off the men, frightened them and they drove away.

Kennedy took the license number of the car and later Lucas and Butler were arrested.

This pair of wires carries 480 long distance calls simultaneously

Small copper wires in copper tubes about the size of a pencil... yet nearly five hundred people can talk over them at the same time. They are units of the famous coaxial cable, developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories to help speed your calls up and down the Pacific Coast and across the country.



Work has begun already on our part of the first transcontinental coaxial cable along the route shown (dotted line). It will be an eight-tube cable used for long distance calls and television transmission. Actually, this project is only part of our plans to extend and speed long distance service.

Many other improvements are on the way. For it is our purpose in our $180,000,000 five-year expansion program to provide an ever-widening, ever-improving telephone service . . . so that the telephone steadily becomes more valuable and useful to every user.

Every day we seek to make telephone service even better than it has ever been before

Citizens Invited to Opening of New District Health Center Sunday

members of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority serving as a reception committee, according to an announcement issued by Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Uhl said, "The Los Angeles city health department will take an important step forward when the clinic opens its doors. We have been awaiting the event for a long time. It is to be hoped that the near future will find similar centers under construction in other parts of our city."

The new structure, built at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars, is a joint project of the Federal Works Agency and the city of Los Angeles. The architecture provides for plenty of sunlight and air, and it is designed to provide a large clinical service with easy efficiency. Among the many notable features of the building are soundproof ceilings, a play-yard for youngsters, and a lecture room well adapted for health lectures and movies. The liberal use of attractive pastel colors and light birch paneling will make the clinic a pleasant place for those who seek medical attention.

OPENING SUNDAY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION—The new southeast district health center at 4920 Avalon Blvd. will welcome visitors Sunday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The structure, built at a cost of $250,000, is a joint project of the Federal Works Agency and the city of Los Angeles. The center will offer five basic services: (1) maternity care, examination and consultation; (2) maintenance of child health; (3) guidance and instruction in nutrition; (4) consultation, diagnosis and treatment in venereal diseases cases; (5) diagnosis service and pneumothorax treatment in TB cases. Other services include vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria.

early evenings hours. Attorney Williams was required to remain away from home during the entire day due to her very large clientele as a practicing attorney. She stated on the witness stand that the lack of companionship of her husband caused her to become extremely nervous and upset, and constituted mental cruelty.

Attorney Williams is nationally known as a brilliant lawyer and has gained unqualified recognition as a legal scholar. Rev. Williams is a product of local schools and has just finished a national tour in furtherance of a Negro Youth Movement program. Neither party expressed plans for the immediate future except to state their intention of pursuing their respective professions.

The large property holdings of the parties were divided by a property settlement agreement effectuated out of court.

were given a period of 30 days in which to move. Unable to comply with the ruling they were tossed in jail where they remained one week until released on a writ of habeaus corpus.

It is believed that the court will be packed as sympathetic citizens throughout Los Angeles turn-out to demonstrate to the Laws and other victims of race restrictive covenants.

Involved is also an appeal by covenanters from the recent decision in which Superior Judge Thurmond Clarke held that restrictions to bar Negroes from use of their homes in the West Adams Heights area are unconstitutional. Among the defendants named in the latter action were Hattie McDaniel, Ethel Waters and Louise Beavers, stage and screen stars.

Also filed with the supreme court was a petition in behalf of Shinobu Saito, a Nisei serving in the U. S. Army, to nullify an injunction through which Superior Judge Henry M. Willis denied him use of his home at 2947 Dalton ave., which he recently purchased. The injunction was granted on the petition of other property owners who contended that the district is restricted to Caucasions, with all other Americans excluded.

Haitian republic, especially in connection with the presidential elections to be held in July or August this year.

In a letter to Secretary of State Byrnes, the union charged that American nationals and nationals of other countries residing in Haiti had attempted to influence the outcome of the legislative elections held on Sunday, May 12, with a view to dictating the outcome of the presidential elections.

The communication, signed by Henri C. Rosemond and Maurice Bernier, co-chairman of the union, stressed Haiti's acceptance of the Good Neighbor Policy and expressed the hope that the U.S. will respect the spirit of the Good Neighbor Policy by permitting the Haitian people to establish a stable government by democratic means.

Girl's Screams Foil Attacker

Helen B. Brown of 1227 E. 58th st. was beaten and dragged into an alley Sunday night by an unidentified man who attempted to criminally assault her.

Miss Brown told police that the man followed her until she neared an alley off Central ave. and 48th st., where he came abreast of her and propositioned her.

When Miss Brown refused, her assailant struck her with his fists and dragged her into the alley where he attempted to rape her. Her screams attracted neighbors who came out, whereupon the attacker fled.

Miss Brown described her attacker as 24 years of age, approximately 6 feet in height, weighing possibly 155 pounds, slenderly built with a dark complexion and wearing a light gray suit and a gray hat.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

That Case Bill Again

President Harry S. Truman, in his 5,000 word veto message, found 255 sympathetic cats in the House, Tuesday, June 11, 1946.

Among those voting to uphold the President's veto of the vicious Case Bill were: Republican Gordon McDonough of Hollywood and the following Democrats:

Helen Gahagan Douglas, of Los Angeles, Clyde Doyle of Long Beach, Ned R. Healy of Los Angeles, Chet Holifield of Montebello, El V. Izac of San Diego, Cecil R. King of San Pedro, George E. Outland of Santa Barbara, Ellis E. Patterson of Beverly Hills and Jerry Voorhis of San Dimas.

Democrat Harry Sheppard of Yucaipa was absent.

But there were those California Representatives who wanted to see this notorious bill become a law by overriding the president's veto. Here they are:

Republicans Carl Hinshaw of Pasadena and John Phillips of Banning voted to pass the bill over the veto.

The Case Bill would have made it a crime to use proper and available means to improve workers conditions. It was not a crime for these men to fight to preserve the union of our forty-eight states, to win the war against Hitler and Mussolini, but it becomes a crime punishable by law for these same fighters and workers to ask for enough of the profit they earn to live decently, and make it possible for their families to be comfortable and secure.

Striking for higher wages is the only weapon the workingman has yet been able to use successfully to eradicate the slavery imposed upon him by his capitalistic seducers.

The use of the strike method to up wages is not new. In 1887 when the railroads started a series of 10% wage cuts in the midst of a four year depression, the trainmen struck. All the major railroad workers joined in this strike.

The state militia was called out in key centers, but they joined the strikers who were ably backed by their communities. Hayes, who was president at the time, finally broke the strike with Federal troops. But from that time on a tremendous closing of labor ranks, for solidarity, has gone forward. After World War I, there were 1,800,000 men in the railroad industry alone who were organized. Four big brotherhoods—engineers, firemen, conductors, and trainmen—struck on September 4, 1916, for the eight-hour day, and won this fight. A year later Congress passed the Adamson eight-hour day law.

The transportation act of 1920 paved the way for the abolishment of the Union's national agreement for wage cuts, and the establishment of piece work.

In 1922 there were 400,000 shopmen who struck when the Federal railway labor board sustained the roads in wage cuts. In this case the railway labor act of 1926 successfully prevented strikes. This was done under Republican President Harding's admisistration.

Protected by this act the railroads violated contract right and left, ordered arbitrary speedups, wage cuts, rate changes, and reclassifications. Every method of intimidation and bribery against the workers was used. There were dismissals and blacklistisg against those who wanted to organize bonafide labor unions.

Since before the war there has been no wage increase for railroad workers.

The people know what has gone before and its about time President Truman and the Congress realize that these workers are neither asleep nor dumb. With the President taking over the railroads, and the threatened passage of the Case Bill the workers would be subjected to their 1922 experience, and this must not happen.

Railroad workers expect protection, not further intimidation from the President and Congress. The workers' demands for a higher wage and better working conditions are not unreasosable, and in their fight should receive this unstinted support of the people in all the communities.

This appeal is made especially to the Negro workers. Negroes who have done the work of brakemen with porters' ratings should not only be sympathetic watchers, but also hard fighters for the right of labor to organize all races, creeds, and colors in all parts of the country. For the right to strike, if necessary, for wages that will enable them to live decently, to educate their children, to be well-fed, well-clothed, well-housed as becomes respectable and respected American citizens.

An Indictment of American Hypocrisy

On June 1, 1946, the National Negro Congress, meeting in Detroit, petitioned, not the Congress of the United States, not the President of the most powerful nation in the world, but the United Nations itself for "relief" from oppression of 13,000,000 citizens of the United States of America.

Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations will read the petition, and decide whether the United Nations Economic and Social Council, charged with promoting "respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all" may "make suitable arrangements for consultation with non-governmental organizations" such as the Negro Congress.

What an indictment of American hypocrisy! For more than a century and a half we have been mouthing the sentence, "All men are created equal." That was a vital part of the declaration which made us a free nation. Yet America as a whole has done little or nothing to make those words come true.

Our representatives in Congress, whom we the people elect, have been trying to scare us about what Russia is doing. John Foster Dulles, back from Paris attacks the Russian brand of peace as "a threat to freedoms which constitute our most cherished heritage and which we have fought to defend wherever they seem in jeopardy."

He forgot to mention the Negro men who fought—and died—to defend those freedoms, with the hope that they, too, might share them after peace was declared, as they had shared the dangers of the battlefield with their white comrades. Few of our representatives remember that. Those who have remembered, and who have fought and are fighting that Negroes may have the same opportunities as their white brothers in peace as they had the priyilege of sharing dangers in war, have been labeled "Reds" and are stignatized as untrue to their government.

No, it will be interesting to the world at large to hear some of the atrocities committed in this land of the free and home of the brave against a minority group which has given unstintedly to our country in time of danger, which has served loyally and hopefully in time of peace. But which now has grown tired of mere words and promises, and is turning as a last resort to a world orgnaization for justice from its own country.

Will the faces of James Byrnes, of Vandenberg, of the others on the American delegation to the UN be red when this indictment of American hypocrisy is read for all the world to hear?

The Bosses Call It Treason

The maritime workers who run the ships and man the docks of America have aroused the cry of "treason" in the ranks of their enemies.

It seems that these unions have demanded an end to the slave-like 56-hour work week on the ships, for example.

Even worse, they have asked for a 22 to 35-cent-an-hour pay increase to help keep their diets from dropping down to semi-starvation levels.

But even worse than these two crimes, the maritime workers asked their fellow-unionists in other countries to refuse to handle "hot cargo" on scab ships.

Fury has swept the ranks of the shipowners, the press and the Government.

President Truman has ordered the Navy and Coast Guard to stand ready to break the strike. He has not ordered the shipowners to let go a little of their hoarded profits, or to relent on the ship work schedules.

It seems that it is all right for Wall Street bankers to unite with their fellow-crooks in Germany in secret trade deals. But it is "treason" for America's workers to ask for decent wages. It is "treason" for them to ask the cooperation of other workers in other countries.

The maritime unions have made every effort to settle by negotiation. The owners, strong with the knowledge that the Navy is alerted to protect their profits, refuse to budge.

Is it not time for the Government to put the heat on THEM?

No falsehoods about the "political" nature of this strike can obscure the issue—give the maritime workers wage increases and reduce their intolerable work loads.—The Worker.

Death and Destruction Patiently Waiting!

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

THE CHANGING SCENE IN INDIA

The momentous and epoch-making events that are taking place in India conspire to bring the Indian people into line with the most advanced nations of the world and to inspire them with dynamic ideas and inspirations of nationality and freedom.

The old superstitions and antiquated traditions which have hung upon the minds and hearts of the Indian people like a funeral pall for centuries are shattered beyond repair, and there is not the slightest suspicion that India and her people will ever in the future slither back into indifference and indolence. The hermetically-sealed existence which made Hindus a laughing-stock of the nations and led them into the bondage of alien races and civilizations is now a thing of the past. The younger generations of Indians who are free from the absurdities of primitive ways of thinking and doing things, who are not hedged about with silly notions of religious dogma and creed, and who look things squarely in the face, are determined to extriiate their country from those fatal weaknesses and disabilities which are responsible for the present impasse in Indian politics.

The most hopeful sign in the present Indian turmoil is undoubtedly the recent declaration of the members of the Muslim League regarding its attitude towards the thorny question of Hindu-Muslim unity and cooperation. The League politicians, after cool deliberations at New Dehli, have issued a remarkable manifesto defining their notions of political progress and willingness to come to terms with the Hindus on the issue of so-called Pakistan.

It is now agreed on the part of intransigient Muslims to cooperate in drafting a national constitution that will safeguard the rights of all minorities and distribute the burdens and blessing of the national government on a basis of equity and justice. The idea of Pakistan is relegated to the background and is no longer a potential lava to the peace and security of India and the world. The wild threats with which Jinnah tried to cow the Hindu community into the dissolution of Indian geographical unity are not realized. The fighting castes within the Hindu community such as the Sikhs, Maharattas, and the Rajpts have defeated the wicked aims and designs of the Muslim League by arousing a nationalistic spirit in the Hindu masses and by appealing to the ancient traditions of Hindu history and patriotism. There is an inherent spiritual unity of the Hindu race which is wholly indestructible and is capable of withstanding the shocks of war and revolution. A thousand years of alien subjection has utterly failed to cripple Hindu national life in its essentials, and a few upstarts like Jinnah can hardly expect to injure the continuity of Hindu history by wild flights of declamation and oratory. Kingdoms and empires will pass away, but the Hindu race and civilization will never pass away.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Well, by all accounts of our primary elections, it looks as if we'd really have to roll up our sleeves and go to work. And so many of us had hoped to take a vacation "after the election!" That old saying, "There's no rest for the wicked," should be changed to read, "There's no rest for those who are fighting the wicked."

There's a rumor afloat that there may be an outlet for escape so far as the state senatorship is concerned. We may not have to submit to having Jack Tenny forced down our throats. But just exactly what that loophole of escape is, I can't say at present. Anyway we'll have to work and work hard. Not only for the coming November election, but for many elections to come.

How?

Well, when Germany was crushed to earth by Napoleon she began her slow upward climb back to a place in the sun by building upon a foundation made strong through education. German children, even in their homes, were taught the superiority of the German race. It used to be a common belief, you know, that German universities were the best in the world and anyone who held a diploma from Jena, Heidelberg, Berlin, or any of the other great German universities could move in the topmost ranks of educational circles anywhere.

The Kaiser simply built upon that tradition fo rthe first world holacaust. Hitler, following in footsteps, made an even more intensified effort which brought about the second world war.

"The shrewd and persistent use of propaganda may make even Heaven sem like hell," declared Hitler in Mein Kampf.

Progaganda is but an intensive form of education, directed towards a special goal. But in order that propaganda may be effective, it must follow the same line that the education of the youth of the country has followed. As the Kaiser followed that line in Germany. As Hitler followed it.

The freedom-loving peoples of the world have been educating, too. And our goal, instead of the enslavement of mankind to one race or one nation, is the realization by mankind that all are one.

We have been hearing for centuries that "God hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth." We Americans have been taught, as part of our American democracy, that all "men are created equal." These two fundamental truths should be a part of our very bone and blood and tissue. That they are not yet, the recent primary election in this state is a sad proof.

We need an intensive effort now. We need propaganda. And action. We need the hammer blows that will shape the iron, heated in the forge of freedom these hundreds of years, into an image of beauty—a world where the four freedoms shall rule completely.

If propaganda can make Heaven seem like hell, why should we not use propaganda, the propaganda of truth, to turn a threatened hell into Heaven? That we are not going to take this defeat lying down, the meeting in the Olympic auditorium protesting the Ku Kluz Klan is proof positive. Even if the forces of evil have gained a seeming victory, we are going to see to it that these wicked shall have no rest.

Come to the Olympic auditorium Friday evening. Bring your neighbors and friends. Then agitate, agitate, agitate. The time for passive education is past. We must use a more intensive form. And get ready right now to use every inch left us from this primary election, to "knock the stuffings" out of every pro-Fascist candidate on the ticket. Especially Jack Tenney.

To change the subject you'll be interested to know that EBONY will run a story of the First Street Clinic in the Little Tokyo section of Los Angeles. "A clinic of all races" is the way Ebony describes that institution.

The First Street Clinic was organized during the war, about three or four years ago, you know. Its services have been so invaluable to everyone that it has continued since the war.

Exclusive pictures in Ebony show Dr. Helen Mackler, a white member of the staff, treating a Negro patient, and Dr. George S. Iki, medical director, treating a Chinese patient assisted by a Negro nurse.

The First Street Clinic has twenty-four hour service.

WAC Re-enlistments Extended By War Dept.

Re-enlistment in the Women's Army Corps has been extended for at least a year, it was announced this week at Los Angeles Army recruiting headquarters.

Effective immediately, volunteers for re-entry into the WAC will re-enlist either for the duration of the war plus six months, or until June 30, 1947, unless sooner relieved for the convenience of the government, according to the new War Department directive.

WAC re-enlistees who subsequently volunteer for overseas service may be required to volunteer for such period as the exigencies of the service then necessitate, it was added.

Better is the frugal intellectual repast with contentment and virtue, than the luxury of learning with egotism and vice.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The Singing Measure

Master Race

By G. DAVIS

Good citizens are we,
I'm proud to say;
For we are followers
of the K. K. K.

We travel around
In a hooded band,
And enjoy every freedom,
That's part of our plan.

We dress in robes
And burn the Cross.
We're a Master Race
And destined to be boss.

We clothe our bodies,
From head to foot,
To look like the knights
In a story book.

We cover our faces,
So we can't be seen,
And do our dirty work
Behind a screen.

We travel in a mob!
We rule by might
And disturb our neighbors
In the middle of the night.

We tar and feather
And ride out of town
Those we dislike
And don't want around.

We're respectable by day,
But cruel at night;
We won't do things—
In broad daylight.

We torture because
We think it is right,
And never give a guy
A chance to fight.

We go into a huddle,
Upon a hill,
Then get in formation
And we're ready for the kill.

All these things,
You must see our way
Before you're recognized
By the K.K.K.

We don't like the Catholic
Or the Jew;
We don't like the Negro,
He's a menace, too.

Our clan is likened
To a mystery show.
Who the villain is You'll never know.

We're a Christian people,
When it suits our taste,
As long as you don't mention
Certain Creed or Race.

We believe in a God
That's different from the rest;
He made only us,
So he made the best.

We're 100 percent Americans
And love to brag;
We know the Constitution
And wave the flag.

We joined the army
And won the war;
We, alone, know
What we're fighting for.

All the other Americans—
They didn't fight.
Why should they be Given a Right?

To have and enjoy
An equal share
Of things God created
And we love so dear.

So, in us we must plant
The seed of hate;
We cannot leave such Things to fate.

We do this because
We pass the Grace
That God created us

Our program is right;
There's no better way
Than the good old methods
Of the K.K.K.

ANSWER

Now, in this story,
I must have my say—
Let it stand as a warning
To the K.K.K.!

That people of the world
Have learned to remember
Kind deeds in July,
As well as December.

When you discard a link
That's part of a chain,
You create a condition
That's hard to explain.

Then why deceive?
And why distort?
What manner of Evil
Hath this thing wrought?

Thousands of people
You fill with dismay.
What a terrible monster
Is this K.K.K.!

What earthly right
Have you to say
You are the one
Who should lead the way?

Your actions and dealings
Speak louder than words.
At some time or other,
They're bound to be heard.

The right to live
And enjoy the sublime
Belongs to all people
And not just one kind.

I wonder if God
Will share His glory
With a people so narrow
And so unholy!

So while the sun shines
You had better make hay.
I hope you accept this
In a sensible way.

Chamber of Commerce Formed on Westside

The Westside Chamber of Commerce, an interracial organization designed to improve business relationships and to act as a clearing house for handling of civic and other problems in the west side area, was formed recently with Charles Wigginton, formerly public relations director at the Pacific Parachute Company, being named acting chairman.

Opening gun will be sounded in the form of a gala membership banquet, to be staged by the chamber at the Villa Arlington, 3115 West Adams blvd., next Thursday, June 20.

Territory to be covered by the new group will be bordered on the north-south by W. Adams and Exposition boulevards and on the east-west by S. Vermont and Crenshaw blvd.

In general, the work of the chamber will embrace the following points:

Improvement of all businesses in the community, acting as a clearing house for handling various problems of the business people of the district, encouragement in the entrance of desirable institutions into the district and discouragement of undesirable ones, promotion of civic betterment, including improvement of street lighting and transportation, abolishment of juvenile delinquency, etc.

Officials stressed that the membership is open to any qualified merchant or business representative in the district. Mrs. Bessie A. Harper is acting secretary; Mrs. Lorraine Neihaus-Armstrong, acting treasurer.

Permanent officers will be chosen at the next meeting, to be held in early July. For further particulars persons are urged to call ROchester 0887.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

Huzzahs and hurrahs! The Case bill has been vetoed, but unfortunately we can't render any Kudos to Truman for this action, even though his mighty pen wielded by his rather shaky hand did the vetoing.

We have a sneaking suspicion that the veto didn't originate in the mind of the good President. In his "fighting mad" condition he might even have leased the White House, what with housing shortages and all. But then the President has had a "cooling off" period. Maybe he's not "fighting mad" anymore, what with such people as college professors, economists and expert political scientists urging him to veto the Case bill. (Not to mention the CIO, AFL and other labor groups).

Now if the President can see fit to follow the same sort of advice, which has been given him on his so-called emergency legislation, he'll snatch it back like a hot potato. Oh but no, at the same time he vetoes the Case bill, he asks that the congress grant him this temporary power to break strikes. He told congress in his veto message that the Case bill did not provide for such authority but that his bill does.

Somebody ought to tell Truman that we're not happy because he vetoed the Case bill and at the same time asked for support of his "Slave Bill." Could it be that the good President is trying to appease labor and still keep others happy with his bill, which is even harsher than the Case bill?

Whatever the case, we do not want any labor-shackling legislation. None whatsoever. So will someone kindly inform the President that his bill is worse than the Case bill and that it will wreck the American standard of living and make virtual slaves of American workers?

Here is one time Mr. and Mrs. America can tell the President of the United States what to do. You pay his salary, ladies and gentlemen. He's your number one public servant. Drop him a line, postcard or telegram telling him that you do not approve of his emergency bill and that you would like him to withdraw it.

Even though there is some debate on the matter, we think that your letter will be read. And don't forget, he lives in the White House, Washington, D. C.

The U. S. S. R. and The Anglo-American Bloc

By CYRIL BRIGGS

The continuous wrangling between Russia and the Anglo-American bloc must evoke the concern of all who realize the terrible implications of atomic warfare.

What is really involved in this struggle? And how is it likely to affect the hopes and aspirations of the Negro and colonial peoples for freedom and equality, assuming that the powers can stop short of the fatal continuation of their national policies in armed conflict?

Both the deterioration of the wartime unity of the Big Three and the revival of Ku Kluxism at home can be traced directly to the active opposition of powerful circles in our government to the consummation of the major ultimate aim of the American people—the complete destruction of fascism, its total elimination from the face of the earth.

To understand this situation, it is necessary to recall that in some circles in this country and Britain the war against Nazi Germany was far from popular. To the America First isolationists as to Britain's Cliveden Set it was the "wrong war." Thus even during the most crucial days of our struggle for national existence, there were those who spoke and acted as if the enemy was our own war ally, the Soviet Union.

With the death of Roosevelt and the achievement of the victory he had charted, the Roosevelt policy of friendship with Russia, of world freedom and amity, including his perspective of the early liberation of the colonial peoples, was quickly tossed overboard. For FDR's principles were substituted the unprincipled policies of Vandenberg, Byrnes and Hoover—hatred of the USSR, support of the feudalistic forces in Europe and China, betrayal of the colonial peoples whose hopes that this country would lead the struggle for the abolition of the oppressive colonial system were blasted at the San Francisco conference of the United Nations.

'GET TOUGH'

This new line was inevitably reflected in the government's domestic policies. Domestic policy cannot be separated from foreign policy. We cannot have a Byrnes-Vandenberg-Hoover policy abroad and a Roosevelt policy at home. Thus it did not take long for the "Get Tough With Russia" boys to get tough with the American people through anti-labor bills, the knifing of emergency housing legislation, and the virtual abolition of price controls, as now proposed by congress.

In the foreign field, the anti-Russian aims of the Axis have been taken over stock and barrel by the western democracies. By tricky maneuvers and subtle lies, the Soviet Union is presented to the American people as seeking aggrandizement, opposing the "just" and "reasonable" proposals of the Anglo-American bloc. The struggles of the liberalized nations of Europe against the collaborationists, against the rotten feudal elements in their countries, are presented as examples of Russian "interference" in the domestic affairs of those countries, Russian opposition to the extension overseas of "our democratic way of life."

Even the epic 18 year old struggle of the progressive forces in China against the feudal-landlord regime of Chiang Kai-Shek is interpreted as a Russian scheme to "sovietize" Asia, used as a pretext for active American intervention in the domestic affairs of the Chinese people.

COINCIDENCE?

Is it mere coincidence or accidence that the U. S. actively supports against the popular movements in their countries such reactionary figures as Chiang Kai-Shek in China, Hirohito in Japan, the monarchy in Italy, the British puppet government in Greece?

Is it an accident that at San Francisco we supported fascist Argentine for membership in the UN; that today we continue to block effective UN action against the Franco regime in Spain?

All the organs of propaganda are being utilized in this country to convince us that Russia is a threat to peace. But is not the real threat to peace the determination of the western powers to maintain the status quo at any cost, including the use of British troops against the Indonesian Republic in an attempt to reforge the shackles of Dutch imperialism upon the Indonesian people, the use of food as a weapon against the liberated peoples of Europe, to frustrate their desire for change, maintain in power the discredited feudalistic and monarchistic elements who so readily capitulated to Hitler, collaborated with the Nazis?

British Foreign Minister Bevin furnished ground for an interesting historical parallel in his recent speech in parliament when he accused Russia of holding the opinion "that its security can be maintained only if every other country adopts the Soviet system."

Of course, the dominant circles in Britain and America would not harbor for a moment the idea of destroying the Soviet Union in order to save their tottering profit system. It was not these pure hearted and altruistic defenders of the profit system who in 1919 answered the challenge of a new society based on the abolition of exploitation of man by man, of racial hatred, by armed intervention against the young Soviet Republic. It was not, of course, these unselfish advocates of the freedom of a corrupt, monopoly-dominated press who, failing in their attempt to reimpose Tsarism on the Russian people, resorted to the Cordon Sanitaire, the blockade of ideas! It was not these gentlemen who in the '30s alibied their appeasement of Hitler with fantastic lies of Russian military and industrial weakness.

It is no secret that the main factor in the current anti-Russian campaign is the possession by the U. S. of the "secret" of the atom bomb, the belief in certain government and monopoly circles that this is the long-awaited, perhaps the final, opportunity to destroy the Soviet Union and its challenge to the capitalist system.

Such is the determination with which the forces of world reaction are moving toward a new world war, it is clear that only the most vigorous efforts of the American and British peoples can ward off such a disaster.

In the fight for peace, the Negro and colonial peoples have an even greater stake than other groups. For us, the destruction of the Soviet Union, domination of the world by the Anglo-American bloc and its concepts of race would be a major catastrophe.

DIXIE TORIES VOICE DEFIANCE OF HIGH COURT

WASHINGTON—Southern comment on the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme court banning Jim Crowism in interstate travel is running pretty true to form, with spokesmen for the old South expressing their usual defiance of the decisions of the highest court in the land when those decisions run counter to their wishes. Following are a few typical comments:

"Segregation will continue down here. Neither the whites nor the Negroes want it any other way."—Gov. Thomas Bailey of Mississippi.

"Interferes with the rights of states . . . is entirely unrealistic . . . Serve only as fertilizer for the Ku Klux Klan."—Gov. Cahnney Sparks of Alabama.

"Louisian's laws on segregation in interstate commerce will continue to be enforced." Clayton Coleman, acting secretary of the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

"A bunch of mediocre lawyers who should have been impeached long ago," said Rep. Dan McGehee (D. Miss.) of the Supreme court justices.

Meanwhile, "Negroes in the Rear" signs have been removed from Virginia-Washington buses, though it is reported that Negroes are continuing to sit in the back of the bus either from habit or ignorance of the high court's ruling.

Jean Finot's Race Prejudice (in its original French form Les Prejuje des Races, Paris 1905) is one of the greatest books ever written upon the subject of racism. First published a generation ago it at once made its mark in France and was almost immediately translated into English (London, 1906, New York, 1907). Meanwhile a generation has grown up which has witnessed the rise of race prejudice to heights which most people never dreamed possible.

Finot foresaw it all. In an uncommonly thorough presentation and analysis of the antecedents of the ugly phenomenon of racism Finot made it perfectly clear that unless man acted judiciously and in time racism was destined to be enthroned as a political doctrine which would make outcasts and slaves of the greater part of mankind.

How near that prediction has come to fulfillment we all of us know. Sixty years ago (in 1887) a French anthropologist, Vacher de Lapouge, uttered the following words:

"I am convinced that in the next century millions will cut each other's throats because of one or two degrees more or less of cephalic index."

By "cephalic index" de Lapouge, of course, meant "race."

This utterance was received with mild amusement and classed with the other extreme views with which de Lapouge's name had become associated. Not so Finot, he saw both the nonsense and the serious effect which such views could have upon the future of mankind, and so he deals at some length in this book with the views of Vacher de Lapouge and the whole school of primitive racists from de Gobineau to Houston Stewart Chamberlain.

This examination and "anatomy" of the ideas of the perpetrators of the doctrine of racism is one of the most scholarly and telling ever written. It is all done in the most rigorously scientific spirit, a spirit which is, however, infused through and through with a deep humanitarianism. It is this love of mankind which has helped to keep Finot's book head and shoulders above any similar book which has been written in this century. Coupled as that love is with a fine and cultivated mind, a wonderful grasp of his subject, a delightful style, and a remarkably skillful way of presenting the facts, Finot's Race Prejudice could not help but be a distinguished book at any time.

It is in our own time, perhaps, more than in any other, that this book can serve its most useful purpose. Precisely because it was written 30 years ago it can be of all the greater value in our own time, for from its illuminating pages we shall be in a position to judge for ourselves what tragedies and disasters might have been avoided had our parents taken as seriously as they ought such books as this. We have much to learn from Finot's book, and it is to be hoped that it will be very widely read and discussed. Its republication at this time is a cause for celebration. I commend it to the reader unreservedly.

Hits Segregation At Indiana Hospital

NEW YORK—The policy of the Indianapolis City Hospital Training School for Nurses, which admits Negro students but withholds from them privileges in the nurses' residence which are granted to white students, had drawn the fire of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses.

According to Mrs. Mabel K. Staupers, executive secretary of NACGN, a strong protest was drafted, approved and sent to responsible city and organization officials in Indianapolis during the recent North Central Regional conference of the Association in Cleveland, Ohio. Delegates from eight midwestern states attended the conference.

The protest, in resolution form, cited the segregation of Negro students in the residence—although not at the hospital; the exclusion of Negro students from the living room at the residence as "flagrantly undemocratic." Since the hospital and school are supported by tax money, it was pointed out, the full facilities should be extended equally to all students.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

LIBERAL VOICES IN THE DAILY PRESS

A few days ago Negro L. A. was agog over an editorial by R. E. G. Harris in the Los Angeles Daily News, titled "Memo for the majority" and petition sent to the National Negro Congress to the United Nations urging that body to relieve the oppression of the 13 million Negroes in this country. We quote from that editorial:

"Circle a dismal day on your calendar. Mark a date in American history when democracy was mocked before the world. Remember June 1, 1946. For it was the day the National Negro Congress, meeting in Detroit, petitioned the United Nations to bring relief from oppression to the 13,000,000 citizens of (as someone once aptly called it) Uncle Sam's other province . . .

"After more than a century of hypocritical dreaming, more than a century of delusive eloquence about 'justice, equality, and cooperation' something new and strange and, in its way, terrible has happened. The people for whom the promise, implicit in all this dreaming and eloquence was the touchstone of hope and the light of life itself have bluntly rejected all illusion."

"They know, as only caste-marked people can know, the grim realities of this smouldering hour . . .

"Referring to the argument of John Foster Dulles that Russia menaces the 'freedoms which constitute our most cherished . . . heritage', Mr. Harris pointed as whether this country has really tried to maintain that 'cherished heritage.'

"Have we, for example, fought really hard against Jim Crow? Against restrictive covenants? against disease-breeding overcrowding in so-called 'black ghettos'?"

"Have we fought against discrimination in all the social economic, cultural and political opportunities that combine to make life worth living in this blessed land? . . .

"No," he replies, "the truth is we haven't fought hard at all." And he concludes significantly, "Whether the United States is repaid by peace or by panic will depend upon how soon, and how well the white world, here and everywhere, can give and answer."

Back in December this same editorial writer expressed his views on America's dilemma when the United Nations voted to locate its permanent home in the United States, in a city "which draws no color line." He then also expressed views rarely seen in an American daily.

Some time ago we read in the Denver Star the reprint of an editorial written by a Virginia born editor of a Scripps Howard newspaper who thus answered Mrs. Julius Talmadge, president of the D.A.R. when this lady in Denver which was asked about her reaction to the flood of letters she had received regarding the D. A. R.s refusal to permit Hazel Scott to play in Constitution Hall revealed she had not even read the letters.

Lee Casey's editorial titled "Madam from Georgia" began: "I do not pay any attention to the letters. I have no reason to read them and be upset by them." Thus Mrs. Julius Talmadge, president general of DAR, told Francis Melrose her position and the position of her organization in favor of Jim Crow Art . . . I have no doubt that Mrs. Talmadge spoke the strict truth . . . It may be pleasant to drop shutters before your mind when you meet facts you don't happen to like. I would like to think that, because I am of a rather mottled pinkish complexion, I am a better writer than Langston Hughes. I would like to think that I had contributed as much as the cause of humanity and good-citizenship as, say, Paul Robeson."

"Either assumption would be patently false. Yet either would contribute to my self-esteem. When you wish to preen your vanity logic and the rules of reason and common sense become troublesome. In a situation like that, Mrs. Talmadge simply throws out of the window.

There are many women who, like Mrs. Talmadge, cling to worn out concepts and ancient prejudices and refuse to be upset by distateful truths, including the truth that time marches on. Usually they are at least in a negative sense, good enough citizens, that is to say, they seldom get vagged or arrested for disturbing the peace, and their husbands frequently pay sizable taxes. So long as they remain in the seclusion of private life so long as their snobbish mannerisms merely amuse their intimates, even if they do little good, they probably do little harm."

"It is something else when, like Mrs. Talmadge, they get themselves elected to public positions and become spokesmen for large groups."

"Mrs. Talmadge tries to shuffle off the issue by citing some bit of nonsense about Constitution Hall being used for white artists only. But that is beside the point. The real issue is that the descendants of ragged patroits of Washington's army . . . are saying, through their president general, that we should have two sorts of citizens in this country—one sort that enjoys full rights and another sort whose rights are restricted. Its the kind of set-up that was in force in Nazi Germany."

These are two voices being heard in the wilderness of "white" newspaper journalism and it is our profound hope that they will be added unto and heard.

AN HONEST ANSWER
★ Medical ethics are not something unique and set apart, but simply a direct application of the Golden Rule. They provide an honest answer to the question, "What is best for the patient?" As one physician put it, "I do for my patients what I would do for a member of my own family."
As pharmacists, we adhere to the same code. The quality of our medicines and service is the best it is possible to give. You, the patient, are our first concern.

Los Angeles Wants No Part of the KU KLUX KLAN!

The Klan Creed:

Terror, threats, violence, destruction of property, operating in secrecy with Nazi Storm Troop tactics; promoting and inciting hatred of Jews, Negroes, Catholics, union members, foreign-born and eventually all who oppose the Klan's fascistic oppression.

The People's Creed:

"The Ku Klux Klan is aiming at the destruction of every progressive force, including trade unions. Organized labor will unite with all other citizens of the community to stamp out this terror."—Morris Zusman, California CIO Council President.

"The Ku Klux Klan has taken up the cudgels for Hitler... Having just fought a war for the four freedoms and against Fascism, we do not intend to permit Klan terror acts within the state of California."—California and Los Angeles Councils of the American Veterans Committee.

"All Protestant churches will unite ..in combatting all activities calculated to terrorize individuals or stimulate antagonisms between people of different races or religions."—Church Federation of Los Angeles.

WHY is the Ku Klux Klan invading Los Angeles today?
WHAT BIG MONEY is backing the Ku Klux Klan?
WHY have the authorities failed to prosecute the perpetrators of these recent acts of terror in Los Angeles?

- A fiery cross was burned before the home of H. G. Hickerson, 134 W. 56th St. The next day, Hickerson received a letter threatening to blow up his home.
- The Jewish Temple Israel, 1740 Ivar St., was desecrated, a sacred scroll was ripped to pieces and Nazi slogans and swastikas pencilled on the walls. Dr. Max Nussbaum, Rabbi of the Temple, has received two letters threatening his life and destruction of the Temple.
- A fiery cross was burned before a Jewish fraternity home near the University of Southern California, the initials "KKK" burned into the lawn and scrawled on the walls of the house.
- Richard Aubry, a Negro whose brother is involved in a fight against restrictive covenants, was beaten unconscious by two white assailants.
- And eleven other terror incidents perpetrated or inspired by the Ku Klux Klan have occurred in Los Angeles within the last month.

The people of Los Angeles—decent, liberty-loving Americans—do not intend to let the Ku Klux Klan continue its campaign of hate, violence and terror. The Ku Klux Klan is a challenge to every Democracy-loving citizen in Los Angeles!

BON VOYAGE

Leonard Christmas, owner of the Digby hotel at First and Alameda st., may be on his way by the time you read this to his natal city, Digby, Nova Scotia. Now you know why and wherefor the name, "Digby hotel."

Your Grandtown reporter was officially approved as an adopted "Native Son" of California. Recently it was our pleasure to speak before the "Native Californians," all women, on the subject of "The Sheriff's Department."

Mrs. Charles Broady, wife of the retired police officer, is the president. We were invited by Mrs. Maggie Sheppard to address the group. Membership, as the name implies, is limited to those persons born in California.

Some of the members have interesting stories to tell about the early days of California—for instance Mrs. Lauretta Butler's family dates back to those romantic days of 1849 when California first went on the gold standard.

In a future column we shall prevail upon the modest ladies to give you an insight into the historic background of Los Angeles from their family viewpoint. We think it will prove interesting to those of us who are not familiar with the background of the Negro in California.

O CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN—

We have borrowed the immortal lines from Walt Whitman's poem dedicated to Abraham Lincoln after the cessation of hostilities of the Civil War, to apply them to former Captain Everette M. Porter of the army who has doffed his uniform—his two silver bars denoting the rank of captain—for a brief case—denoting the rank of attorney at law.

Porter, while still in uniform became a member of the law firm of Walter L. Gordon Jr., thus bringing that firm to a staff of three attorneys, including the glamorous Gordon, a chief clerk, Buddy Garcia, clerks, secretaries, stenogs, accountants, and investigators—to a grand total of 20 people. Boy that is a big law firm. That would be a swell photo feature for Ebony mag in itself—but my tale is centered around Everette M. Porter.

Porter and I had been cronies for quite a spell. He was my professor in teaching me real estate law, etc. When the war broke out he was set up as a law firm of Williams and Porter (David "Bill" Williams), the firm is now Williams and Matthews—Charles Matthews after serving 14 years in the D.A. office took the berth vacated by Porter.

Well, the war dragged on and Porter thought it was time he got in and put an end to the war. But he didn't want to go alone. I was elected. So we both enlisted to take an officer's course in infantry training. I got knocked out of the war—but Porter stayed on to finish the job.

Porter hopped around those islands in the Pacific until he and Gen. MacArthur got the high moguls of Tojo to sign on the dotted line.

Our fearful trip is done.

She also leaves a husband, Robert Jones, a sister, Mrs. Pruitt, and father, Joe Davis.

Her popularity was attested by the overflowing crowd paying respects at the Fisher Mortuary and the abundance of flowers placed at her bier.

The funeral services were delivered by the Rev. Frederick Jordan and other eulogies by Rev. J. M. Brown and Rev. L. M. Driver, of whose church she was a member.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

LOCAL MEMBERS of the National Council of Negro Women resume the limelight on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock when they present Mrs. Arena Mallory, council executive, in a public meeting in the gardens of Dr. Veda Somerville's South Harvard boulevard home. The noted personality, who heads the Mallory school in Mississippi, arrived in Los Angeles Monday and was welcomed at the station by Dr. Somerville, president of the local chapter of the council and a national vice-president. Mrs. Mallory will be the incentive for many a social gathering throughout her stay in the city, which will end June 21.

Jessie Mae Brown

Speaking of national orgs, orchids go to members of the local National Council of Negro Musicians, who recently closed the concert series at Jefferson high. The association is climaxing its fiscal year with a social for the members and company at the home of Mrs. Jessie Terry on Sunday afternoon. Pleased with the first attempt of bringing symphony to the community, the leading workers are certain that public enthusiasm will surmount in next year's series, to be planned on the reconvening of the council in September.

RECOGNITION GAINED

The Kappa men are filled with the spirit for more reasons than one. Most important, the gents have gained recognition at Troy. From this point on, they will have an added interest in campus life on the SC quad. Raoul Reynolds, Theodore Schaefer and Julius Brown of Upsilon chapter have worked untiringly toward this goal. Saturday night, the Kappa Kagers were honored with a trophy party at Alpha Bowling club. An award went to Glover Samuels as most valuable man on the team.

Albert McNeil is certainly doing his utmost to keep Los Angeles music happy. Without taking a breathing spell from the recent concert series, he has red-lettered July 14 for an unusual musical, featuring the development of Negro music. Highlights will be a ballet group, interpretative dance, early Negro chants, spirituals, work songs and the blues. The complete show will be done by the music department of Independent church.

By the way, Horace Johnson is nervously awaiting Sunday afternoon when his LA Hi-Y group sponsors the star-studded musical at Phyllips Temple. All proceeds from the 3 o'clock affair will go into the new "Donald Brown" scholarship fund.

KEYNOTE BITS

At the NBC broadcast of Jubilee Monday night, couldn't help noting the crowd that grows more interesting as weeks roll by. Very pleasing to the eye is Miss Ruth Ford, script girl, who delights in wearing the latest in fashions. Enjoyed the performance of Benny Carter's orchestra from the mezzanine room along with Bill Smith, Theron Kirk, Corinne Ashby, Lil Lomax, Cal Bailey, to name a few. On leaving the studio chatted with Atty. Martha Malone Williams, making her way to the stage to shake the hand of you know who—Benny Carter, of course. By the way, the charming attorney was looking very chic in a brown tweed suit. She definitely has that added gleam in her eye. . . . Jackie Wilson, who leaves for Chicago next week, was there in company of EAGLE theatrical ed, Eddie Burbridge.

Sunday was a very important day for Manila Hudlin Smith; the diligent AKA sorority worker is now Mrs. Lee, and very much in love. Her better half is a social workers at Pilgrim House. The two exchanged vows in quiet ceremony Sunday afternoon. . . . Congratulations are in order.

Speaking of brides, Odessa Jackson surprised friends when she became Mrs. Earl Johnson last Wednesday evening.

Bride-elect Daun French was honoree at a shower Sunday given by Mrs. Henderson Cooper, Sr., and Mrs. David C. Fowley. Daun is engaged to wed Henderson Cooper, Jr. A large number of her girl friends were on hand at the Bonnie Brae abode to shower her with many useful gifts.

Fellow fourth estater David Carlisle is making final preparations to bid the Angel City adieu. The popular younger setter will leave for West Point on Thursday, June 20. Believe me, he is still very cool and calm about the whole affair and is definitely prepared to make the best of his four years at the famous military academy. I join the others in wishing him the best of luck.

Missed out on Les Charmantes fashion review Sunday, due to the important factor that Dorothy Kahn became Mrs. Lloyd Galloway and ye scribe played the part of bridesmaid along with Eleanor Boswell, Gloria LaBeau, Bernice Warren and Yvonne Shepherd, Dorothy's sister. By the time these notes reach the press, Rev. and Mrs. Galloway will be in the throes of enjoying a honeymoon in the beautiful surroundings of Santa Catalina. Can't very well give you pointers on the ceremony, having taken part in it. However, my chum Friday tells me that it was a very beautiful wedding.

Les Charmantes capped their annual tea and fashion review with a dancing party for members and company Sunday evening at the home of Rosalie and Harry Smith, who were celebrating thei rthird wedding anniversary. Norma Lee McDaniel, club president, wore a black taffeta and net formal, while other club members wore white and pastels. Among those present were Althea Gardner, Wilbur Valley, Ella May Crosland and Theodore Lumpkin, Cornelia and Fred Scott, Ramona Robinson, Joe Oliver, Gwendolyn Harris and Roy Andrews, Dolores Moore, Iona and Nathan Armstrong, LeRoy Beavers, Doris Vaiel and a host of others.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Albert Hicks is back in civies at last. He received an honorable discharge from the marines and returned to Los Angeles last week. . . . The Val Verde swimming pool will open on June 15, good little deal. . . . Received a letter from Jack Terry a day or two back telling of the gay life in Chi, and the fact that he hasn't been hospitalized at all. Before the EAGLE made deadline, Jack made his way back to the Angel City, and is already to join in the local fun fest. . . . Glimpsed Dr. Cato Robinson and Jerry at the recent John Thomas bout. George Sturdivant and R. B. Porter were there to see the local boy make good. . . . Leonard Grimes may justly feel proud over the group of pictures he took of Orchid Oliver and another local deb. Each one should rate a magazine cover. . . . Hear that Connie Smart will take vows in August.

Althea Warren is new sponsor of the Delta Sprites. . . . Emma Adams birthday celebrated last week. . . . The L. A. Tri-Y graduation semi will be quite the thing Saturday night. Arleigh Maddox will be one of the honorees. . . . Elizabeth Kennard is delighted over the fact that a certain young man will be home from the service soon. . . . Jane Johnson does a fine job of directing the Euterpian singers. . . . In bringing this week's column to a close must mention that popular hair stylist Edward Deason flew East this past week, where he will undergo an operation. In his absence, the House of Charms will handle business as usual. Edward plans to return after a two months' absence. . . . 'TIL NEXT WEEK.

Nanm Plan Concert Series for Fall on Completing Offerings

After an unprecedented series of musical offerings, the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Association of Negro Musicians closed its 1946 spring season last Sunday afternoon with the presentation of the 11-year-old pianist, Samuel Lipman. This program, which included selections from Bach to Shostakovitch, was without doubt one of the most unusual ever witnessed by the writer. The intelligent interpretation of some of the more subtle atonal selections was something long to be remembered. A very bright future is in the offering for this young artist. This was the pianist's first recital in Los Angeles.

Eula Beale, Isaac Stern, and the Philharmonic Septet were the other artists in this series.

The organization headed by Albert J. McNeil, young musician is planning a new series for the late fall. An effort to bring Carol Brice, contralto, and Phillipa Schuyler, 14-year-old pianist, to the series is included in the 1946 fall season plans.

The community interest in the series has been emphasized by the generous cooperation received from social, and fraternal organizations, as well as from religious and school groups. Marian Anderson contributed $100, and Isaac Stern, nationally famous violinist, $250.

Keep the Jefferson Philharmonic Artist Association, a subsidiary of the National Association of Negro Musicians, Los Angeles Branch, on your list of organizations offering the best in music in your community.

Daffodil Girls Extend Thanks

The Daffodil Girls held the final meeting for the past month at the home of Vice-President Mrs. Willie Campbell. The recent Spring Formal success was discussed and the many felicitations were acknowledged.

The club wishes to express to their many friends appreciation for their response, also to Mr. Andersor, florist and decorator.

Mrs. Gladys Grundy, business manager, recently returned to the city, having been called away due to a death in the family. She extends a note of appreciation to all who sent condolences in her absence.

Miss Evelyn Booze, recording secretary, gave the girls a pleasant surprise when she announced that she had tied the knot and is henceforth known as Mrs. Harry Lewis.

Watch for news of Daffodil Girls' coming events, to be published soon.

Woodlawn Tri-Y Girls Attend Asilomar Confab

Members of the teen-age program group of the Woodlawn Branch YWCA will leave June 21, to attend the Teen-Age Sectional Conference which is to be held at Asilomar, California.

Those attending are: Beatrice Marie Bain, Daphne Williams, Fay Delores Hill, Sally Porter, Jacqueline and Benetta Crosland.

The conference is one of 33 being held this summer throughout the country for teen-age members of the 434 local YWCA's. Over 3000 girls in senior high school and 700 adult leaders from all sections of the country will attend the conferences.

Girls chosen as delegates are leaders in the local Association's teen-age clubs. They will attend the conference for an eight-day period, meeting with girls of other areas and formulating the program for the younger members group of the local Associations for the coming year.

While the week at conference will offer many opportunities for fun and recreation, the conference will also operate club clinics, workshops, councils and forums where the girls will discuss their problems and needs in the postwar world.

Mrs. Inez Allen, program director for Younger Girls' Work in making plans for the conference said, "The conferences point up the whole aim of the program for teen-age girls in the YWCA's throughout the country. JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

Once again the school year has come to an end and once again students who have completed their courses of study will receive certificates of graduation. Those graduating from junior college will receive their associate in arts and some a junior certificate. Graduation for junior high, high school, and junior college students will take place in the famed Rose Bowl. We imagine that the Bowl will be as beautiful a setting as ever, if not more so. During the war the graduations had to be as simple as possible, but now that the war has ended they should be more elaborate.

Baccalaureate services for the junior college graduates were held last Sunday evening. "Youth and Reconstruction" was the topic of Rev. Joseph T. McGucken's message. "Rosamunde Overture" and "Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2" were played by the P.J.C. concert orchestra. The choral groups rendered Sibelius' "Romance," Gounod's processional, "Praise Ye the Father." The invocation was given by Walt A. Raitt, and the Euterpean Singers presented "Onward, Ye People." Mary Rutte, the senior class president, read the Scripture and Elgar's "Land of Hope and Glory" was played as the recessional.

Those who will don caps and gowns Thursday evening are Arthur Green, Roberta Hunter, Bernice Cunningham, Althea Careys, Naomi Bowins, LeRoy Webb, Betty Brown, and Gwen Morrow. Among those wearing formals and dark suits will be Carol Brown, Dorothy Edwards, and Johnnie Snead.

After the ceremonies are over, graduates and company will go to the Civic to celebrate their victory with dancing. The junior and senior branches of the NAACP will give a program and reception for the graduates, Friday night at Scott's church. Awards will be presented at this time for the most outstanding students.

Speaking of schools closing, Wilberforce has closed for the summer and Barbara James and Peggy Cuoton will be coming home this week. Peggy's sister, Lorraine Cuoton, on vacation from the hospital, will give her a swim and ride party at Val Verde. Some of the guests will be M. L. Jackson, Chester Johnson, Alvin Johnson, Don Mims, Barbara Durham, Gwendolyn Morrow, David Scott, Brenda Ballard, Thelma Jackson, Joe Mims, Pearl McAfee, Odella Bartlett, Myrtle Martin, and others.

Our sympathies go out to the bereaved family of Mrs. Jackson. We would also like to express our sympathies to the family of Lincoln Thomas.

The birthday party given for Mrs. Ada Brownlee by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Lundy was a huge success. The guests included Dr. and Mrs. I. English, new residents in town; Dr. B. Bowlin, Rev. and Mrs. F. Harris, Mrs. Madge Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Alliewine, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. M. Coleman, Mrs. A. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lundy, Mr. and Mrs. Rayfield Lundy, Mrs. S. L. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Harris.

The Ruby Jones-Lloyd Calmore marriage took place before a packed church Sunday morning after the morning service at the Friendship Baptist church. Their many friends were there to wish them good luck.

We will soon have enough doctors to meet the need in Pasadena. Dr. and Mrs. William Yates and son from Ohio have decided that Pasadena will be a good place to make their residence. Dr. Yates has recently been discharged from the army.

Did you know that Esther B. Owens is engaged? Well she has given in to Raymond Jones' proposals and said yes. Her ring is a lovely solitaire set in a yellow gold mounting. Congratulations, even if you did hold out on me.

The Zodiac Club has closed for the summer. One of their club members, Mrs. Lucille Bowlin, wife of Dr. Bowlin, is now in New York. Mrs. Reba Compton will also be leaving the city for points East. Mrs. Josephine Cato gave a dinner party for her husband last week. Several Pasadenans were guests at the Milady Club's dinner at Channy Hall. Some of those present were Daisy Barrett, Pecolia Cole, Zepher Ramsey, and Connie Washington. Alice Hill is leaving for Texas to see her niece married. The Fines gave a party for prospective new members. These girls are really getting back in stride.

There is really some good news to be spread abroad. The Huntington hospital has finally decided to take Negro students into its nursing school. This is really a good step in the right direction.

The other evening we were given a jolt. This column is not for young people alone. It is for every person in this city. We have asked and asked you, the public, when you have news to call SY. 42716, Johnetta Armstrong. Do so, right away.

Don't forget Men's Day at A.M.E. Sunday. That's all for now. Hasta Luego.

SCHOLARSHIP HOLDERS—Kappa Alphi Psi fraternity proudly presented their scholarship holders at the annual Trophy dance Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. N. Bates Entertain Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel R. Bates and Mrs. M. L. Webb entertained their house guests, Mrs. Z. L. Vaughns of Marin City, Mrs. F. B. Hathaway and niece, Dorothy Jean Tippens, of Galveston, Texas, with a buffet luncheon.

Bridge Points

By M. L. Milligan, Sr.
Certified Master Teacher

"Silence may be golden, but seldom, if ever, does it gain one's rights."—M.I.M.

I do feel somewhat better after hearing from a large number of players like Bruce, Dr. Mitchell, Sharkey Blodgett, John Crain, Charles White, a group of the old stalwarts of the game, who do not have many match points, if any, who know the principles underlying preference responses.

The correct answers to last week's questions. 1. Four or more honor tricks and two biddable suits; to reverse one must open the bidding with a lower ranking suit than the one they rebid. 2. The opening bidder; he retains this position until his partner has a superior bid to offer, not because he can open his mouth, but because he has the honor tricks that justify his action. 3. With two suits, each of which is five cards in length, bid the higher ranking suit first, if the suits are unequal in length, bid the longer suit first.

If you practice the principles of scientific openings, rebids, and responses, your team may not be invincible; but they will be oh so hard to beat. I note quite a number of the so-called best players resorting to what they call strategy. This is impossible without a thorough knowledge of the fundamental principles of the game—all of the rules and laws that govern them—and the relative value of the percentage involved—if this does not total 50% or better, the risk is worthless.

Next week, bridgers, we review the progress we have made in the past six months with a series of questions and answers that will run the gamut of bids from one to four. This will also apply to the classes at the GWBA club room. Bring your friends and brush up on the finer points of the game.

Central Garden Hostess Gives Round of Parties

Climaxing the season with a round of festivities, Mrs. Hattie Jefferson, charming and gracious hostess of Central Gardens afforded much delight to a large circle of friends this week.

Beginning with an evening with the Athrena Ladies, neighborhood club, and one of the social clubs of the city which has held on through a period of more than 20 years, Mrs. Jefferson's art of entertaining was demonstrated in the games, prizes and refreshments offered. A large ice cream cake, especially made with pink rosebuds spelling "welcome Athrena Ladies," brought ohs and ahs from the ladies attending.

SURPRISE

Sunday evening, June 9, a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Stella Denton, wife of Attorney Marshall Denton, Mrs. Jefferson's friend of more than 25 years, brought a group of 30 to the Jefferson home on Parmalee. Attorney Denton's excuse for having to see Mr. Jefferson on business, led the unsuspecting wife into the house where with unique holders, 30 persons held lighted candles singing "Happy Birthday." Mrs. Denton's response was a burst of tears and kisses for her friend, Hattie Jefferson. Dainty refreshments were served.

GRANDCHILDREN REMEMBERED

Bringing to a close this round of entertainment will be the party honoring the birthdays of two youngest of the Jefferson's eight grandchildren, Sylvia Hicks and Rita Carlene Enge. Sunday afternoon, June 16, will be kiddies day at the Jefferson home.

Assisting Mrs. Jefferson in this series of party making has been her husband, Mr. George Jefferson, well known contractor of this city. Also assisting were her two lovely daughters, Katherine Hicks and Anne Enge, her son, Karl Jefferson, popular singer, composer and beautician, and a friend, Mrs. Maude Hayman.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

This week belongs to them—the 4-H club members. They are farm youth who live in all sections of our nation.

It's a week they've been looking forward to because it means they can hold their first post-war national conference. In the nation's capital.

At this confab, farm youth belonging to the 4-H clubs of the Department of Agriculture, can meet to thrash out knotty problems. Set new goals and objectives for production. Return to their homes conscious of the record crop they must turn out to help stave off starvation in Europe.

Yes, chum, this week—June 11-18—belongs to 4-H club members.

But wait! When we say 4-H club members, of course we don't mean all of them. You see, in this democracy in which we live, there are two radically different types of 4-H clubbers.

There are the white. And the black.

So you see, it's really unwise to make a blanket classification. For instance, when you call a conference for 4-H clubbers, as the United States Department of Agriculture did, you just don't mix the two.

It's got to be one or the other.

Lily white—or pitch black.

Ask Gertrude Warren, director of 4-H club work for the department, and she'll say protestingly, as she already has: "If we invited our colored 4-H workers to attend the conference with the whites, we wouldn't get a delegation of white southerners!"

—So devil take the 280,000 colored farm boys and girls. We, the United States government, must not offend our "white" southerners.

That's what it boils down to, doesn't it?

But somehow the government feels a bit uneasy. Call it a twitch of conscience, or what you will, but the old crown of prejudice just doesn't set as comfortably as it once did. Perhaps that's why the government is going out of its way in making plans for a separate convention for colored 4-H workers at Tuskegee Institute.

Now isn't that sweet!

Just think, a whole separate convention just for the black folk.

Well, I haven't heard any shouts of joy from the colored 4-H-ers. 'Smatter of fact, I'd say they're pretty sore about being excluded from the convention being held this week.

And heaven knows, something would be wrong with them if they didn't feel as they do.

Why chum, do you know that for the knockout blow against Germany and Japan, Negro boys and girls of the 4-H clubs raised 70,000 head of livestock, 1,700,000 chickens, put 28,600 acres in home gardens and preserved 2,725,000 quarts of food?

Quite a record, don't you think?

However, even though the war has ended, 4-H clubbers have not rested on the laurels of their war-time production. They know that increased production and distribution of food are important keys to world peace and so they are working to win the peace, even as they worked to help win the war.

Statistically, Negro farm youth represent one-sixth of all clubbers in the nation. As insignificant as they may be numerically, consider the terrific job they accomplished.

I have.

That's why I got hopping mad about the ban against Negro youth. That's why I simmered when I read reports of outstanding 4-H clubbers who've been invited to attend the confab . . . no Negroes, of course, regardless of what their production record has been. That's why I felt compelled to go on record condemning the racial barriers which have been erected.

That's why I urge the young people throughout this nation, those in the cities, as well as the farms, to send telegrams to the Department of Agriculture protesting this discrimination.

We've got to let our government know that Negro 4-H clubbers are not asking for special consideration. Special conferences. All they want is that which is theirs according to the fundamental precepts of the democracy under which they are supposed to be living.

That's all they ask for. No more, no less. There is just one way to stop this discriminatory practice—boycott. How about it, 4-H-ers?

Your chum YVONNE.

LOUIS GAMBLES TITLE

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

CHIPS TO FALL IN BIG FIGHT

Well, Wednesday night coming up the chips will fall one way or the other when Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, and Billy Conn, called by some "the worthy challenger," don fight togs and battle it out over the 15-round route at New York's Yankee Stadium for Joe's title. There is more than a little conjecture concerning the outcome, perhaps more so than any other similar boxing bout. Will Joe be too old to successfully defend his title? Braddock lost it to Joe at the age of 32. Is the fact that the Brown Bomber has reached that age of any significance? This writer does not think that 32 years on this earth will mean anything in Joe defending his title against Conn. You notice I mention "Against Conn." If Joe was defending his title at the age of fifty against Billy Conn I still think he'd win. Billy hasn't got the stuff to beat Joe. He never had it, he never will have it. Secondly, it wasn't old age so much that beat Braddock. Jim never was a great fighter and Joe had too much on the ball for him. It isn't any bad omen that Joe is defending his title at the same age. A lot of people forget that Joe Louis is a great fighter and a great champion. Men like Louis and Henry Armstrong come along about once every decade. When they do arrive they hang on a long time. Hank Armstrong could still lace on a pair of gloves and beat most of the good men in his division. He did it not so very long ago and lost very few bouts. His box-office appeal was just as great and he cleaned up on the comeback he made. Sure, there are probably two or three young heavyweights showing promise currently that might win over Joe Louis. Jimmy Bivins, though a light-heavy, is one. 32-year-old Jersey Joe Walcott is another. We didn't say that there isn't anybody in sight that could defeat Joe. We said that Billy Conn can't do it. If you've got any dough to lay down on Billy, save it, Pal. You'll be needing it when depression hits us full force. This Scribe thinks that Joe will knock Billy flatter than an old maid's matrimonial chances on the night of June 19, inside of four rounds. If you want to lay a little green stuff on that prediction I think you'll make yourself a little change. There's only one way Conn can win and that would be by some crooked deal being set before the fight and we know that Louis doesn't play 'em that way. He doesn't have to. We don't think Conn would either. Believe it or not, the guy is really confident. However, outside talent sometimes moves around a heavyweight title fight with bright promises, if a "fix" can be arranged. We personlly think that they've got the wrong customers this time, that's why we are so sure that Joe will put Conn to sleep early. The heavy title is worth more alive to Louis than dead. With it he can earn more money, lots and lots of moola. Without it, who can tell where our champ will wind up? It's okay if he decides to retire, that's the way it should be, but we wouldn't like to see him lose the title in the ring.

SPORTS LEAPING AROUND IN SHORTS

The Homestead Grays play the New York Cubans on July Fourth . . . The Philadelphia Stars matched an offer by Mexican promoters to retain the hard hitting Bus Clarkson, an infielder. As a result Clarkson is one of the highest paid ballplayers in Negro baseball . . . Joe Louis seems to be sinking himself deep into musical interests. He owns half of the Eddie Mallory orchestra, has a club under construction in New York and has a share in Chicago's Rhumboogie night club . . . Ezzard Charles is the latest light-heavyweight to loom on the fistic horizon, who bears no good tidings for any battler in his weight. The boys received a breathing spell while Ezzard was helping Uncle Sam win the War. The kid is back with a bang now and proved that he is the leading challenger for the crown of Gus Lesnevich by recently pounding out an easy 10-round decision over Archie Moore, No 1 ranking light-heavy . . . Regarding the Joe Louis staff—Marshall Miles is Joe's manager, Manny Seaman, his trainer, George Webber, his bodyguard, Dr. Robert G. Bennett, his personal physician, Lou Kren his public relations man, Al Hoosman, Los Angeles, Jimmy Bell, Washington, and Perk Daniels of Chicago, his sparring mates for the Conn fight . . . For some reason an Ocean Park bout between Kenny Watkins and Jimmy Coleman fell through. Looks like it would have been a good one . . . In New York four employees of the Jacobs Ticket Agency were arrested for scalping on Louis-Conn fight tickets. Detectives reported that $150 and $175 were being asked for $100 ringside tickets and $65 for $50 seats. Although the place bears the name of Promotor Mike Jacobs, his publicity man, Harry Markson, said that Jacobs had no interest in the place and hadn't been in there for 10 years . . . Jimmy Brooks, classy middleweight recently out of the Army, hasn't had a local ring engagement since returning home from overseas.

"SUGAR" ROBINSON ADVISES JOE

Ray (Sugar) Robinson has been training for tune-up bouts preparatory to his fight against Marty Servo, world's welterweight king on or before September 6. This special request to Servo to put his title on the line was made by the New York Athletic Commission. "Sugar" has been added to the staff of Joe Louis as an advisor. He does his training early and then drives to the Louis camp for the workouts daily. His job consists of whispering words of wisdom into the shell-like ear of the Brown Bomber between rounds.

BASEBALL STAR Jackie Robinson, of the Montreal Royals, recently dropped in at the USO in Daytona Beach, Fla., to engage in big league chatter with recuperating patients from the nearby Welch Convalescent Hospital. Some of them had baseballs for him to autograph. Here he is signing for Pfc. Charles F. Hampton, Atlanta, Ga. (left) and Cpl. Jonas Johnson, Asheville, N. C.

John Thomas Easily Nods Maxie Shapiro

John Thomas, 138, leading contender for the lightweight crown, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Maxie Shapiro, 133, of New York, before 8000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night. Thomas took every round, and except for a bleeding nose from one of Shapiro's few effective punches, he was hardly extended.

No knockdowns occured during the battle. Thomas used a sharp left jab mixed with plenty hooks to the body to pile up a large margin of points.

Jackie McCoy, 126, came up from the canvas to score a technical kayo over Earl Maynard, 126, in the fifth.

Results of the fours: Roy Taylor, 172, t.k.o. (3) Shorty Morgan, 170½; Bob Owens, 182, t.k.o. (1) Bob Taylor, 176; Mario Trigo, 131, dec. Kenny Hilton, 133½. The Bobcat Lee, 159½, and Jimmy Knox, 159, bout was declared a one-round technical draw.

Chavez Scores TKO in Eighth

Fabela Chavez, 129, scored an eighth round technical knockout over Freddy Taylor, 130, in the scheduled 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night before a capacity house.

Raul Bustamente, 132, was lucky in getting a draw against Sammy Anders, 134½, in the six-round semi-final.

Results of the four-rounders—Gene Loughridge, 146, dec. Alex Childs, 151; Spencer Coleman, 154½, t.k.o., 2, Chuck Raily, 150½; Johnny Meyers, 156, draw, Georgie Fields, 153½; Darnell Carter, 130½, k.o., 1, Armando Fontes, 133.

Champion Ready for Title Battle Against Billy Conn

By HOYT FARRINGTON (N. Y. Correspondent for California EAGLE)

POMPTON LAKES (N. J.)—As each setting sun brings welcome shadows to the Pompton Lakes training camp of heavyweight champion Joe Louis, the titleholder seems to be in sharper condition for his coming bout against Billy Conn at Yankee Stadium in New York City, Wednesday night, June 19. Joe told this humble correspondent of the California EAGLE that he never felt better and judging from the vicious way in which he has been battering his sparmates around, he certainly seems ready to take on a dozen Conns on the same night.

Last weekend the champ took on Al Hoosman, Los Angeles heavyweight, Jimmy Bell of Washington, and Perk Daniels of Chicago for two rounds each, and nearly dropped Daniels. He worked seven rounds, taking Daniels on for an additional round.

CROWDS WATCH WORKOUTS

Crowds have jammed the camp for the training sessions and many are of varied opinions regarding the outcome of the fight. The consensus of the experts is that Joe will win by a knockout in the early rounds. Though not classing myself as an expert I must say that after watching both fighters in workouts I am forced to string along with the champion for an early ending of the bout via a knockout. I give Conn about five rounds or less to remain upright. It is also very much apparent that Conn has been concentrating on fast footwork and boxing skill, giving one the impression that he intends to fight a running battle with an idea of staying the distance and garnering the decision. It is possible that he will walk away with the nod and the heavyweight crown if he is still on his underpins when the gong sounds ending round fifteen.

EARLY KAYO POSSIBLE

We do not think that Joe Louis intends to allow the bout to go the entire distance. He has been bending every effort in his training toward punching hard and accurately, which bodes no good for his clever opponent. It does not matter how ringwise an opponent is, if he is caught with a hard punch to the whiskers, down he'll go for the full count, especially when Joe Louis is behind the punch.

BIG GATE EXPECTED

So much for opinion. As to the fight a three million dollar gate is expected, with ducats going like the proverbial hotcakes. Practically every hotel is crowded with boxing fans from all over the nation with many having made the long trip from Los Angeles to be on hand early for the bout. The night clubs, cafes and other places of amusement are doing a land office business which is gaining momentum as more and more people arrive in town. This will undoubtedly be the greatest sports event of all time and I wouldn't miss it for anything in the world.

Advance ticket sales, by the way, have hit almost two million iron men, and are increasing daily.

BROWN BOMBER . . . Ready for gong sending him into action against Billy Conn the night of June 19, at Yankee Stadium, in 15-round title bout.

Louis Will Win By K.O. in Four

Joe Louis will retain his world heavyweight championship by knocking out Billy Conn within four rounds. In great shape and champing at the bit for action the champion will dispose of the willing but inefficient Conn in double quick time.

Joe Morris Moves to Evict Plantation Fight Promoters

Joe Morris, operator of the Plantation Night Club at 10718 South Central Avenue, and his partner Leon S. Reed, are reported to have filed an eviction suit in Superior Court to oust sports promoter T. M. Doram and his athletic events from the building, late last week.

Two months ago Doram and others, under the name of the Sportstorium Corp., leased the auditorium for two nights a week, Mondays and Thursdays, for sports events. The lease was to have run for three years with weekly payments to Morris and Reed of $50 or 10% of the gate receipts of each event.

Claiming Doram and his associates have paid them nothing, the plaintiffs demand that the court nullify the lease, grant them $950 back rent and order the corporation to pay $100 weekly for rent that may accrue during pendency of the action.

WHITE SOX PILOT—Carlisle Perry, well-known business man and owner of the Los Angeles White Sox baseball team of the West Coast Baseball Association, announces an opening game at 8:15 p. m. Monday night at Hollywood Stadium against the San Francisco Sea Lions. The Sea Lions also are members of the association, which includes Seattle, Portland, Oakland and San Diego. Wayne Carr is the baseball manager and Allen Ford, secretary. Anderson will be the starting hurler for the L. A. White Sox with Demery getting the pitching assignment for the Sea Lions.

Plantes' Bring Talent to L. A.

The cultural resources of Los Angeles were well improved upon the arrival in the city of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Plante. This couple brought a wealth of training and experience from concert and the stage. They are thinking of making Los Angeles their home.

The Plantes arrived in L. A. from New York almost two weeks ago, after completing an eight months tour of army camps for the U. S. O. Mr. Plante, who is a baritone, was Porgy and the former Nellie Dobson of Oakland brought a rich soprano voice to the difficult role of Serena in George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" in which they appeared before thousands of American GIs. The talented twosome have appeared on Broadway in several musicals.

al appearance tour and was driving to New York.

Mrs. Irene Johnson, widow of Johnson, ordered the body sent to Chicago, where she resides.

BORN IN 1878

Jack Johnson was born at Galveston, Texas, March 31, 1878, the son of a caretaker at a public school. He acquired his boxing skill by serving as a sparring partner for Joe Walcott. John Arthur Johnson, which was his real name, won the title by stopping Tommy Burns of Canada in 14 rounds at Sidney, Australia, Dec. 26, 1908, and lost it to Jess Willard at Havana, Cuba, April 16, 1915, in a questionable fight. His title defense against Jim Jeffries at Reno, Nevada, July 4, 1910, was the original "battle of the century." Jack won by a knockout in the 15th round.

In 1910 Johnson married a white woman from Brooklyn, N. Y., who committed suicide a year later. In 1911 Johnson opened a cafe in Chicago. During his hectic career the ex-champ traveled extensively, appearing in France, England, Spain, Mexico, Czechoslovakia, the Argentine, Brazil, and Cuba.

COLORFUL CAREER

Fight experts called Johnson the cleverest defensive boxer and greatest all around fighter in history. His boxing career lasted 29 years during which time he had 109 major fights and exhibitions. He quit the ring for good about 1928 after a 6-round bout against Bill Hartwell in Kansas City. His was a colorful career and thousands of persons attended his fights to view the then novelty of a Negro fighting a white man. Promoter after promoter tried to develop "white hopes" to beat him but Jack invariably walked off with the honors.

Jess Willard won the title by a knockout in the 26th round. It was a muchly disputed bout, for pictures of the fight showed Johnson shading his eyes from the Cuban sun while being counted out. Cries of a "fixed fight" went up immediately after the fight and it is known that Jack gathered in $30,000 for his efforts while Willard received nothing. Later Johnson is said to have confessed that the fight was fixed but still later he repudiated the "confession."

FOUGHT McLAGLEN

Jack Johnson fought Victor McLaglen, the motion picture star, in Vancouver, Canada, during his career, winning by a decision. Before the last war he lived in Los Angeles for about ten years, giving boxing exhibitions and lessons to novices. His last professional ring appearance was at the age of 54 in Czechoslavakia.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—Little Jockey S. Noffsinger was the star last Sunday at the Hipodromo de Tijuana, scoring on four winners and posting three seconds, a fair day for any jockey. Sharing the honors was that grand mare Glencock. She won the Torbellino Handicap, the feature race, at 5½ furlongs, for her eighth in a row. Although the public made Jay D. Kan the post time favorite, he finished fourth. The winner paid $7.40 for two. In the secondary feature, the Junio, at one mile, King's Gambit won by three lengths, beating Pari Brab and Magic Coat, to pay $13.20, while the favorite, Creole Pass, finished seventh in the nine horse field.

Bonnie Breeze, here for a killing, was badly beaten in the ninth race when Jess Greenock scored by two lengths, paying $23.60 to win, $10.00 to place and $7.20 third. The daily-double with Mad Sun and Ed's Gadget paid $42.60, while the quiniela backers received $52.20 when Warawood and Mon Flag finished one-two.

This Sunday General Manager Agustin Silveyra has arranged another fine card of twelve races with two feature events, the "Rio Grande" at 1⅛ miles, and the "El Verano Handicap" at five furlongs. The latter will bring together a crop of fast sprinters and a new track record may be set. Official James J. Murphy expects one of the largest crowds of the season.

Watch these three at Hollywood Park: PERSISTENT (ready to win), JUST LADY (don't let her get away), and FAIRY BEE (a goodie at six furlongs.

Keep smiling. We hope to see you this Sunday. So long.

Claude Rains, now at Warner Bros. with Bette Davis and Paul Henreid, reports that spring planting of his 600-acre farm in Pennsylvania has been completed.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

The rumor of two weeks ago was true. Mrs. Lucille Pulliam will be at Wadsworth Street school to teach mothers how to clothe their children. Signatures are now being taken at the school for the class. All who are interested may come to Room 24, just across from the office and sign up. Wadsworth Street school is located at 1028 East 40th place.

Clothes for children have been considered for the present time because mothers need to be planning their family wardrobe now. Materials are still difficult to obtain. Those that are available are very expensive. Color selections are also limited.

Choices of color for the school child's garment is another important factor for the satisfactory adjustment of behavior and the like. Soxs and ribbons must blend or match the dress. Even boys are particular about the suitability of colors.

Drab colors are depressing to the child. It is also depressing to the school room. A teacher feels much happier and shows heightened animation when she has a group of pupils who are well groomed and wear lively colors. Also, children respond more freely to a teacher who wears bright colors. The black skirt and white blouse is no longer adaquate for teaching children.

In almost every case where a drably dressed child appears much withdrawal, and frustration occurs. A feeling of inferiority and submission often accompanies dull colors. Mother may think that it saves washing so often, but the real damage it does otherwise is not worth that economy. Then too, dark or dull colors are frequently allowed to become exceedingly soiled in an effort to take advantage of their disguising property.

Select your child's wardrobe with all the colors of the rainbow. They can wear them all.

PHIL CARTER TALKS OF SNOW

From New York City the pen and pencil man Phil Carter opines:—

"An age reversal in Sinatra-like experiences happened to supper-club star Valaida Snow when she was literally mobbed by hundreds of matrons from all over the country at Carnegie Hall here last week. The incident occurred when Miss Snow appeared as guest on a program celebrating the 1,000th coast-to-coast broadcast over NBC by radioman Robert St. John which was attended by women from all over the nation, most of them housewives.

Valaida has been sent for from Hollywood where she starred at the Cotton Club, to appear in person on St. John's program, as one of the ten most interesting human stories related by him over a period of years.

After re-telling the odd story surrounding the musical comedy star—one which has taken her to the four corners of the world and in and out of a German concentration camp, St. John asked her to sing an impromptu number.

Acquiescing, she sang, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," causing the otherwise reserved housewife audience to break out in thunderous applause. And then, after the program was over, they rushed her for autographs for nearly an hour. All of which proves that it isn't only bobby-soxers who show their appreciation in a most demonstrable way."

"I THOUGHT YOU OUGHT TO KNOW"

Roy Milton and His Solid Senders won't have to worry about getting on platter time. The singing star, who cited this as her most frightening experience, was in the car three hours before it was finally released.

Cab Calloway's fan clubs will publish a national newspaper "The Cab Calloway Courier" which will appear quarterly and be free to members of Cab's 1600 fan clubs. . . .MURIEL RAHN, singing star of several recent Broadway musicals, may get to sing the national anthem at the Joe Louis-Billy Conn title fight at Yankee Stadium June 19. Her name is under serious consideration by Promoter Mike Jacobs. If she does get the bid it will make Uncle Mike a lot of new friends among Sepians . . . With the Orpheum theatre playing first run films only, the Million Dollar theatre has now become the top stage show house in Los Angeles. Under the supervision of the same organization which ran the Orpheum, the policy will be much the same. Al Lyons and his pit band move to the Million Dollar and the traditional Monday Guest Star Night will be held at the new home.

Coming this summer to the Million Dollar stage are the bands of Duke Ellington, Woody Herman, Louis Prima, Lionel Hampton, and Stan Kenton.

Other headliners with the current Ink Spot revue are Helen Humes, Eddie "Mr. Cleanhead" Vinson and his orchestra; Coke & Poke; and Peg Leg Bates.

Record News And Reviews

Art Lund's rise to fame with the BENNY GOODMAN band has been one of the amazing musical events of this year. Following up his first two records with BENNY, Art sings this standard favorite with a natural charm and feeling for the music which has made his singing so popular. The arrangement spotlights the vocal, but as always BENNY delivers the tune with musical perfection and tremendous feeling for rhythm. RATTLE AND ROLL is one of these GOODMAN instrumentals which make up so important a part of his library of swing. Written by Buck Clayton, former Count Basie trumpet star recently discharged from the Army, it is a lively jump tune for full band and soloists. Featured are Bel Powell on piano, Dick LeFevre on trombone, and Johnny Best on trumpet. The GOODMAN clarinet is as always an integral part of the solos and ensemble passages, and BENNY'S imaginative playing is a treat to hear.

Columbia recording star, KATE SMITH, is helping strike another blow against prejudice. The Governor's Committee for Racial and Religious Understanding of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has distributed a reprint of an article of hers in Pageant Magazine, "A Time for Tolerance". Now the committee plans to make even wider use of the singer's plea for better relations among Americans by incorporating excerpts from her Pageant article in a Scrapbook for Teachers to be circulated in the public schools throughout the state.

'Dig Mr. K. Kay-Kay' Is Waxed by Russell Trio

Early this week a new song with words and music by Bill (Doc Basso) Joseph entitled "Dig Mr. K. Kay-Kay" and recorded by the Al (Stomp) Russell Trio on Excelsior Records, was reviewed and generally termed a possible hit. It is a jump tune and the contribution of the Russell Trio in a rising tide of sentiment to abolish the infamous Ku Klux Klan.

The number should stir up interest where ever heard, both musically and morally. The Al Russell Trio is one of the fastest rising musical aggregations in the nation, having recently been featured at Billy Berg's Hollywood Supper Club and the Cotton Club.

ON MILLION DOLLAR STAGE—Eddie ("Mr. Cleanhead") Vinson, left, and his orchestra, and Peg Leg Bates, famous dancer, are two of the headliners currently on the Million Dollar theatre stage which features the Ink Spots.

Mrs. J.T. Gipson's Candid Comments

(To My Readers)

Oodles and oodles of thanks to Gene Rodgers for that fine bit of scribbling last week . . . and tho still confined we thought we'd make a try anyway.

THE WEEKLY NEWSREEL

From all reports the formal given by the "Goldrina's" was a great success with just loads of people attending. The "Gipson's" Ida Belle, Lennie Mae and Essie were looking very stunning so I was told . . . and so shapely Odessa Jackson and (her) Terry Johnson said "I do's" to the preacher, Thursday last, the couple have choo-chooed to the Windy City where they will make their home . . . Marie Bryant, Bettie Grable's technicolored rival (figuratively speaking) is naturally wowing 'em in the east . . . You guessed it, it's Bettye Quincey and Michael's interpretative dance act at the Cafe Society that everybody's ravin' about . . . Tommy Brookins of the Onyx Club does a mighty fine job at his place personifying the wonderful "southern hospitality" . . . Two of the Angel City's most popular sportsmen have motored to the "Big Apple" for the fights . . . the two we're speaking of, Nelson Creswell and Sam Taylor . . . Letter from Jimmy (Playboy) Jordon reminds us that Honolulu is great in EVERY way . . . Suddent Thawt: "The only trouble with a husband who works like a horse is that all he wants to do evenings is hit the hay" . . . Understand Leonard Reed no longer produces the Rhumboogie shows . . . what's the matta? Could it be the $alary? Little Harlem is packin' 'em in nitely cause they have something to offer . . . good food, good drinks and one hour of downright solid entertainment . . . If you're wondering why Lorenzo Flennoy is so salty these days, it's because someone broke in his room and stole all his clothes . . . Lorenzo says it must have been a woman.

NOTES FROM A NEWSGIRL'S NOTEBOOK:

Shapely Pudgy Redford, ex-chorine at the Alabam, heads the chorus line at the St. Louis Club Plantation with Joe "Ziggy" Johnson as producer . . . Hear Velma Nelson's new recording of "Itty Bitty Girl" is quite popular . . . Aside to our alleged buddy, "29" . . . Tell the blonde we saw you with that a 30c malt won't break you . . . Alan Dixon of the former Anise and Alan dance team decided he wouldn't single after all. He and Cleo Haynes, former L. A. chorine, are rehearsing a new act for the Zanzibar. . . . Had a letter and photos from Cecil (Count) Carter and he looks great . . . All of the nice things we've ever said about C. T. Webb . . . we take them all back . . . Aha!! Esvan Mosby says "no wonder a woman's mind is cleaner than a man's . . . she changes it oftener!;" . . . Cee Pee Johnson is rating raves aplenty out at Billy Berge's . . . In case you're interested in the cute, dimpled, dreamy-eyed cashier at the Jungle Room. She answers to the name of Delores . . . New Yorkers are still ravin' about the "frantic" party the Peter Sisters threw there . . . Don't know what happened, but Caleb Peterson did only a one nighter at the Big Apple's Club Sudan . . . The famed Four Step Bros. with their new addition "Flash" have just returned from a successful Las Vegas engagement . . . Pot, Tub and Kettle are all settled for a lengthy engagement in Detroit . . . Sudden Thawt: Would like to hear Joyce (Flennoy Trio) Bryant give out with her rendition of "Come Rain, Come Shine" . . . That frantic attractive "redhead" you see occasionally on the "Ave." is Lucretia Tucker Weber . . . Ralph Weaver the lad with the "dancing feet" is booked for a four-week engagement in San Diego . . .

JUST DATA—BUT WHAT'S THE MATTA WITH DATA?

"Sugar Chile" Robinson, the boogie woogie piano discovery, now gets $5000 for every performance he makes . . . not bad at all!! . . . While ailing with these appendixes, the doc informed us surgery might be necessary . . . we asked "Will the scar show, Doc?" . . . "No, not if you're careful," was the reply . . . Artie Brandon gets spot with Rochester in Zanzibar show . . . I guess Maceo Birch is O.K. now that he's handling bands again . . . Pops and Louie are angling for the Nicholas Bros. spot in "St. Louis Woman" if the boys get out the show. However, an eastern report says the Nicholas twosome have signed new contracts . . . We heard that Joe Mac's brand of humor at the westside parts the other a.m. was as out of place as "twin beds" in a hotel room . . . We just couldn't close the column without thanking our many, many friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness during our illness . . . thanks for the lovely flowers from Bettye Quincy and Michal, Bobby Curtis, Hammee's Florist, F. U. Johnson, the Finale Club, Janet Hill and gee!!, all of you other wonderful folks . . . makes us feel awful good . . . so for now . . . "That's all."

Musical 'Rhythm Town' A Mixture of Hits and Misses; Sonny Woods Stars

STAR OF "RHYTHM TOWN"—Utilizing an excellent tenor voice to advantage and showing real stage savvy, SONNY WOODS is easily the star of the current musical comedy "Rhythm Town," which opened last Thursday night at the Beaux Arts theatre.

Afflicted with poor costuming, cheap scenery and a band rationed to four pieces, the musical comedy "Rhythm Town" got off to some sort of a start at the Beaux Arts theatre last Thursday night. Three things the show had that saved it, Sonny Woods, Shirley Haven, and several songs that may well become hits if properly plugged. I have placed them in their order of importance.

Sonny Woods with a magnificent tenor voice held the show together just as surely and firmly as the strand upon which matched pearls are strung. Miss Haven's soprano voice, beauty and amazing poise (considering this was her first stage appearance) met with the approval of the first night audience. She and Mr. Woods were coupled in several beautiful duets. The songs that attracted this writer as possible hits were "On Account of You," "My Heart Believes in You" and "If You Do or If You Don't."

The music was written by "Reb" Spikes, Austin McCoy and John Spikes and all credit is due them for a night of excellent music. "Reb" did the lyrics, the orchestrations and vocal arrangements. Johnny ones designed the costumes and in this writer's opinion must have been suffering with eye trouble when he turned them out. The costumes for the "Bugsdam Peace Conference" were the only standouts except for a fine ensemble worn by Miss Haven late in the second act. I don't suppose we can blame Joseph L. Hall too much for the scenic designs. He probably wasn't given much to work with and after all you can't construct a building like the Empire State with a heap of mud.

Dave Anderson as "Syncopation" did okay as a comic as did his sister, Zelda Anderson, vocally as "Discord." De Forest Covan was fair as "Down Beat" but aped the type of Negro the race is tired of viewing. J. C. Wade as Steve Galli brought something new in the line of comedy that was refreshing. Ralph Metcalf carried off dancing honors.

If there was a plot to the show it was a deep and dark mystery and I for one haven't discovered it yet. If it hadn't been for the rapid pace of the musical this fact would have been more noticeable.

One thing can be said for "Rhythm Town." It is definitely different and some parts of it will no doubt appeal to you if others do not. For that reason alone it is worth seeing.

Having been given a "critic's" seat in the 13th row I was unable to get a fair impression of the band in the pit. (I had a third row press seat at the recent Police show.) Coupled with this my attempted interview with Miss Shirley Haven was abruptly terminated backstage after the show. She was "too busy" to talk to me. I don't know why, the show was over. I could laugh silently at that, remembering when such stars as Ethel Waters, Lena Horne, Hattie McDaniel, Louise Beavers and many, many others were never "too busy" to talk to this member of the lowly press.

EXOTIC DANCERS—Princess Starletta and one of her two dance partners De Cou, strike this exotic pose to demonstrate in a measure something new in Tahitian love dances they will feature when the new production idea shows open at the Club Alabam Friday night. Ceelle Burke's Afro-Cuban recording orchestra will supply the musical background for the stellar act and the show.

'Rhythm Town' In Club Nite Every Monday

"Rhythm Town," the new musical show now at the Beaux Arts Theater, announces that every Monday night will be "Club Night." Any club or organization may rent the entire theater and thereby gain funds for their club or for charitable purposes.

June 17 has already been taken by a club and numerous phone calls show that a great deal of interest is being taken by other clubs asking for future dates. Anyone wishing more information may call REpublic 6211 any day or evening.

During the run of "Rhythm Town," at the Beaux Arts, performances will be given every night at 8:30 and one Sunday matinee at 5 p.m.

In addition to their dramatic effort the Busy Bee-Z will include an essay contest, crowning of the Spring queen and a fashion show on their program. It is a show for children given by children.

Erskine Hawkins At N. Y. Strand

NEW YORK—Erskine Hawkins and his band return to the stage of the New York Strand theatre on Broadway for the fourth straight year beginning Friday, June 14. The Twentieth Century Gabriel is scheduled for a four weeks run at the midtown vaudeville and picture house.

"YOU'RE ONE OF THE GREATEST, GENE!" the renowned Earl "Fatha" Hines, at left, told Gene Rodgers, sensational piano stylist, during a recent visit the famous band leader paid the latest toast of Hollywood cafe society. Rodgers, known as the "rajah of the keyboards," currently is headlining an all-star show at the Swanee Inn in the film capital.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son and brother, Lt. George Kenneth Hays.

"Home is where you are,
Be it near or far.
Tho' you've gone to some distant clime
And left us behind,
We can but wait, hope and pray
That he will have us meet some days.
Waiting through the long years,
Eyes oft dimmed with unshed tears,
Knowing He who keepeth thee
Will in time take us to thee,
Then home we'll be together,
Under God's protection forever."

Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Hays, Lt. Milton S. Hays and Mrs. Ruth Payne.

The Door of Hope: The Bab will be the subject of the lecture to be given by Winston Evans on Sunday, June 16, at 3:00 p.m. at Los Angeles Baha'i headquarters, 331 South New Hamshire avenue.

On May 23, 1844, a radiant youth of Persia, known as the Bab (Door of the Spirit) proclaimed His mission of heralding the coming of a mighty educator who would quicken the souls, illumine the minds, unify the consciences and remold the customs of makind. Upon this preparation the foundation of the cause was laid by Baha'u'llah (Glory of God), whose universal principles of personal and social regeneration were revealed under conditions of cruel oppression unequalled in the annals of religion.

In Memoriam

In memory of a loving Son Milton D. Scott, Jr., who was killed in action June 9, 1944, in the Invasion of Normandy.

Milton Dear, we miss you so
As we travel to and fro;
When some of the rest came back 'twas sad,
To know your face wouldn't make us glad.

Your vacant chair is surely missed
We hope your sold God's truly blessed;
Although we love you, He knew best,
And took you home with the blest.

It's two years now since you've been gone—
Our love for you is not yet torn
As days pass by, we think of you,
And hope some day to meet you too.

Sleep on, dear Son, till that great day—
When God's few, shall then hold sway;
Sleep on, dear Son, with the blest,
We loved you dear, but God loved you best.

WELCOMED BACK—Rev. F. Cameron, who returned to his pulpit Sunday, June 2, amid greetings and best wishes from members and friends of the Ebenezer Baptist church. Rev. Cameron suffered a brief illness.

Big Program of Activities for Father's Day at Victory Bapt.

The Victory Baptist church, 48th and McKinley avenue, of which Rev. A. A. Peters is minister, is planning a big day on Father's Day, Sunday, June 16. The men of the church are observing their annual men's day with interesting programs at both morning and evening services.

A chorus of 50 male voices will be featured throughout the day, having as their guest soloist Sam Bowlin, who will sing the well-beloved Albert Mallotte's "Lord's Prayer." S. P. Johnson will be master of ceremonies.

Rev. S. Maxwell, a retired chaplain of the United States army, will be the featured speaker of the morning. Deacon Fred Carr is serving as captain of men.

From 12 noon to 6 p. m. dinner will be served at the Victory Baptist church center, 4810 McKinley avenue. Included on the menu will be roast turkey, barbecued pig and all the trimmings.

At 3 p. m. the Knights of Tabor will hold their annual service in the auditorium of the church. The Victory Baptist choir will render the music for this occasion.

From 4 to 7 p. m. the Mothers' Board is having a tea at the home of Mother Anderson, 1333 E. 48th street.

At 7:30 p. m. the men of the church will present an all sacred song program with the Hightower Boys' Orchestra rendering special selections. The sermon for the evening will be delivered by Rev. Robert Williams.

On Sunday, June 23, the women of the church will observe Women's Day.

"Through many dangers, toils and snares we have already come," declares Rev. Peters. "Yes, Victory Baptist church is on its steady march onward and has made excellent progress in the uplifting of God and in service to the community. You are welcome to worship with us at any time," he added.

Christian Science Topic
God, Preserver of Man

"Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me." This verse from the Psalms will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Preserver of Man" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

In a Bible citation from John's Gospel Jesus says, "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed. Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent .... Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "I do not maintain that anyone can exist in the flesh without food and raiment; but I do believe that the real man is immortal and that he lives in Spirit, not matter." "In that perfect day of understanding, we shall neither eat to live nor live to eat."

Card of Thanks

Rev. F. Cameron wishes to thank his many friends who visited his home and offered prayer while he was shut-in through illness. The pastor and membership also wish to thank the ministers and congregations of the various churches for helping to make Rev. Cameron's Seventh pastoral anniversary a success.

Sunday, June 16, Elder Mayweather of the Church of God in Christ will be the guest speaker in the afternoon services to be conducted by the young men's department of the church.

DR. ZETAR SAYS:

Our methods attack the basic cause of many common ailments. Backache and joint pains and most of the rheumatics, such as neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, arthritis, neuralgia and sciatica, etc., are due to joint distortions or toxemia, therefore, unless the basic cause of these ailments are treated only temporary relief can be accomplished.

It is no illusion with me after years of successful practice, but it is a scientific fact, based on exact observation and correct thinking that Chiropractic treatments do bring wonderful results, especially in the rheumatics, joint-distortions, nerve and circulatory disorders and most of the gastro-intestinal ailments; also Dr. Zetar has specialized in the correction of Foot Disabilities for many years, so if you are in need of FOOT COMFORT, why suffer, when there are tried and proven methods of treatments to help you. You will not go wrong to consult us on these problems.

REDUCING—We have installed in our office the latest and most accurate ELECTRONIC SLENDERIZERS for both general reducing and spot reducing. You can be beautiful and healthy. Our reducing system will take off inches and 20 to 40 pounds safely and quickly.

WHAT MAKES AN EDUCATED PERSON

If you think you have to be graduated from college to be considered educated, perhaps this will aid you in changing your mind. Of course an education is beneficial and all those who can obtain one should do so, but it doesn't make the person who is the recipient, a lady or gentlemen nor does it necessarily help them display good manners.

There is an example told by the President of Vassar college, concerning a woman who lived in a college town and grew up doing various jobs connected with the college, but she never attended. She made herself very useful, and although her education came by contact, she used to sit in the college chapel and scan the faces of the students, listening to them talk and learning from them that which she did not know.

In choosing this woman as an example the professor had no intention of belittling formal education, which she had so little of, for after all she may have become a lawyer or professor with the full complement of years in high school, college and law school. But she proves that much can be done without the formal discipline, if you are right with yourself and with others.

E. S.—Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column in the California EAGLE, and find it helpful and interesting. Would you please advise me concerning this matter. Will I ever marry?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that have been married, but your life is very lonesome now and you would like to get married and have a home of your own and the companionship that marriage offers. I am sure I can help you solve this problem, if you will write in for a private reply at your earliest convience.

R. M.—Sometime ago I lost my watch, will I ever find it?

Ans.—At this time I do not vision your getting this watch back, as you waited too long to investigate the matter. Your daughter and niece won't feel bad about it because they realize accidents do happen, and as much as you cherished this gift from them and tried to take care of it, you certainly did not want to lose it.

L. K.—I have some money tied up, will I be able to get it soon? Will I marry the man I love?

Ans.—According to your lucky stars and guiding Planet, your financial conditions are going to improve. Only one question is answered in the column due to the limited amount of space. I suggest you write in for a private reply.

R. R.—Dear Sir: I received my reply from you sometime ago and it brought me great comfort and relief. My mind has been so upset because I didn't know what to do nor which way to turn . . . but now I can rest at ease, for your decision was right and now we are at peace with each other. Thanks again for your help. Prof. Herman.

R. S.—Can you tell me anything about the person I am interested in?

Ans.—It seems to me that you met this person last June, and have been interested in him ever since. I am of the opinion that they have been married but are living alone now. I suggest you try contacting them again.

B. D.—Does he really care for me?

Ans.—Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate this young man as being very fond of you. This person whose initials are A. will prove this to you in the very near future.

S. A. E.—What should I do about my situation?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you are married to one man but in love with another. And your husband suspects as much. Perhaps it would be the best thing to be honest with your husband before real trouble begins. I am sure he would apreciate your doing that much more than your trying to see this other man at various times and still remaining with him as his wife. I would be glad to advise your further if you will write in for a private reply.

L. A. Contractor Firm Gets 'Award of Merit'

In recognition of their excellent selection of home planning, the A. J. Saurin Co., well known local contractors are the proud receiptents of the "Architectural Award of Merit" by the National Association of Home Builders.

This concern whose specialized activities in the remodeling field has benefited hundreds of veterans in providing housing has recently moved to 2022 West 8th St., where, through enlarged quarters and better facilities it will be even in a better position to serve an ever increasing clientele built upon an unusual service that has placed the A. J. Saurin Co., in an enviable position among contractors.

Fortify yourself with contentment, for this is an impregnable fortress.—Epictetus.

Must Be No Race Discrimination In Housing Program, FPHA Head Tells Architects Meet in Miami

MIAMI, FLA.—All racial and religious groups, as well as all brackets of family income, must be given equal and fair treatment as the nation rebuilds and expands its housing, Philip M. Klutznick, commissioner of the Federal Public Housing Authority, stated before the annual meeting of the Architects' Institute of America at Miami, Florida.

"This is much easier said than done," Klutznick declared. "By our deeds of omission as well as commission we have given sanction to discrimination in meeting the needs of our people. To reverse a long-accepted trend requires a willingness to undertake unpopular and unprofitable assignments.

It means a never ending fight against the steel bands that have confined large numbers of our people to poorly-selected, overcrowded and congested areas of land. It means the opening up of new frontiers in land and in mind. It means fighting obstables without number—yet it is a fight which must be made if the spirit of America is to grace and hallow the beauty of our physical accomplishments."

Klutznick stressed that the quality of housing must not be sacrificed on the altar of quantity in the drive to reach the target set by the Veterans Emergency Housing Program. He said that the National Housing Agency, under Wilson W. Wyatt's leadership, is striving to avert this danger, and that the preventive is sound planning to meet the economic and social ambitions of the American people.

As an example of sound planning, Klutznick pointed to Greenbelt, Maryland, near Washington, D. C., developed by the government. He described it as "a place of simple beauty cut out of a wooded green site" with "wide and open vistas", a "profusion of trees" and "well planned roads and walks." While all people will not like Greenbelt, its planning has blazed a trail that can be profitably followed by others, he said.

Senate Pulls More OPA Teeth; Prices Soaring

WASHINGTON — The senate further weakened OPA yesterday in its first action on a price control bill which Stabilization Director Chester Bowles had protested already left the agency powerless to combat inflation.

It adopted without dissent a proposal by Senator Moore (R., Okla.) to require "prompt removal of ceilings on manufactured products and other non-farm items whenever the supply exceeded or was in approximate balance with" demand, thus wiping out OPA discretionary powers.

Meantime, prices continued to soar throughout the nation as manufacturers and farmers held their products off the market on the basis of the current move in congress to abolish all price controls.

MERCHANTS WARNED — The Better Business Bureau this week warned retail merchants to be on the lookout for one Charles A. Thurston, Jr., alias Greg Thurston, who "falsely represents himself to be a salesman for Anatole Robbins, Inc., of Hollywood, and enters stores under this guise, passing worthless checks." He is 35, 6 ft. 2 in., 160 pounds, dark brown hair, hazel eyes, very heavy eyebrows. Thurston is white.

FSA To Aid Migrants Who Wish To Rent or Purchase Farm Lands

SAN FRANCISCO—The Farm Security Administration today began a special study of the situation of Negroes who migrated to California cities during the war and who now wish to resume farming in this state or elsewhere.

Ralph W. Hollenberg, FSA regional director, said that John H. Williams, a Negro agricultural specialist of Dallas, Texas, has been assigned to study the farm-minded Negro's problem here during the next three weeks.

Williams will visit FSA offices at Merced, Fresno and Bakersfield next week. The remainder of his time will be spent in Los Angeles and the Bay Area.

"Many Negroes who came to California during the war were farm - experienced," Hollenberg said. "Some of them want to buy or rent farms here now. They are finding few good opportunities because of the prevailing inflation of land values and because they lack credit and in many cases the necessary specialized skills. A good many Negro families are being sold plots of submarginal land on which they can never hope to make a decent living.

"We want to learn more of the needs and plans of the farm-minded Negroes who are now in the cities, and we want to help them open every safe channel to farm ownership. At the same time we want to discourage the purchase of uneconomic tracts the chief crop of which will be chronic poverty."

Williams will give special attention to the problems of Negro veterans who want to buy or rent California farms.

Champ Kayoes Conn And Retains Title

By HOYT FARRINGTON
(By Wire to California EAGLE)

NEW YORK CITY, Yankee Stadium—Close to 70,000 fight fans sat in Yankee Stadium here under cloudy skies and endured rather chilly weather to watch Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight champion, successfully risk his title by scoring a knockout in 2m. 19s. of the eighth round over Billy Conn last night.

Scheduled for 15-rounds, the champion after a slow start, warmed to his task and with a terrific barrage of punches in the eighth used a right cross followed by a terrific left hook to turn the trick and stretch the challenger flat upon his back to hear the fatal count of Referee Eddie Joseph.

JOE LOUIS

Louis scaled 207 to 182 for Conn. Judges were Jack O'Sullivan and Frank Ford. The challenger entered the ring first wearing a white robe and black trunks while Louis wore a red and blue robe on top, a white robe underneath, had a white towel upon his head and wore purple trunks.

18-5 ODDS WERE RIGHT

With the odds 18-5 in his favor the champion set himself to his task and although he was the aggressor and led the fight up to its fatal end, the battle was slow until the champ opened up in the eighth, although he shook Conn up several times.

NOTABLES ATTEND

Eddie "Rochester" Anderson was among the notables present which included both the governor of New York and Pittsburgh, where Conn hails from.

GAMBLERS SEE ACTION

Probably more money was bet on this bout than any previous encounter between heavyweights. Ready cash for Conn supporters rushed up from Los [illegible]eles, Chicago, Detroit and [illegible] points south. Trick bets were the fad because the reluctant Conn backers had to be practically framed into parting with their greenbacks.

Most of the wagers were on

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

Contrary to police opinion, I feel that the things that are happening in this community are not pranks, but are aimed at creating racial tensions which well may explode in regrettable interracial clashes if not halted in time. I think it's about time Mayor Bowron, District Attorney Fred Houser and Sheriff Biscailuz take joint action to assure all citizens protection against all Ku Klux Klan attacks.

Last Saturday morning, for instance, KKK's dotted the Eastside.

At an apartment near the corner of East 43rd Street and Main, where seven Negro families live, Mr. S. D. Patterson, of 127 E. 43rd St., stepped from his apartment to the street to find three glistening white K.K.K.'s on the sidewalk.

A block below the Patterson home, on the corner of Woodlawn and 43rd Street, is the Y.W.C.A., a religious institution dedicated to the task of training young women in civic, social, and religious fields for the advancement of Christian education and the making of a better world for all mankind. On the 43rd Street side of the Y.W.C.A. three K's decorated the sidewalk directly in front of the entrance to the building.

Encouraged by the lack of interest of law enforcement agencies in these "playful" pranks, the perpetrators intensify their acts of vandalism.

Saturday morning papers announced a possible Klan flare-up when Richard Bates and Fred Mills were taken from their home at 822 Spruce Street, beaten, stabbed, kicked, and told that they with the Mexican residents would be driven from the section.

Monday afternoon the office of the Mobilization for Democracy was called by an unidentified individual who stated that the Klan would pay The California Eagle a visit Monday evening.

N.A.A.C.P. President Thomas Griffith called at The California Eagle office later Monday evening, stating that he, too, had received an anonymous call that the office of that organization was on the agenda for a visit from the Klan.

Richard Aubry who was beaten two weeks ago by two men when returning to his home from work, was threatened with death Monday also.

All of these incidents have been reported to the police.

I say again that Klan inspired efforts to intimidate minority groups, and to create racial tensions, breeds contempt for law and order. Such should be stopped.

We call on the mayor of the city to go on the radio demanding a cessation of Ku Klux Klan or whoever is responsible for these terroristic threats.

At the time of this writing, 10:30 Monday evening, June 17, neither the white sheeted angels of the devil, nor the police, who were advised of the proposed Klan visit to this office, have arrived.

I am glad to state, however, that a cordon of vigilant

AN OUTRAGE—Wife-stealing, arson, assault with intent to kill . . . these are the things which add up to one of the most brutal and sordid cases to come to the attention of the citizens of Los Angeles. And it all happened here!

At upper left is the scene of assault where two armed white men forced two Negro men to strip and kneel while they beat, kicked and stabbed them. Their crime? Richard Bates, a Negro, and his friend, Fred Mills, protested the stealing of Bates' wife.

Second picture from top shows Fred Mills who informed Bates of love affair between Marylene Bates and Dave Rogers (white). At lower left, Bates and friends look at part of home damaged by fire. To the right, Mills' mother and Bates hold milk bottles in which they found kerosene used to set house ablaze.

Raises Gang to Fire House, Beat Two Men

A love drama enacted behind the scene over a period of several months made news headlines this week.

Richard Bates, 29, of 822 Spruce St. went to work daily at the California Sun Fertilizer Co. leaving his wife, Marylene, at home.

Bates finally learned from Fred Mills, another tenant living in the poorly constructed frame house, that as soon as he left for his job, Dave Rogers (white), who at one time lived in the same house with Dennis Towne (colored), spent the day with Marylene Bates in illicit love-making.

Returning home earlier than usual one day, Bates surprised the lovers. An exchange of blows followed and the affair seemingly ended with Bates admin-

OaklandSafeway Store Hard Hit By Job Pickets

OAKLAND—The Safeway grocery store located at 12th and Adeline streets here has been empty of customers, with few exceptions, since June 15 when the West Oakland section of the Communist party of Alameda county established a picket line in front of the store in a drive to end the firm's refusal to hire Negro clerks.

State Supreme Court Delays Ruling On Covenant Cases

Although the California supreme court last week took under submission the legal arguments in the Henry Laws and 11 other restrictive covenant cases, it refused to rule on whether it would accept Amicus Curiae (friends of the court) briefs which have been pouring in from all sections of the nation.

Thus, in tying in the Laws case with other racial restrictive covenant cases, the court postponed handing down a final decision which was expected to have nationwide importance in the fight to outlaw restrictive covenants.

Attorney Charles Katz, arguing on behalf of the Laws family, who went to jail for failure to comply with a ruling ordering them to vacate their home, said:

"The contempt of court process by which the Laws were sent to jail is obviously state action. It is state action because the state took sides." Katz expressed the conviction

Partial Victory Won In Case of Law Student

AUSTIN, Tex.—A partial victory in the fight to break down jimcrow educational barriers in the South was chalked up this week when Judge Roy Archer in district court granted a mandamus to Herman Marion Sweatt, Houston youth, compelling the University of Texas to admit him as a law student.

The court, however, suspended the action for six months to allow the State of Texas to establish a Negro law school. Previously the state paid the tuition fees of Negro law students to attend school outside of the state. This practice was challenged in recent years by Negro organizations and was banned in a decision handed down by the U. S. supreme court. The high court held that Texas and other southern states must provide facilities for Negro students inside state boundaries.

8 E'side Firms Settle for OPA Price Violations

Eight Eastside firms were among the record high number of 472 in Southern California who made cash settlements last month with OPA price control boards because of asserted over-ceiling sales, according to Mark Keyser, chairman of the 82.5.40 price control board. The sum of $199.35 was paid by asserted violators on the Eastside, with a total of $32,853.50 for the Southland.

As a further result of the price agency's action, cash refunds totaling $47,484.36 were made to 127 Southern California consumers who had been overcharged, for an average refund of $58 each. These refunds were in addition to the $32,853.50 paid to the U. S. treasury.

Eastside merchants who made settlements were: Driver Bros., cleaners, 4526 S. Central ave.; Young Kee Market, 4186 S. Ascot ave., Brown's Motor Shop, 4276 S. Central ave., Morgan Bros., 5305 S. Central ave., Owl Cafe, 1060 E. Vernon ave.; Ray's Market, 4715 S. Hooper ave.

Ask Warren to Name Negro to Superior Court

Governor Earl Warren this week had received a request to appoint a duly qualified Negro to the superior court of Los Angeles to fill the vacancy created by the sudden death of Judge John Beardsley, who died in his home on June 10.

The request was made by the Elks' Civil Liberties League through its director, Vince Monroe Townsend Jr., and the Community Political Action Council, through its president, Adolphus Clay. In separate communications to the governor, Townsend and Clay called attention to previous similar requests which the state executive had ignored.

Eagle Print Shop Closed for Repairs young people, headed by Donald Derricks and Ike Adams, are here, in and around the California EAGLE office, just in case.

It is strange to note what little credence is placed on this serious threat to the security of our government and its amicable relations with other governments by the revival of the Ku Klux Klan in the United States.

Forging a chain of hate and making its bid for White Supremacy across the nation from Stone Mountain in Georgia to California, the Klan is staging a reign of terror against Negro, Chinese, Jewish and Mexican Americans.

Yet the committees, both local and national, which investigate Un-American activities, find no fault with the Klan—they are too busy conditioning the people for a battle against the "Reds."

Why?

I will open this column for discussion on "Why Have the Authorities Forsaken the Safety of American Citizens to Engage in Red Baiting?" and "Who is the Enemy of the Peace—The So-called 'Reds' or the Ku Klux Klan?"

OPA Plans Blackmarket Fight In Negro Communities During July

WASHINGTON — To eliminate over-ceiling charges and other black market practices in Negro communities, the OPA is planning a special effort on the part of its regional and district information panels during the month of July.

The necessity for widespread community participation in the activities of price control boards if their operations are to be significant and effective in controlling retail prices in the community is realized by the price agency, declared Paul Porter, OPA administrator.

"By community participation," Porter said, "we mean the assumption of responsibility—both as individuals and working together in groups—by people in the community for an effective price control program. In this way people 'do something' about price control. They educate their community, report violations, work as board volunteers. To be effective, this participation must obviously include the racial and nationality groups which make up the community."

istering a sound spanking to his wife.

Marylene Bates and her white paramour left the house after the fisticuffs warning Bates: "We'll get you for this!"

Determined to make good his threat, Rogers lost no time in rallying to his support the Klan elements in the Elysian Park district. Early Saturday morning, Rogers and his partner in crime swooped down upon several families in the Spruce St. hillside home, drenched one side of the building with kerosene, lit a match, then hid in the brush to watch the burning of the home and its inhabitants.

In the upper structure, Bates heard the crackling flames, aroused his friend, Fred Mills, and other tenants in the building and doused the fire. Turning, they saw Dave Rogers and Marylene Bates standing on the opposite side of the street. They ran after the couple. Unable to catch them, they turned to go home, but were stopped by two armed men who came out of the darkness and ordered them to nearby Elysian Park.

In the park, at the point of a gun, they were told to remove their clothes and kneel. Mills and Bates were knocked down, kicked, stabbed and generally beaten from head to toe. Their clothing was thrown in the ravine. Bates and Mills rolled down the hills to escape their assailants and finally dragged their bleeding bodies to the Elysian Park police radio station.

At the Georgia St. Receiving Hospital the two men were treated for bruises and contusion. Bates said he had $10.00 in his trousers.

Alleged Killers To Go On Trial Friday, June 28

A pair of alleged murderers faced superior court trials after being held in preliminary hearings in municipal court this week.

Held by Judge Joseph Chambers was Willis Moore, 29, of 925 East Adams blvd. Moore is accused of having shot to death Robert Lynch, 43, in an argument at a crap game taking place at the suspect's home. He was defended by Attorney Everette Porter, who indicated a self-defense theory would be relied upon, as the defendant told police the victim was attacking him with a knife.

Sixty-year-old Jesse Grant Matthews was held following a love triangle shooting of Mrs. Hattie Mae Brown, beautiful 25-year-old mother. Matthews denies any part of the killing, in which Ples Chester Eskridge was shot. Porter also defended Matthews. Both will be arraigned June 28.

Eastside Chamber Ousts Pres.–Maybe

It's probably official this time. Anyway, only one statement has been received so far from the Eastside Chamber of Commerce and that is to the effect that its board of directors has voted "unanimously" to sustain the action of the executive committee in ousting E. Jay Bullock from the office of president on May 9 last.

At that time, Bullock supporters asserted that the same executive committee meeting the same night had voted support of Bullock and removed from office, two of his opponents, Leroy R. Ingram, secretary-manager, and Robert G. LaMar, field secretary.

Miss. Court Orders New Trial for Willie McGee

NEW YORK—The supreme court of Mississippi has ordered a new trial for Willie McGee, 30, Laurel, Miss., who was under death sentence for alleged criminal assault on a white woman. The unanimous decision of the supreme court followed an appeal by the Civil Rights Congress, through its attorneys headed by Forrest B. Jackson of Jackson, Miss.

Original verdict in the case was appealed by Jackson on the grounds that he was hurried to conviction under pressure of mob and race hysteria. Public feeling in Laurel, where the crime was alleged to have been committed and where the trial was held, was so inflamed that McGee's attorneys were unable to obtain affidavits in support of the plea for a change of venue, Jackson charged. Even relatives of the defendant were too intimidated to act, he stated.

Decision granting the new trial will be final June 25, with the prosecution having the right to appeal in the meantime. The case will be re-tried in the next term of the Jones county circuit court, which begins October 7.

Charged with rape of a white woman whose only identification of her assailant was that "he had kinky hair and wore a sweatshirt," McGee was convicted, according to CRC officials, on the basis of "an unbelievable tale of rape without waking a child in the same bed, another in the same room and a husband in the next room." He was given a brief sanity trial at which only laymen testified and sentenced the same day to death in the electric chair. Appeal of the verdict brought an automatic stay of execution.

Full resources of the Civil Rights Congress will be mobilized for the defense of McGee, CRC officials announced in appealing for contributions to finance the campaign. Contributions should be sent to the CRC at 205 East 42nd street, New York 17, N. Y.

Livingston Grad Aids Important Food Research

WASHINGTON — The keeping quality of home-canned foods and their retention of food nutrients are important research problems which Miss Katrine White, Negro scientific aide, is helping food chemists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to solve in order to provide improved food conservation methods for American homemakers.

Miss White, a graduate of Livingston college, where she studied chemistry, has been employed in the Beltsville research laboratories of the bureau of human nutrition and home economics for nearly two years. Her duties include incubating samples, preparing testing solutions, and assisting the chemist in charge of carrying out tests for purifying and concentrating vitamin B1.

The 23-year-old scientific aide is one of the first colored women to be employed to do scientific work in the bureau.

Police Claim Lad Confessed Assault-Killing

LANGHORNE, Pa.—Police this week claimed that 14-year-old Aaron Shelton, Jr., Philadelphia youth, described as "big for his age," had confessed that he bludgeoned, attacked and then strangled Mrs. Peggy Shetland, 48-year-old white woman and wife of a Trenton, N. J. rubber company executive.

The youth, according to the police, attempted to conceal the crime by setting fire to the trim-two-story house occupied by Mrs. Shetland and her husband, Walter.

Shelton's father was plowing a nearby field and ran into the house when he noticed smoke. He carried the body out.

Youth Held In Fatal Shooting

(MNS)—A suspicion of murder charge has been filed by the district attorney's office against Kinzel Denard, 31, of 711½ East Fifth Street, for the alleged shooting Saturday evening of Sallie Mae Coleman, 21, also of the East Fifth Street address.

Miss Coleman told officers before she died at the General Hospital Sunday morning that she had gone to Denard's room to collect $10. An argument ensued and she hit him, she said.

Denard told police that he picked up a .12 guage shotgun by the bed and that during the scuffle the gun wnt off, sending one shell into her stomach.

Victim Fails to Press Weapon Assault Charge

(MNS)—Judge Wilbur Curtis this week dismissed a charge of suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon against John H. Warlick, 33, of 808 East Fifth Street, when the alleged victim, Irene Miller, 41, of the same address, failed to appear in a preliminary hearing this morning.

The alleged knifing followed an argument on June 6, Miss Miller had previously asserted to investigators.

CORRECTION

That part of the cutlines under picture of Jules Jackson-Haywood in last week's EAGLE which read "Jules will be the only recipient of this degree at Saturday's commencement," should have read, "Jules will be the only recipient of this degree in piano at Saturday's commencement."

Faces Trial for Taking Pot Shot At Love Rival

(MNS)—A pot shot at an acquaintance last April 30 had reverberations on Monday for William H. Davis, 48 year old truck driver, of 632 East 55th Street, as the district attorney's office formally charged him with suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Police reported that at that time, Davis and Edward Davis, 24 year old longshoreman, had an argument at the home of Mrs. Willie Mae Davis, at 1245 East 43rd Place, when William Davis ordered the longshoreman to leave the premises.

As Edward Davis left and halfway crossed the street, the truck driver assertedly fired a shot at him which missed.

The suspect told police, "I have warned him to stay away from the place before. That's why I chased him away with this gun. He lives there with my wife, whom I have separated from. I had this gun with me that night." At his home, police found a German BS Luger automatic and some live shells.

Negro Abducted, Beaten By Masked Men; Georgia In Move to Outlaw Klan

ATLANTA—The move to outlaw the Ku Klux Klan in Georgia, initiated several weeks ago by Gov. Arnall, will be taken to the courts within the next week, according to an announcement by State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

Meantime, liberal elements in the state were aroused by the abduction and beating of a Gordon (Ga.) Negro by four masked white men who represented themselves as members of the hooded outfit.

The outrage is allegedly being investigated by Sheriff W. E. Hambrich of Twiggs county who, however, already has attempted to minimize the incident with the statement that his "investigaton" has shown so far that the masked men were "merely" members of "local anti-labor folks."

The attorney general said he would fill suit in the next few days to revoke the Klan's charter. He told a press conference that Atlanta is the "national headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan," and the organization operates nationally under its Georgia charter.

Major Harriette B. White To Leave U. S. Army In July

One of the finest products of the WACs, Major Harriette B. White, who was promoted to the rank of major on April 23, 1946, is slated for an honorable discharge during the latter part of July. On terminal leave the high-ranking WAC officer paid a visit to the California EAGLE this week.

Major White, member of first officer Candidate class at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, of July, 1942, was one of two Negro instructors of officer candidates until November, 1942, when she was selected for recruiting.

On April, of 1943, Major White was ordered to Fort Devens, Mass., where she served as the first Negro battalion commander in the WACs. During August of the same year she was sent to Fort Bragg, N. C., as detachment commander of a WAC unit until December, 1945. The women under Major White served in the capacities of medical, dental laboratory, X-Ray and labratory technicians within the regional hospital, motor transport chauffeurs, drivers, dispatchers and librarians, assistant hostesses and clerks, general. She was the sixth Negro captain within the WACs, receiving her promotion in April, 1943.

Then dental laboratory technicians and medical laboratory technicians were retained as civilian employees upon deactivation of the unit in December, 1945. They were the first Negroes to be employed in such capacities at Fort Bragg under civil service.

Major White was the recipient of a letter of commendation from the post commander, Brigadier General John T. Kennedy, upon closing of the unit. She was sent to Fort Benning, Ga., in December, 1945 where she was detachment commander of WAC detail Section 2 and club officer of Pine Lodge Officers Club. Upon leaving the post Major White was complimented for her work by the post commander, Brigadier General B. Caffey.

Major White believes that the bulk of women within the WACs had been benefitted in many ways because of their service.

Businessman Manhandled by Traffic Cops

Jerry Anderson Hogan, Jr., president of the Home Owners Maintenance Corp., 4953 So. Central ave., was the victim of manhandling and racial abuse Tuesday afternoon when he was stopper by two traffic officers, who accused him of a traffic violation.

Hogan had just pulled up in front of the San Pedro Lumber Co., 16th and Central ave., with whom he does business, when the two officers appeared. In the all too familiar pattern of white policemen in their dealings with Negro citizens, the officers called Hogan "a black s-- of a b----," pushed him around when he protested.

A traffic violation served on Hogan bore the signature of Officer M. E. Nielson of the Newton st. division. According to Hogan, the other officer took off his cap and held his shield covered during the encounter.

NAACP Drive Nearing the 10,000 Mark

Leadership is telling in the race between the districts in the current NAACP campaign for 25,000 members. This is especially true of the "league leading" Eastside A. district which is led by John Hall and Rev. P. D. Lehman. As the workers faced this week, resolved to bring the total membership count to 10,000 with the next four sessions, the district figures were:

Eastside A., led by John Hall and Rev. Lehman, 1285 members, $1829; Westside, led by Lorenzo Bowdoin and Clarence O. English, 874 members, $1349; South Los Angeles, headed by Russell P. Young and Mrs. Emma Jones, 862 members, $988; Eastside B, led by Mrs. Alberta C. Harrison and Clarence Smith, 793 members, $1020.50; Housing Units, under Mrs. Anita Wright and W. J. Marshall, 609 members, $821.50.

Wilshire, led by Dr. H. C. Hudson and George A. Baber, Jr., 417 members, $888; Bronzeville, under Rev. Harold Kingsley and Mrs. Adelaide Plumb, 194 members, $242; Temple, led by Robert Bennett and Wayne Graham, 105 members, $489.50; Labor, headed by Malmore Hibler and Theodore Gray, 217 members and $260; and Hollenbeck, under Rev. Lawrence A. Felix, 67 members and $70.

To date the Special Gifts division, under the able leadership of H. A. Howard and L. G. Robinson, have reported 396 membership, amounting to $1304.50; of this amount the Golden West Realty Board can claim credit for $323, representing 28 memberships.

Persons desiring to help in the final push for 25,000 are invited by Mrs. Emma Spencer and Edward Atkinson, co-chairmen of the drive, to attend the Tuesday and Thursday night meetings at campaign headquarters, 1105 E. Vernon, or contact the office at CEntury 2-9078.

House Group Votes Down KKK Inquiry

WASHINGTON—The Ku Klux Klan this week had been assured that the house Un-American Activities committee had no intention of investigating its activities.

The assurance was given by Ernie Adamson, committee counsel, who disclosed that the committee voted 5 to 1 on May 29 not to investigate the Klan.

Adamson told reporters he was making the committee's action public to correct inaccurate reports that had leaked out about the vote.

Father Dunne, Kenny Urge Co-ordinated, All-Out Fight To Crush Ku Klux Klan

We must wage a united battle to smash the Ku Klux Klan!

This was the spirit of over 8000 persons who marched out of Olympic auditorium last Friday night stirred to fighting action against the KKK by militant speeches of outstanding community and state leaders.

The mammoth "Stop the Klan" rally, sponsored by the Mobilization for Democracy, heard chairman Attorney General Robert Kenny declare:

"The main strength of the Klan lies in the need it fulfills at the present time; diverting the nation from the main problems of finding jobs for everyone, of freeing our government from the influence and control of monopoly and fascism and the problem of keeping world peace."

Father George Dunne of Loyola university, brought the audience to its feet with a powerful, straightforward address in which he urged law enforcement agencies to use as much zeal in investigating Klan activities as in enforcing injunctions and smashing picket lines.

"When people and organizations are busy circulating restrictive covenants to set up ghettoes, and when fiery crosses are burned, my first impulse would be to find out who was circulating petitions because this would lead to the KKK," he declared.

Reading a list of 14 Klan terrorists activities during the last month, Dunne said it was the duty of all religious leaders, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish alike, to merge their strength with that of all progressive leaders in a militant battle against the Klan and all fascist elements.

Dr. Max Nussbaum, Rabbi of Temple Israel in Hollywood which was desecrated by Klan vandals, and a refugee from a Nazi concentration camp, pointed out how the Nazis were able to destroy opposing groups one by one because no unity or contact existed between various political factions, between Jews, Catholics and Protestants.

William Nutter, chairman of the Pacific Electric Division of the Railroad Brotherhoods, put forth a concrete action program, enthusiastically adopted by the audience, calling for a big, representative delegation to call upon City Hall authorities to demand action on the issue of KKK versus the American city of Los Angeles.

Several thousand dollars was raised at the meeting to conduct a local fight against the Klan.

Ruth M. Slade, Civil Rights Congress; William Bidner, Mobilization for Democracy; Lena Horne, San Francisco District Attorney Ed (Pat) Brown, and Russell Nixon were among other speakers who denounced the Klan and its threat to democracy.

Vast Crowd At Opening of New Health Center

There was nothing apathetic about the reaction of Eastside citizens to the official opening last Sunday of the new Southeast District Health Center at 4920 Avalon blvd. Fully half an hour before the scheduled ceremonies, the main auditorium of the center was packed to the doors, with scores of people milling around the entrance, and a growing stream of new arrivals.

The visitors heard brief addresses by Dr. Ruth Temple, leader in the campaign for the center, Mayor Fletcher Bowron and Dr. George Uhl, city health officer. Following the meeting the visitors were taken on inspection tours over the spacious building.

The new center faces South Park and is ideally located.

40 Vet Families Find Housing at Kepler Grove

Keppler Grove, the new housing project in Wilmington, has more than 40 vets and their families living in the modern and convenient reconverted WAC Barracks of old Banning Park.

Earl Siple, manager of the project, stated that as the contractors released the buildings, families enter for occupancy. There are some 84 units, but to date only 50 have been released.

The project is one to all veterans and servicemen who are classified as hardship cases and have the same qualifications as those who live in the Roger Young project. Of the 40 families, six are Negro and four are Mexican. There is also one Japanese family and one Filipino family.

When the project is finished there will be 70 two bedroom units, 13 one bedroom units and one, three bedroom unit. Fifty of the units will be entirely furnished, every unit is equipped with a gas range, refrigerator, hot water heater and bath.

The project was outfitted and reconverted by the Los Angeles Housing Authority in conjunction with the state, after the army turned the land and the barracks over to the L. A. Park Dept.

Every building has been utilized. Latrines have been rebuilt into community laundries and the ex-Wac beauty salon is now the project office.

Walter White Assails Tenn. Grand Jury Whitewash, Asks U. S. to Protect Minorities

NEW YORK—Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, yesterday assailed the report of the grand jury in Nashville, Tenn., which, after a two and one half months' investigation, failed to find evidence of civil rights violations in the brutal attacks by white civilians, state troopers and militia on the Negro community of Columbia, Tenn.

In that riot, which flared up when a Negro ex-GI went to the aid of his mother, knocked down a white storekeeper, two Negroes were killed, 11 persons, colored and white injured. Thirty-one Negroes were indicted for "disturbing the peace" and "rioting." None of the white rioters were indicted.

White telegraphed his criticism to President Truman and to Attorney General Tom Clark. He called upon the President to "alert the justice department and other federal agencies to furnish sufficient forces to protect Negroes and members of other minorities in the exercise of their constitutional rights in the South."

In his wire to Clark, White declared:

"The shocking report of an all-white federal grand jury concerning the Columbia, Tenn., case, has jeopardized the safety of every citizen in the country, particularly Negroes, and members of other minorities.

"Failure to indict the perpetrators will be interpreted as a signal by the state officials and the Ku Klux Klan throughout the South to terrorize Negro communities during the coming primary elections without fear of federal interference.

"There has been in existence at all times photographic and eye witness evidence of actual violations of federal rights by the State highway patrol and the state guard. The finding of the grand jury flies in the face of evidence and demonstrates that the grand jury ignored the evidence or that the FBI failed.

"Collapse of the federal machinery for justice in Tennessee places upon the federal government the duty to take immediate steps necessary to protect the lives and liberty of Negro citizens and members of other minorities. We call upon you to furnish immediately adequate force of law enforcement officers in the South to protect the exercise of constitutional rights.

"The grand jury, instead of performing its directed job of locating the criminals, devoted itself to a denunciation of those who exposed the crimes. We reaffirm the essential facts and will prosecute the defense with renewed vigor."

AVC Delegates Picket Jimcrow Des Moines Cafe

DES MOINES, Iowa—Fifty delegates to the first national convention of the American Veterans Committee picketed a Des Moines cafe after two Negro veterans were refused service.

A complaint was filed with police by AVC leaders against one of the owners of the Rose Bowl Cafe, R. R. Brown, and he was taken to the city jail.

Jasper Brow 32, Trenton, N. J., one of the men refused service, said he would file charges against Rufe Abbet, cafe manager,, charging him with violating the state civil rights law.

The convention adjourned Sunday after electing most of the AVC provisional officers to major offices.

Charles Bolte, 26, Greenwich, Conn., was elected chairman; Gilbert Harrison, 31, Los Angeles, founder of the AVC, was named vice chairman.

The convention adopted a constitution making the organization exclusively for World War II veterans, including women and members of the merchant marine, regardless of national origin, creed or color.

The 840 voting delegates also adopted a platform calling for creation of a League of Veterans of all United Nations; control of atomic energy by the UNO and cessation of atomic bomb manufacture; creation of a world armed force; immediate restoration of food rationing and a break in relations with Spain and continued opposition to the present government of Argentina.

pickets declared:

"Don't buy where you can't work." "Seventy-five per cent Negro trade—0 per cent Negro help." "Communists fight for fair employment."

George Edwards, West Oakland chairman of the Communist party, spoke over a loud-speaker, asking the on-lookers to join the picket line, stating "this is a peaceful picket line—a picket line for fair employment.

"It will be maintained here," he said, "until Safeway ends its refusal to hire Negro clerks."

He told of the shortage of help in the store, said "we are not trying to displace present employes. The store needs additional clerks. Present employes are over-worked and unable to accommodate the customers."

Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, secretary of the East Bay Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, spoke to the marchers.

"This is the only language Safeway understands," he said. "Keep it up. Don't get tired."

On Sunday, the anti-discrimination fight was announced to residents of West Oakland from many pulpits. Church members were asked to join in the campaign.

Other organizations, too, were taking up the issue and their members participating in the picket line.

WASHINGTON—Drew Pearson, columnist and radio commentator, this week had been notified by the owners of Stone mountain, near Atlanta, Ga., that he would not be permitted to broadcast a denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan from the mountain top, traditional scene of Klan initiation ceremonies.

Pearson said the Klan had threatened him with death if he dared to go to Stone mountain, that he accepted the challange but Robert Underwood, agent for the owners of Stone mountain, had notified him that a broadcast would not be permitted. Underwood also said that future Klan ceremonies on the mountain would be forbidden.

GOP Joins Polltaxers in Move to Purge Court of FDR Appointees

WASHINGTON—Using the Jackson-Black feud as a springboard for a drive to change the liberal composition of the U. S. Supreme court, members of the GOP-Polltaxers coalition this week proposed a constitutional amendment to limit the number of justices a single President might appoint to three.

The authors, Sens. Eastland of Mississippi and Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, said the amendment would be retroactive and would force the retirement of Justices Douglas, Murphy, Jackson and Rutledge. The late President Roosevelt appointed these four after his earlier appointments of Justices Black, Reed and Frankfurter.

Main target of the GOP-Polltaxers coalition, however, is Justice Black, whose consistently progressive decisions have roused their ire. The coalition hopes to dispose of Black by utilizing the Jackson-Black feud to force the resignating of both men.

MINNEAPOLIS—Plans have been completed for a $16,000,000 cooperative housing project ten miles from the Twin Cities which will house between 1500 and 2000 families with construction of the first 300 homes to be completed by January 1. The project is financed by Twin Cities cooperatives.

NAACP Courtroom Filibuster

The ringing message which Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, sent to President Truman demanding that justice be done in the case of the Columbia, Tenn., race riots, is a heartening assurance that minority groups will no longer bow meekly to injustice even if meted out by a Federal grand jury as supposed justice.

The riot occurred last February, when a returned war veteran went to the aid of his mother, who had been knocked down by a white store-keeper. In the riot which followed, two negroes were killed and eleven persons, white and black, were injured.

A Federal grand jury investigated for two and one half months, and last week returned its findings that no law was broken! They accused the Communist press of distributing false accounts, and blamed the whole affair on the "Communists." As usual.

Thirty-one Negroes, however, were indicted for rioting when the trouble occurred, and they are still in jail and are still awaiting the end of a long-drawn out court trial.

Mr. White has demanded of President Truman and Attorney-General Tom Clark that they alert the justice department for the protection of Negroes and other minority groups in the exercise of their constitutional rights in the South.

NAACP attorneys are basing their defense of the indicted Negroes upon the fact that no Negro has ever served on a jury in Maury County, where the trial is being held. They are prepared to call 10,000 Negroes to the witness stand to prove this, and to stage a courtroom filibuster even as the U. S. Senators from the South have staged a filibuster time and again to prevent the passage of the anti-poll tax bills, the FEPC and other needed measures.

This fight must go on. It must be won. A defense fund has been established by the National Committee for Justice in Columbia, Tenn., with headquarters at 20 West 40th Street, New York City. Send contributions to that address, and help fight Jimcrow in Tennessee.

Make Democracy Work

That our boasted democracy does not work, even in Civil Service, we have had instances every day. Renewed evidence came to us recently in the case of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Harper, of South Kenwood Avenue, with two years of college training and a course in Mechanical Drafting who was also employed by the U. S. Army Signal Corps as a draftsman for three years.

Coming to California with her husband recently, she took a civil service examination for delineator, passed it, and was certified for a permanent position with the State Highway Department. She was told to see L. B. Hughes, personnel clerk of the Division of Highways. He, however, expressed doubt of her ability, and referred her to a Mr. Reese, traffic engineer, in the Spring and Second Street Building. This person did not even allow her in his office, took exception to her ability to do the work, and finally promised to contact her later, after first interviewing another lady.

Mrs. Harper feels she was given the runaround because she is a Negro woman. "If I had not been qualified," she writes, "I'd never have been allowed to take the examination."

She passed, too, which should qualify her beyond doubt, she feels. She intends to appeal to the Civil Service Commissioner as to why those two officials assumed authority which they did not possess, and why she was given the apparent run-around.

That is one way of making democracy work — by refusing to yield any of our American rights or privileges, not because of any whim of our own but because, as Mrs. Harper says, "I do not feel that my fight is just that of an individual. It is the fight of an entire race and its women, to win and receive jobs, paid for out of public funds without prejudice or discrimination."

Another way to make democracy work is the plan of the young folks of the Hollenbeck Council for Youth. These teenagers expect to produce a musical revue which will include over 200 members of different creeds, color, and national origin.

Last year's presentation, "Hello, Neighbor, Hello" at the Roosevelt High School resulted in a most significant increase in friendship among the youth of different religious and racial groups in the area.

SYMBOL OF WHITE SUPREMACY IN ACTION

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

THE THREAT OF WAR

If there is to be peace in the world as all men and women desire and hope in every section of the globe, the incessant talk about the imminent threats of war should cease. History proves that the great wars of the 19th century were precipitated by the constant whipping up of war fever, and to the morbid passion for literature on war.

Before the first world war darkened the homes and hearts of Europe, the most popular subject of discussion and interest on the Continent was war, fed and popularized by military authorities and the press lords of every European country. The foremost German publicist, Maximilian Harden, warned the governments and the lords of the press of the folly and crime of instilling militaristic and jingoistic teaching in the minds and hearts of their people and of brutalizing their sane and noble sentiments by all the lies and falsehoods which emanated from the press and the platform.

The same incessant talk of war and threat of war which has brought upon Europe the tragedy and destruction of two wars in less than a generation is now renewed with the zeal and ferocity of religious fanaticism and in the spirit of a holy war. The press in the English-speaking world is virulently hostile to the institutions and the people of Russia, preaching a crusade which will put to shame the monks of the Middle Ages. The Russian press is equally vehement in its denunciation of the criminal attacks with which the Soviet Republic is harried and caluminated by the jingoistic elements in the capitalistic world.

The Soviet Union and the Anglo-American world stand in the same relation to each other as Germany and England stood towards each other after the Balkan wars of 1912 and 1913. There is the same suspicion and hostility between the two recent allies as there were between the two Teutonic Powers before the assasination at Sarajevo engulfed Europe into a ghastly crime and ruin.

There is every possibility of a third world war if the incessant talk and undisguised preparation for war continues in the two worlds of antagonistic social and economic systems. The points of conflict and acrimony are multiplied a thousand-fold by the ever-widening arena of world politics and the lust for riches and power.

The conclusion of a treaty between Afghanistan and Soviet Russia threatens to renew the age-long rivalry and hostility between Russia and the British empire. British imperialism is firmly determined to block the expansion of Russian influence close to the Indian border by all the means in its power. The promise of independence to India will turn out to be mere hoax and mockery if the two formidable rivals come to blows in that part of the world.

W. J. Wheaton Says

In the field of world politics, Russia is presented as the Great Enigma whose policies and actions are totally inexplicable to the statesmen of the western powers. In the aggravated relations between the two English-speaking nations and Russia it is difficult to discern where the root of suspicion is more deeply planted.

The three big powers all are stressing armaments. Russia asserts that friendly nations on her borders are necessary for her protection. Although this is also the policy of the United States and is applied not only to our immediate borders but to all North and South America, we ask against whom do the Russians seek protection.

The present situation shows how completely the close bond of mutual helpfulness which existed in the heat of battle has been dissipated. The spirit of greed and lust for power, latent in the struggle for existence, has replaced friendly cooperation.

Differences in ideology play no small part in the battle of the diplomats. Each group accuses the other of seeking to force their theories of government and economics on other peoples. It is obvious that the U. S. and Britain are fighting to prevent the extension of Communism in Europe. To our way of thinking that should not be. It was the intention of the Atlantic Charter that each people should be allowed to choose its own form of government. If the Russians and others want a Communist government that is their own affair; just as it is our own affair what kind of government we want. So why should such questions be allowed to endanger the peace?

The possibility of a third world war seems to occupy the minds of many. A prominent London (England) newspaper recently declared: "Speculation about a third war is no longer idle talk, and unless Russia and the western powers get together there will be an explosion which will make a wilderness of the earth."

It does not seem possible after witnessing the devastation caused in the recent war, which has thrown the world into chaos, that the mention of a new world war would be other than anathema. It is up to the peoples to see that peace on earth shall reign.

17,000 WEST INDIANS EMPLOYED HERE

Approximately 17,000 West Indies agricultural workers are now employed on farms in this country, the labor branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture repots.

An island-by-island breakdown shows that some 10,000 of these workers are Jamaicans, about 4,000 are Bahamians, and 3,000 are Barbadians. These workers are employed mainly in Florida, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Illinois, and Ohio.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

Usually we just walk by and leave pathological people alone, but when one of them by some queer accident or maybe even on purpose, becomes a widely read columnist, we have to tell people a little about them. You know, just a little constructive criticism.

This week we will roll up our sleeves and square-off, in a literary sense of course, at that Hearst Zany, Westbrook, "I-want - another - world - war - because - I - don't - have - to - go" Pegler.

Pegler in his nice long column on Monday morning, created the most fantastic hypothetical case on record. He has President Truman, of all people, calling up an average American citizen called George Spelvin, to find out what the citizen thinks of unions, strikes, OPA, foreign loans and the international situation.

Aside from the fact that Truman would never call up an average American and ask his opinion on anything, Pegler has his average American acting and speaking like anything but an American.

But as usual Pegler, in his own inimitable and insidious way, has played another typical Goebbels' trick on his readers. He has written the whole mess in a quaint American vernacular which doesn't even exist and before you get to the second paragraph you find yourself thinking that this is exactly how you would behave if the President of the United States called you up. You feel that you would act just as chummy and that good ole prez would act just as human.

Anyway even before you get to the third paragraph, you find that Pegler has Truman calling reputable union leaders, hums and behaving like a second rate movie mob leader who doesn't look the part but is trying awfully hard to be a tough guy.

Then, after he has the President act in this manner, Pegler makes his average American sound like the stupid ass he would have him be.

All of this time though, you don't get what Pegler's driving at. At one time you even think that he's on the people's side at last. But then you suspect something. This guy Pegler has never been on our side, so you frown up with a quizzical expression on your face and read on, more slowly now.

Then it comes, right after the three stars, they put between his 3-paragraph thoughts. Pegler makes the average American, George Spelvin, attack the memory of FDR, by telling President Truman that he knows that I... and Mrs. Truman lose sleep nights discussing the "mess" which FDR left them to clean up and that the President is just pretending when he "pulls that long face" about our great departed leader and the carrying out of his ideals.

The foregoing isn't half as bad as the rest. A little before the middle of his epic, Pegler has his star character, Spelvin, tell the President that he will help him to write a speech to inform the country on certain matters pertaining to the establishment of laws "which will make it just as bad for unions to interfere with production and commerce as for Standard Oil". At this point we were sure that Pegler was the same leopard, with or without spots.

Here he makes his readers believe that the average American (which they happen to be) is against the unions and not against the monopolies and trusts. Then to top it off he has his character tell the President that the unions are more powerful than the corporations" because they have no laws governing them and that the unions have much more money than the corporations."

Imagine what the CIO could do if it had only one tenth of Standard Oil's finances! And what a laugh we got, when Pegler, through his character, said that the unions are more powerful than the corporations.

We pause for a moment to point out that Pegler and his "benevolent" "big business friends are quite put out over the Case Bill veto and that Mr. P. is taking this opportunity to make life unpleasant for the President, who still seems to be on Pegler's side anyway.

But Pegler continues on by pulling out his well worn Red Scare. He blames the Communists for the strikes and says that "nobody can get automobiles or clothing or new houses because of them. We wonder why Pegler hasn't mentioned that his friends refused to grant the just demands of the workers and forced them to strike. And will somebody please tell Westbrook that there are real estate monopolies, building material monopolies and clothing monopolies holding goods off of the market and trying to bust the OPA?

And Mr. Pegler, will you please tell your Mr. Spelvin that when OPA goes he'll never get any of the items he mentioned? Oh yes, Mr. Pegler, while you're at it, you better tell George to get a raise from his boss because he'll need it after your friends in Washington finish killing the OPA.

And now we come to the crux of Pegler's article. He admits that when OPA goes we will face a terrible inflation but does he blame it on selfish "big monied" interests who stand to make fortunes by overcharging for their products? No, he blames the whole thing on the unions because the courts and Congress won't do anything to prevent them from striking. This is the best inconsistency we have ever seen. After declaring that the unions were more powerful than the corporations, Pegler contradicts himself by saying that the unions are to blame for the coming inflation when all along organized labor has spearheaded the fight to save the OPA.

Then he (Mr. P.) goes into a tirade against the U. S. lending money, even though we're trying to promote world trade and help the U. S. to make a little dough by selling in foreign markets.

Ah, but Pegler saved the best three stars for last. He bluntly states that the U. S. should drop an atomic bomb on Russia rather than give them the secret. Maybe we have proof now that somebody is trying to start another war. Anyhow we are certain that Pegler is in favor of it.

He closes his column gently, by having Spelvin advise Truman to kick Sidney Hillman out of his office. My, my, Mr. Pegler, what did working people ever do to you?

I Heard Two Ministers Speak
By Ike Adams

Friday night, June 14, at the Olympic auditorium I along with several thousand other Americans of almost every race, color, and religion thrilled to the message of two truly great ministers as they joined with us in denouncing the Ku Klux Klan and it's sponsors and kindred groups.

Certainly the two ministers of whom I write were not the only speakers, but there was something so unusual and dynamic in their approach to organized evil, and something so fearless and courageous in their stand for the full freedom and equality of all people, that I feel compelled to make note of same.

I am writing about two men who differ in religious concept and position in that one, Father George Dunne is a Catholic Priest and the other Rabbi Max Nussbaum is a Jewish minister and formerly a Rabbi of Berlin, Germany. But here for all practical purposes their principal differences end. They both preach and practice the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man; they both realize that their job is not solely one of preparing the souls of men for death and judgment, but rather their job as chosen emmisaries of God, entails, primarily, the duty of using all the power in their command to see to it that freedom, justice and equality prevail upon the earth.

They are both free and fearless in their criticism of their respective church bodies as they point out the lack of adequate militancy on the part of both christian and jewish church groups and organizations when it comes to defending the rights of the individual and fighting the battle of the common man.

Father Dunne gave conclusive proof of the fact that segregation in any or all it's forms is the basis of injustice, bad government, and strife, and that organizations like the Klan are by products of what he terms one of the greatest if not the greatest of all sins. Segregation. And in the course of his address he made it plain that if the was his firm belief that if the church had practiced the basic principle of brotherhood the Klan would have been destoryed long ago and segregation would not now be threatening the very foundations of democracy.

Rabbi Nussbaum strove valiantly to point out the need of contact and cooperation between churches of all faiths lest Fascism divide and conquer them one by one as was the case in Nazi Germany. He brought down the house with his humorous but logical denuciation of the proponents of white superiority and the braggarts of Mayflower vintage. Both of these great men said many more things of great significance and immediate urgency, but I want to emphasize now some of the great thoughts regarding the ministry that raced through my mind as I listened.

Yes my friends we have among us two really great men of God. There are others and I take pleasure in giving credit where credit is due. But many of us left that great meeting feeling that from now on the people who make up church audiences will be listening for a new gospel to meet the demands of a new and dynamic society.

Yes, dear ministers we will be listening. We will be listening for guidance on ways of combating organized evil in our community. We will be listening to hear the massed voice of the clergy crying out against segregation, injustice, and inequality.

We will be listening and looking for vocal and active interest on the part of the ministry in a program designed to raise the living standard of the common people. We no longer want to hear denuciations and criticism from the pulpit directed against a minister who possesses the courage and foresight to seek public office in order to better serve a greater number of his people.

We will be listening for sane, sage and divinely inspired political advice and guidance, and not for subterfuges and evasions while men of evil design to wreck our democracy.

We will be listening for workable solutions to our everyday problems. We will be listening for all these things and more for we realize, as never before, that if the fight of minorities, especially the Negro minority, is to succeed in making real true democracy for all, the ministry, and the Negro ministry in particular, must be found in the vanguard of the peoples movement for a better world.

In order that my purpose in writing this article might not be misunderstood I would like to insert here a few points of clarification. I would like to, first of all, point out that I am now and have been for the past twelve years a member in good standing of the Baptist church. I am a firm believer in the true principles of Christianity; and I have never failed in the past, nor will I in the future, to defend Christianity or the truly representative and conscientious ministry against unjust and ill founded criticism.

I recognize among us quite a few ministers of true merit who are providing the highest type of both spiritual and everyday practical leadership, hence this challange is not at all directed to such ministers. But to all ministers who are lax in fulfilling their full duty and obligation to the people and the community, and lack the courage to actively participate in the people's fight for a better world, those who fail to study and interpret the burning issues of the day, and who attempt to substitute hallelujah for progress, I repeat we will be listening.

16,000 U. S. Veterans Receive FSA Loans

WASHINGTON—A new high in Farm Security Administration loans to white and Negro veterans was reached when 5400 exservicemen were financed in the purchase of farm operating equipment or family farms within a recent two months period, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said this week.

More than 16,000 white and colored veterans have already received FSA assistance. A thousand of them obtained farm purchase loans under the terms of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act from an earmarked fund set up by congress for this purpose. The rest have loans to buy farm machinery, livestock, and other operating needs. In all, veterans have received $33,424,000 in loans from the agency.

Newspapers Lead in Advertising Results

For best advertising results, it is still the newspapers.

That was the fully documented finding presented to a conference of white Los Angeles business leaders and Southland publishers at the Ambassador hotel this week.

H. James Gediman, New York newspaper representative, told the group that newspapers are effectively reaching 33,000,000 American families with sales messages.

"And the newspapers are really doing a job," he said. "As an advertising medium they have far outdistanced radio."

He cited statistics to prove that newspaper advertising has brought sales results far greater than radio advertising.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

It was heartening last Friday evening at the anti-KKK meeting in the Olympic auditorium, to hear Father Dunne say, "The churches must do something. The Labor Unions must spearhead the attack against prejudice, and the churches must unite and follow their lead."

That is what we have been contending they should do for quite some time. Some churches as individual groups are following that plan. Some churches are even taking the lead themselves. But the great majority, sad to say, still lag behind and do nothing.

Which reminds me. During the depression a minister of one of the leading churches in Los Angeles made a strong appeal to the members of his congregation to write the California legislature concerning a local option law then pending in that lawmaking body. All of which was right, of course.

But after the sermon one of his audience asked him privately, "Don't you know there are over 300,000 people in California in danger of starvation within the next two weeks?"

(The SRA had just made one of its freak decisions not to pay any of its clients for two weeks in order to "balance the budget.")

"Don't you know that?" persisted the advocate of the SRA dependent. "Why didn't you mention that to your congregation and urge them to do something about it, too?"

"Yes, I know," admitted this influential minister of the gospel, "But I can't do anything about it. There are too many taxpayers in my congregation."

Whether or not the preachers and churches are beginning to get out from under the fear of the taxpayers, there are at least a few who are brave enough to work together with the labor unions for the cause of real democracy in America.

Today we are truly living in times that try men's souls. Are we living only for ourselves or for all mankind? Would it really make any difference to the welfare of humanity if we should die? Or would the world be better off without us?

A few of us sense the danger to our American democracy and are trying desperately to ward off that danger. But almost everywhere you go you find that deadening complacency, that smugness and indifference which followed World War I and which brought about World War II.

And nobody knows what to do about it.

For example can you imagine anything worse than the findings of the Federal grand jury which investigated the race riot of last February in Columbia, Tennessee? In that riot two lives were lost and eleven persons were wounded. The grand jury admitted that. Yet in a report made public Saturday, it decided that no law was broken! No indictments were returned.

The jury blamed the "Communists" for distributing "inflamatory and false accounts of the incident," and said it regretted that these "pamphlets containing falsehoods and half truths" did not constitute a violation of the law! And the Federal judge praised that jury for its thotough investigation!

Now wouldn't you think every decent-minded man and woman in the country would rise up in righteous indignation and condemn that jury and judge for their callous disregard of human life? No laws broken! Yet stripped bare of every possible bit of exaggeration the fact remains two people were killed and eleven injured. Wouldn't you think we'd force that jury to reverse its findings and bring in a true report?

But we won't. Oh, of course, a few of us will keep on fighting. But the vast majority of us—churches, preachers, and laymen alike—afraid of the taxpayers, afraid of being called "Communists," will go right on sleeping on our respectable pillows and let the world go by—to hell maybe.

What will it take to arouse us? Will we wait until the chains of Fascism are fastened securely, so securely that only a desperate effort can break them? A revolution, perhaps? Is that what we want?

And the tragedy, the terrible tragedy of it all is that under our Constitution and our form of government we the people of the United States can have anything at all we really want—by simply walking a few blocks and voting for it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In the past few months the Los Angeles Recruiting Office has been enceavoring to do its part in the national recruiting drive to build an efficient Army of 1,600,000. An Army on considerable strength is essential to preserve the respect of other nations in our international relations and thus preserve the peace of the world.

Your paper has done much to help by cooperation with us editorially and by aiding us in our drive for sponsored advertising.

This letter is to serve merely as a recognition by our office for the cooperation you have extended, and also to further remind you that the goal has not been accomplished. We will be contacting you in the immediate future for further cooperation in our present "Lets Make It A Million" campaign.

Paul D. Fairweather,
1st Lt. Air Corps,
Public Relations Officer.

Dear Editor:

As chairman of the Special Committee on Judicial Campaigns of the Los Angeles Bar Association, I wish to extend to the Press and to the Bar of this County, the genuine appreciation of the Los Angeles Bar Association and of the Committee for your great help and cooperation throughout the campaign.

It is regrettable that a personal letter cannot go to everyone, but the number to be thanked is so large as to prohibit that precedure.

Very sincerely yours,
Richard A. Turner,
Chairman Judicial Campaign Committee

Petition to the United Nations

To the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations.

A PETITION on behalf of the National Negro Congress of the United States of America for the elimination of political, economic and social discrimination against Negroes in the United States of America.

I. THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THE PETITION.

The National Negro Congress, the petitioner herein, is a national organization in the United States of America, within the definitions set forth in Article 71, of the charter of the United Nations.

The subject matter of this petition is concerned with the "protection of minorities" and the "prevention of discrimination on grounds of race", within the purview of the Report of the Preparatory Commission and the Report of the Committee on the Organization of the Economic and Social Council, both cited hereinafter.

II. JURISDICTION OF ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL.

The basis and scope of the relation of the United Nations to the problem of racial oppression and the protection of minorities has been definitively stated in various official declaration and reports of the United Nations.

1. Reference: Preamble to Charter of the United Nations.

"We the people of the United Nations determined to reaffirm faith in fundamental rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person, in the equal rights of men and women and of nations large and small . . ."

2. Reference: Article I, Sec. 3, Charter of the United Nations.

"The purposes of the United are: to achieve international cooperation in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural, or humanitarian character, and in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and for fundamental freedoms, for all without distinction as to race, sex, language, or religion."

3. Reference: Article 13, Sec. 1(b), Charter of the United Nations.

"The General Assembly shall initiate studies and make recommendations for the purpose of promoting international co-operation in the economic, social, cultural, educational and health fields, and assisting in the realization of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language, or religion."

4. Reference: Article 55, Sec. 1(c), Charter of the United Nations.

"With a view to the creation of conditions of stability and well-being which are necessary for peaceful and friendly relations among nations based on respect for the principle of equal rights and self-determination of peoples, the United Nations shall promote: Universal respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion."

5. Reference: Article 62, Sec. 2, Charter of the United Nations.

"It (The Economic and Social Council) may make recommendations for the purpose of promoting respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all."

The medium through which the United Nations approaches the specific problem of racial oppression and protection of minorities is the Economic and Social Council. In turn, it is through the Commission on Human Rights, a specialized Commission of the Economic and Social Council, that the functions of the United Nations upon this subject are to be exercised. The basis for this delegation of function is provided in Article 68, in the Charter of the United Nations, which states:

"The Economic and Social Council shall set up commissions in economic and social fields and for the promotion of human rights, and such other commissions as may be required for the performance of its functions."

Reference is further made to the Report of the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations, Chapter III, Sec. 4:

..."Considerations and Recommendations Concerning the Organization of the Economic and Social Council:

15. Commission on Human Rights

In general the functions of the Commission would be to assist the Council to carry out its responsibility under the Charter to promote human rights. The studies and recommendations of the Commission would encourage the acceptance of higher standards in this field and help to check and eliminate discrimination and other abuses.

16. In particular to work of the Commission might be directed towards the following objects:

a) formulation of an international bill of rights,

b) formulation of recommendations for an international declaration or convention on such maters as civil liberties, status of women, freedom of information,

c) protection of minorities,

d) prevention of discrimination on grounds of race, sex, language or religion; and

e) any matters within the field of human rights considered likely to impair the general welfare or friendly relations among nations.

17. Studies and recommendations would be made and information and other services provided at the request of the General Assembly, or of the Economic and Social Council, whether on its own initiative or at the request of the Security Council or of the Trusteeship Council."

Reference is further made to the Report of the Committee on the Organization of the Economic and Social Council which met in London during February, 1946 and proposed the following resolution:

"Sec. A. The Economic and Social Council, being charged under the Charter with the responsibility of promoting universal respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion, and requiring advice and assistance to enable it to dicharge this responsibility; Establishes a Commission on Human Rights.

2. The work of the Commission shall be directed towards submitting proposals, recommendations and reports to the Council regarding:

a) formulation of an international bill of rights.

b) formulation of recommendations for an international declaration or convention on such matters as civil liberties, status of women, freedom of information.

c) protection of minorities.

d) prevention of discrimination on grounds of race, sex, language or religion.

3. The Commission shall make studies and recommendations and provide information and other services at the request of the Economic and Social Council.

The Charter of the United Nations further makes provisions for direct consultation between the Economic and Social Council and non-governmental organizations in connection with its functions. Reference is made to Article 71, Charter of the United Nations:

"The Economic and Social Council may make suitable arrangements for consultation with non-governmental organizations which are concerned with matters within it competence. Such arrangements may be made with international organizations and, where appropriate, with national organizations after consultation with the Member of the United Nations concerned."

III. PROOF IN SUPPORT OF THE PETITION.

The evidence in support of this petition is set forth in full in the Document attached hereto and made a part hereof entitled, "The Oppression of the American Negro: The Facts", which conclusively establishes that a condition has existed throughout the United States of America during its entire history and prevails at this time, of the political, economic, and social discrimination against Negroes because of their race and color; resulting in the denial of equal democratic rights to 13,000,000 Negro citizens and requiring the consideration of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations.

Wherefore, your petitioner respectfully prays that the Economic and Social Council through its Commission on Human Rights or otherwise;

1. Make such studies as it may deem necessary of the conditions herein described as they exist in the United States of America, pertaining to political, economic and social discrimination against Negroes because of their race and color.

2. Make such recommendations and take such other actions as it may deem proper with respect to the facts herein stated, to the end that "higher standards" in the field of human rights may be achieved in the United States of America and "discrimination and other abuses" on the grounds of race and color, may be "checked and eliminated."

3. Take such other and further steps as may seem just and proper to the end that the oppression of the American Negro be brought to an end.

Respectfully submitted,

Unfinished Business Ahead

By William L. Patterson

Eleven million homes without running water.

Fifteen million homes without private toilets.

Seventeen million homes without private baths.

Seven million homes in need of major repairs.

Three million homes seriously overcrowded.

Seven million city dwellings needing immediate replacement.

These are the cities of our country—the cities of the United States of America. Maybe it's worse now, for I use 1940 figures from the Federal Housing Census.

Look at the country side:

Eighty-two per cent of the homes lack toilets, 33% need major repairs, 16% are overcrowded and 14% have no water within 50 feet of the house. I omit the baths.

There is a lesson here. Only the willfully blind can miss it—a lesson in bankruptcy.

BANKRUPTCY—there is a lesson in economic, political and social bankruptcy in the above facts and figures, as much political bankruptcy as in the Germany that produced Hitler.

Almost 200 years ago men who were revolutionaries, charting a revolutionary course which alarmed all Europe said:

"WE THE PEOPLE of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity . . ." They spoke for the PEOPLE, for you and me.

Then they formulated the constitution.

There is no justice in that picture my opening words have painted, no domestic tranquillity, no common defense, no general welfare and no liberty.

There is the bankruptcy of a system in that picture. Let me spell it out.

Personalize those millions of homes. People them with millions of men and women with their babies and their grown sons and daughters. People those slums with flesh and blood, the people who made America. Put you in there and me and ours.

Ill-housed! They—we—are ill-fed and ill-clothed. Look in the minds. The hopes and ambitions born of the revolution their forefathers and mothers made have been drowned in sweat and blood and tears. Lost—yes we are lost—unless we open our eyes.

"Who has done this thing to America? Who is responsible? Show me the men," you cry.

Well, only the slave-holding landlords and the capitalists have held the reins of government in the U.S.A. They have ruled through men who emerged from the people. They have ruled through men who came from their own ranks. But always they alone have ruled. Correct me if I am wrong. Cite the day, month, year, the years when this government of ours has been in other hands than those of the men who owned the wealth and resources of this country.

They are BANKRUPT now, not financially but in every other way.

They cannot govern with justice because they govern in their own interests. They can not bring tranquillity for they must use force to stifle our protests. They defend their interests and against ours as their destruction of OPA discloses. There is liberty to rob and despoil us—the people—and that is destructive of the general welfare.

People—that is the greatest capital. Bones clothed with flesh and blood, that is the eternal wealth of our country and the world. Those who have done this thing have spat upon the people. For them the greatest capital is GOLD and stocks and bonds.

There are palaces in Florida and California. Pose those palaces alongside the hovels depicted by my opening words. Then think! Think friend. Think!

Palaces would make good sanitariums for the human wrecks who people those hovels. There are homes for the aged and nurseries and kindergartens for the little ones in those places. There are waiting-in homes for expectant mothers.

A perfect Union. Tranquility!

The men who wrote the opening words of the constitution were revolutionaries. The men who followed them betrayed the revolution. Need I add this? There is unfinished business ahead of the people!

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

YOU AND US AND OUR N.A.A.C.P.

What we do think of our NAACP? Well, we are about to conclude that we think more of it than most of us realize. Yes, we only need some way to implement our interest, faith and hope in it. Nevertheless, as this is being written the local campaign for 25,000 NAACP members has been going on among over 150,000 Negroes and many other persons who would readily join if approached. Yes, it has been going on for six weeks and only 6083 have joined. At that rate the campaign would have to continue until September in order to reach its 25,000 goal, which we understand it will not.

Nevertheless we dare say that more than 25,000 would join if directly invited to do so, during the next week.

Why de we feel that this feat is altogether possible? Well, here are the evidences:

1. A couple of weeks ago we went up and down Central Avenue with large placards advertising the NAACP campaign and stopped in all manners of places asking permission to display them in the windows on the walls or elsewhere. All but two people thus approached complied with our request, and the obvious pride each one took in cooperating when once he saw the sign was for the NAACP, and their comments of confidence in and respect for the work of the Association were most heartening and revealing.

2. For the second year we have had a part in the campaign work and each year we have seen a large number of persons who were perfect strangers to the other workers, present themselves with the request that they be put to work in the campaign. In each instance the person has done good work. In some cases these people even compete with oldtime campaigners for top production honors.

3. In the experience of many workers, including myself, it is rare to find a person of or interested in the Negro group, who does not instantly acknowledge knowing about it or having once joined the NAACP, who is not pleased and hopeful to learn about it for the first time.

4. For some time now it has been exceptional to learn of a successful fight for the rights of the race or its members anywhere in the nation where the NAACP is not in some manner mixed up in it. Consult any newspaper.

5. Be in the office of the local president or of the field secretary an hour any day and you will find that Negroes are constantly bringing their problems to your local branch. And in a great number of cases they get the assistance for which they came.

These are only a few of the observations which have given us the feeling that Los Angeles can easily give the NAACP 25,000 members—and many thousands more in short order.

Well, you say, why are they not joining in the present campaign at a faster clip? The answer is an easy one. Many more campaign workers are needed—like the 60 percent who brought in the bulk of the 6000 reported to date. Just 400 persons securing 45 members each will produce the remaining 18,000 needed to reach the 25,000 goal in one week. Many workers have secured from 50 to 150 members during some weeks of the current campaign.

The NAACP has become of vital importance to our national and local welfare. It has gained its position and the strength with which to fullful its mission through many years of faithful struggle. It's period of "trial and error' methods is now history. It is unique. There is no other movement among us with such a record in its field. And despite the faults which we are prone to find with it both locally and nationally there is no other movement or organization ready to take its place and there is not time with which to launch and prove another for the job of safeguarding and expanding the civil rights of some 13,000,000 Negroes. These considerations and the obvious fact that only 200 additional workers are needed to implement the will of the people that we have a large and powerful branch NAACP are just what give us hope that this campaign for 25,000 NAACP members might yet be realized in record time.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

PREFACING THE CUSTOMARY Mid-June opening of the outdoor season, hundreds are receiving the ever praised bits of sheep skin from local institutions of learning, and a regular party series has been launched. Taking part in USC's 63rd annual commencement last Saturday were Gloria Roberts, Ann Marquess, James Patton and Juleus Jackson Haywood. After a whirl of social and academic events, more than 600 seniors will receive degrees in the open air theatre on the UCLA campus Sunday at 3 p.m. President Robert Gordon Sproul will deliver the commencement address. Donnings caps and gowns will be Alphonsine Paltrone, Jerry Henderson, Vernell Gouthier, and Ann Jackson, all proud representatives of the AKA sorority. Space will not permit a complete listing of the high school graduates, who are the main incentive for the many Greek-letter vocational guidance programs now in progress.

IVY LEAF SEMI

Highlighting the party series and capping the semester's end will be the Ivy Leaf Pledge club's annual semi formal dance to be held this year on the UCLA campus. The AKA pledges headed by Virginia Wilson of SC campus and Nancy Lewis of the UCLA campus will preside over the Women's Gymnasium on Saturday night from 9 to 1 a.m. The pink and green color scheme of the sorority will be used, and the 54 pledges will take their introductory bows beneath an ivy covered arch. A large number of the collegiate crowd have been bidden to the affair.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Stoval are honoring their popular young daughter, Yolande, with a semi formal dancing party Friday evening. The sub-deb received her diploma from Los Angeles high school, where she is president of the L. A. Tri-Y. By the way, the Tri-Y Aloha Ball played its part in the colorful party series last Friday night. Among those present were Weldina Heflin, James White, Sunny Burns, Arleigh Maddox, Frank Braxton, Tommy Keyser, Gloria Crouch, the new Phyllip Walker, Donzella Coulton combo and a host of others.

While the Kappa Alpha Psi brothers are busy completing plans for a "Florentine Garden" party and preparing for the end of "Guide Right Week" Sunday, the scroller pledges are scheduling a beach party for Friday night, with members of the Deltas as guests. Cabrillo beach will be the scene of the party. . . .

SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

The Gloria Robert's concert definitely takes its place as a seasonal highlight. The innate charm of the young artist held the audience spellbound throughout the whole of the concert. Her repertoire included the works of Brahms, Chopin, Debussy, Liszt and Gershwin, to name a few. The concert, presented by AKA sorority last Tuesday night, was well attended by local patrons of the arts. Noted in the audience were Rev. George Garner and daughter Mrs. Paulyn Fisher, Mrs. Gordon Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan H. Browning, Sorors Zenobia Allen, Atty. Martha Williams, Ursula Murrill, and a host of others. The young pianist is scheduled to leave for New York's Julliard School of Music in September. . . .

While mentioning concerts, an exclusive few have been asked to the Garner Excelsior Sunday to hear Catarina Jarborough sing a few of her favorite numbers. It's seldom that the opera star will give an appearance. Those invited consider themselves very lucky.

BRIDAL MONTH

Bobby Boswell and Flora Gladman take to the center aisle Sunday afternoon. The wedding will climax a long list of prenuptial gatherings ranging from San Francisco to Los Angeles. The popular bride elect was honoree at a Lingerie shower Saturday afternoon given by Lucille Boswell. In attendance were several other bride elects including Marilyn Williams, Corine Jones and Melonee Temple. So its easy to see how the topic of discussions went from wedding gowns to different color schemes for that first little love nest of a home. Learned that Mel Temple plans to make all of the bride's maids dresses in muted pastel shades. The entire group of maids taking part in Flora's wedding will hail from San Jose and San Francisco. The musical part of Marilyn's wedding will be taken care of by Jimmy Miller, and the lovely Olivette Miller, if she returns to the angel City in time for the wedding Wednesday June 23. Following the bits of chatter that prevailed the afternoon through, Flora opened her many lovely gifts and Loucille (Elsa Maxwell of the "SET") was voted a grand hostess. . . .

HERE AND THERE

The Cosmos club held a "stag" party Friday night at the Crystal Tea Room, with David Carlisle as honored guest along with several leading sport writers from local papers. David was presented a beautiful pen and pencil set as an "Off to West Point" gift from the popular club. . . .

Sunday, June 23, between the hours of 2 to 5 p.m. all high school grads will be the guests of the AKAs at their annual vocational conference. The meeting will be held at 2087 W. 28 st.

From 4 to 8 p.m. the Pyramid club will be holding a "Tea Dansante" with a special raffle drawing. . . . .

Sunday morning at the regular Second Baptist 11 o'clock service the Kappas will present scholarships to deserving students. . . .

The Thrifty Housewives will hold their annual Summer Tea at the Villa Arlington Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Bernard Thompson is home on furlough to the delight of his many friends. Sunday morn he was honored with a breakfast at Frances Jones' home . . . . Verna Jean Dunlap is listed with the Poly High grads . . . . Nat Shaw and the popular Miss Euling have been married for the past week or two . . . . Don Derricks celebrated his birthday last Monday . . . . Among those interested in learning to fly at Gardena Airport are Vance Jones, Raoul Reynolds, and Dr. C. W. Hill . . . . Phylippa Jones and Ivan Houston will become engaged when Ivan gets back in town from Berkeley . . . . To straighten out matters . . . . Roy Loggins Jr. is not married or engaged. His brother Arthur will soon take to the center aisle with a young school teacher from Louisiana.

Jimmy Lewis is back round town from LeMoyne college . . . . Understand the Connie Tortier, Hubert Duke combo is a constant thing . . . . Jo and Ann Johnson have an appointment with Doc Stork . . . . Home soon from that honeymoon trip will be Gloria and Dr. Arthur Mitchell . . . Shirley Rakestraw will be leaving for the East soon . . . . The Fretelli program was a huge success Sunday afternoon . . . . Making the deadline. . . .

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

The exciting and eventful day has passed for the 2300 graduating students of the Pasadena City schools, from the junior high schools to the junior college. The pattern for processional and recessional of the graduates was the same last year. The graduates sitting at the north end of the Bowl, made a colorful and impressive picture.

were(Dorsey,uJamessPat-

Winfred Eckley, Carol Browne, Myrtle Martin, Lula Bunch, Mable Duncan, John Sneed, Mary Louise Collins, Dorothy Edwards, Izeller Cantrell, Frankie Jacques, Gladise Huff, Erma Jennings, Corine Thomas, Ernestine Thomas, Lillian Patterson, Arizona, Eleanora Edson,and Hayward King received their diplomas from high school.

Those finishing two years of college and receiving their Associate in Arts were Arthur Green, Emma Reynolds, Aletha Carey, Gwendolyn Morrow, Rosebud Jacques, Roberta Hunter, Leroy Webb, Betye Brown, Bernice Cunningham, Lois Kempt, and Nancy Brown.

Swinging and swaying to the music, under low lights at the Prom Dance were Alva Rae Neblett, Harrison Bailey, Bobby Ann Berry, Paul Mack, Bernice Cunningham, Mary Collins, Bill Edson, Bump Cunningham, J. D. Collins, home on furlough, Ples Andrew Griffin, who leaves for Chicago next to attend the Baptist Congress.

After the Prom many of the graduates went night clubing and others went to the Zae's annual after party, at Joyce Gilmer's. Joining in the fun until the wee hours of the morning and eating the delicious food were Jeffalyn Brown, Alvin Johnson, Odella Bartlett, Alma Phillips, Mable Duncan, Don Mims, Dorothy Edwards, George Morrow, Chester Johnson, Elbie Hickambottom, Gwendolyn Hickambottom, Betye Brown, Gwendolyn Morrow and many others.

Betye Brown, Lula Bunch, Mary Ellen Williams and Lois Banks received rewards from the Junior NAACP and the Senior branch at their program honoring the graduates.

Did you know that the Ebony Earls and the Andaconda's had a joint club meeting last week? They had a very interesting meeting after which they dined and danced.

Doris Prince is finally coming home from Chicago. I know that Mrs. Prince will be happy to see her for when she left she went to stay several months but stayed two years.

Just received my invitation to the Ivy Leaf's dance. Glad to note that they are going to have it at UCLA again. I hope that everyone will remember to bring along their Sunday manners. Went to the Million Dollar Theatre, new home of the big name bands. Enjoyed Eddie "Clean Head" Vinson's, Juice Head Blues. That mirror and comb act was much too much. Helen Humes, though she put her songs over with a bang, could have used a little more discretion in her wearing appeal. The Ink Spots did it again. They took the town by storm. Must go out and buy "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain," today!

Father's Day was celebrated last Sunday all over the country, but not with the fanfare that Mother's Day is celebrated. It's too bad that fathers are not idealized as mothers. It is something for the fathers of the world to work up.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

Alterations of the "redd-to-wear" garment can result in an attractive costume at a very low price. Such changes as hemlines, sleeve lengths, neckline and under-arms can make a world of difference in the looks of a garment.

Darts can make the low-priced dress worth more. Folds in the right places, and tucks here and there are needed to make a garment individual. Even the general style or design can be changed in this manner. Thus reducing the opportunity for seeing the same dress many, many times.

Hand sewing can replace the homely factory machine work. It is easy to pull the automatic lock stitch of the power machine. Out it comes with a little start. Press out the old stitches and replace with the invisible hand "whipping" and you have a more expensive garment.

Even shoulder pads can be replaced. Since everyone has a different slant of the "upper-torso" it is possible to take either less or more padding to make the swank affect in clothing.

A change of buttons or the addition of buttons or belts, or ties will alter the factory design. Bows, knots, ornaments and the like offer much to the revision of the costume.

Get your inexpensive costume and alter it. You will be pleased with the result.

Bridge Points

The following questions are a few of the things you would know, if you had attended the classes each Tuesday night for the past six months, or had you followed "Bridge Points." No. 1. What is adequate trump support without an over-call by the opponent to your partner's left? No. 2. What is the requirement to open a suit bid of one, vulnerable or not? No. 3. With 3 HT, and 5 diamonds headed 87632, could one open this suit? No. 4. What is meant by the rule of 4-5-6, and how is it applied? No. 5. What are the requirements to open with 3 in a major or minor, vulnerable or not?

The above pointers are a few of the things you must know to be scientific players.

Many times I have stated that in order to become a proficient player, one must study, and follow some system—and since 98% of the players in the world play The Culbertson's system—why not you? Many of you have won without any of the above knowledge, but over a period of time—you, too, would lose under the withering barrage of scientific players.

Attention to all bridge club presidents: We invite you to send a few of your members to our Tuesday night classes at the swank GWBA clubrooms, 1054-56 E. 54th st., between the hours of 7:30 and 9, to learn the fundamentals of duplicate and rubber bridge as taught in simple understandable lessons by a master Culbertson associate teacher.

Bring your partner if you wish.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

You know, it's amazing how silent our "free" press can be. Oddly enough, it loses its voice at the most PECULIAR times. Now, if I had a suspicious nature, I'd say this speechlessness comes at decidedly opportune moments.

Yes sir-e-e-e! That's what I'd think... if I were the suspicious type, I mean.

But since I'm not that kind of person, I often meekly accept things which others might deem highly questionable actions—or lack of action—on the part of our daily metropolitan newspapers.

F'instance?

Well, an outstanding example is the almost death-like silence the press gave a recent mass youth demonstration. A meeting staged by the American Youth for Democracy in the name of the freedom and democracy for which an aching, bleeding world yearns.

And what strikes me as being a bit unusual is that the press knew all about it.

You see, they had their reporters there. Loads of 'em. And they had cameramen there who went around snapping pictures for dear life. Yes sir-e-e, that's what they did.

Yet, check the newspapers from the day of the demonstration, June 8, to this date, and all you'll find is a tiny report, buried in the back section of one of our leading metropolitan papers.

Yes, chum, that's how some newspapers give you "all the news, all the time." That's how they give you that "complete news coverage" they are always yapping about.

Enough to make you wonder, isn't it, even if you aren't suspicious by nature.

Just what is it that makes our "free" press so coyly shy about carrying the report of a news event, especially when it deals with freedom and democracy versus slavery, tyranny and death!

Why doesn't the press want the world to know that youth has championed the fight for freedom made by brave Indonesian seamen in America? Men whose only crime is that of refusing to betray their fellow Indonesians! Of helping to murder their own families! Of refusing to serve imperialist masters who are trying to snuff out freedom!

You may not be up-to-date on this fight for freedom, chum, because the press has gone out of its way to conceal the real story, but I'll give you a few facts.

Here in America, many months ago, Indonesian seamen went on strike against their Dutch masters. They refused to work on Dutch or British ships taking supplies and munitions to murder their families in Indonesia. These seamen consider themselves citizens of the tiny Indonesian Republic which is struggling to wrest its freedom from Dutch imperialist masters. Thus, the seamen refused to sail Dutch or British ships which might be involved in the campaign of the Netherlands and Britain to suppress the Indonesian independence move.

Their fate? Our impartial American government condemned them to deportation to the Dutch government, refusing to return these seamen to the government of the Indonesian Republic, as the Australians had done.

I say condemned because not only do these men face imprisonment for mutiny, but they face probable death for resisting Dutch rule.

The young people of American Youth for Democracy know of the tragic fate awaiting these freedom-loving people. They have heard of the bitter struggle 72,000,000 Indonesians are waging for freedom. They know that the Dutch and British are keeping over 50,000 armed Japanese in Indonesia to quell the Indonesian revolt for independence.

In short, chum, they know the score.

That's why at a recent county convention, over 150 delegates, from the 27 AYD groups in Los Angeles eleot, unanimously agreed to fight for the safety of the Indonesian seamen. That's why they voted to stage a mass demonstration June 8, appealing for protection for these men. Seamen who are actually political refugees with the right of asylum in the United States.

You know the outcome now, chum. News of the demonstration was scrapped. Thrown out. Suppressed.

Thus, on June 12, over 150 Indonesians were herded together from the east and west coasts and sent to San Francisco for deportation. They were loaded on the SS Marine Lynx, but 45 minutes before the ship was scheduled to sail, a court order was received staying their deportation for two months.

Close shave, wasn't it? However, the men's baggage was carried away, officers claiming there was no way to get it off the vessel before sailing time.

These men have been returned to the custody of immigration officials.

Now chum, this is what I want to know. Why did our metropolitan papers shy clear of the protest demonstration? Why did they try to kill an attempt to rally favorable public opinion—especially while they rant about freedom and democracy.

Could it be that our "free" press is in cahoots with the Dutch? And the British? And maybe even the American imperialist?

You know, as I said before, I'm not the suspicious type, but I just can't help wondering. How about you?

Your chum,
YVONNE.

U. of Illinois Students Picket Jim Crow Restaurants Near Campus

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Swinging into action under the leadership of the recently-formed Student-Community Interracial Committee, more than 90 students of the University of Illinois last week picketed six campus-area restaurants which refuse equal service to Negro students at the university.

Marching in front of the restaurants during lunch and dinner hours, pickets carried placecards reading: "Illinois Law Says Don't Discriminate," "Jim Crow Must Go," "We Fought Together—Why Can't We Eat Together," "Herb McKenley, Athlete of the Year, Can't Eat Here," etc.

Prior to picketing the restaurants the committee distributed handbills explaining the reasons for the proposed picketing.

Spanish Youth Urges AYD to Aid in Fight to Oust Franco

"The young people of Spain are now ready to depose Franco from his crownless throne by any means—by the use of arms, if necessary," declared Antonio Giral, son of the Premier of the Spanish Republican Government in Exile, Jose Giral, in a message of greeting to the second national convention of American Youth for Democracy, which convened in New York June 13-16.

Spanish youth, Giral asserted in his communication, has lost a great deal of its hopefulness in the last few months, "particularly our faith in the moral sense of the world."

"Nevertheless, although we were the first in the fight for democracy in World War II, and will be late celebrating victory, I am certain that victory will soon be achieved by my people."

In another portion of his 2500 word message, Giral urged American Youth for Democracy to press the necessity for a clear break with Franco upon the U. S. State Department and the Security Council of the United Nations.

He plans to establish law practice in Los Angeles.

Diplomas will be handed 4,294 boys and 5,280 girls in exercises at 44 senior high schools. This year's largest graduating class is at Los Angeles High School with 322 boys and 357 girls, a total of 679.

Students of All Races Aid Jewish Welfare Campaign

A Negro girl at UCLA pledged $25 to the United Jewish Welfare Fund, while two Mexican youngsters at Menorah Center gave gifts of $25 and $50 and children from 11 to 15 at Temple Beth El raised $300.

Students at UCLA have already raised $5,000 more than their original goal of $4,000.

This is why Bob Feinerman, youth division chairman of the 1946 campaign of the United Jewish Welfare Fund declares: "Young people, Jewish and non-Jewish, are participating in this drive to an unprecedented degree."

League Leaders In Angel City Debut

Hollywood Baseball Park will be the scene of a torrid clash between the Oakland Larks, leaders of the West Coast Baseball circuit, and Carlisle Perry's Los Angeles White Sox, Monday night at 8:15 p.m.

The Larks will be in there to increase their lead while while the cellar-dwelling White Sox will attempt to crawl out of the dungeon at the expense of the visitors.

SOX TOP SEA LIONS

Monday night past the L. A. White Sox edged the San Francisco Sea Lions, 9-8, and Manager Perry states that he has increased the strength of the team and will be ready for the Larks this coming Monday night.

LARKS ARE STRONG

According to Eddie Harris, business manager of the Larks, his team will not appear here again until the latter part of July so this is your chance to see what the leaders look like now. Jim West is the playing manager of the team, holding down first base, while there are two fine backstops in "Smiley" Clayton and Ted Gay. Two of the Larks best pitchers, William "Weed" Jones and "Speck" Roberts may see mound duty Monday night.

PROBABLE STARTING HURLERS—Either "Speck" Roberts, left, or William "Weed" Jones of the OAKLAND LARKS will be assigned to the mound Monday night at Hollywood Baseball Park when the L. A. WHITE SOX tangle with the visiting league leaders of the West Coast Baseball Association in a single game which starts at 8:15 p. m.

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

MORE SWIMMING POOLS AND RECREATIONAL CENTERS —LESS JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Sometime ago this writer scribbled a plea for more recreation centers for the youth of our city, controlled either by the city or state. The fact that there is a crying need for these things has been evidenced in the dailies, which have commented editorially on the woeful lack of such facilities and pointed out the increase in juvenile delinquency because of it. In my opinion the war had more than a little to do with it. The kids were left on their own while parents gathered in the necessary green stuff by working in war plants and shipyards. You've been a child yourself. You were bursting with energy and had to have some outlet. Left on your own in a neighborhood where there were no recreational facilities to let off steam, you probably followed the other guys who stole rides on trucks, grabbed fruit from a market stand, sat in the shed of the backyard and smoked cigarettes or possibly took a nip of liquor at times. A boy who has reached the age of 14 or 16 these days truly believes himself to be a man and thinks that he should prove it by doing the things that men do.

Unless there is something to use up his excess energy and take his mind off forming bad habits, he'll succumb to them nine times out of ten. The lack of playgrounds and swimming pools, of summer camps around L. A. is acute. Something should be done about it. Some of the funds which are extracted from us for taxes should be diverted toward building sound bodies and the minds of our youngsters, the hope of the future generation. Something should be done to keep them from rambling the street, some of them winding up in jail for stealing cars, most of the time perpetrated in the spirit of fun but never taken in that spirit by the police. Or learning to smoke weeds, or forming gangs for no good purpose. It is difficult to find a boy around 14 walking Central avenue who doesn't carry a knife almost as long as he is. I asked one why he carried a knife. He replied that if he didn't he was liable to get cut up himself at any time by members of another gang who always carried knives. You might scoff at this but it is positively true. In addition to this poor state of affairs it is difficult for a man to walk along Central avenue with a lady and not be insulted by these young hoodlums. If the insults are resented, knives will be pulled and the adult threatened with mayhem. Incidentally, policemen are painfully absent on most of these occasions. I may be arrested for saying this but cops are noticeably absent between 41st street and Vernon avenue on Central. You see a patrol car once in awhile but a blue-coat patrolling the street is a rarity. We think that if there were more swimming pools and other recreation spots for the kids to enjoy, they'd fall into the right line just as they have fallen by the wayside for the lack of them.

CURLY MONROE DOING HIS BIT

Speaking of recreation at the Central Playground Community Center, Curly Monroe, young worker there, is doing a magnificent job. It was a fine thing to attend his father-son banquet at which boys of the community accompanied their paters to the spread. It was something to warm the cockles of the heart to watch these children who could have been raising merry hell in the streets sitting quietly by the sides of their proud fathers and enjoying a banquet staged especially in their interest. If there were more swimming pools, etc., young men such as Curly could go out and interest kids in attending the playgrounds or what have you and I think that the result would be gratifying indeed. We hope that the city will soon realize this need and do something about it.

SAMMY MILLER TO ATTEND U.C.L.A.

One of the greatest young grid players of sepia hue in California is due at U.C.L.A. in the fall. He is Sammy Miller from San Jose State college and lives in Berkeley. Recently out of the Navy, Sammy has been classed as the greatest he's ever seen by Mel Reid, Oakland Giants pro football star. Miller turned down several lucrative offers to play professional football, preferring to finish his schooling. He has two years to go. Sammy is 5 feet 8½ inches and scales 189. He does the century in ten flat so he has speed to burn. While at San Jose he played at left half. He is an accurate passer and the raves of the northern sports writers concerning his broken field running compare with those given Buddy Young or the all-time great, Red Grange. Los Angeles will indeed be lucky to get this youngster, who may rival the immortal Kenny Washington for greatness before he hangs up his togs. He's in town now and after a couple of trips out to U.C.L.A. the grid coach and Don Barksdale, great cage star, finally prevailed upon him to attend that university despite the efforts of colleges in the Bay area to try to grab him. You'll hear plenty about Sammy Miller when the grid season opens. This is just a little advance notice.

Jack Johnson Funeral Rites

CHICAGO—2500 persons were present as funeral rites were held last Friday for Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight boxing king. The ex-champ was laid to rest in a bronze satin-lined casket in Graceland Cemetery.

Johnson, the first Negro to win the world heavyweight crown, was buried near the grave of Bob Fitzsimmons, another former champion who lost by a knockout to Johnson in two rounds in 1907.

The former champ died last Monday in Raleigh, N. C., from injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Franklinton, N. C. He was 68 years of age.

Oakland Leads Coast League

SAN FRANCISCO—Stop Oakland! That's the cry resounding througout the West Coast Negro Baseball Association as Jim West's powerful Larks, sponsored by the Oakland High Marine and Social Club, continue their march to first half honors. By June 10, the Larks had won 13 of their first 14 league games, to find themselves five and one-half games ahead of Paul Hardy's second-place Seattle Steelheads, who had won 10 and lost 9. In third place rested Jesse Owens' Portland Roses, managed by Wesley Barrow, at the .500 mark with seven wins and seven losses, half a game ahead of the Yellowhorse Morris' San Francisco Sealions, who had 10 wins and 11 defeats.

John Simmons Shines at Meet

BERKELEY — The San Francisco Olympic Club last Saturday stacked up 68 points to win the annual Pacific Association track and field championships at Edward's Field, but the club's veterans stars were forced to take a back seat to the feats of 14-year-old John Simmons of Hoover Junior High of Oakland.

The Negro youngster won the open broad jump with a leap of 23 ft. 1¼ in., and then came back to win a special 100-yard dash for high schools in a photo finish in 10.4s.

All in all it was a real privilege to attend this affair given by men interested in doing things which are of benefit to the race. The future plans include the giving of scholarships and other worthwhile projects.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Hipodromo de Tijuana:—It was surprise day here last Sunday when five favorites won in a row. Last Torch won the first at a good price for the longshot players. But in the second race New Blue scored to pay $6.20 and then in the third San Ignacio, a 3-5 favorite, finished second to Crystal Lil, who paid $152.40 for two with the winning combination of New Blue and Crystal Lil the daily-double paid $1739.60. Four tickets were sold on the winning combination

Again in the ninth and tenth races the longshot players scored with Doctor Cook who paid $41.6 and Brownie Park who paid $128.40 for two bucks.

In the eleventh race, which was the feature attraction, the Father's Day Handicap at six furlongs, it took a masterly ride by Jockey Ingluez to keep the favorite Legal Step in front to win by a short nose from the fast closing Reagan, a 10-1 shot. The favorite paid $4.80 for two. The former players again took it on the chin when Broad Street, Installed Choice in the last race, finished third to the longshot Erin Call, with flashy Miss Second making the Quinela pay $24.60.

It was a day of thrills and spills. This Sunday presiding stewart and racing director Judge James J. Murphy has arranged two feature events, known as "El Verano" and the "Rio Grande" handicaps. Until Sunday, so-long, George.

Enrique Bolanos, 134, technically knocked out Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, 136, after 1m. 17s. of the seventh round had elapsed before 7000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds.

A stinging left hook to the jaw of Wilson ended proceedings after the Pittsburgher who should have retired at least two years ago, only showed flashes of form as the up-and-coming Bolanos scored with punch after punch.

In a slow 6-round semi-windup bout, Julio Franco, 138½, nodded Willie (Dub) Bowen, 135. Bowen did little else but hold and run.

SLIM GAILLARD STANDS UP 7000 PEOPLE

The currently popular Slim Gaillard will find himself bounced right back into obscurity if he pulls another trick similar to one he staged last Friday night. Slim was thoroughly advertised and publicized for an appearance at the Olympic during a mass rally held in the interest of the Negro race in the fight against the Ku Klux Klan. This scribe was asked to invite Slim to appear with his trio. I journeyed out to Billy Berg's Hollywood Supper Club and asked him. He agreed to appear. Later to insure his appearance, at the request of Bill Bidner of the Mobilization for Democracy committee, I made three trips to Slim's home in Watts, not finding him home on any of the visits. I made several phone calls to Billy Berg's late Thursday night and finally caught Slim. He again assured me he'd be there. Mr. Bidner made a trip out there on the same night and said he was practically given the run-around by both Slim and Billy Berg. This made him a little suspicious and with just cause. However, he finally cornered Slim and again the "vout" man said he'd be there. Came the night of the rally and no Slim. Phone calls were made to Billy Berg's while 7000 persons waited. The old run-around was again staged by Slim, according to Mr. Bidner. The upshot of the whole matter was that the "Cement Mixer" failed to put in an appearance. The lovely Lena Horne, who had promised to appear, was there with bells on, as she always is when there is an invitation extended to attend meetings designed to better conditions for the race. Other celebrities were there, but no Mr. Gaillard, who is as reckless with his promises as Diamond Jim Brady was with his gold. We merely point out the fact that if Slim didn't intend appearing he had no business saying that he would. We could have gotten some other top act to place in the spot. If there was money Mr. Gaillard wanted just to put in an appearance in this battle against the vicious Ku Klux Klan he should have said so. Miss Horne didn't ask for any and was happy to appear. As it stands, this writer won't ask Slim for another favor if he lives to be as old as the "Old Man of the Mountain." He made both Mr. Bidner and myself look bad, he disappointed thousands of persons waiting to hear him and he proved conclusively that he cares nothing about donating his services to help his own race rid itself of persecution by one of the most ruthless organizations in history. You are most certainly in the doghouse, Mr. Gaillard, and I for one, who thought you were a great artist, have definitely changed my opinion. There's more to being a great artist than strumming a guitar.

SOMETHING TO SHOUT ABOUT

One of America's outstanding concert pianists, EUGENE GASH, is getting ready for his Los Angeles debut here late in July. Mr. Gash resides in San Francisco. Last month he gave a brilliant recital at the Theatre Arts Colony for the benefit of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity scholarship fund and rated plenty of raves in the San Francisco dailies. Don't miss hearing Mr. Gash when he appears here.

A FEW THEATRICAL TIDBITS

Louise Beavers hits the jackpot in Universal's "Lover Come Back" in more ways than one. She's playing the slot machine in a scene laid in a gambling joint at Las Vegas, Nevada, when she hits the jackpot and two hundred shiny silver dollars cascade all over the floor of the place . . . Hit record of the week is Roy Milton's new "Red Light" and "Mr. Fine" . . . The popular "Jubilee" NBC program which wasn't given Monday takes a rest until July 8, according to Ernest Whitman, who emcees the show . . . The FOUR KNIGHTS (Southland Singers) begin a tour of fifteen major cities in early August. Their first recording for Decca, "Just in Case You Change Your Mind" and "Don't Be Ashamed to Say I Love You," is among the nation's top juke-box favorites . . . SISTER ROSETTA THORPE is on an all-religious concert tour of southwestern United States. She will top the forthcoming Gospel-Singing Festival to be held at Madison Square Garden in N. Y. during early September . . . Recorded by Ella Fitzgerald and Louis Jordan in Calypso fashion the disc "STONE COLD DEAD IN THE MARKET" has earned both stars honorary memberships in the Carribean Folk Music Guild, the only group in the music world set up for the propagation of Calypso music . . . MURIEL RAHN will give a total of 93 concerts between December and April . . . The CBS "Night Life" program with Sepian Willie Bryant as emcee was aired from coast to coast last week and went over great. The program has a brilliant mixed all star cast. Last week it included Maxine Sullivan, Teddy Wilson, the Loumel Morgan Trio, Bert Howell and Buddy Bowser, comics, and others. The program is heard in L. A. over KNX every Tuesday at 6 p. m. . . . COOTIE WILLIAMS has written a jazz opus titled "Rhapsody For Bass". It will be introduced for the first time when the band plays an engagement at the Earle theatre in Philadelphia starting June 28 . . . Mrs. Noble Sissle is said to have spent $300 for a black gown she wore at the King Cole party given at N. Y.'s Savoy-Plaza recently by Dolores Calvin . . . Billy Eckstine's latest waxing is "You Call It Madness" . . . JIMMIE LUNCEFORD, the "Harlem Express," celebrated his 44th birthday early this month at Eureka, California.

SNOOPING ALONG GOSSIP LANE

Smooth as silk with skin like milk . . . Edith Duncan, an attractive new arrival from Pittsburgh, Pa. . . . And fine as candy with a manner dandy . . . Ollie Booker, a sharp contribution to California from Toledo, Ohio . . . Both of the above mentioned stopping at the Woodlawn Branch Y.W.C.A. . . . How did I get in there . . . ah, but that would be telling . . . The Gene Hilyards now have a phone but it costs seven cents to call them . . . Out for a little tennis at Exposition Park last Saturday morning: Jessie Mae Brown, society ed; sister Becky Brown, Maethilde Kenner and Yours Truly. I played tennis . . . they gossiped . . . Joe Adams, capable young announcer on the "Golden Grooves" program over KXLA for Gold's Furniture every Saturday (1:45 to 2:45 p. m.) and Sunday (2:30 to 3 p. m.), just about kayoed this writer by dedicating a number to me last Saturday, Thanks, Joe, it was groovy. By the way, folks, do you want to hear your name over the radio? Joe is accepting requests in a new policy to be introduced Saturday. Just send in a request for the record you want played and if he's got it, you'll hear it. Write him in care of the Record Department at Gold's, South Central and East Washington Blvd., or at KXLA in Pasadena. Flood the mails with your requests—the more the merrier . . . In closing let me say that the COSMOS CLUB of which Joe Oliver is president, by this prediction, is slated to be the outstanding young men's club in the entire state. They have the stuff and they are really selling it.

GIFT FOR COLLEGE FUND—Towering Kenneth Spencer, star of "Show Boat," gratefully receives a donation for the United Negro College Fund from Charles Fedérics, also a star of the Jerome Kern musical, while a Calvin's News Service reporter looks on. "Thank you, Mr. Frederics, this will go a long way towards breaking down more barriers between our fellow men," comments Kenneth Spencer.

ANTINETTE GIBSON, concert pianist and actress, who will be included with the other Hidden Talent Players in 15 two-reel musical comedies to be made soon in Hollywood. Antinette will also make her debut shortly in a piano recital of the classics.

Following the signing of a contract last Tuesday, this organization is to participate in 15 modern musical comedies, at an approximate cost of $5000 each.

Among those of the highest qualified, who will appear in the first series will be The Mellow Riffs trio, Antinette Gibson, concert pianist, Norma Lee Pickens, vocalist, Fred Thompson, swing pianist, Paul Bryant, "The boy wonder," and partner Welvin Young, and others. Harry Levette is club president, and director.

Deanna Durbin sings in five tongues.

'Bojangles' Rates 4 As Tops In Nation

CHICAGO—Bill "Bojangles" Robinson completed sixty years of professional dancing with the cryptic comment that there is nothing new in tap dancing.

"Bojangles" has been dancing since 1885, having begun at the age of 8. In an article "60 Years of Tap Dancing" in the July issue of Negro Digest he picks the four dancers he rates tops and severely criticizes modern tap dancing.

Georgie Tapps comes first on Bill's list of straight tappers. And he commends Paul Draper for his ballet technique; Fred Astaire for eccentricity; and Gene Kelly for combining both tap and ballet.

Of modern dancers in general, the article states:

"The modern tap dances continually without a break, making for repetitious and monotonous movements. Music alone should be the basic factor for determining dance patters, not acrobatic stunts and other tricks currently employed."

'Sally's Spring Party' Play Is Set for Sunday

The Westside kiddies are all agog as the time draws near for the Busy Bee-Z children's club festival Sunday (June 23) at 3 p.m. The excitement revolves around the queen. Who will she be they wonder? The best way to find out will be to attend the affair which is under the direction of Mrs. Cecelia McNeely and will be staged at 1915 West 35th Place.

Also arousing interest is the original two-act play "Sally's Spring Party" which will star little 8-year-old Yvonne Ladner. An essay contest and a fashion show are also included in the program.

Parents are uregd to accompany their children to this bright children's show which will feature the presentation of "Miss Busy Bee of 1946."

This is one of the inspired efforts of Mrs. McNeely to provide interesting diversion for children and it is sincerely hoped that she will be encouraged to carry on by the support of the public.

Buddy Johnson On Road Again

RICHMOND Va.—Following a highly successful week's engagement at the Savoy Ballroom in New York, Buddy Johnson hit the road once again with his "Walk 'Em Rhythm" orchestra on a dance tour that will carry the Johnson crew through almost every southern state between now and mid-July.

ACTRESS LENA HORNE was one of the featured speakers at the "Stop the Ku Klux Klan" mass rally in Olympic auditorium last Friday night.

Record News And Reviews

COUNT BASIE, who is celebrating his 10th anniversary as a bandleader in his current enegagement at the Roxy Theatre in New York, says he'd never have happened but for the efforts of BENNY GOODMAN. Benny discovered him at the Reno Club, a honk-tonk in Kansas City, had music critics Willard Alexander and John Hammond come out to hear him, and in almost nothing flat Basie was brought to New York and the old Famous Door on 52nd Street, from which spot he started to skyrocket. At the Famous Door Basie was paid $850 weekly for his band; 1946 finds him getting $12,500 a week at the Roxy. Latest records by the Count are "High Tide" and the "Lazy Lady Blues" on Columbia: Jimmy Rushing sings the vocals.

STAR IS CHAMP

Lilli Palmer, the Viennese screen star debuting opposite Gary Cooper in "Cloak and Dagger," is the table-tennis champion of Austria.

THE DEEP RIVER BOYS, a smooth singing group, are pictured at a recent cocktail party tendered Olivia De Haviland, screen star, at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

Delta Rhythm Boys Feted at Party by Diana Barrymore

LAS VEGAS, Nevada—The famous Delta Rhythm Boys, current sensation at the fashionable El Rancho Vegas hotel here, were guests at a party given this week by Diana Barrymore, daughter of the late John Barrymore.

The great vocal combo is the talk of the town— literally. The boys broke one precedent when they insisted upon in their contract that they be quartered at the hotel at which they're appearing, and not shunted off into some "private home."

They were granted that request. They also eat in the main dining room with all the other guests and have the run of the entire place.

Their quiet bearing and intelligent attitude have made them the favorites of the ritzy social colony here—a colony comprised of innumerable eastern socialities and Hollywood film celebrities.

Impartial observers agree that the excellent demeanor exhibited by the popular singing group has done much to further interracial goodwill in this desert resort, a burg that's never been particularly noted for its liberality.

Mrs. J.T. Gipson's Candid Comments

NOTE TO MY PUBLIC:

Had my appendix removed Saturday past and while I am recuperating in the hospital some of the Angel City's best known columnists will "guest" for me. This week we have Lillian Cumber Green or "Lil Green," editor of the popular magazine "Sepia Hollywood." Take it away, "Lil" . . .

It is indeed a pleasure to do a guest column for my friend Mrs. J. T. Gibson. We certainly miss reading her breezy scribbling and trust that she will be pounding her typewriter once again, but soon!!!

There are so many things to write about, one wonders where to begin ? ? ? ?

FIRST, LET'S DIG THE AVENUE

In the Orchid Corner—

The new managers of the Lincoln Theatre will feature jam-up stage shows beginning with July 11th when the Ink Spots will have top billing.

Snooks and Allen for their superb show productions at both the Jungle Room and the Ringside Club. The new show at the Ringside Club includes Barbara & Frank, lindy hoppers; Pee Wee Bob, the man of 1000 voices; the William Sisters and the Sand Man. Bill Day is the inimitable m.c.

Couchy Roberts is the newest addition to the Roy Milton aggregation, presently holding forth at the Cobra Club.

The Honey Drippers are in town and scheduled for Shepp's Playhouse opening.

Ernie Andrews is a good bet for pictures. He's tall, he's dark, he's handsome and causes no end of swooning when he gives out with a song.

Gene Phillips and orchestra have taken over the Bengazi Breakfast Club.

SHARPS AND FLATS

Charles Davis and his Orchestra opened at the Bal Tabarin in Gardenia last Tuesday night and believe me when I say that this young band is already headed for the big time. The all-star band includes the piano artistry of Charles; Sam Allen, 1st alto; Gus Evans, 3rd alto; Henry Bridges, tenor; Bill Jackson, drums; Jack Wilson, 1st trumpet, Nathaniel Bates, 2nd trumpet and Creep, bass. With such a lineup as this, it's little wonder that the aggregation is being swamped with recording offers.

Broomfield and Greeley are producing the show.

'ROUND HOLLYWOOD

Sepia aggregations have just about taken over Hollywood as far as the bandstands are concerned . . . . C. P. Johnson is at Billy Berg's . . . The Club Morocco features the music of Eddie Beal . . . Eddie Heywood is in the King Cole Room of the Trocadero . . . Dorothy Webster and combo are at Lew Leroy's Cotton Club . . . Piano-ings of Art Tatum can be heard at Billy Berg's after the 24th . . . Benny Carter and Orchestra are at the Swing Club.

TOPICS FOR GOSSIP

Warner Bros. Studio wants Theresa Harris, who you will remember as Rochester's "Girl Friday" in "Love Thy Neighbor," for a choice part in a coming vehicle. She certainly has the talent and qualifications for the part.

Howard McGhee wants to break his contract with Wald-Gervis Agency.

The Joe Morrises are altar-splitting . . .

To a Friend: Thanks for the ride.

Lovely Ruby Hill seems to be holding her own in the controversial stage-show "St. Louis Woman."

Lena Horne is being squired about town by Carlton Moss, who wrote "The Negro Soldier." This should just about nip those rumors in the bud about Lena's being married to o'fay bandleader Lennie Hayton, which Lena denies emphatically.

Sepia Hollywood Magazine will do a feature story on the King Cole Trio in the next issue. The circulation of the magazine will hit the 10,000 mark with Attorney Hyman Getzoff becoming business manager.

"Frenchy" is getting his dancing feet in shape again and will more than likely make his debut as a single.

'Fats' Waller's Final Disc Will Be Released

NEW YORK—"Fats" Waller's final recording, waxed in Hollywood shortly prior to his untimely end, will soon be released by RCA-Victor as a special memorial tribute to the late pianist-composer, who contributed so much to popular music.

Waller's memorable all-time hit "Ain't Misbehavin'", and a new tune "Moppin' 'n Boppin'" written by "Fats" in collaboration with W. T. (Ed) Kirkeby, was recorded originally for the film success "Stormy Weather." Due to overlong production, the duo of tunes were finally deleted by film editors.

The record, an RCA-Victor twelve inch special, recorded by one of the greatest aggregations in jazz history, features Bennie Carter, trumpet, Zutty Singleton, drums, Slam Stewart, base, Irving Ashby, guitar, Gene Porter, clarinet, Alton Moore, trombone with the incomparable Waller on piano and vocals. Due to limited production, the new record is expected to become a rare collector's item.

AMUSEMENT BRIEFS

Former Screen Actor Has New Val Verde Spot

Midst a star studded gathering of film celebrities and socialites, Bob Webb's Rendevous tucked in the heart of the beautiful valley of Val Verde, was opened last weekend.

This marks the latest innovation among Southern California's growing list of outdoor resorts.

Seeing the need for an exclusive club featuring the very best in foods and soft drinks in an enchanting atmosphere, Mr. Webb, former movie actor and well known dancer, has succeeded in making the Rendevous one of the finest summer hideaways operated exclusively under Negro ownership.

Appealing especially to those pleasure seekers who delight in "roughing it out in the wide open spaces," Webb's resort is comprised of a spacious Spanish hacienda, several cabins and a stable of beautiful, lively riding horses.

"A private tennis court and swimming pool are being planned," Mr. Webb told reporters Sunday. "Another special item will be the featuring of a fleet of surplus army jeeps which we are going to rent to parties, wishing to camp out in the hills."

Mr. Webb also stated that additional attractions will be added in the near future.

Swingposium To Attract Crowd At Embassy Aud.

When symphony artists turn to swing, the situation becomes interesting to watch, but when these artists use their own instruments it becomes a revolution.

This is the situation as it stands for the Fran-Tone Swingposium. On Monday, June 24, 8 p.m. at the Embassy Auditorium, music lovers of both swing and classics will rub elbows to hear English horns, French horns, oboes and flutes give out with hot licks and mellow riffs.

Calvin Jackson, well known pianist and arranger has worked with the symphony artists, who have professed a great love for swing.

The Swingposium will also present in concert, such well known artists as Errol Garner, Red Callender, Howard McGee, Tommy Todd, Charlie Parker, Charlie Shavers and others.

Ella Raines' eyes are a deep, impenetrable green.

Now Playing at United Artists

"Perilous Holiday" is a melodrama smoothly combining romance and comedy with the elements of intrigue and suspense. This Columbia picture now playing at the United States Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, is set in Mexico City and deals with international crooks. The second feature is "The Walls Came Tumbling Down".

Nicodemus Pens Musical Play

Nicodemus Stewart, Hollywood's droll comic currently seen as the "orderly" in 20th Century's "Col. Effingham's Raid," has completed a musical fantasy, titled "What a Night!" on which he has been working for more than a year.

Nicodemus, one of America's finest comedians of screen and stage, wrote both the book and the lyrics for the music.

Tiny Bradshaw Play In DeeCee

WASHINGTON—Tiny Bradshaw and his band play their first engagement in the national capital since their return from their precedent making run in Tokyo following V-J day. They are the feature attraction of the new bill at the Howard theatre here. Following their one week stand at the Howard, they move into the Apollo theatre in Harlem and after that a brief run at the Seaview Beach Hotel Club in Virginia.

La Churchill Tops New Show

ST. LOUIS—Savannah Churchill, sultry enchantress of the blues, is headlining the new all-star show at the Riviera club here. Miss Churchill has recently finished a series of engagements with the Deep River Boys in the South. Featured on the Riviera bill with La Churchill are those hilarious fat men of comedy—Patterson and Jackson.

Slam Stewart Back at Deuces

NEW YORK CITY—Slam Stewart, the nation's leading swing bassist, has returned to swing street for another long stand. Following his country-wide tour that saw him go as Texas, he has settled down for an indefinite stay at the Three Deuces night club. It was from this spot that Slam springboarded to national prominence.

TRUE LOVE

Glenn Ford, starred with Bette Davis in "A Stolen Life," lost his wedding ring in an artificial lake at Warner Bros., during a scene for that production. He remained on the set until midnight while workmen drained the pool to retrieve his treasure. He is the husband of Eleanor Powell.

TWO BIG HITS—Pictured above are Rosalind Russell and James Stewart starring in "No Time for Comedy" and James Cagney and Ann Sheridan starred in "City for Conquest," double-feature program now playing at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theatres.

Sheriff's Show Set August 25

Rodeo fans will thrill once again to the cry of "ride 'em cowboy!" when the country's greatest rodeo is staged in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum on Sunday, August 25th. This gigantic thrill-packed show is the annual presentation of the Sheriffs' Relief Association of Los Angeles County of which Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz is President.

This year, all of the spectacular activity will be staged in one afternoon of highly competitive horsemanship.

Erskine Hawkins To Honor Utica

UTICA, N. Y.—This bustling community was agog last week as news spread hereabouts that Erskine Hawkins, the Twentieth Century Gabriel, had been so impressed with the town that he had written a swing tune after the fashion of "Tuxedo Junction" which would immortalize Utica.

Gene Rodgers To Guest Star For Joe Adams

Gene Rodgers, the sensational piano stylist who has become the toast of Hollywood society, will appear as guest star on the popular Golden Grooves program over KXLA on Saturday, June 29, according to Joe Adams, conductor.

Adams, the only Negro disc jockey in this section and one of radio's most outstanding personalities, explained that he had so many requests from listeners for records done by the amazing Gene Rodgers that he had invited Rodgers to make a personal appearance.

Rodgers, currently starring at the Swanee Inn, in the heart of Hollywood, is known as "the rajah of the keyboard."

"Night in Paradise" is laid farther back in history than any previous Technicolor picture—the 6th Century B.C.

Fight Segregation In Movie Theatres

WASHINGTON—The recent supreme court ruling voiding Jim Crowism on interstate bus lines, which was aimed at public vehicles carrying passengers between the District of Columbia and Virginia has given various organizations a loophole to battle Negro segregation in motion picture theatres.

One organization, the National Negro Congress, is reported urging its Washington staff to go fully into the matter with a view toward breaking Jim Crow in the District, while a newly-formed group, called the Committee for Racial Democracy in the Nation's Capital, is raising funds for the avowed purpose of testing Jim Crow laws in the District courts.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

First A. M. E. Notes

Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of First A.M.E. church, is out of the city. He will attend the bishops' council at Kansas City and the Youth Congress in Denver. Rev. Vince M. Townsend Sr., from Little Rock, Ark., will deliver the morning message. Rev. Townsend was the presiding elder in the state of Arkansas for many years. Persons formerly of this state cannot afford to miss this soul stirring message.

The woman's day, scheduled Sunday, July 14, is progressing nicely. Mrs. Montana McNealy is chairman. The woman's day chorus is directed by Mrs. Ethel Webb, former director of music at St. John A.M.E. church in Omaha, Nebraska.

Thomas Person is chairman for men's day, Sunday, July 28. Jester Hairston, who has just returned from abroad, is the director of music for the men's day chorus.

There never did, and never will exist anything permanently noble and excellent in the character which is a stranger to the exercise of resolute self-denial.
—Walter Scott

of the Senior Choir. "Sweet Eloise" as she is known in the musical circle, needs no introduction to Los Angeles. She has served as soloist, director and organist in several of the churches.

Her musical career began as a little girl in her home town in Texas. Her first studies in music started in Prairie View college, then Texas college and Bishop.

At present she is studying with the Mastro Alexander Campbell. This event is being hailed to be one of the outstanding events of the season. Be present and on time.

Smith Jubilee Singers to Be Presented Sun.

The famous Smith Jubilee Singers of St. Louis, Missouri, will appear at the Independent People's church of Holly Light, located at 2626 S. San Pedro, Sunday, June 23 at 3 p.m.

"If you have ever heard them, you will want to hear them again," declares Rev. Charles Burke, pastor of the church. "Come and bring a friend," he urges.

Organ Guild of Ind. Church to Present Affair

"Seeing What the Well Dressed Are Wearing" at the Alpha Bowling Social club on Sunday, June 23, is causing all Los Angeles to hunger for the arrival of that date, for during the hours of 3 to 7 p.m. the Organ Guild of the People's Independent Church of Christ will treat you to a sensational thrill during every minute of your stay. Classy, chic and smart. Mrs. Madia Bonner, president; Mrs. Fannie E. Benjamin, adviser; Mrs. Lenora Dunlap, hostess.

Los Angeles Ministers Back Rev. F. Jordan for Bishop

Ministers throughout Los Angeles are rallying to support Rev. Fred Douglas Jordan of the First A.M.E. church, Eighth and Towne, an outstanding candidate to the bench of the Bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. Jordan the most appropriate candidate to the exalted office of Bishop:

"With interest and cooperation gathering momentum in preparing for the 1948 general conference, our vast A. M. E. church membership and friends joint the connection in studying the qualification and historical background of the several outstanding characters for the exalted office of bishop.

"The Fifth Episcopal District, under our great leader, has certainly accomplished great things, whereof we are glad our school of religion has just closed one of its greatest years.

"To step into Douglas Hospital with its modern equipment and immaculate appearance are just reasons for the return of Bishop and Mrs. Williams, but why should the Fifth want to elevate the Rev. Fred Douglas Jordan to the bench of bishops?

"The first reason is very clear that he is worthy and well qualified. His loyalty to the church of Allen was never more pronounced than when he accepted with promptness historic Eighth and Towne, rebuilt its membership by adding hundreds of members, restoring the prestige.

"Second, during his administration he has paid $25,000 in claims.

"Third, over 1200 persons have been taken into the church. First church, Los Angeles, has raised $50,000 for a Youth Center which will be one of the facilities for the general conference. With it all Fred Jordan has not lost the fine spirit of brotherhood. No A. M. E. minister is more welcome, or sent away without knowing the hospitality of the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jordan.

Fourth, he served as the first dean of the Bishop Williams School of Religion, brought about by the vision of our great leader, and last but by far the best reason, we feel that he is consecrated to become one of the bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal church.

"Signed: LOUIS A. OWENS, Chairman; J. CINCINNATUS WHITE, Secretary."

APPOINTED — Rev. Paul E. Miller was selected by local Protestant denominations as full-time minister and chaplain for the Rodger Young veterans' housing project in Griffith park. A former navy chaplain, Rev. Miller served overseas in Trinidad, B. W. I. Before entering the service, he was minister of the Evangelical church in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rev. Toney In Regular Report

Rev. Charles M. Toney, field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, revealed this week that he has been too busy to make his regular report.

"The district is doing a fine job in winning souls for Christ," he reports.

Rev. Toney and his family are still mourning the passing of his beloved mother. Funeral services for the late Mrs. Toney, who was over 75 years old, were held at the Kyles A.M.E. Zion Temple, Vallejo, California. She passed May 27 of this year. Rev. C. E. McCorkle, her pastor, delivered the sermon.

"I wish to thank the Baptist Ministers Union of Los Angeles; Rev. L. D. Stevens, president of the Los Angeles District Association, and Rev. C. A. Milles, moderator, for their condolences. I am also grateful to our host of friends in Los Angeles," he added.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE of PROPHECY
INTERNATIONAL BIBLE BROADCASTER

Question—How many different words are there in the Bible?

Answer—In the Authorized, or King James Version, there are said to be about seven thousand different words.

Q.—What does "Mizpah" mean?

A.—It means watch-tower, and is the name of the place where Laban said to Jacob: "The Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another." Genesis 31:49.

Q.—Since Adam and Eve had only two children, and both of them were boys, where did the human race come from?

A.—The Holy Bible says that Adam "begat sons and daughters" (Genesis 5:4), and that Eve was "the mother of all living." Genesis 3:20.

Q.—I hear people talk about "doctrine." What is doctrine?

A.—"Doctrine" means teaching—that which is taught. When Jesus was on trial, the high priest asked Him of His doctrine. (John 18:19. See also 1 Timothy 1:3; 2 Timothy 3:16.)

Q.—Someone said the red, white, and blue of the flag came from the Bible. Is that true?

A.—The three colors were prominent in the tabernacle of Israel. (See Exodus 26.) Its curtains were blue, purple (a combination of red and blue), scarlet (red), and fine twined linen (evidently white). Before the ark stood the table of shewbread with its cloth of scarlet, blue, and white.

Q.—What is the hope of the wicked in Proverbs 11:7?

A.—The wicked hope for good without accepting the conditions on which God has promised it, and they will be disappointed. God reproves false prophets for encouraging such false hopes. "Because with lies ye have . . . strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life." Ezekiel 13:22.

Q.—How soon will God forgive me if I repent?

A.—It is recorded in the Scriptures that when the prophet Nathan pointed out David's great sin, "David said unto Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, The Lord also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die." 2 Samuel 12:13. As soon as he truly repented, he was forgiven. In 2 Chronicles 7:14 we read: "If My people . . . pray . . . then will I . . . forgive their sin." No time lag is recorded between repentance and forgiveness.

Ed. Note: Address your questions to the BIBLE QUESTION COLUMN, The Voice of Prophecy, Box 55, Los Angeles 53, Calif. Bible questions of general interest will be answered in this column as space permits.

The true standard of quality is seated in the mind; those who think nobly are noble.

Father's Day at McCoy Baptist Held Last Sunday

Sunday, Fathers Day, proved to be a most unusual day of worship at the McCoy Memorial Baptist church, 806 E. 46th st. The men of the church were in full charge of the service, which was enjoyable and filled with the Spirit of the Christ. Bro. James Long, prominent business man and member of McCoy, who was master of ceremonies for the occasion, handled the situation efficiently. Bro. C. A. McMullen and G. Mackey were appointed by the pastor as heads of the whole affair.

Sunday morning at the 11 a.m. services, the auditorium was filled to capacity, with 100 men in the choir loft. The men's chorus was directed by Bro. Nance, whose performance was a credit to the program.

We wish to thank Deacons Bonner and Miller for the very fine part they played on the program. We also extend our heartfelt gratitude to the Rev. H. C. Cornelius, Rev. J. S. Peterson, Rev. F. L. Taylor and their congregations for the splendid way they assisted.

Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. B. Charles, pastor of Second Baptist church, Long Beach, brought a soul-stirring message that was appreciated by all. His officers and members played a big part in helping us reach our goal. The day closed with impressive memorial services Sunday night. We wish to thank Sister Irene Jackson and the other women for their very fine performance in the evening worship.
ERNEST ANDERSON, Minister.

Christian Science Text on Atomic Force

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Proverbs and reads, "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens." The question "Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject.

A Bible selection from Zephaniah reads, "Seek ye the Lord, . . . seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." Matthew's Gospel relates that when Jesus "was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him. And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause." "The manifestations of evil, which counterfeit divine justice, are called in the Scriptures, 'The anger of the Lord.' In reality, they show the self-destruction of error or matter and point to matter's opposite, the strength and permanency of Spirit."

DR. ZETAR SAYS:

Our methods attack the basic cause of many common ailments. Backache and joint pains and most of the rheumatics, such as neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, arthritis, neuralgia and sciatica, etc., are due to joint distortions or toxemia, therefore, unless the basic cause of these ailments are treated only temporary relief can be accomplished.

It is no illusion with me after years of successful practice, but it is a scientific fact, based on exact observation and correct thinking that Chiropractic treatments do bring wonderful results, especially in the rheumatics, joint-distortions, nerve and circulatory disorders and most of the gastro-intestinal ailments; also Dr. Zetar has specialized in the correction of Foot Disabilities for many years, so if you are in need of FOOT COMFORT, why suffer, when there are tried and proven methods of treatments to help you. You will not go wrong to consult us on these problems.

Couple Held On Teen Age Girls' Charge

Forced Into Prostitution by Pair, 2 Young Girls Charge

A man and wife sat in municipal court here this week to hear a pair of teen-age girls tell a judge how they had been led into a life of prostitution.

Defendants in a pandering case were Jones Johnson, 37, of 1319 East 104th street, and his wife, Clara, 29. The two young girls, in the custody of juvenile authorities who insisted that their names not be disclosed, said they both "turned tricks" at the 104th street address, allegedly a night-club operated by the Johnsons.

Both defendants were held to answer in the preliminary hearing and will be arraigned July 11. Judge Joseph Chambers presided over the hearing in which one girl, 16, said that she met Johnson at the People's Cafe on East Fifth street, and he told her he would give her a job as a "waitress."

SENATORS IN NEW DRIVE TO KILL WEAKENED OPA

Badly Crippled Bill Still Unacceptable to Polltax-GOP Coalition

WASHINGTON—The poll tax-GOP coalition in the Senate yesterday launched a drive to kill the OPA extension bill, even in the crippled form in which it had emerged from a senate-house conference.

Senator O'Daniel of Texas spearheaded the drive with a threat to filibuster to prevent passage of the compromise measure because it failed to remove price controls on meat, poultry and dairy products.

Failure to enact the OPA bill before the deadline would cause all price and rent controls to collapse.

Senate Republican whip Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb., another leader of the anti-OPA fight, claimed his forces had "a pretty good chance" of sending the legislation back to another senate-house conference for revision.

The house on Tuesday accepted the weakend measure by a vote of 265 to 105, with several California representatives voting against it because of its crippling amendments.

O'Daniels' filibuster would thwart a strategy urged upon President Truman by labor leaders and others. This is to veto the OPA bill with its drastic limitations on the agency's powers, in the hope that Congress would then approve before Sunday—an emergency measure continuing the OPA as is.

Bilbo Defies U. S. To Enforce High Court Ban On All-White Primaries

TISHOMINGO CITY, Miss.—Sen. Theo G. Bilbo, campaigning for renomination as U. S. Senator, this week defied the federal government to enforce in Mississippi the recent decision of the nation's high court outlawing white primaries.

In a radio address in which he urged Mississippi whites to arm themselves with guns and sticks to bar Negro citizens from the polls, Bilbo challenged "Tom Clark, U. S. Attorney general, the Department of Justice and the FBI to try to keep the white people of this state from running the white Democratic primaries as we think they should be run."

He apparently was referring to recent Justice Department statement that it considered the high court's decision as settling the question of the all-white primary and would prosecute any state or party official who attempted to keep any person from voting because of color alone.

Meantime attacks upon Negroes are being reported with increasing frequency from many sections of the state. At Brandon, county seat of Rankin county, Etoy Fletcher, a veteran of World War II was kidnapped by four

Three Die as Speeding Car Hits Trolley

Reported by traffic officers as traveling at on excessive speed, an automobile early Monday morning plowed into the rear of a southbound "S" car on Central ave. and 76th place, carrying three men to their deaths.

Victims of the crash were an unidentified driver of the car, who was dead upon arrival at the Georgia st. receiving hospital, and two passengers, Willie Treadway, 34, of 1361 East Florence ave., who died instantly, and Carl Miller, 44, of 1128½ East 61st st., who succumbed shortly after arrival at the hospital. The motorman, W. C. Parker, 25, escaped injuries.

According to J. H. Cummings and E. N. Moore, traffic officers, the impact of the crash was so great that a crowbar had to be used to free the victims from the car.

Sunday Annual 'NAACP Day' in City's Churches

Sunday will be "NAACP Day" in the churches. More than 100 churches have been invited to participate in this significant event and many ministers have willingly offered cooperation.

It is in this annual NAACP church day that the NAACP membership campaign each year reaches a climax that sweeps on into a successful close. Campaign Cochairmen Mrs. Emma Spencer and Edward Atkinson, declare that this year will be no exception.

In some of the churches five minute speakers from the NAACP will be on hand to urge the people to give 100 per cent support to the "Finish the Fight" campaign; in others, the pastor will make the appeal for members. Solicitors will be present to enroll new members.

On The Sidewalk

By C.A.B.

Dear Editor:

In your column last week, you invited an answer to the question—"Who is the enemy of the peace—the so-called "Reds," or the Ku Klux Klan?"

You asked the question, so I'll tell you. I may never get another chance to tell you people what I think about Negroes and the Red problem.

TO BEGIN with, I'm going to take out the phrase "so-called," and make the question read: " . . . the 'Reds' or the Ku Klux Klan?"

Personally, I feel the Klan is doing a d— fine job of keeping you Negroes in your place.

It's too bad you and some of your people were not at the Embassy auditorium Sunday evening when Rev. Jonathan Elsworth Perkins spoke. I agree with Rev. Perkins when he says: "These people (meaning Negroes) were set apart and branded by God. It is wrong and sinful of us to mix with them. The Lord never meant it to be thus."

DON'T you realize that your insistence to be placed on a basis ofe equity with white people in the United States will lead to the same fate experienced by the Jews in Germany?

Every right-thinking Christian knows that God Himself never meant for Negroes to be raised to the same level with white-people. If the Negroes and Reds keep on agitating for equality they will get just what German Jews got. They will get kicked around, and some of them may even get killed.

SENATOR BILBO of Mississippi has the right idea. Even if it takes violence, Negroes must be prevented from voting and living in the same neighborhood with whites.

My advice to you Negro newspaper editors is that you should write about things your people want to hear about. Write about things they understand and that makes them happy and contented.

THE ONLY good point about Negroes is that they are naturally religious. People like you and the Reds are trying to turn them away from religion. It would be better if you spent more time listening to the word of God than to that dangerous Red propaganda about the so-called equality of races.

I'd also advise you to listen to Rev. Perkins, Gerald L. K. Smith and some of the other real friends of the Negroes.

As long as Negroes keep talking about a lot of nonsense like the "equality of races," the white people of America will have to use the Ku Klux Klan to keep them straight!

MY FINAL word of warning is that you respect the laws of your country. Quit trying to get your people into a fighting mood to gain what will be granted to you and all good citizens if and when it is deserved.

Write about obedience to the law—not contempt and disrespect. Then we shall have peace and your love for everything that is Communistic will die a natural death.

JENNIE WAINSWORTH, Los Angeles.

Dear Mrs. Wainsworth:

YOUR LETTER, to say the least, is provocative, and creates deep within me a desire to dig in and find out more about the history and background of the Ku Klux Klan. Also, it makes me want to know more about that "dangerous Red propaganda—equality of races."

I want to give you some facts as well as figures when I answer, so I beg leave to do a bit of research. Rest assured, however, that an answer will be forth-coming in the next issue of this paper.

Sincerely,

CHARLOTTA A. BASS.

Racist Preacher Fears Negro Ready to Strike Back; Attacks The Eagle

Yelling, shouting, pounding the pulpit, even slamming the bag that contained the collection so hard that the pennies scattered all over the floor, Rev. Jonathan Perkins drove home to his audience of about 300 in the convention hall of the Embassy auditorium building last Sunday evening that the Negro race is "different" from the white, that "God Almighty" is opposed to any mixing of the races, that the "Reds" are beginning to get control of the Negroes of America, and that "we have come to the place where we'll have to take our stand, and drive the Red maggots out of this country."

Perkins prefaced his remarks by telling how many friends he has among the Negroes, and what a great contribution the Negro race has made to the

FBI Reveals Klan Plot to Kill Gov. Arnall

ATLANTA—Gov. Ellis Arnall, who is devoting his last months in office to wiping out the Ku Klux Klan, disclosed this week that the FBI had warned him of a Klan threat against his life.

Arnall said the plot was hatched in Atlanta Klavern, previously identified as a strong-arm branch of the terrorist order.

The plan, he said, called for the names of five Klansmen to be drawn by lot from each Klavern, then a high official was to secretly draw the names of the two men to carry out the plot.

Urges Negro Vets to Vote in Primaries July 2 in Mississippi

CHICAGO—Terming the defeat of Senator Bilbo of Mississippi in the current election campaign in that state a goal which "will be a victory for the people of Mississippi and the nation," Kenneth C. Kennedy, national commander of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America, urged Negro veterans in that state to register and vote in the Democratic primary July 2.

Kennedy issued the statement here today from the national headquarters of UNAVA in reply to an open letter Bilbo published yesterday, urging his opponents in the Mississippi senatorial race to join with him in trying to bar Negroes from voting in the Democratic primaries July 2.

Labor Fights Car Fare Hike

Organized Labor in Los Angeles went to bat this week to defend the traveling public from a threatened increase in streetcar fares here.

Representatives of three large labor groups appeared before the Calimornia Railroad commission at the State bldg. to oppose the petition of the Pacific Electric Co. for an increase in fares from the 10 cents now charged for inner city zones to 15 cents, and comparable increases in interurban fares. The three labor groups opposing the fare increase were the CIO-PAC, the National Citizens Political Action committee and the Progressive AFL.

The same groups will spearhead the opposition to the application of the Los Angeles Transit Lines for an increase of 3 cents, to hike the present 7 cent fare to 10 cents.

The increases are being requested on the ground that the wage increases recently won by street railway employes can be met only by means of fare increases, a contention which the three political action groups deny.

Representatives of 22 organizations composed the delegation.

Churchmen Rap Ouster Of Pastor for Urging Fight on Race Hatred

DETROIT—Bishop Raymond J. Wade was bitterly criticized this week by a group of Methodist ministers and laymen for sanctioning the ouster of a young white minister from his pulpit for urging his congregation to fight against racial discrimination.

Rev. John Safran, who left law for the ministry, was ousted by the board of the Marysville Community church last week as the climax to a dispute over his position that the church not only preach the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man but practice it.

Rev. John E. Meally, 82-year-old retired minister of the Marysville Community church, bluntly rejected a church board request to fill the pulpit until the arrival June 3 of a new pastor.

Rev. Safran, in sermons and at a high school baccadaureate address, urged his congregation to live up to "Christian principles" in race relations.

Bishop Wade upheld the ouster of Rev. Safran, but offered him a pastorate at Cass City, Mich., urging Rev. Safran to accept it, partly because the new post pays $200 a year more than the $18000 he received at Marysville.

Rev. Safran accepted, leaving with a last warning to his congregation that failure to change its attitudeon racial issues would be a "black mark against Christianity."

FEPC Initiative Petition Placed On Nov. Ballot

SACRAMENTO—The proposed fair employment practices act this week became the first initiative measure to qualify for the November general ballot.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan said the petition received 181,297 signatures, which is more than the 178,764 necessary.

The measure is similar to the Hawkins FEPC measure which was defeated by the Republican majority in last winter's special session of the legislature and would prohibit racial or religious discrimination by industry, the state or labor unions.

The drive for signatures to the petition had the active backing of Assemblyman Gus Hawkins and other leaders, civic organizations, church and labor groups.

Britain Egging U. S. Into War, Pepper Tells Jewish Meet

CHICAGO—Sen. Claude Pepper (D., Fla.) this week charged that British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevins wants the United States to "spill American blood" so that the British can further their "imperial domination in the Middle East."

Pepper, addressing the 12th annual conference of the American Jewish Congress, said that many Britons would like to see the U.S. and Russia at war against each other.

Asks New Grand Jury Probe Of Columbia, Tenn., Riots

NEW YORK—The Civil Rights Congress this week had denounced what it termed a "whitewash" by the federal grand jury in the Nashville, Tenn., disorders which took place last February.

The Congress called for a new federal grand jury investigation in identical telegrams to President Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark. It urged appointment of a "federal prosecutor free from political regional alliances and ready to use the full evidence obtained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Congress affiliates were asked to organize protests throughout the country for the purpose of bringing about the indictment of those responsible for "virtually destroying the Negro business community in Columbia, causing the death of two individuals in the county jail and serious injuries to others."

It charged that the failure of the federal grand jury to issue any indictments "will inevitably aggravate the tempo of assaults against the rights of Negro people by local law enforcement agencies, and encourage lawless activities of the Ku Klux Klan and other terrorist forces."

CIO Union Exposes Biased Job Practices of Federal Agencies; Sends President Case Histories

WASHINGTON—A delegation from the United Public Workers of America, CIO, this week protested, for the second time, to the Civil Service Commission against racial discrimination which, it charges, is being practiced by the USES (United States Employment Service) in Washington in certifying applicants to federal jobs.

Several months ago the union lodged a similar protest with the commission, which thereupon launched an investigation and found the union charges to be true. The commission at that time requested the USES office to cease its discriminatory practices and this it supposedly agreed to do.

The delegation which lodged the latest protest, and which was led by Vice-President Thomas Richardson, told Civil Service Commissioner Fleming that the discrimination is continuing. It told him the union believed the only way to end the discrimination is to abolish the setup in the USES office of separate interview units for white and Negro applicants and separate files for the two groups of applicants.

Specifically the union charged that a federal agency recently was discovered making a request for several hundred white workers. It charged further that job orders from federal agencies are often not referred to the Negro unit until several days after such orders reached the white unit. The union also pointed out that the same size staff is provided for both the white and Negro units, whereas the number of Negro job applicants is much greater.

UPWA President Abram Flaxer has written to President Truman asking for the revocation of Section 4 of Truman's Executive Order No. 9691. This is the section which permits federal agencies to hire directly without prior civil service commission approval in order to fill current vacancies. It is under this section that agencies are now hiring through USES instead of the commission. Flaxer declared that this method of hiring has dealt a severe blow to the merit system and fair hiring practices in the federal service.

With his letter to the President, Flaxer sent a number of case histories of laid off federal employes who had been discriminated against under the present hiring system. Among the examples given were cases in which laid off workers had been referred by their own agencies or by USES to job openings, which other departments were attempting to fill. When the laid off Negro workers applied for such jobs, however, they were told no openings existed, but on the same day white workers were hired for such vacancies. Most of the examples involved jobs grade CAF-3 to CAF-5.

Asks People Act To Save Price Controls

WASHINGTON—A call for 11th hour action to save effective price control was issued this week by the National Emergency Council for Price Control, representing 20 labor, Negro, consumer, veteran and professional groups.

The call went out as the House sent to the Senate a crippled version of price controls, with controls lifted on all except a few major items.

"The fight for price control is moving into its final stages but it is not lost," the council's call declared.

The council asked for a drive, first, to demand that the senate-house conference committee report out an acceptable bill, and second, to insist that President Truman veto the measure if it fails to provide effective price control.

Advocates of price control believe that any legislation frankly abolishing price controls would be short-lived and disastrous to its proponents. Such legislation would cause such a huge rise in prices immediately as to evoke the wrath of the American people. What they fear is that congress will camouflage its intentions, cripple OPA, and blame the resultant chaos on the Office of Price Administration.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the California EAGLE, was the main speaker at the St. John's Day service, held at Second Baptist church in Long Beach, last Sunday, and sponsored by the Sunset Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M.

The program included selections by the choir, readings, recitals, vocal solos, the annual sermon by Rev. C. B. Clements and remarks from the worshipful master and Judge Fred Miller.

Trackless Trolleys For Los Angeles

Announcement of the purchase of 120 modern trackless trolleys and 40 streamline street cars was made yesterday by the Los Angeles Transit Lines. These orders, representing a further investment of approximately $3,000,000, have been placed subject to the approval of the city board of public utilities and transportation and the California state railroad commission.

Stanley M. Lanham, general consultant and traffic manager of the Transit Lines, stated: "The purchase of the trackless trolleys is a part of the overall modernization program which the people of this city were assured would be carried out. This purchase is in addition to the order of 400 motor coaches, of which approximately 200 already have been received."

Talmadge Forces Frantic as Negroes Flock to Register For Georgia Primaries

ATLANTA, Ga.—Former Governor Eugene Talmadge's campaign appeal for all white primary back-fired this week, with thousands of Negroes flocking to courthouses all over Georgia to register. At the rate registration is progressing, Negroes will have the balance of power in some counties where the gubernatorial contest is evenly divided.

A survey of county tax collectors showed a total registration to date of 897,067 for the July 17 primary, in which Talmadge will face E. D. Rivers, another ex-governor, and James Carmichael, candidate for retiring Governor Ellis Arnall. Total registration is more than double that of four years ago and includes 116,345 Negroes.

The heavy rush of Negro registration started when Talmadge's cries for white supremacy reached their shrillest and got another push when the U. S. supreme court invalidated a jimcrow law in Virginia recently.

Although Negroes have never before been allowed to vote in the state Democratic party, they are expected to turn out by thousands this year. No polltax receipt is required and the minimum age for voting is 18.

Panic-stricken by the Negro registration figures, Talmadge's forces are working overtime to purge as many Negro voters from the polls as possible, using all the favorite southern devices aimed at excluding Negro voters from the polls.

The CIO Political Action Committee, which has made no endorsements other than to announce its opposition to Talmadge, is taking an active part in the registration campaign.

Wyatt Urges Communities Drop Jimcrow Methods in Order to Speed Housing Crisis Solution

The unusual methods of housing racial minorities will not suffice in the veterans' emergency need facing the country, Wilson Wyatt, national housing expediter and administrator of the National Housing Agency, writes in an editorial in the special housing edition of Opportunity, Journal of Negro Life, out this week. Writing on "Homes For All Veterans," Wyatt stated, "Veterans of all income and racial groups need and have a right to expect decent places to live—and they need them now."

"In presenting the Veterans' Emergency Housing Proprag to the President, I stated," Wyatt said, "that it would take dynamic action to achieve this goal. Business as usual, labor as usual, building as usual, government as usual will not suffice. Neither will the usual methods of housing racial minorities."

Responsibility on Local Groups

The housing expediter placed a large part of the responsibility for achieving decent housing for various income and racial groups on the local housing goals set up by Mayors' emergency housing committees, saying they must share not only in the benefits of the program, but in the responsibility for planning and production.

The program should make full use of building trades skills attained by Negroes and other racial minorities during their military service, he points out. "The home production labor force must be tripled. In the recruitment, training, and apprenticing of this tremendous labor supply the federal government will seek the full cooperation of local communities, labor unions, building materials producers, and contractors to tap all available manpower."

Wyatt, meantime, is stalling on proposals to add a minorities advisor to his staff.

Kentucky, Georgia Press Move To Outlaw Hooded Organization

Two southern states this week were pressing action designed to outlaw the Ku Klux Klan.

The state of Georgia led the attack on the hooded outfit, filing a suit to revoke its Georgia charter and intended, according to Georgia State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, to dissolve the national organization of the invisible empire.

The suit recited a long list of terroristic acts committed by Klan members and declared that the white-sheeted order is conspiring to "grab control" of the government.

Fulton County (Atlanta) Superior Court Judge Frank A. Hooper Jr., ordered the Klan to show cause on or before July 1 why the charter should not be revoked.

The suit identified Dr. Samuel H. Green, Atlantas physician, as "Grand Dragon of the realm of Georgia." Also named in the suit, as an "Exalted Cyclops," was S. W. Roper, identified by Asst. Atty. Gen. Dan Duke as an Atlanta policeman and head of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation under the administration of former Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

At Frankfort, Kentucky, State Atty. Gen. Eldon S. Dummit announced he was preparing legal action to prevent the Klan from operating in Kentucky under its corporate charter issued in Georgia.

Caldwell county officials recently reported discovering a burning cross on a highway near Princeton, and Klan revival was reported in two northern Kentucky counties where membership was estimated at 2000.

Chinese Professor, White Girl Wed in Kansas After Missouri Denies Them Marriage License

COLUMBUS, Kansas—Denied a marriage license in the State of Missouri, a white Missouri girl and a Chinese professor crossed the border into Kansas this week to be married.

The bride was the former Miss Marion Bucanan, 29, a Springfield (Mo.) college graduate. She was married in a simple ceremony witnessed by a large crowd to Tsung-Lo Wang, 26, a Yale university language teacher.

The couple met in Phoenix, Ariz., where Mrs. Wang was a high school teacher and her husband an army air forces interpreter. Wang intends to return to New Haven with his bride.

The couple, unaware of the Missouri racist law, had arranged for a Baptist church wedding in Springfield, Mo.

PALO ALTO—With the bride's father hailing the union as a blow against race prejudice, Evelyn Corriveau, an 18-year-old white high school student, was married here this week to Ved Vrat, a Hindu, in a double ceremony which included both the Christian and Vandantist wedding rituals.

The bride's father, Arthur Corriveau, said he was "delighted" with the marriage.

Convicted on Woman's Story He Forced Her Into Prostitution

A sordid tale of commercial vice was unravelled in Federal Judge Leon Yankwich's court with the conviction of James Boyd Brown of Los Angeles for violation of the White Slave Traffic Act.

Brown, whose bail was posted at $10,000 after his indictment for (1) transporting or aiding in the transportation of a woman (name withheld for obvious reasons) from Los Angeles to Fry, Arizona; (2) persuading, inducing and enticing the woman to go into interstate commerce from Arizona to Los Angeles to engage in prostitution. Count one was dismissed.

In a non-jury trial, the woman told the court that when she first met Brown, she was not a prostitute, but that he constantly demanded money from her and beat her. When she could not satisfy his constant demands for money he suggested that she become a prostitute.

She said she had "worked" in many cities of California and Arizona for Brown since 1942. She testified she had given Brown over $8000 during a four month period.

In her written testimony she told FBI agents how she "worked" in various houses of ill repute and how in one, where the girls were required to steal from soldiers, she was struck on the head by an irate soldier.

She further testified that Brown knew at all times that she was engaged in prostitution, that they discussed her activities on many occasions and that Brown had suggested she go to other cities "because she could make more money on soldier dates."

"He asked me to come back to Los Angeles, and said that he would send my railroad ticket," she stated. This was probably part of the testimony which convicted Brown.

Brown will appear before Judge Yankwich on July first for sentence.

FREEHOLD, N. J.—A pair of armed desperadoes, one a Negro youth facing return to a Georgia chain gang and the other a hardened white ex-convict, broke out of the Freehold county jail after threatening a trustee with a revolver and slugging a guard.

Bowron Tells How to Sneak Over Taxes

TIMBERLINE Lodge (Mt. Hood, Ore.)—If a city administration acts quickly—and quietly—it might slip over a liquor tax and pick up some additional revenue, Mayor Bowron of Los Angeles told the western conference of the American Municipal Association.

The essence of such a program, he said, is action and not talk.

"If there is too much conversation there will be too much opposition," he said. "If it is done fast the people will accept it."

India Asks UN to Act on Jimcrow in Union of S. Africa

NEW YORK—India this week had demanded that the United Nations act at its annual general assembly here Sept. 2 to end a 60-year campaign of mistreatment of Indians in the Union of South Africa.

The demand came as resentment in India reached the danger point, and after India had canceled its trade agreement with South Africa in retaliation and had recalled its high commissioners to South Africa "for consultation."

Oakland Groups Back Job Fight

OAKLAND—A Citizens Committee for Fair Employment has been organized here in the current fight to end Safeway's refusal to hire a Negro clerk at the firm's Twelfth and Adeline st. store. The committee already boasts a membership of 40 civic and labor leaders.

Unofficially representing their organizations at the first meeting all members of the group agreed to report back to their organizations and come to the next meeting as official representatives.

The fight for fair employment at Safeway's began over a week ago when the West Oakland Section of the Communist party held a mass demonstration and threw a picket line in front of the store. The picket line has remained at the store ever since.

Judge Mosk Praises W'side Chamber Aim

Stressing the need for organizations designed to promote better conditions and higher standards among businesses, Superior Judge Stanley Mosk told members who attended the first Westside Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night at Villa Arlington that this is a new day in which new commercial values will be stressed.

"I'm glad to see your membership is interracial," he said. "That bodes good. The community in which you live and work can be as great as you make it, if all groups will work together in making that community better."

Others appearing on the program were: C. A. Wigginton, chairman; Mrs. Lorraine Armstrong, treasurer, and A. Slaughter. Earl Griffin was master of ceremonies.

The newly formed chamber will hold its initial election of officers Tuesday evening, July 2, at the Alpha Bowling club, 29th and S. Western ave.

Held in $500 Bail on Bookmaking Charge

A bookmaking charge has been lodged against Bardu Mohammed Ali Jr., 23-year-old groom, of 1127 East 47th st., in a complaint filed by the district attorney's office.

Taken into custody Tuesday at a shoe shine parlor at 5261 South Central ave. by the Newton vice squad, Ali is quoted by police as stating at the time of his arrest: "I been booking horses here about a week. I come in here and make my bets over the phone." Betting paraphernalia was seized by police, it was asserted.

Bail was set at $500.

Holds Woman on Pickpocket Charge

Morris Banker, a white junk dealer of 448 North Spaulding drive, told a municipal court judge here this week that 35-year-old Mrs. May Shoffner of 777 Kohler street picked his pocket when he tried to get some clothing she was pressing for him.

Banker declared that Mrs. Shoffner had his clothes, and he went to her home to get them. Instead of giving him the clothes, she tried to borrow 50 cents from him, he said. Then, when he wouldn't give it to her, she cried on his shoulder, and in the process picked his pocket of $72, Banker testified. Mrs. Shoffner was held on a grand theft charge.

Sues City for Injury Received in Accident

John D. Merida, 45, of 850 East 33rd st., employed as caretaker by the city playground and recreation department, filed suit in superior court yesterday against the city of Los Angeles for $8330 damages.

Merida asserts he was permanently injured last February 8 when his car overturned and plunged into a hole 3½ feet deep at the intersection of East 33rd st. and Griffith ave. Merida claims the street had been undermined in the 800 block by clogged sewers.

According to Merida's attorney, Paul R. Matthews, Merida and several of his neighbors had petitioned the city several times to repair the sewers. Merida said he has been advised by his doctor that as a result of his injuries he will be unable to do any heavy work for the rest of his life.

Federal Nurses Win Professional Status

WASHINGTON—The fight for professional status for nurses in federal government hospitals, waged for the past nine months by UPWA-CIO, was won this week when professional ratings were approved by the civil service commission.

The fight for professional status was initiated by the union through the nurses "shop" in its Freedman's hospital branch. The Freedman's nurses presented the first demand on the subject to the civil service commission, and their request was officially acted on this week when the blanket order—applying to all federal hospitals—was issued.

The commission's order marks the latest in an impressive series of salary increases which employes of Freedman's and St. Elizabeth hospitals have won since they organized in the CIO union.

War Vet Wins College Fund

NEW YORK — A war veteran who graduated from Dillard university in New Orleans this June has won the competition for an organization symbol for the United Negro College Fund, President F. D. Patterson, announced this week.

He is Harold Cureau, 25, of New Orleans, a major in the Fine Arts Workshop of the university. He was handed the prize, a $100 U. S. savings bond, in a simple ceremony conducted in the offices of Dr. A. W. Dent, president of the university, last week. The presentation was made by President Dent in behalf of the Fund.

The judges considered two other designs worthy of honorable mention. They were the entries of Bonnie Richardson and Myra Ball of New York, students at Howard university, Washington, D. C.

The Fund is now conducting its third annual appeal in which it seeks to raise $1,300,000 towards current operating expenses of the 33 member colleges.

Waitress Acquitted Of Possessing Dope

Police who traipsed down half-a-dozen flights of stairs to recover narcotics that they said Mrs. Anna Means, 22 year old waitress threw out of a window when they raided her apartment, found out this week that the effort wasn't worth the trouble.

For Superior Court Judge Edward Brand found the attractive Mrs. Maens not guilty after Attorney Martha Malone Williams termed the prosecution's case "flimsy and unconvincing."

Judge Brand decided that police who arrested Mrs. Means at 508 East 4th st. last month on charges of possessing marihuana, "bennies," and other narcotics and paraphernalia, failed to prove that she had actually thrown them out of the window.

Wholesale Drug Workers Vote Strike Action

Workers at four wholesale drug plants walked off the job last week to protest failure of employers to reach a favorable agreement with the union.

In response to a call of the Warehousemen's Union, Local 26, ILWU—CIO, 300 members left their jobs at Brunswick Drug company, McKesson & Robbins, Morgan & Sampson and J. S. O'Callaghan, attended a stop-work meeting at the Embassy auditorium and voted 242 to 25 for strike action to enforce their demands.

In dispute are the issues of wages and union security. The Union is demanding 18½c an hour increase and a union shop. The company offered 5c an hour and an open shop agreement, although the previous agreement provided for a maintenance of membership.

To avert a strike, the union offered in negotiations to accept 13c increase and a modified union shop, but this was refused by the employers.

The meeting last week voted unanimously to reject the employers' offer and support the efforts of the union in negotiations.

GI Picked Up While Driving Stolen Scooter

Willie Johnson, a GI stationed at Sawtelle Military hospital, was held to answer on a triple charge of burglary, grand theft and violation of Section 503 of the vehicle code by Municipal Judge Edwin L. Jefferson in Div. 2 of the municipal court last Friday morning.

According to his attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, the soldier was on week-end leave and was loaned a motor-scooter by an acquaintance who disappeared shortly after the transaction. While Johnson was riding the scooter down Central ave., he was accosted by police officers who informed him it had been stolen.

Investigation showed that the scooter was the property of the Rooney Mfg. Co., of 20th & Hooper ave., whose warehouse, which contained the scooter, had been burglarized a few nights before. Although Johnson stoutly maintained his innocence, Attorney Taylor refused to allow him to take the witness stand at the preliminary hearing. He was ordered to appear with his attorney on June 10 in Dept. 44 of the Superior Court for plea.

An Appeal to Our Ministers

This is the last week for price control upon the commodities which all the people of the United States must buy. Congress, for the most part controlled by the lobbyists of the National Merchants and Manufacturers Association, it seems, is lagging in its manifest duty of voting to preserve the OPA without crippling amendments, to keep prices down and to prevent inflation.

As The California EAGLE goes to press, the people appear to have won a partial victory with the Senate-House conference agreeing to retain some features of price control. The bill as drawn, however, is still unsatisfactory, aimed more to hike prices than to control them.

The California EAGLE calls upon all its readers to swamp our representatives in Washington with telegrams. We call especially upon the ministers of the larger churches of the city to swing into action and urge the members of their congregations to act.

We mention especially Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of the Second Baptist Church; Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church; Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, pastor of Wesley Chapel; Rev. F. D. Jordan, pastor of the First AME Church; Rev. John Brandon, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist Church; Rev. Grant Harris, pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church; and all others who are interested in preserving living conditions within reach of everyone.

These ministers should insist that our representatives in Washington speak for the people and demand the retention of price control.

Why?

Because the security of our lives and our liberty is in danger of destruction if price control of our essential commodities is abandoned.

We the people have heard and seen all the arguments of the reactionary newspapers and of the radio paid puppets in favor of destroying all control, and we know it would mean a brief surge upward, and after the boom would come the "bust" worse even than that of 1929. And after that—who can say?

Incidentally a remark made by Vernon Kilpatrick, candidate for the Assembly from the 55th Assembly District, is quite apropos at this time. He said our representatives in Washington were very vote-conscious.

"And if you not only nominate but in some cases even elect candidates who are backed by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, you needn't be surprised if your representatives in Washington take for granted you want what the MMA also wants. You can't expect them to lose their jobs by voting for what you so manifestly don't want."

That's talking straight from the shoulder. We need more men like Vernon Kilpatrick not only in our Assembly in Sacramento, but also in our law-making body in Washington.

Get Busy Now!

In the May primary The California EAGLE lent its all-out support to Ellis E. Patterson as a candidate for the United States Senate. Now that he is no longer in the race, we take heart in the fact that we can make the choice of another liberal—Will Rogers, Jr., son of the famous humorist. He may not have had as much experience in governmental affairs as Congressman Patterson has had, but we believe his whole heart and soul will be given to the service of the American people. He would not be the son of his father if this were not true.

We must also fight harder than ever for a liberal, progressive California state government. This means our efforts must be intensified to send to Sacramento for Lt. Governor, John F. Shelley; and for Attorney General, Edmund G. Brown.

In every assembly district, too, where a liberal candidate has not been nominated on both tickets, and so automatically elected, we must roll up our sleeves and go to work for the liberal nominated on the one ticket. We take great pride in the fact that our own Gus Hawkins was nominated on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, and so of course elected.

Don't wait until November to get busy. Start sweeping now. Sweep the reactionaries out of Sacramento and put in their places men willing to uphold the democratic standards of a free nation and a free people.

What of the UN Charter?

"Oh what a great day this can be for history." These words were uttered by President Truman a year ago when the United Nations Charter was signed in San Francisco.

This statement was an expression of hope that the nations signing the charter were of one mind—that of establishing a new and lasting co-relationship in world affairs.

But what has happened? What of this historic document?

The signing of the charter, instead of being the green light for world peace, has given rise to a more confused and less united world than before.

They tell the people, the little, common hard-working people, that Russia is to blame for the split in the 'Big Four," those nations involved or charged with the responsibility of establishing world order. But only people who refuse to think things through to logical and reasonable conclusions believe this fish story, even when it is couched in highly rhetorical language.

For example, we can find a lot of things happening locally which relate, in a large degree, to the causes surrounding international discord.

We see Senator Bilbo, the gentleman from Mississippi, calling upon what he calls "red-blooded" Americans to form a stop-line against Negroes' rights to go to the polls to vote.

In Forums or Youth for Christ Movements all over the nation, including Los Angeles, we hear spurts of race hatred.

One Rev. Jonathan Elsworth Perkins spoke at the Embassy Auditorium last Sunday and accused almighty God of making the Negro different (physically) from the White man, and used it as a basis against Negro participation in American life. Here there is a remarkable similarity between the preachings of Rev. Perkins, the maneuverings of Gerald L. K. Smith and the doctrine of the KKK.

Are any of these groups Russian inspired? And yet there are those who consistently say that Russia is to blame for everything.

Russians do not believe in racial exclusiveness. They lost seven million people fighting this ideology. Color is an unknown quantity in Russia. A man is a man if he possesses the qualities that go to make up a man.

There is lack of unity and discord in the world. We are not so silly as to believe that Russia is the cause of it all. If this is so it is logical to believe that some other power is contributing to this situation.

This is what the people of the United States must demand to know from their State Department: Why is our State Department, in its diplomatic relationship with Russia, following closely the advice of Mr. Hearst, Mr. Vandenburg and the ministers of Great Britain?

People Brushed Aside

The National Negro Congress recently submitted a request to the Security Council of the United Nations for an investigation of the condition of 13,000,000 black citizens in the United States of America.

The Congress did this upon the assumption that the discrimination practiced against Negroes, the unsanitary condition in which they are forced to live, especially in the deep South, the terroristic policy of the Ku Klux Klan and similar organizations, constitute a menace to world peace.

Possibly the intense interest displayed by Secretary of State Byrnes in the domestic conditions of Bulgaria and other European nations, led the Congress to believe the Security Council would be interested also in the domestic conditions of one-tenth the population of the United Nations' most powerful member—the U.S.A.

But nothing doing. Secretary Lie, presiding officer of the Security Council, ruled that the question was wholly outside the province of the United Nations, that it concerned the United States alone.

Lie's attitude is the same as that of Madam Chiang Kai Shek who was asked in a newspaper interview at the Ambassador Hotel, where she was staying during her visit to Los Angeles, what her feeling was concerning the discriminatory practices against the largest minority group in the United States, namely, the Negroes.

She answered quickly that that was a problem involving the United States alone.

Yet the United States army and navy are sent to China, and at present are taking a very active part in settling the domestic affairs of that country. Why shouldn't the nations of the world be as interested in our domestic relations as we are in theirs?

'Jim Crow On the Spot'

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

THE ROLE OF JAWAHAR LALL NEHRU

The arrest of Jawahar Lall Nehru by the State of Kashmer on charges of disturbance of public peace is fraught with the deepest importance for the future course of Indian political evolution and the survival of native Indian states governed more or less on a feudal basis from time immemorial.

There are more than 568 Indian states, which have survived the shocks of foreign invasions and internal upheavals all through the ages by the valor and tenacity of their rulers. The mighty Moghul empire, which practically brought India under its control, governing it for three centuries, found itself powerless to subdue the chiefs and princes of Indian states.

When the magnificent Moghul empire, founded by the genius and courage of Baber, collapsed in a welter of internal anarchy and ruin without leaving a trace of its former glory and performance, the rulers of Indian states emerged with vast accessions of territory and renown at the expense of their hereditary enemies and rivals.

The English rulers and sovereigns, who took over the heritage of the Moghul empire in the 18th century with the aid of native Indian manpower and material resources, fared no better than did the Moghul rulers in their attempts to extinguish the rights and privileges of Indian princes. The great Indian war of independence of 1857 was instigated by the chiefs and prime ministers of powerful Indian states against the British, putting an end to the rule and corruption of the notorious East India Company. Since that colossal upheaval the British have respected the rights of native Indian states, allowing them to manage their affairs in their own way and on a basis of their own interests.

The states have successfully defied the might and power of foreign usurpers and subjugators all through the ages, and it is not strange that they should resent the efforts of resurgent Indian nationalism to intrench upon their ancient and hereditary rights and privileges. Accustomed as they are to an aristocratic and patriarchal form of government, they fiercely growl at the rising tide of democracy which is led by Gandhi and his ablest disciple, the world-famed Nehru.

The Mahatma is less militant and aggressive in his political and revolutionary methods, but Nehru is a revolutionary-oratory incarnate, bent upon the extinction of ancient traditions and immemorial social and economic order. This remarkable orator, scholar, and agitator is out to destroy what stands in the path of full-fledged Indian freedom and what impinges upon the amelioration of the common people of his country.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

I should be sick at heart, I suppose, after listening to the sophistry of the Rev. Jonathan Elsworth Perkins last Sunday evening in the convention hall of the Embassy auditorium building. I would be, no doubt, if the whole thing weren't so ridiculous.

In the first place, the Rev. Jonathan declared he had spent $98.00 advertising the meeting, and appealed to his audience for a collection to pay the printing bills. Envelopes were distributed into which each one was to place his contribution of a dollar bill at least. Later these envelopes were put into a market bag. And then—really, everyone laughed—in one of his attempts to emphasize a point the Rev. Jonahan picked up the bag, slammed it down on the table—and the coins scattered in all directions. The ushers scurried about retrieving the pennies and nickles and dimes.

The convention hall is located in the basement of the Embassy building. It was comfortably filled, but there surely weren't more than 300 present. And after spending almost one hundred dollars in advertising the meeting!

Members of the audience, too, seemed to be old-timers. They agreed with all that Jonathan Perkins or his pal, Meade McClanahan, said. Yes, McClanahan who fronted for Gerald L. K. Smith and who was outsted from the City Council by the citizens of his district, posed as a martyr for free speech, and received a rousing ovation.

You've no doubt heard that as a people, Americans are the most gullible on the face of the earth. We have that reputation everywhere. Barnum, the great circus man, used to say, "The American people like to be fooled." This is especially true in anything relating to politics. And the audience who listened to the friends of Gerald L. K. Smith expounding last Sunday evening, were beyond any doubt listed high in that category. They were the sort of persons who believe anything anyone tells them, especially if that man is a preacher, without once checking up on any statement made.

"A man told me," or "Rev. Jonathan Perkins said this" is all the confirmation they need.

You would think, though, that when any man, any preacher, quoted from the Bible, as the Rev. Jonathan did last Sunday evening, to prove that a Negro is not quite the same kind of human being as a white man is, that any one with average intelligences could see through the trickery of language and remember that other and greater saying, "God hath made of one blood all nations of men."

The part quoted, from Genesis, referred to beasts: God created great whales—after, their kind and every winged fowl—the beast of the earth after his kind. But the Rev. Jonathan didn't go on to quote: God created man (every human being) in his own image.

You see how the devil can quote Scripture, and twist it, to his own purpose?

What Perkins was driving at, in quoting all that Scripture, was to establish the premise that there should be no intermarriage among Negroes and whites. As if that were anybody's business but the folks who were being married!

Yes, it was all very ridiculous. But it was very tragical. For the people who were swallowing all this sophistry with open mouth, were for the most part sincere, honest folks. You could see that in their faces. They were being warned above everything else to beware of Communism. And Communism, in the lingo of Perkins and his tribe, meant anything that was being done for the Common Man. It was the same kind of sophistry, of false religion that aroused the mob in Jerusalem to demand the crucifixion of Jesus.

The false prophets of today, descendants of the religious bigots of Jesus' day, are fighting the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth. They are quoting Scripture, and are using the same kind of tactics as their ancestors did. These are the wolves in sheep's clothing of whom Jesus, the Carpenter, a Workingman, warned us to beware.

Folowing the meeting Earl Craig distributed cards announcing a meeting of Independent Democratic Clubs. The cards were headed: Who Won the Election? The Reds didn't. That's something to be thankful for. Then spoke of the Red-Controlled Democratic Party.

Folks, when anyone speaks of a Red, investigate before you believe all you hear.

For my part I'm beginning to think that if anyone is called a Communist or a Red, he must be all right. He must surely be for the Common Man above all else, as Jesus said. The Common Man means you, me, and all of us.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I want to thank you for your splendid cooperation in helping us put over the anti-Klan rally. We were especially glad to have your help because we know your paper has a great deal of influence in the Eastside community.

As you know, the meeting was a huge success. We were somewhat pessimistic about it beforehand but I see now that we should not have worried so much since we had such wonderful cooperation from you, a number of other papers and radio commentators, all of which helped to impress the community with the importance of the meeting.

Thanks again for your help.

Sincerely yours,
HELEN DANFORTH.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Despite the result Tuesday, it was worth the fight to have had your confidence and support. California democracy is a vigorous force and must and will keep alert to aggressive and humane forces.

Please accept my heartfelt thanks for the help you gave to me and the principles we advocated. I appreciate the friendly article appearing in your May 9 issue.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT W. KENNY.

W. J. Wheaton Says

So far the results of the recent primaries have given no inkling as to the political outcome in November, nor can there be any forecast as to the trend of the voters in "48" when the line up for the occupation of the White House is at stake. Not even the California primary where the incumbent Governor Earl Warren, won reelection at the primaries by capturing both party nominations, can be used as a guide post. The vote was unusual. As has been stated, the political trend of California voters is unpredictable.

The Democratic votes given to Warren in the primary election does not infer that those votes will be cast for a Republican candidate in the future. It depends greatly on the issues of the present and the problems that may arise during the interim. Much stress is laid on the victory of Governor Warren, and the enthusiastic are already trying to create a boom for his nomination for the presidency. According to all political precedent the boom has been started too soon. Two years are a long time for a political boom to exist. Many things can happen.

While we are talking politics, San Francisco is all "Hot'n Bothered" over its recall election. It will occur in the coming month, July and already the sparks have begun to fly, and the fires of acrimony kindled into a roaring flame. On the street cars one hears arguments for and "forninst" which often threaten to the verge of riot. Certainly the boost in fare has not, as far as our district is concerned, effected any improvement either in transportation or the sanitary condition of the vehicles. Going between Silver ave, and College ave, was so rough that it made several children sick of the stomach. The mothers of those kids will surely vote for the recall.

It will be one of the most interesting elections in decades. San Francisco has been, and is, a very tolerant city, that is as far as its public servants are concerned, but there has been more criticism more discount with this present administration than ever before.

This column has often called the attention of the Board of Health to the condition of the Fillmore district, mostly occupied by "Minority" folk and minor business ventures. A survey of surroundings does not show any improvement. Neither do certain areas south of Market on Third show that attention to the health of that area has bothered our city Fathers. As to the Fillmore district, it is either the residential or business area of Minority leaders. Why do they not show more interest in the welfare and betterment of that district? It is in their province so to do. We can but wait and see.

The Carpe Diem Club; that militant group of matrons and maids that has done so much for the cultural and civic welfare of the community, celebrated the 17th anniversary of their inauguration with a public reception. We have attended most of their events and have observed their activities through the years. These young women have not received the support they have deserved. It might be from the fact that their innate modesty, the desire to do good without ostentation, has kept them from being more widely known. We were not able to attend the anniversary, but it is our hope and belief that the Carpe Diems will have many years in which to continue the good work which they inaugurated the cultural and civic welfare of the community.

We can appreciate the fact that youngsters recently released from the restraints of army and navy life should be somewhat exuberant, but can not condone rowdyism, and that appears to be the fault of our ex and service men when on leave or celebrating their release from military duty. Especially should they remember courtesy to women. So many forget that they have some one, mother, sister, or perhaps a sweetheart, that they would resent their being unduly approached. The uniform should register the badge of a gentleman, not one of rowdyism.

We hear that there has been adverse criticism of our recent remarks on assumed leadership. Whatever the criticism, we welcome it, and will probably evoke more. The greater, the more bitter, the criticism, the more we like it. There's an old Indian saying, Hit The Wolf and He Will Howl." We don't know who was hit but he must have been the wolf. We hear that some of the preachers are sorrowing because collections are falling off. Didn't you make hay while the Sun was shining? You should have.

We were informed that we were in error when we said "The California Eagle" was the oldest active newspaper (Negro Weekly) in California or the West Coast. The Eagle is. "California" was attached later. The Eagle still Soars. —J.B.B.

We have been challenged on our statement that The California EAGLE is the oldest Negro weekly on the West Coast. Well, it is true. This paper started publication as The EAGLE. "California" was added later. Too, it is not only the oldest weekly on the West Coast, but the oldest existent Negro paper in the country. The EAGLE is now in its 67th year—and still soaring.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

Organization! Unity! Funds! We hear these cries daily from our progressive leaders. They know that no program can be effective without proper organization and quite a bit of financial support.

People must throw off their apathy and get behind the labor unions and other progressive organizations. They must become active members and must by their very numbers command respect.

To point out the grave need for organization among the people, we can get a darn good idea of its importance from an article in the Labor Herald, concerning a report of the National Industrial Information Committee—propaganda arm for the National Association of Manufacturers.

The article shows that NAM spent almost $2,000,000 on its anti-labor, anti-price control, "free enterprise" propaganda activities in 1945. The report revealed that 7159 American industrialists contributed a total of $1,607,385.41 to NIIC, not to mention their regular contributions to NAM itself.

The money was spent in every channel where public opinion and public thinking could be molded. Through every walk of life from church to the movies the NAM story was presented. To all of this is added regional offices and research and administrative departments.

The aim of the 1945 program was "the immediate return to a free competitive enterprise," the report said. "With the end of the war it was obvious that an aggressive national program was needed to convince the people that only the American brand of competitive enterprise . . . could fulfill the promise of peace . . . only an industry freed from wartime controls could bring jobs, prosperity and security to all."

This is the propaganda they put out. This is the line they hand to people who may not be reached by the progressive organizations who have documented evidence as to the wrongdoings of NAM.

But NAM has something to say about these organizations. "These forces seeking perpetuation of artificial government controls must be defeated to permit the functioning of free competitive enterprise."

After this the report goes on to brag about how well the committee did its job and how much better the program will be in 1946. Pointing out that management's 1946 public relations program must be intensified and expanded, the report said, "Such a new and enlarged NAM public relations program has already been launched—to reach the 'balance of power' within the whole public."

But as the Labor Herald pointed out, even though NAM spends this money, the contributions are ultimately paid for by the public since they are deducted from the corporations' taxable income or are added directly to the price of the products.

If the avowed and determined enemy of the people can muster up funds, organize effectively and carry through their anti-labor, anti-OPA and "free enterprise" program, surely the people can do the same to insure the gains made by labor, to ward off inflation by supporting OPA and to make "free enterprise" include all people, and not just a few monopolies.

There are many organizations dedicated to these and many other progressive aims. The need is great and the time is short. Our enemies have already gotten away ahead of us.

World Freedom or Annihilation

By PAUL ROBESON

(Address at recent "Big Three Unity for Colonial Freedom" rally at Madison Square Garden in New York).

I have spoken for other causes on other occasions in this great hall. And while they were all important causes about which I was keenly concerned, I think I can say that never before have I faced such an audience as this with the sense of responsibility, of urgency, of intimacy with you that I now feel.

The Negro—and I mean American Negroes as well as West Indians and Africans—has a direct and first-hand understanding, which most other people lack; of what imperialist exploitation and oppression is. With him it is no far-off theoretical problem. In his daily life he experiences the same system of job discrimination, segregation, and denial of democratic rights whereby the imperialist overlords keep hundreds of millions of people in colonial subjection throughout the world.

The one basic difference is that here in America the Negro has the law at least partialy and in some sections of the country—on his side, and he has powerful allies in the ranks of white organized labor directly involved in his daily fight for justice. In Africa, in the West Indies, and in Asia, the colonial peoples wage a desperate struggle for recognition simply as human beings—as human beings to whom human rights are due. And these colonial peoples fight alone in each country—alone except for the help which reaches them from afar, from world-conscious labor in free countries and from other anti-fascist, anti-imperialist forces.

AUGMENT OUR STRENGTH

And that is why we are gathered here tonight. Because our own rights and liberties—even though limited—are far, far greater than those of our brothers in colonial bondage. Because we must exercise the greater strength which we have to help win freedom for them. And also because in that very process of helping others, we add to our own strength and bring nearer full freedom for ourselves.

Besides people like those of us who are here tonight, there is another category of Americans, quite few in number, but extremely powerful, who are interested in Africa: They are concerned, however, not with the people of the continent of Africa, but with the wealth that they can extract from it, and from the labor of the people there. These American financiers and corporation heads have their own ideas about the future of Africa, and they don't include the idea of freedom. You can be sure of that. And another thing you can be sure of is that they're not losing any time in putting their ideas into action.

Our government, reports indicate, is getting uranium from the Belgian Congo for atomic bombs. American companies are prospecting for oil in Ethiopia and for minerals in Libera. Firestone now has competitors in the latter country. These manifestations of a new and heightened interest in Africa on the part of American Big Business represent a challenge to the rest of us.

The race is on—in Africa as in every other part of the world—the race between the forces of progress and democracy on the one side and the forces of imperialism and reaction on the other. And Africa, with its immense undeveloped and unmeasured wealth of resources, is a major prize which the imperialists covet and which we, the anti-imperialists must defend.

We on the anti-imperialist side are handicapped by lack of money, lack of powerful organization, lack of influence in state and international affairs. But, although the enemy has all the advantage and has a head in the race, it is yet possible for us to catch up and win. It is possible to win if the majority of the American people can be brought to see and understand in the fullest sense the fact that the struggle in which we are engaged is not a matter of mere humanitarian sentiment, but of life and death. The only alternative to world freedom is world annihilation—another bloody holocaust—which will dwarf the two world wars through which we have passed.

We have been hearing a lot of talk about a coming war. It has been defined by some of the bolder reactionaries in brutally clear terms as a war of the United States and Great Britain against the Soviet Union. This war-mongering is the logical consequence of the get-tough-with-Russia policy preached and practiced by those who direct American and British foreign policy.

"Stop Russia!"! the brass voices cry in chorus, and the men behind the voices hope that the people will be afraid and wil turn against their wartime ally. Their frantic cries mask the program of imperialist aggression which these men themselves are seeking to impose upon the world.

The "Stop Russia" cry really means—stop the advance of the colonial peoples of Asia and Africa toward independence; stop the forces o fthe new democracy developing in Europe; stop the oragnized workers of America from trying to hold their ground against their profit-greedy employers; stop the Negro people from voting and joining trade unions in the South. "Stop Russia" means—STOP PROGRESS—maintain the status quo. It means—let the privileged few continue to rule and thrive at the expense of the masses.

A day or two ago, Ernest Bevin, the British foreign minister said, and I quote, "If we do not want to have total war, we must have total peace." For once I agree with him. But Mr. Bevin must be totally blind if he cannot see that the absence of peace in the world today is due precisely to the efforts of the British, American and other imperialistic powers to retain their control over the peoples of Asia, the Middle East, Europe and Africa.

We must indeed win the peace—a total peace—but we can do it only by using methods exactly the opposite of those pursued at present by the British Foreign Office and our own State Department. To win total peace there must be total freedom.

FREEDOM TO BE FREE

At San Francisco, a year ago, it was the Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Molotov, who said, "From the viewpoint of the interests of international security, we must first of all see to it that dependent countries are enabled as soon as possible to take the path of national independence."

But we are still waiting for the first European power in Africa to declare that its African subjects may exercise the right of self-determination and achieve self-government in the next ten years, the next 20 years or even the next 100 years.

The colonial rulers will tell you that the Africans will not be ready for self-government in any forseeable future. They lie. They would delude you into believing that the African peoples had no governments, no culture before the European came to Africa. They would delude you into believing that Africans are content to remain under European tutelage, and that this tutelage must continue indefinitely.

You have heard from other speakers tonight what sort of tutelage the rulers of Africa provide. How can they dare pose as so-called guardians of the Africans? How can they dare claim the right to continue in that role? The Soviet Union has demonstrated how it is possible to wipe out colonialism and all that the word connotes within a single generation. No wonder the imperialists cry "Stou Russia!"

That cry must be drowned out by the voice of the American people demanding Big Three Unity for Colonial Freedom!

To arouse all sections of our population to the urgency of that demand has been the purpose of this meeting. But we do not in any sense regard our job as finished with the close of this rally. On the contrary, my friends, the Council on African Affairs regards this job as having just begun. With your help, with the cooperation of the organizations with which you are associated and with the support of millions of like-minded peoples throughout our country and in other countries, we shall win the fight against the forces of imperialism.

Tomorrow is our day, the day of the ocmmon people. By God's grace and our united strength we shall win freedom and peace for ourselves and for all the oppressed peoples of the earth.

The Common Defense

TIME TO THINK ABOUT AMERICA

It is Independence Day again. It is time again for Americans to remember that America belongs to us all—native-born and foreign-born, white men and colored men, Catholics, Protestants, and Jews.

Time to remember again that some people and some resurgent groups like the Ku Klux Klan—all enemies of the Republic—seek to take this America away from us, and to make it a country for a particular class, or race, or religion.

Time to remember that they can't do it if we all stand together—that they have a good chance of doing it, however, if we permit them to divide us—Gentiles against Jews, whites against Negroes, native-born against foreign-born, capital labor. Together we can overcome them. But no group standing alone, and divided from other groups, is strong enough to win against them.

Time to remember that American independence was not won by dividing Americans—but by uniting them!

Who fought in the Revolutionary War anyway?

Washington—an Englishman, leader in the struggle and first among Americans.

Lafayette — a Frenchman, who brought assistance and encouragement from France.

Kosciuszko—a Pole, who fought in the Continental Army.

Haym Solomon—a Jew who, with Robert Morris, helped finance the Revolution — and died in poverty.

Von Steuben—a German, drillmaster of the American forces.

Crispus Attucks—a Negro, who died in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

They were united in the fight for freedom. Should they have called off the Revolution because they were different in race, nationality, and religion? The thought never entered their heads.

It is time again to raise our standards high and to move forward toward the achievement of that better American society in which men of every race and religion will be secure in their rights, their homes, and their persons.

It is Independence Day again—and time to remember that inscribed on the Liberty Bell are the words from Leviticus, "Proclaim liberty throughout the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof!"

Charter for African Freedom

(Resolution adopted by recent "Big Three Unity For Colonial Freedom" Rally in Madison Square Gardens, New York).

Virtually the entire continent of Africa, whose people had their own well-organized social systems and highly developed culture long before the coming of the European invaders, is today owned and controlled by foreign powers and peoples.

The people of Africa demanded their freedom. Wholeheartedly supporting their demand, this assemblage of Americans calls upon the United States government and the United Nations to use their maximum authority to:

- Secure a just settlement of the disposition of the Italian colonies, with full recognition of Ethiopia's territorial and reparation, claims, and with absolute rejection of the efforts to extend Britain's imperialist control over northeast Africa;
- Place the African colonies belonging to the fascist government of Spain and Portugal directly under United Nations supervision so that the inhabitants of these colonies may be protected from fascist tyranny.
- Grant the peoples of the African mandate territories the right to be heard in drawing up trusteeship agreements for these territories, and limit trusteeship of all colonies to a specified period of time so that such jurisdiction shall be clearly understood to be simply a transition to full independence.
- End the present system of exploitation whereby the wealth of Africa's resources produced by the sweat of Africa labor goes to enrich European and American monopoly interests and investors;
- Provide for the full protection of the rights of colonial labor on the same basis as labor in free countries, foster the development of local indsutries and collective enterprise, and promote the rapid economic and social advancement of the African people.
- Guarantee the immediate exercise of full democratic rights, and political self-determination within a definitely-stated time limit, to the peoples of every African dependency.

Superstitious Cookery

Curious superstitions about food appear to be the basis of many cooking rules handed down from mothers to daughters in families, according to a recent study of traditional cooking rules made by Dorothy Dickens of the Mississippi Experiment Station. Believing that an understanding of the cooking rules now being used in homes is a first step toward improving family meals, Dr. Dickens interviewed 1158 homemakers—698 white and 460 Negro—in small towns in Mississippi, and collected from them about 1500 rules taught by their mothers. She found that some of these inherited cooking rules agreed with the recommendations of food and nutrition scientists today or with old cookbooks, and others were founded on practical observation, but the majority seemed to have no basis except superstition.

Over half of all the rules given by both white and Negro homemakers concerned the cooking of vegetables. Some of these agreed with present nutrition knowledge—for example: "Cook cabbage a short time;" "Cook potatoes with skins on;" "Cook string beans with just enough water to get tender." Many other rules, however, expressed the superstituions belief that vegeables contain some "evil" or harmful substance that must be removed to make them healthful to eat. As an illustration, many rules about cooking new potatoes and other new vegetables advised parboiling and then discarding the water, or soaking before cooking for such reasons as: "to remove poison," "to take out fever," 'to prevent sickness," or "to make fit to eat."

Among the rules advising soaking vegetables before cooking were these: "Soak cucumbers in cold water before serving—takes fever out;" "Cabbage causes sickness unless fever is soaked out in salty water;" "Cut onion and set in water to prevent indigestion."

Dr. Dickens reports that older women and those with less schooling are more likely to cook by inherited rules than younger women and those who are better educated. She believes that all homemakers need to understand that their cooking methods should change as as scientists discover new facts about food and nutrition; as new equipment and techniques are developed; and as commercial food processing changes.

Old cookbooks, kept in use from one generation to another are likely to preserve out of date cooking methods and prevent better and more modern food practices in the home, Dr. Dickens reports. She suggests that a county museum may be a good place for such books in order to remind homemakers that they are relics of the past.

In any 24-hour period, 7,000,000 Americans are incapacitated by sickness or other disability, half of them for six months or more.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

SUPREME COURT MEETS AND 300 GRADUATE

It is a far cry from a state supreme court session to a high school graduation, but not too far. Therefore impressions gained at two such significant occasions will be, to some degree, covered in this piece. We invite your patient attention to what follows:

The California supreme court session was called to order. The room was crowded. The skins of many of those present were pigmented to a more or less severe degree. The reason for this situation soon became apparent. In fact the only cases to be considered at this session of the court had resulted from and were because of the efforts of some whittish and often redish skinned Americans to prove before a court of law that Americans with much pigment in their skins should not be allowed to occupy homes and lands for which they had paid and to which they held title, simply because the Americans of lesser pigmentation do not want them to do so.

Of course, these black Americans are required to pay taxes or when they are asked to die in defence of their homes, but some fellow who only meant to exploit their labor or to eliminate them from economic competition has done such a good job of prejudicing or warping his fellow blond Americans' minds toward people with yellow, brown and black skins, be they Americans or not, that they are making such a mess of applying this foolishness to the American ways of life that we Americans are increasingly becoming to look as foolish to the rest of the world as what transpired in that court room made us feel. Now, it only gave us a sickening feeling and caused us to leave with our head hanging down in shame. But in South and Central America, the islands of the Careabean Sea, in China, Japan, India, Black Africa and Russia this foolishness is making folks fighting mad. (Witness Pearl Harbor December 1941 and Indonesia in 1945).

Yes, all that the state supreme court had to meet for was to witness a travesty on human justice and a shame on the democracy and Christianity we profess. We don't know a country in the world where this sort of picture of democracy, Christianity or just plain human decency would be understood or tolerated except possibly in South Africa where the white man's conscience is so warped that racial conditions are even worse than America's worse.

It was Commencement Day at Jefferson high school and over 300 graduates, some of their teachers, school officials and many of their relatives and friends were assembled in Fulton Field less than an hour before the hour set for the much less important but vastly more popular (with too many youth), the Joe Louis—Billy Conn heavyweight prize fight. Obviously oblivious of the impending national "big moment" those earnest young people raised their voices in the song "Victory Tide" by William Grant Still and in discussion of the symposium "The Graduate Assumes Responsibility in Society."

Four speakers followed a narrator in discussing as the more basic phases of their social responsibility, "Family Solidarity in a Community," "Occupational Preparation of the Individual," "Active Leadership in the Political World" and "Cultural Relations in a democracy."

The narrator raises his voice in an intergrating gesture and a Spanish American lad walks to the piano and reflects such skill and understanding as must needs come out of hours of devoted study and practice and many hours of patient instruction. (Since this program we have learned that the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity broke tradition in the right direction by granting this lad one of their annual scholarships to college). After presentation of recognitions and scholarship awards the graduates sang and received their diplomas and worded the pledge of allegiance to the nation's flag. This was the first time in many years that we have seen the majority of a high school graduating class of the kind that the complainants in the foregoing supreme court session don't want to live in houses they have bought near them, but both their speeches and their numbers convince us that they are going to live just about where they want to live some day, which is not far off.

Girls Fly to Jobs in North

CAMDEN, N. J.—About 500 Negro girls from 25 southern colleges will be flown into New Jersey this summer to earn next year's tuition by work at the Deerfield Packing Co., which handles Birdseye Frosted Foods.

The girls are part of a mass movement involving over 3000 southerners who will come to New Jersey canneries and packing plants for the peak season. As temporary members of Local 56, Meat and Cannery Workers union, AFL, the migrant workers will be assured union wages during their stay in the north.

Gov. Dewey Refuses to Act On Freeport Murders, Tries Divert Attention From Case

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is deliberately attempting to divert public attention from the police slaying of two Negro brothers in Freeport, L. I. one of whom was in the uniform of an army private at the time, by creating "a phony drive against the Ku Klux Klan," it was charged today.

The accusation was made by Miss Dorothy Langston, executive secretary of the New York Committee for Justice in Freeport in a letter to Gov. Dewey. Miss Langston declared that State Attorney Nathaniel L. Goldstein "has shown belated and curious interest in the existence of the Ku Klux Klan in this state, seeking and obtaining publicity for a non-existent campaign against the Klan allegedly to have it outlawed, while at the same time deliberately attempting to obscure the fact that the existence of the Klan was called to the attention of Mr. Goldstein as the result of a threat made against the activities of the Freeport Committee."

Miss Langston charged in her letter to Gov. Dewey that the Republican administration in the state is trying to create a hullabaloo in the press regarding a campaign against the Ku Klux Klan for the obvious purpose of creating political capital for the forthcoming elections, meanwhile resorting to duplicity to avoid taking action in a case of outright murder of two Negro residents of our state.

"We have petitioned Gov. Dewey to use his powers to supersede James N. Gehrig, Nassau county district attorney who brazenly whitewashed policeman Joseph Romeika of guilt in wantonly shooting down Pfc. Charles Ferguson and his brother Alfonzo on the night of Feb. 5, 1946, and render justice in this case by setting up a special grand jury. To date, Gov. Dewey has refused to see our representatives, to see members of the slain victim's family, or to consider our petition in any manner or form."

Miss Langston declared that she turned over to the New York newspapers a photostatic copy of a threatening letter she received from Klan which was subsequently published last April 9. Meanwhile, she notified Thomas Curran, New York Secretary of State, of the un-American threat and shortly thereafter conferred with Assistant Attorney General John P. Powers in Goldstein's office here.

"Mr. Goldstein promised to take swift action to run down and outlaw the Klan leaders," Miss Langston said yesterday. "However, he failed to discover that one of the incorporators of the Klan in this state was Horace A. Demarest, deputy motor vehicle commissioner for Queens, and a fellow Republican, until enterprising newspaper reporters forcibly called that fact to Mr. Goldstein's attention."

Thieves Rifle Car Of Nightspot Star

A featured Negro star at Billy Berg's hotspot of night life in Hollywood, was the victim of car thieves this week.

Edgar Hayes, 41, who plays a hot piano at the night spot and heads a quartet which is one of of the features of the club, told police he parked his car Sunday night near 28th street and San Pedro avenue, and when he returned he found it had been ransacked.

Missing were a camera, coat, glasses and sheet music valued at $135.

Gen. Clark Entertains U. S. Negro Editors

U. S. FORCES IN AUSTRIA—General Mark W. Clark, commander of the U. S. forces in Austria, recently gave a dinner in honor of Frank L. Stanley, editor of the Louisville Defender and president of the Negro Publishers Association, and other Negro editors who are on an inspection tour of Germany, Italy, Austria and France, for the war department.

NAACP Files Comolaint On P.R.R. Job Bias

NEW YORK—The Pennsylvania Railroad this week was charged with using superseniority for white veterans to demote Negro employes from the grade of mechanic, to which they were first promoted after the creation of the wartime FEPC.

The charge was made in a complaint filed with the State Commission Against Discrimination by Marian Wynn Perry, assistant special counsel for the NAACP, in behalf of six Negro employes of the company against the railroad and the Brotherhood of Railroad Shop Crafts of America.

The complainants have been employed by the railroad from periods ranging up to 20 years.

The NAACP complaint pointed out that in view of the recent decision of the U. S. supreme court that the GI bill of rights requires only that returning veterans be placed on the "escalator of seniority" at the place where he would have been had he not entered the armed services, there can be no justification for the company's contention that its discriminatory policy is required by law.

Longshoremen: 22c hourly increase, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1945 (amounting to between $500 and $1000 per man); paid vacations (first in the industry).

All contracts call for 30-day negotiation of collateral issues, with matters then unsettled to be arbitrated.

Proposes Large Well-Equipped Hospitals to Serve Rural Areas

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — The need for federal aid to states "to give rural communities more hospitals" was expressed in a General Electric farm forum address here by the head of the Cooperstown, N. Y., rural hospital.

Discussing "A Medical Care Program for Rural Areas," Dr. George M. MacKenzie, physician-in-chief of the Mary Imogene Bassett hospital at Cooperstown, said over station WGY:

"Obviously the individual physician with his office in his village home cannot possess the equipment or have the time and skills which modern standards of diagnosis, treatment and prevention require. These new techniques and procedures have therefore become more and more centralized in hospitals.

"With public realization of these changes in the content and methods of medicine, it seems certain that in the near future the states aided by large financial grants from the federal government will embark on a greatly-expanded program of hospital construction."

"One of the major objectives of this program is to give rural communities more hospitals and better hospitals," he said.

Dr. MacKenzie does not favor the small hospital.

"Any hospital with less than 90 to 100 beds would have great difficulty in providing the kind of medical care, the quality of surgery, the specialists' services a rural community alert in regard to its own welfare should demand," he pointed out.

Bishop Manning Intervenes in Bitter Struggle in AME Church

(By Empire Features

NEW YORK—Reliable sources here state that Bishop Manning, top white Protestant leader, has stepped into the breach and is using his prestige in an attempt to influence and effect unity among the leaders of the badly-divided African Methodist Episcopal Church.

It is reported that Bishop Manning has made a fervent plea to at least one important African Methodist general officer to persuade the church to solve differences which came to a head in the recent court entanglements involving AME's Bishop David H. Sims, of Philadelphia, and head of the church's First Episcopal district. It was reported last week that ten AME bishops had signed a petition asking Sim's removal as head of the first district.

Immediate cause of the controversy was the removal of the Rev. J. A. Portlock from the important pastorate of Bethel AME church, Harlem, to a small post in Flushing. Pro-Portlock forces had accused the AME Bishop of retaliating against Rev. Portlock for being one of the instigators of legal action demanding accounting of the Sims administration.

Drivers Warned of Vacation Hazards

Coincident with the closing of schools for summer vacation, several additional traffic hazards will be present on Los Angeles streets, police warned today.

Motorists will have to be doubly alert for the presence of youngsters who sometimes dart into the street in the exuberance of their play. Parents should warn their children of the hazards of heavy Los Angeles traffic, and should insist that they play in safe place, police advised.

Bicyclists also will be more in evidence during the vacation season, it was pointed out, and care for their safety must be exerted by every driver. In 1945, seven persons were killed in the 309 bicycle-motor vehicle collisions which occurred in this city.

Holds Driver On Charge of 'Teen Age Girl

A "free" taxi ride was paid for by a 16-year-old girl with an act of sexual intercourse that landed Raymond Jones, 26, of 2530 Compton ave. in jail on a criminal assault charge.

Jones, operator of the free taxi, is asserted to have picked up the girl, a Metropolitan high school student, late one evening and offered her a ride home for nothing.

The girl complained before Judge Joseph Chambers that instead of taking her home, Jones, who she admitted she had known before as "Sleepy," parked the cab in front of 3209 Boaz st., and attacked her.

Jones was charged both with forceful rape and statutory rape, as the girl was only 16. However, the court ruled, in accordance with the contention of Crispus Wright, defense attorney, that no force had been needed, and the first charge was dropped.

Jones will still face a superior court arraignment June 24 on the statutory charge.

'Fixed Up' Home With Neighbor's F[illegible]ure

Because Ellis J. Swanson, 26, of 10345 Antwerp street, allegedly told police he "wanted to fix up" his house, he was held in a municipal court hearing on a burglarly charge this week. He "fixed it up" with furniture from a neighbor's home.

Complaining witness Prince E. Lawson of 10401 Antwerp street, said his home was ransacked earlier this month. Missing were a combination radio-phonograph valued at $350 and other furniture and valuables, he told police.

Attorney Earl Broady, defending Swanson, refused to allow him to testify in the hearing. But police said Swanson told them, "I wanted to fix up my house and I went to that man's place, broke in, and stole the stuff." The defendant will be arraigned in superior court July 10.

Mourns Death of Beloved Sister

Mrs. Katie B. Bell of Savannah, Ga., who visited her sister, Mrs. Madie D. Smith, of 3001 Raymond ave. of this city last summer, passed June 3. Mrs. Smith was at the bedside of her beloved sister.

"She has returned home," says Mrs. Smith. "Our lost was Heaven's gain. A staunch worker in church and a devoted sister. Sleep on, sister Katie. Take your rest. We loved you much, but God loved you best."

Ex-Policeman Finds Chalked KKK's on Walk

Representatives of the invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan have made another visit.

This time it was at the home of retired police Captain Homer Garrett, 420 W. 59th place, now bailiff in the superior court.

Mrs. Mary Annaud, daughter of Capt. Garrett, discovered three large white K's on the walk between the steps and the sidewalk, as she came into the house from the theatre at 11:30 Saturday night.

Capt. Garrett fixed the time of the KKK visit between 10:30 p.m. and the time of discovery. His youngest daughter, Elizabeth, did not see the markings when she left for a dance at 10:30.

"There seemed to be no difficulty in finding our house, even though we are the only colored family in the neighborhood," said Capt. Garrett, who was at home with Mrs. Garrett when the incident occurred. "They seemed to have come right to our door without wasting any time," he continued.

The incident was reported to the police, who, according to the Garretts, arrived on the scene an hour later, dismissed the affair with the usual "childish prank" explanation.

When asked why the Klan might have picked him out, Capt. Garrett replied, "Well, they've been picking on colored people who live in white neighborhoods and we're the only colored family in this neighborhood."

Capt. Garrett and his family reside in the Angeles Park tract, which at one time was restricted. He has not had any trouble since he won a covenant case in 1916.

Britons See Russia Seeking Security

Fewer Britons than Americans have been deceived by anti-Soviet propaganda, according to a recent poll by the British Institute of Public Opinion.

The poll showed that the majority of Britons with opinions on Russia's motives in world affairs think Russia is concerned only with securing herself against attack. In the United States, accordng to a recent Gallup poll, the majority think Russia is out to achieve world domination.

Urban League Asks Full Use of Negro Building Trades Workers

NEW YORK—The National Urban League has urged Emanuel Lerner, labor branch director of the National Housing Agency, to act to insure the proper use of Negro labor as mechanics in the emergency housing program recently authorized by congress, Julius A. Thomas, the league's industrial relations director, revealed yesterday. NHA has estimated that more than one million additional workers must be recruited and trained for the new emergency housing program for veterans. A shortage is anticipated in the bricklaying, electrical and plastering occupations, and other phases of building construction.

Reviewing the experience of Negro building mechanics during the public housing program of the '30s, the league stated that unless definite action is taken to protect the job rights of Negro veterans and other building trades workers, discriminatory hiring would eliminate many competent men.

The league statement named the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the United Ass'n. of Journeymen Plumbers and Steamfitters, both AFL, as building trades unions which manage either to exclude Negro workers or limit the number employed in these fields.

Although records show the number of Negro building mechanics declined steadily during the past two decades, the league reported that because a majority of Negro GIs were used in engineering units, a considerable number were trained as carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and sheet metal workers. These Negro veterans should qualify for employment in the housing construction program with much less additional training than is required in the regular apprentice program, the league pointed out.

Chiang's Secret Police Attack Peace Group

NANKING—Members of a non-political delegation from Shanghai, including two of the nation's leading educators, were beaten and robbed by secret police of the American-supported Chaing Kai-shek regime. The delegation came here to plead with the government to end the civil war, and accord democratic rights to the Chinese people.

The attack on the delegation had sharp repercussions in Shanghai, which has been plastered with anti-America placards demanding the withdrawal of American troops from China.

The signs said "U. S. Army Go Back to Your Home Sweet Home!" and "Down With U. S. Dollar Diplomacy!"

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

SOCIETY, CELEBRITIES and equine enthusiasts are eagerly anticipating the Crop 'N' Tail Riding club's summer formal, to be staged on the eve of July 4, in the appropriate setting of Riverside Rancho. There is much excitement in the local set, as preparations are being made for this smart event. A definite resort elegance will hold sway with debs wearing summer cotton formals and escorts in white dinner jackets. The equestrians will be introduced promptly at 10:45, by the eminent Carlton Moss. The girls are all agog over attracting the attention of Ebony, which will cover the event via camera, marking the first tan toned event of Los Angeles Society to go national in a leading magazine. The "before" and "after" parties will be many, and guests from out of town and close environs will be among those present.

Jessie Mae Brown

With everything in readiness for the big night, Crop 'N' Tailers took to the training ring at Green's Academy Sunday morning and went through their paces to benefit the newsreel camera. Jane Criner, Paulette Dejoie, Marcella Monroe and the rest of the group jumped the hurdles (spills included), and went through the regular routine under the direction of E. B. Green, riding instructor... So much for the Crops...

BIG THINGS IN MINIATURE

Unique in last week-end's events was the annual Ivy Leaf Semi, staged on the beautiful UCLA campus by joint pledge clubs of AKA sorority. Hope Giste, dean of pledges, cleverly introduced the members as they stepped on the dance floor with escorts to take part in the Ivy Leaf Waltz. Believe me, it was a pretty sight watching the browned skinned mannequins clad in colors ranging from vivid pink to chalky white in the latest styles of Peruvian, Haitian and ancient Greek draperies. Took note of the club prexies, Virginia Wilson of SC and Nancy Lewis of UCLA, as they danced by. Also Shirley Rakestraw, Wrenna Clarke, Mary Pollard, Mildred Gauthier, Dorothy Bradley, Elaine Broady, Jackie Dickerson, Jackie Freizi, Becky Brown, Wildina Helflin, Marian Henderson, Nona Hendrew, Frances Jones and many another, for there are 50 or more girls in the club.

Among those present were Captains Curtis Smith and Bill Milton, who flew in from Tuskegee; Fay Milhouse, looking very glamorous; the newlywedded Joe Knights; Big Paul Beck, SC's Phys. Ed. major; David Chompton; Maxine Clark; Elizabeth Garrott, the Cookie Cook; Jack Terry combo of old times; Odessa James, who leaves for K. C. next Monday; Mel Reid of San Francisco, and many more...

Following the dance, popular Rose Marie King was hostess to one of the after parties, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Rose M. King, and Tommy Byrd. The affair was a waffle breakfast that put the cap on a perfect evening...

Other highlight happenings included a final "stag" party for the two important bridegrooms of the month, Bobby Boswell and Elbert Hudson, who will be married by the time you read this. The party was held at LaMarr Hill's abode. Just what took place at the gathering is yet to be told...

Bobby Boswell and Flora Gladman took vows Sunday afternoon at Bowen Memorial church, with Rev. Hamilton Boswell, Bob's brother, officiating. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive. Many of Bob's school friends were in attendance at the wedding and reception that followed...

Attended the Vocational Conference at Landonia Matthews' modernistic home last Sunday afternoon. The whole program was a success, with the added attraction of Eddie Haywood, who remarked on his famed vocation of playing the piano...

The Pyramid club tea took place in Sid Done's hilltop gardens. The group danced next to the swimming pool... Running competition with the Pyramid dansante was the Fashionet Cocktail party held in the gardens of Dr. and Mrs. Zetars' home, right next door to Sid Done's. Both gatherings seemed to be running in the line of success...

VACATIONERS

Sub deb Geraldine Ingram departed for New York and other points East Wednesday on vacation. Monday night she was honored with a surprise farewell party, given by her mother... Saturday afternoon the Crystal Tea Room was the setting for a farewell luncheon honoring Paulette Coleman, who leaves this evening for the big city along with Gladys Johnson. Sorry I couldn't make the affair, for Phyllis (Hoxie) Allen is always the perfect hostess. Among those present were Marilyn Williams Hudson, Jean Brown, Puffy Hill, Ruth Kenner, Winifred Allen, and Pauline Peak. Bridge and the usual round of chatter completed the gathering. Paulette plans to spend the entire summer away from home...

Adella Goode entertained with a garden party Sunday afternoon. The affair honored her recent graduation from Manual Arts, and to the surprise of many, served as an announcement party, with the secret of her betrothal to Oliver Farmer being told... The affair was held between the hours of 3 and 7...

Herbert Simmons stepped out of the bachelor realm a few days ago. His bride is the former Lillian Brown, Arizona school teacher and AKA. Both are attending SC. Mrs. Simmons is working toward a master's degree. Congratulations are in order...

Pasadena has her proper number of engaged couples. Latest added to the list is Phylippa Jones and Ivan Houston. The couple will take vows no sooner than a year and a half away in the future... Popular Bessie Renfrew and Frances Garland are also engaged...

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Theron Kirk left the city last week for Washington, where his father is seriously ill. Kirk left by plane, with Jean and Woody Brown accompanying him to the airport... Haroldine Browning plans to vacation in the East this summer... In the city this week is Don Barksdale's mother and 7-year-old sister "Pam." They are the house guests of Gene Williams' parents, and will be in the city one week... By the way, Paulette Dejoie's sister leaves New Orleans soon for Sunny Cal, to attend the Boule... Harlette Wadley is back home taking a breathing spell after spending several weeks in Chi and N.Y.... Ruth Cage received her degree Sunday at UCLA ... Earline Hopkins plans to take the girls of Sigma Chapter up to her Santa Barbara estate for a week-end. Sounds like an interesting gathering... Hear that the Kappa Scroller Weiner Bake was more fun than a little... Don Walker is quite certain that the Kappa Florentine party will be the talk of the town... The Postal "32" Dawn formal Saturday night was attended and enjoyed by many ...Mel Temple will be honored with a linen shower Saturday... Rip Russell is back in town and in civies... Received word from Gloria and Arthur Mitchell, who are bringing the honeymoon trip to a close. They send hellos to the gang from Canada... Making the deadline...

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

The Louis-Conn fight was on the tongue of everyone at the CAC's dance Wednesday night. Yes, the fight was r-a-t-h-e-r dull, but the dance was erally great. The Eddie Martin quintet played and they only came on. They had several jam sessions during the evening and Butter Ellis sitting in with the band really blew his top. Took note of Bill Edson, Lois Prince, Paul Mack, Alfred and Elizabeth Williams, Catherine Shepard, and Lorraine Cuoton enjoying the jamming. Mabel Renfro was there with a beautiful new diamond engagement ring. Bessy Wilson was also over from L. A., joining Bernice Gordon in the Stork Corner. John and Ruth were out for an evening of fun. Doris Prince just in from Chicago was having a good time seeing all her old friends, as was Peggy Cuoton. Pete McCullough was feeling very good, Bump Cunningham, Aletha Carey, Eugena Peters, Vern Anderson, Snookie McAfee, Mary Collins and many others came out and made the dance a huge success.

It looked as though half of Pasadena had moved to Westwood to the Ivy Leaf's dance Saturday night. It was swell to see all the gang. One of the most excited persons at the dance was Phillippa Jones waving a lovely diamond ring in front of my face and talking at the same time. Yes, Ivan Houston put that ring on her finger and are they happy!

Harrison Bailey and Alva Rae Neblett arrived the same time we did, as did Ruby King, Alton Ballard and Merlyn Ballard. Lucille Harrison and her escort just made the dance in time to get the last few dances. Mary Scott wore a darling white eyelet and pique dress. Lorraine Cuoton looked charming in a red cotton formal. Talked to Jernard Worsham and Harry Porter who will be middle aisling it this week end. Barbara Durham, Gloria Bunch, Aster Lee Bowles, Thelma Jackson, in white net and lace, Lora Jacques, Jessie Arnold, Thomas Floyd, J. T. Morgan, M. L. Jackson, Joe Mims, Betty Brown and several others were chatting in a corner. Barbara James, just home from school was there.

Saw Jessie Mae Brown with a new escort, as usual. Cookie Cooke looked darling in her first new formal since her return from the Spars. She came with Jack Terry but spent most of her time with Enoch Spann. Jean Morrow, Elmer Jamerson, Winifred Smith, in a daring strapless plaid taffeta; Joe Spaulding, James White, Donny Martin, Pearl McAfee, who I hadn't seen in ages, Paul McClendon, Myrtle Martin, and bodles of others made the most of the wonderful music by Pasadena's George Brown, his band, and the lovely night.

Sorry I didn't get to the Pyramid's Tea Dansante at Sidney Dones'; was too tired to make it. Who's Buick has Barbara Durham been driving around, lately? Could it be Willie Banks'? DESIGNING WINS PRAISE FOR MRS. R. SLOCUM Fabulous designing walked hand in hand with sweet charity when the Five and Over Charity Club presented its Floral Display on Sunday afternoon. One of the most outstanding floral offerings to draw admiration from the judges was the motif "From Birth to Death" done by Mrs. Robbie B. Slocum of the Crystal Center Florist, of which Mrs. Edna Johnson Bowdoin is manager. This display won first award.

Some of Mrs. Slocum's artistic work was on display at the St. Vincent Guild's fashion review Sunday afternoon at Villa Arlington. A collection of 50 breathtaking hats was on display. Some were especially created by Mrs. Slocum and others were copies of Lilly Dache models. Mrs. Slocum used many new materials to add drama to exotic turbans, Victorian bonnets, britons and flower-laden chapeaux. Outstanding was the chartreuse hat made of horse hair.

Prade-Long Vows Taken In Elaborate Catholic Ceremony At St. Patricks'

The former Miss Rose Marie Prade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emery Jones, became the bride of Mr. Perry Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long of Florida, in an elaborate Catholic wedding at high noon Sunday, June 16, with three priests, Father Mack, Father Bergalo and Father Perry, officiating at St. Patrick's church.

BEADED WEDDING GOWN

Miss Prade made an exquisite bride in a princess styled gown of white "Liberty" satin created by the Elmo Mackeys. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline and was hand beaded with imported seed pearls. Yards and yards of illusion veiling caught by an embroidered crown, covered the full length train, and she carried an elaborate shower of white orchids over a dainty prayer book. Her attendants wore a muted shade of blue over satin, and carried talisman roses in chiffon baskets that hung from heavy satin ribbon armlets. The maid of honor wore canary yellow and the four flower girls wore pink net dresses over satin slips. Mrs. Beatrice Davis served as matron of honor; Miss Ida Prade, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were: Jean Clark, Clara Westbrook, Betty Jean Lewis, Dorothy Moorn, Sylvia Perry, Carmella Davis, Imogene Caldwell, Elbert Mae Liddell. Master John Wendell Jones was ring bearer.

Mr. Milton Phennis served as best man. Ushers included: Raymond Jones, Bruce Sheffield, Milton Stanley Smith, Quinton Cregg, Adam Alix, Emmet Jose and Earl Newman.

Flower girls were: Joyce Montgomery, Yvonne Montgomery, Sandra King and Kayetta Metayer.

The bridal hymn was sung by the prominent Josephine Cooper.

BRIDAL DINNER

With all the elaborateness of pre-war weddings, immediately following the ceremony a bridal dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents at 838 East 33rd st.

Between the hours of four and eight p. m. the wedding reception was held in the garden. The entire setting was transformed into a white walled garden with a satin canopy for the bride, surrounded by umbrellaed tables for the more than 600 friends who felicitated the popular young couple. The bride's mother received in a beautiful fuschia chiffon gown that featured a hand brocaded neckline, and she wore orchids in her hair. Champagne punch was served from an iced punch bowl throughout the affair and the huge wedding cake was served. The sweet music of the strolling Mexican minstrels added the California touch to the affair.

Assisting hostesses were: Mmes. Barbara Davis, Ethel Jones, Bernice Whizard, Beatrice Davis, Rebecia Braan of San Francisco, Thelma Davis, Bertha Pierre, Lillian Gains, Ethel James, Lucille Watson, Utah Jones, Eva Tivis, Aleta Atkins, Murdis Young and Ruth Mackey.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Alzyre Cezan Davis, retired business woman of L. A. and grand niece of the late Dr. Cezean. She is a graduate of Jefferson high school, and attended L.A.C.C. Her husband is a graduate of Jackson high and attended Florida college. The couple is now on an extended honeymoon.

The entire wedding was handled by Ralphe Porter.

College Fund Still Growing

Mr. Charles D. Wherry recently turned in two checks to the United Negro college fund. One was given by the Union Bank and Trust company, with a note from Mr. A. L. Lathrop, vice president, saying the bank was sending it for a worthy cause.

Mrs. Alma W. Meline, wife of the late Frank L. Meline, real estate man and president of the City Dye Works, Beverly Hills, sent her best wishes for the fund, along with her check for $25.

By Grace Fisher Atkins

The Alpha Bowling club was the scene of a gay performance last Sunday afternoon. Many styles in hair, millinery and clothing were presented by the "Organ Guild" of Independent Church of Christ. Mrs. Lenord Dunlap arranged this review and it wasc planned to exhibit many related fields of fashion.

Among the models were Mrs. Cord Daugharty who wore a lovely blue crepe hostess gown. This was personally made by Mrs. Daugharty. The white embroidered flowers placed about four inches apart softened the fabric to the tranquil personality of Mrs. Daugarty.

Hilda Taylor, faithful choir member of many years, modeled a black marquisette formal with red accessories. The taffeta underskirt made the delicate rustle of the pre-war period.

Another formal which arrested much applause was the white printed jersey draped, modeled by Miss Eleanor Richards. Lola Jones of Nancy's Dress Shop designed and constructed this Hollywood creation. The jeweled panel tacked upon the center front seam lent the "regal" tone.

Miss Richards intends to wear this model as an afternoon or cocktail gown after the formal wear has tired. Miss Jones has much to offer in her tendency to utilize her designs for many occasions. This must be of great value in a popular custom shop like Nancy's where she is employed.

Miss Catherine Fowlkes "played" in togs for playtime in red and white gingham. Later she walked in royal blue woolen suit and similar colored feathered hat. Then a black velvet gown for fall concluded her performance.

Mrs. June Penn of Chicago designed and modeled a two-piece fusia linen dress. The attractive selection was made by her mother, Mrs. Leonard Benjamin. Mrs. Penn also modeled a black suit with doreman sleeves.

Mrs. Fannie Benjaman modeled an exquisite black satin and white embroidered hat by Opal at Maurice Ball.

Millinery by Miss Marjorie Brown, formerly with the C. J. Walker company, was unique. Her theme of "Styling hair into hats," was the outstanding feature of the afternoon. The "Bird in the Nest" was the name given her hand-made model. Miss Brown was assisted by Miss Patricia Clark and Miss Dora Armstrong.

Betty Thomas modeled hats made and designed by Mrs. Doris Mabry, one of the Eastside's popular milliners.

IN MEMORIAM

Judge John Beardsley is dead. I have lost a friend. You have lost a friend. My heart is heavy. It was a distinct shock to me. I was assigned to his court room. For almost three years—I was with him every day. I grew to love him—his ideals. Most of you know his attitude of coming to the defense of minority people. But the many things, which he tried to do to help his fellow man—which was only known to a few—I was in a position to know.

For quite some time Charles Matthews did not know that Judge John Beardsley was one of the men, who spearheaded the campaign to have him accepted as a member of the Bar Association. The Bar Association voted on the issue of accepting Negroes—although the measure lost—it was comforting to know that it was not lost by a wide margin.

People like Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, publisher of THE EAGLE, Thomas Griffith of the NAACP, Loren Miller, attorney, Floyd C. Covington, can tell you plenty about John Beardsley.

The Beardsleys from way back have ever been on the side of the oppressed. His father, Charles Beardsley, owner of a newspaper in Iowa was a strong abolitionist. He fought against slavery on every hand. Charles Beardsley was stoned—his newspaper plant wrecked because he believed in the brotherhood of man. Following the Civil War, grateful Negroes presented his father with a silver plaque.

Judge Beardsley had a passionate love for his country. On his desk stood a tiny American flag. On that same desk was a copy of the famous "Bill of Rights." Each morning he paid his respect to the American flag. His one passion was the constitution of the United States.

He was the first president or chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union, a group whose sole aim is to try and see that the constitution applies to all people. He remained head of that body for 12 years. His was a deep love for America—he was not a flag-waver. Many are the times he came to the defense of people—armed only with the constitution. In the death of John Beardsley, this nation loses another great humanitarian.

His wife, Helen, who is one of the officers of the American Civil Liberties Union, will carry on the ideals of her husband. His son, Charles, will do the same. And we have high hopes for his eight year old son, George Marston Beardsley. Incidentally, George Marston, the father of Mrs. Beardsley passed recently also. In his will, George Marston bequethed to Talladega college, in Alabama, the sum of $5,000. That is the kind of family they are. Yes, we have lost a friend. A great friend.

This Is Not Funny, Son

CHICAGO—The policy of Southern newspapers in regard to Negroes causes reporters more worry and bewilderment than any other part of their jobs.

Although Negroes may be called Aunt and Uncle, they cannot be called Mr. and Mrs. or Miss, says Eldon Roark in "How Dixie Newspapers Handle The Negro" in the June issue of Negro Digest.

"This has been a strict rule from the beginning of Southern journalism and the only exceptions to it today are being made in the case of Mrs. Roosevelt's syndicated column."

"Aunt" and "Uncle" are terms white Southerners give to Negroes who "know their place" and are getting along in years. In time Aunt Fanny may be promoted to Mammy, but Uncle Henry can never become Daddy.

Lady, Wanta Be A Cop?

The starting pay is $240 per month, with a graduated scale to top pay of $290 after four years' service. Wilson May Seek Re-Election at Elks' Convention, August 26-30

By JOHN C. MINKINS

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"Let me off at Buffalo!" is the World Elk cry, as many thousands, freed from wartime restrictions, are chartering busses and railroad coaches for the 47th annual session of the Grand Lodge, IBPOE of W., its affiliate, the Grand Temple, in the city near where Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry "met the enemy and they are ours" in the War of 1812, in a victory to which heroic Negro sailors contributed greatly.

Reports by the grand exalted ruler, Dr. J. Finley Wilson, and members of his cabinet will feature convention proceedings and, despite his announcement that he might not consider reelection to the office he has held for a quarter-century, "The Grand," as Dr. Wilson is familiarly known, has been endorsed, with Dtr. Elizabeth Ross Gordon of Washington, D. C., for another term. The outstanding endorsement has come from Frederick Douglass Council and Radio Council, New York, in joint sessions, pledging "100% support" for the Grand Lodge and Grand Temple and their leaders.

The convention will open August 26, and end on the 0th. Delegates are expected from Cape Town, South Africa, and Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, where there are lodges of 1000 members, or more, an dtemples of corresponding strength from the Panama Canal Zone, Cuba and Nassau, in addition to the thousands of lodges and temples, from Maine to Florida, Texas and the State of Washington.

'Open House' At Connor-Johnson Establishment Sunday, June 30

In observance of its 28th year of service in the community, the Conner-Johnson Co., Inc., morticians, 1400 East 17th street, will hold "Open House" on Sunday afternoon, June 30, from 12 to 6, to which the general public is invited.

The well appointed establishment has been completely renovated and re-decorated for the occasion, and guests will be taken on a tour of inspection of the facilities of the institution which have made Conner-Johnson one of the leading undertaking establishments on the West Coast.

A program of fine music is being arranged by Mrs. Fannie Benjamin, secretary of the company, which will be continuous throughout the afternoon. A suitable and useful souvenir will be given to all attending.

"We shall be more than happy to welcome our hundreds of patrons and friends on this occasion," S. P. Johnson, president, and one of the nation's leading Christian laymen, said this week. "In spite of unfortunate wartime conditions, Conner-Johnson gave the same high standard of service that has won unstinted praise from the community through the years. We are taking this opportunity to express our appreciation to the general public for its support, and to assure them that Conner-Johnson Co. will give that some unsurpassed service through the coming years."

"Stop Klan" Program Proposed By Mobilization for Democracy

A four-point "Stop the Klan" action program was proposed this week by William E. Bidner, executive director of the Mobilization for Democracy, in a letter sent to the organization's 400 civic, church, union, veterans' and fraternal affiliates. Member organizations were asked to:

"1. Organize a delegation of your membership, community and neighborhood groups to call upon Mayor Bowron and Police Chief Horrall. Demand thorough investigation of each act . . . and prompt arrest and prosecution of those responsible.

"2. Request increased police protection in Negro and Mexican areas to protect minority peoples from further outrages.

"3. Point out the infiltration of the Klan into restrictive covenant organizations and firmly resist all attempts to evade investigations of the covenant rackets.

"4. Contact your entire membership and instruct them to carry on a continuous barrage of telephone calls, letters and post cards to the mayor, the district attorney and the sheriff insisting that police conduct an efficient and thorough investigation of all Klan activities."

'Christian Science' Lesson-Sermon Subject

This verse from Isaiah will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

In a Scriptural selection from John, Jesus said, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me . . . . If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; Even the Spirit of truth; . . . I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you . . . . These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God."

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

This is the story of young Richard Aubry. It sounds like a tale of horror and terror such as leaked out of Nazi Germany during Hitler's heyday. But it isn't.

It happened here in America. In Los Angeles. And all within the last month.

Richard is a Catholic. A Creole. He and his brother, Paul, have been active in organizations opposing restrictive covenants and the Ku Klux Klan. One day the KKK burned a fiery cross on the front lawn of his brother's home on 58th drive.

But they didn't stop there. While returning home one evening last month, Richard was brutally attacked by two young thugs who sprang out of the darkness.

His bruised, scratched body was found lying in an alley by neighbors. He had been knocked unconscious and, as was later discovered, suffered internal injuries.

This isn't the end of the story. Not by a long shot. Here, in this "land of the free," Richard received so many threatening calls on his job that his employers fired him.

He was too dangerous to have around. That's what they told him.

So 26-year-old Richard Aubry, father of two children, wanders around, bewildered. Confused. Almost lost.

What about the police?

That's what we are all wondering about!

Then there is the case of Tommy Amer, Chinese-American war veteran who has been warned to vacate his home on West 58th st. Tommy, who holds the Purple Heart, has been engaged in a restrictive covenant battle in the courts.

And there's the case of Fred Mills and Richard Bates, Negro workers, who were mercilessly beaten two weeks ago by two white men calling themselves Klansmen. The beating followed an attempt to burn them out of the house in which they live.

It was on 58th st. also that a startled Los Angeles woke one morning to find screaming headlines announcing evidence of the revival of the KKK. You see, the burning of a fiery cross on the lawn of a Negro family signalized the rebirth of the Klan and a new reign of terror.

Chum, I could go on and on, relating incident after incident, but it gives you a sort of frustrated, helpless feeling, brooding over these acts of intimidation and terrorism.

I'd better write, instead, about something which is being done to combat Klan activities.

I'm going to write about Saturday, June 29, because it's going to be a Red Letter day in the lives of progressive young people throughout Los Angeles.

You see, it's youth vs. KKK day. The day that fighting, militant youth organization, American Youth for Democracy, calls upon all young people of this city to speak out against the Klan.

This mammoth demonstration begins 6:30 p.m. Saturday evening on 56th st. between Main and Broadway. It's the very spot the Klan chose to announce its rebirth.

And it's the spot youth has chosen to announce that the Klan will be destroyed. Driven out of America!

Despite threats warning him not to appear, Richard Aubry will be there. And Tommy Amer and the H. G. Hickersons.

It's going to be a bang-up evening, chum, believe me, because a wonderful program has been arranged. After the street demonstration, young people and their friends will march to the CIO Hall, Slauson and Avalon, to hold a gigantic rally, followed by a dance.

The rally will feature celebrities of radio, screen and stage fame.

Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE, and Councilman John Roden are among prominent civic leaders who will address the rally.

Don Wheeldin, dynamic young Negro vet of the American Veterans Committee; Ike Adams, youth delegate to the Win-the-Peace Meet in Washington, D. C.; and Don Derricks of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America are among outstanding young leaders scheduled to speak.

Also included on the program is Kenneth Van Leuven, USC student who spent a year and six months in a German concentration camp and who helped organize an anti-KKK rally in Exposition Park. The student rally was held after USC administration refused to allow campus organizations to hold an anti-Klan meeting on campus, following the burning of a cross in front of a Jewish fraternity home near the campus.

Know something, chum? In calling this meeting, young America is tolling the death knell of the Klan, because in uniting they are helping to gather the coordinated might and strength needed to deliver that fatal knockout blow.

That's why they are looking forward to Saturday, June 29.

Your chum,
YVONNE.

Mammoth Anti-Klan Youth Rally Slated Saturday, June 29, by AYD

Final plans for a gigantic youth rally to fight the Ku Klux Klan taking place on 56th st. and Broadway, Saturday, June 29, at 6:30 p. m. were announced by the Los Angeles Chapter of American Youth for Democracy last night.

The rally will take the form of a street meeting, a few doors away from the homes of two victims of recent villifying acts by the KKK—the Hickersons, a Negro family, and Tommy Amer, a young Chinese-American veteran, who wears the Purple Heart.

Following the street meeting a huge rally and dance will be given at the CIO Hall, 5851 Avalon blvd., where outstanding civic, theatrical and youth leaders will speak.

Included on the programs for the street meeting and rally are: Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE; Don Wheeldin, young Negro veteran from the American Veterans Committee; Ike Adams, Jr., NAACP; Kenneth Van Leuden, SC student who helped call the anti-Klan student rally recently held at Exposition Park; Don Derricks, noted Negro veteran of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America; Richard Aubry, victim of a Klan beating; Tommy Amer, the H. G. Hickersons, Anita Ellis, screen actress, Pan American Dance group, part of the cast of "Bloomer Girl," and many others.

Young people from over 50 local groups are expected to participate in the street meeting, rally and dance to express their condemnation of the un-American KKK.

GET TOGETHER—Negro veterans who fought in Italy and Yugoslavia talk things over with Lt. Nada Kraigher (third from right) of the Yugoslav Partisan army. Lt. Kraigher was invited to address the conference of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America when it was learned she had fought side by side with Negro combat troops, many of whom were rescued by the Partisans after being shot down by the Germans over Yugoslav territory. Left to right (seated), Oliver Martin, Bert Alves, Thelma Delmoor, Attorney Jawn Sandifer, Lt. Kraigher, Ted Shearer, and Gordon Roberts.

YMCA Fun Club Begins July 1

The 28th Street YMCA Youth Division Summer Fun Club will get under way Monday, July 1. The Club is designed for boys 9 to 15 years of age who are members of the branch.

Youth Seen as Hope of Peace And International Co-operation

Americans are losing their vision of "world peace through international cooperation," declared Gov. Dwight Griswold, of Nebraska, defeated candidate for the GOP nomination for U. S. senator in Nebraska's recent primary.

Defeated by Sen. Hugh Butler, who is regarded as an isolationist, Griswold said that only youth has the stamina to pursue the quest for international cooperation.

"There are today those who read in the skies the signs of reaction, the signs that point backward, that urge you to accept again the same kind of thinking, the same selfish philosophy, the same kind of cynicism that characterized the days following the first World War, and that sneers at the possibility of world peace through international cooperation," he said.

Famous Nisei Unit Starts Homeward Trip

ROME—The famed 422nd infantry regiment, composed of Japanese American troops is en route to the U. S. aboard the Wilson Victory.

The Nisei regiment is one of the most decorated units in the U. S. army, its 4000 volunteers setting one of the war's most impressive combat records in four campaigns in Italy and in France.

Boy Scouts Are All Set for Big Camping Season

Boy Scouts of the Los Angeles Area Council exchanged school books for camp gear this week. The local Scout organization set a national record last year in having the greatest number of Troops and Senior units conducting a summer time camp under volunteer leadership, according to H. Eugene Breitenbach, chairman of the camp committee. Indications today point toward an even greater accomplishment during the 1946 camping season.

Five camps are offered to the Scouts of the Los Angeles Area Council without charge for camping privileges. Camp Pepperdine in the Angeles National Forrest at Jackson Lake is the most popular spot during the summer season.

Four of the sites are within hiking distance of the Troop meeting places. The intown sites are: Camp Arthur Letts in the Hollywood Hills, Camp Rio Hondo in Bell Gardens, Camp Vaughn Scott in Torrance and Camp Sigler in South Pasadena.

Mr. Ikejiani will receive sums totaling $2,500 through the Academy's scholarship plan to aid outstanding African students. This will enable him to continue his studies for two years at Toronto university, where he is working to complete his course for his MD degree.

Asks for Education For Fellow Koreans

Six scholarships at University of Southern California have been made available to Korean students, announced Dr. Chang Wook Moon, Korean civilian secretary for foreign affairs, who is in Los Angeles this week arranging for education of his fellow countrymen.

Training in American institutions for the most outstanding of the 30,000,000 Koreans would aid greatly in thorough rehabilitation of Korea after 36 years of Japanese social and economic domination, Mr. Moon said.

Supervised Summer Play Is Offered to Kiddies by City

An extensive program of supervised play will be offered to the youngsters in Los Angeles this summer at the schools, playgrounds and various community centers and agencies. Organized activities will start at most centers at 10 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m., and a few centers will remain open until 10 p.m.

Baseball, softball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, basketball and other big muscle games will be offered as well as games of low organization, at most recreation centers. Also handicraft projects, dramatics, puppetry, tap and folk dancing, ceramics, choral and orchestral groups will be available to those interested in cultural pursuits.

Softball games and leagues will be sponsored by the Catholic Youth Project, the D.A.P.'s, and the Y.M.C.A. Games will be played at Ross Snyder playground, Lafayette school and the 28th Street school playground.

Horseshoe, pingpong and croquet will be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, respectively, throughout the summer at Central playground. Handicraft classes will be held at Ross Snyder Avalon Community Center and Compton playground daily. Leathercraft will be featured at All Nations Center, (8th and Gladys streets) and Coppercraft and puppetry at Central playground. Pilgrim House is featuring ceramics and cooking classes.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

JOE WAS PLATING FOR KEEPS

The hue and cry of battle has died away on a chilly New York sky. Joe Louis is still the heavyweight champion of the world and resting upon his laurels. Billy Conn, who grinned every time he was hit hard and even arose after the knockout in the eighth still grinning, has salted away his purse. He had a lot to grin about. Knowing that he wasn't the champion's master he was probably smiling because it seemed to him an easy way to make over three hundred thousand dollars in a half an hour. The expression of merriment on Conn's face evidently bothered Louis none at all. He was deadly serious with his work. He had a championship to retain with a potentional value of three million dollars. He erased the smile off Billy's face in the eighth with a terrific left hook, saved the title and called it a night. Conn was practically laughing in his dressing room as he talked to reporters after the fight. He announced his retirement. Every sports writer in the crowd knew that Joe had "retired" Conn in the eighth heat of the battle. The announcement was hardly necessary. The ballyhoo had worked after about five years of feverish work on the part of publicity men. The suckers were in their respective seats, the money was in the till, not as much as Promoter Mike Jacobs had hoped for, but a goodly sum, nevertheless. We cannot for any sane reason blame Billy Conn for grinning. He had made his point. Out of a lot of very good heavyweight contenders for the title, he, the least of them all, had been selected. The public knew it too, but after years of research, I have learned that everybody likes to be gypped once in awhile, especially when he can share the companionship of other suckers. Now Joe is off to catch up on his golf. We are serious in the belief that the Brown Bomber will find every succeeding defense of the title harder than the one he waged last Wednesday night. We also believe that Joe will continue to hold the title for sometime because, although there are quite a few good heavies on the horizon, we don't believe there are any who can surpass the champ at this time.

SNORTS ON SPORT YOU SHOULD NOTE

According to Carl Gross, Recreation Director of Central Playground, an ambitious summer program has been outlined for the playgrounds bounded by Main, Alameda, Slauson and points south. Mr. Gross has been assigned to supervise activities for Central, Compton, Ross Snyder and South Park playgrounds. Miss Elouise A. Jackson and Curley Monroe of Central will attend to the program at that playground while directors of the other playgrounds will cooperate with Mr. Gross in an attempt to make this the greatest year of summer diversion for the kiddies on the eastside. There'll be a horseshoe tournament, croquet meet, ping pong tourney, gym games, a picnic at Val Verde on July 4, mountain hike, girls day camp, girl's district play day, summer matinee at South Park, mother and daughter banquet (Aug. 9), girl's camp at Griffith Park (Aug. 26 to 31), several social dances and a carnival and back to school party. It is by far one of the most elaborate programs ever arranged and if carried out fully will keep the children of all ages on their toes throughout the summer season. Additional sports will include tennis, swimming, softball and basketball and many outings sponsored by the YWCA, YMCA and the DAPS . . . . JIMMY BROOKS looked good in battling Jackie Ryan to a draw in San Francisco recently. It was Jimmy's first bout since being discharged from the army and he showed excellent form. Ryan is the same guy that went ten-rounds with California Jackie Wilson recently . . . . GEORGE A. RAMSEY, the turf writer for the California EAGLE, dropped in the other day to inform us that he was grief-stricken because he wasn't on that nag that won at Hollywood and paid $204 to two recently. George said that the hay-burner had raced twice previous to his winning effort. George had him the first two times out, he failed to put a cent on him on his third time at the post, and the hoss hit the jackpot. Just one of those things . . . . DESPITE the fact that information to the contrary has been published, Bert Lewis, manager of John Thomas, says that no contract has yet been signed by his fighter to battle Ike Williams for the world's lightweight title in August. There are several matters yet to be ironed out, maintains Bert. He'll be ready to have John sign when these details have been completed, he concluded. Meanwhile the latest info available seems to indicate that the officials of the Westside Hospital committee have contacted the Olympic Auditorium staff in regards to working in with them insofar as furnishing ushers, tickets, ticket sellers and doormen is concerned. If this is true it is a wise move because the Olympic staff is well qualified to perform these tasks as was evidenced when Enrique Bolanos fought Williams here at Wrigley Field. The bout was handled just about as smoothly as it is possible to handle gigantics of this sort.

WILL WRESTLE HERE — Abd-ur-Rahman, internationally known grappler, will engage in wrestling bouts here at the Olympic, he announced upon arriving here Monday from Seattle. The athlete was a prisoner of war in Germany for 20 months during the war.

Colorful Sepia Wrestler Looms On Local Front

Another bronze-hued wrestler blew into town Monday at 8 a.m. from Seattle to try conclusions with local exponents of the sport at the Olympic Auditorium in the near future. He is Kemal Abd-ur-Rahman, the "Giant Musselman," who hails from Brooklyn.

Kemal has wrestled all over Europe, in Egypt and many other countries. Before the war he held the European heavyweight title. He was interned in a German concentration camp for 20 months during the war for refusing to salute the German flag. Later he helped two Jewish families escape to Australia.

In Brooklyn the wrestler lives at the Islamic Mission. He has three wives, one English, one American and the other Czech. Of firm religion Abd-ur-Rahman prays five times daily, one hour before sunrise, one hour before noon, at 4 p. m., at sunset and one hour before retiring for the night.

John Doyle, Olympic Auditorium impressario, sent for Abdur-Rahman and plans to feature him in several bouts here. The wrestler told the California EAGLE sports editor that he is ready for all comers. He can wrestle clean or put on the rough stuff as the occasion demands, he said.

Two other sepia wrestlers who showed here with more than average success were Seelie Samara, who is flying to Australia on July 1, and Jack Claybourne, now in New Zealand.

Walcott May Be Next for Louis

NEW YORK—Jersey Joe Walcott, high-ranking heavyweight, or Tami Mauriello may be the next opponent for Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, it was indicated by Promoter Mike Jacobs last weekend.

If signed the bout will be held in September at Yankee Stadium. Although Louis said he would not fight again this year Jacobs believed he'd consent if a worthy challenger were found.

Mauriello Next For Joe Louis In Sept. Battle

Tami Mauriello will be next for heavyweight champion Joe Louis on September 11 at Yankee Stadium, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced this week as he went ahead with plans to stage the next title fight biggie.

Although Louis has said that he would not fight again this year he'll probably change his mind when Uncle Mike tells him to go into training for the September fracas.

Mike Says O'Toole Wanted Free Ducat; Faces Lawsuit

NEW YORK—Rep. Donald L. O'Toole (D.) of New York has requested the New York Athletic Commission to investigate the Joe Louis-Billy Conn heavyweight title fight held at Yankee Stadium last Wednesday night. Officially Louis successfully defended his world's heavyweight championship by knocking Conn out in the eighth round of the scheduled fifteen-rounder.

LOUIS - CONN Fight Aftermath

GENE TUNNEY—"John Public took it on the chin again."

MAX SCHMELING—His prediction came true. Schmeling, now languishing in the bastille at Hamburg, Germany, for a war violation, said last month that Louis would knock out Conn "between the seventh and ninth rounds."

PAUL ZIMMERMAN—(sports editor of the L.A. Times)—"A greater champion than Louis may come along, but not a finer one."

JOE LOUIS—"I hit him with right cross, a right uppercut and then a left cross. That was all it took. I was just a little bit disappointed that I waited so long."

BILLY CONN—"I heard the count, but I just couldn't get up."

TO RETIRE—Billy Conn, knocked out in the eighth round last Wednesday night by Heavyweight Champ Joe Louis, announced in his dressing room that he would retire from the ring.

O'Toole's demand was in the form of a telegram to chairman Edward Egan and charged that the public had been "swindled." He demanded that the purses of both fighters be held up pending investigation and said in part, "This investigation should further cover the amount of control that Jacobs has not only over Conn and Louis but also over the entire boxing industry in the United States. One more fraud such as last night's and boxing will be ruined in the United States for many years to come. It is the duty of the commission to protect the public and this can only be achieved by an an investigation such as I suggest."

In answer to O'Toole's complaint Promoter Mike Jacobs said, "O'Toole wanted a complimentary ticket to the fight and I wouldn't give it to him. I guess he's sore." This brought quick action from the legislator who said Jacobs was accusing him of extortion and announced that his New York attorney would sue the promoter for criminal libel to the extent of $100,000 in damages.

FIGHT PAYOFF

The bout turned out to be the second largest in boxing history. Gate receipts totaled $1,514,791.11 after State and Federal amusement tax deduction and there was $50,000 additional for radio and television rights. Out of this Louis received $625,916.44 and Conn $312,958.22. Both will get a share of the motion picture receipts which will be coming in for several years to come.

NO INVESTIGATION

Latest reports from Washington, D. C. indicate that no investigation of the fight is planned, although Rep. O'Toole of Brooklyn made a brief speech on the floor of the House and reiterated that he is filing a $100,000 suit against Promoter Jacobs. Meanwhile the Justice Department denied a published story that it would look into both boxing and baseball for anti-trust violations.

Chavez to Meet Virgin Tuesday

Carlos Chavez, featherweight champion of the state, will meet Petey Virgin in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night, July 2.

Virgin has beaten Frankie Moore, Benny Calla and others while Chavez kayoed Bobby Jackson and drew with Baby Gonzales.

L. A. White Sox Play Sun., Mon., Versus Oakland

Carlisle Perry, president of the Los Angeles White Sox, announced that his team would probably play the Oakland Larks in a double-header at Riverside, California, Sunday and then move back into L. A. for a night game starting at 8:15 p.m. Monday night against the same team at Wrigley Field.

In correcting the recent standings of the West Coast Baseball Association on his team, Perry said that the L. A. White Sox had their consecutive win streak of 11 straight broken when the Oakland Larks defeated them, 13-7, last Monday but in 32 games this season they have won 17 tilts.

Johnny Haynes Is Quick Kayo Winner

Johnny Haynes, 225, topnotch Los Angeles heavyweight, and fast becoming the terror of the heavier boys, added another scalp to his rapidly growing knockout list, by chilling Robin (Tiny) Lee, 248, in the second round of the scheduled 10-round main event at the Olympic Tuesday night.

Johnny opened a cut over Lee's right eye in the first heat with a left hook and then after 1m. 25s. of the second stanza, while the 6000 customers gasped, Haynes lowered a terrific right on the jaw of the Minneapolis boy and draped him over the ropes where he was counted out by Referee Benny Whitman. Haynes was the 1-8 favorite.

The six-round semi-windup was a sizzling affair with Frisco James, 179, dropping Billy McClure, 195, for a count of eight in the fourth and going on to catch McClure on points and draw down a handy decision.

Results of the fours: Acey Haynesworth, 176, t.k.o.'d Roland Spencer, 178, (fourth round); Jack Glover, 205, t.k.o.'d Bob Owens, 182 (second); Emery Jackson, 158, dec. Johnny Meyer, 158; Henry Rich, 163, dec. Johnny Knox, 167.

Vic Grupico, 138, San Francisco, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Jimmy Joyce, 135½, Gary, Ind., last Friday night in the main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium. Charley Randolph refereed the main event and because of Joyce's continuing rough tactics after being warned several times to fight clean, recommended to Chief Inspector Willie Ritchie that Joyce be penalized $50. Ritchie said that it should be $500 and Judge Johnny Indrisano said that Joyce's license should be taken up.

Eddie Prince, 136, scored a fifth round t.k.o. in the scheduled six-round semi-windup over Gene Joyce, 137, brother of Jimmy.

In one of the fours, Spencer Coleman, 152, dropped a decision to Georgie Fields, 153½.

COSMOS CLUB TO SPONSOR EUGENE GASH

The up-and-coming Cosmos Club listened to member Don Barksdale at their last meeting when he told them that this humble writer had asked that the club sponsor Eugene Gash, noted young American concert pianist, here in concert. The response was 100% that the club sponsor Mr. Gash in his local debut. The pianist resides in San Francisco. Plans are now being completed to present Mr. Gash in one of the finest affairs of that kind ever staged in Los Angeles. The Cosmos members have consented to serve as ushers at the concert also, which will lend dignity to the occasion. The concert will be held either Sunday, July 21, or on the following Sunday, July 28. Newest songwriter to hit Tin Pan Alley is Lucille Boone who writes songs during spare time on her job as powder room maid in a New York night club. Walter Winchell commented favorably on her hit tune "Put Your Brakes on Papa."

Won Acclaim For Part in Play 'Deep Are The Roots'

Jessie Grayson, identified for several years with fine motion picture performances in California, has returned to the city and her home on New Hampshire street, after a smashing success in the stage triumph "Deep Are the Roots."

Mrs. Grayson left for New Haven, Conn. in December of 1945 where she rehearsed for one month to play the part of Bella Charles in the play being cast as the mother of Brett Charles (Henry Scott). The play opened in that city in January and immediately won wide acclaim. "Deep Are the Roots" is a thought-provoking play and had in its cast three sepia performers and eight white. After a successful run at the Shubert theatre in New Haven, the play moved to several major cities, playing Hartford, Conn., two weeks in Boston, two weeks in Toronto, Canada, back to Buffalo, N. Y., thence to Rochester, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and finally a record eight weeks in Chicago at the Selwyn theatre. Mrs. Grayson came here direct from the Windy City after the play closed.

RETURNS TO CITY—Fresh from winning well-deserved plaudits for her major part in the successful stage play "Deep Are the Roots," Mrs. Jessie Grayson returned to her Los Angeles home recently for a rest after which she will resume her work in motion pictures or possibly accept another stage offer later this summer.

The New Haven Journal said of Mrs. Grayson's work; "Jessie Grayson as Bella Charles, the lieutenant's mother, is given one of the best roles in the play and handles it admirably. Her presence on the stage was generally the signal for some excellent dialogue."

After resting for a bit Mrs. Grayson, who was selected for "Deep Are the Roots," because of her excellent work in motion pictures, may accept film roles in Hollywood. There is a possibility that the play may be resumed after June, however, and if it is Mrs. Grayson will probably be called to again take her part which she played so magnificiently.

Count Basie is penning a "Royal Suite" in three movements to present as a highlight in his Aug. 30 concert at N. Y.'s Carnegie Hall.

Record News And Reviews

For the first time in record history, two of the foremost figures in jazz, Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington, appear together on wax. The occasion for this momentous double-feature musical combination is RCA Victor's album of "Esquire's All American" Hot Jazz, in which is heard one of the greatest groups of instrumentalists ever assembled. In addition to Armstrong and Ellington, the talent on these four twelve-inch sides includes Esquire's 1946 award winners Don Byas, Jimmy Hamilton, Johnny Hodges, Chubby Jackson, Red Norvo, Remo Palmieri, Charlie Shavers and Billy Strayhorn.

"Tippin' In" was one of Erskine Hawkins' greatest smash record hits, a genuine jukebox favorite. This waxed whimsy in jump tempo, which painted a musical picture of an errant spouse "Tippin' In" to his house in the wee sma' hours, shoes in hand, now has a sequel, "Sneakin' Out." The flip-over, "That Wonderful Worrisome Feeling," a haunting blues, features vocalist Ruth Christian.

Sy Oliver, whose brilliant arrangements are a feature of Tommy Dorsey's band, is heard on Tee Dee's latest recording, "Sweet Eileen," singing the vocal. Sy's husky, intimate type of vocalizing has won wide favor with swing fans, and his rendition of this new Phil Moore tune hits a happy lyrical groove.

Big Maceo, who has an ever-popular, rough and low-down style, is heard once more in another pair of his blues originals, "Big Road Blues" and "Won't Be a Fool No More." Both these sultry songs have a steady beat at the Maceo keyboard and spirited support from Tampa Red, guitar, and Charles B. Saunders, drums.

Now Playing at United Artists

"A Walk in the Sun," now playing at United Artists theatre, 933 So. Broadway, is a tightly woven story of one platoon, the Lee platoon of the Texas division, and that platoon's first half day in the Salerno beach area. But more than a war theme, this is the story of the individuals who make up the platoon. The second feature is "Rendezvous 24."

'Carmen' Set at Hollywood Bowl

For the lavish production of "Carmen" which opens Hollywood Bowl's silver jubilee season of Symphonies under the Stars July 9 and 10, Antonio Triana and Lola Montez, well known Spanish dancers, will do the exciting gypsy dances.

GAMUT GIRL

Esther Williams will really run the gamut of sport clothes in her next movie, "This Time For Keeps."

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer swimming star will wear 12 suits designed for different types of active sports, ranging from the latest, Irene-designed ski clothes to scanty bathing suits!

Children's Play Scores Hit; Celia McNeely Coached Cast

With mingled flickerings of expressions denoting fear, horror, exasperation, disappointment, pride and finally triumph, Celia McNeely watched her troupe of Busy Bee-Z youngsters, ranging in ages from the very young to about twelve years, go through an original two-act play, "Sally's Spring Party," and windup with an inspiring fashion show and the crowning of their queen before an appreciative audience last Sunday afternoon at 1915 W. 35th Place.

Little 8-year-old Yvonne Ladner as the serious-faced star carried off her part with the savoir faire of an old trouper while the rest of the cast, including the two well-trained sons of the producer and director, were good in spots, with the good spots outnumbering the bad.

Lynne Shifflett, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shifflett of East 58th Drive, served as the smiling hostess for the occasion.

Mrs. McNeely is much to be commended for investing her patience and time in the training of these children. A lot more of Celia McNeelys in this city would serve as an adequate brake in early youth to curb juvenile delinquency in later years. Perhaps her play wasn't a Broadway production but it was something to warm the hearts of those who watched the response of the children to her coaching. There were many parents bursting with pride who sat in on "Sally's Spring Party" last Sunday and I suppose that constituted sufficient reward for the civic-minded Celia McNeely.

Cleveland Center For Negro Artists

The largest single group of producing Negro artists hails from Cleveland's Karamu House—one of America's most unique community centers.

Karamu's drama group, the Gilpin Players, has been called by Theatre Arts Magazine "the greatest single democratizing force in the community." As described by Carol Hughes in the July Coronet, Cleveland's cradle of talent has for 25 years worked to develop the abilities of the Negro race.

Cab Calloway, Pearl Bailey and the Charioteers opened at the Zanzibar in New York City Tuesday night.

Ceele Burke's Orchestra Features Cuban and Swing Music at Alabam

Ceele Burke's Afro-Cuban orchestra is now featured each evening at the Club Alabam. The finest rhumba rhythm and the sweetest swing music is what Ceelee offers. Curtis Mosby, genial owner of Club Alabam, strives always to bring the best to the eastside for his faithful patrons.

Princess Starletta, Tonga Boola and De Cou are holding audiences spellbound with their tribal interpretations of dance.

Ruby Peters, singing popular tunes; Jo-Jo Adams torching those soul stirring blues numbers; and Jesse Cryer, National Recording Artist, thrills beyond words with his unusual talent.

There is a line up of eight dancing girls (new faces) that swing, rick and leap with sensational rhythm backing up each number. Speaking of dancers, don't miss the act of Booker Washington, he is fast stealing the title of "the best in taps."

Tune in each evening except Sunday and Tuesday and listen to the famous radio announcer, Joe Adams, over KXLA when he presents Ceelle and the Cuban Orchestra and a portion of the show from 12 midnight to 12:30. It's the Club Alabam for the best in shows either for private or club parties. Make reservations by calling AN. 15488 and ask for that genial Host Oklen Levy. Two floor shows nightly at 10:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m.

DOUBLY WONDERFUL!—Starring in the first dual role of her career, Bette Davis contributes a new cinematic triumph in Warner Bros. "A Stolen Life," opening Friday, June 28, at Warners Hollywood, Downtown and Wiltern theatres. Glenn Ford and Dane Clark, pictured with Miss Davis, are featured in the production which tells the dramatic story of twins falling in love with the same man.

Top Negro Ballet Dancer to Direct Dances for RKO Film

By JOHN M. LEE

NEW YORK—A full-fledged Ballet Master with the poetically beautiful dances of the record-breaking production of Carmen Jones to attest to his ability, is the distinction that lithe, athletic Sheldon B. Hoskins enjoys at the moment. Comes July, and he will have added the medium of motion pictures to his achievements, for at that time he will travel to Hollywood to stage, originate, supervise and direct some special dances for a picture at RKO.

Hoskins, who just recently overwhelmed the devotees of the dance and music in Baltimore with a recital that set a new high in talent, wears his laurels at the nation's only Negro Ballet Master with charming simplicity. He has worked hard and studied zealously, having begun his training with George White in Philadelphia when he was a mere youngster.

Charles Coleman plays his 237th butler role in Warner Bros.' comedy, "Never Say Goodbye"!

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

At Hollywood Park we take off our hats to Honeymoon, the only California bred filly ever to win over $100,000. If she continues to stay sound during the rest of the season she will become the greatest money winning filly of California bred horses. Owned by movie man, L. B. Mayer, Honeymoon will start in the $50,000 Hollywood Derby to be run on July 13 and probably in the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup July 27. Should she win both races she will go over the $200,000 mark.

Honeymoon is trained by the jockey who rode for this writer at the old Tijuana track. Principle question is whether she can carry her speed 1¼ miles in the Gold Cup and beat older horses of different sex? Time alone will tell.

Al Wesson, popular ace publicity director, has put Hollywood Park on the map as never before. Over $2,000,000 will be distributed to horsemen for the summer season.

This Saturday the Haggin stakes with $25,000 added for 2-year-olds at six furlongs will be run.

At the Hipodromo De Tijuana last Sunday the fans witnessed twelve fine races and watched Johnny X run five furlongs in the record breaking time of 58 and three-fifths. He paid $13 for two. Until this Sunday at the Hipodromo, keep smiling. So long.

—GEORGE.

musical world through the Negro spirituals.

"But something has happened to the Negroes in America," he lamented. "They are turning toward Communism. They are going Red."

Then he asserted he had heard a Negro truck-driver curse a policeman and a Negro woman call a motorman in a street car al kinds of foul names.

"The Negroes are becoming so inflamed and so agitated they are liable to break loose any minute," he moaned. "It makes me heartsick every time I read The EAGLE, or The Sentinel, or The Courier. Every incident is exaggerated. The Negro preachers are turning towards Communism. At a recent meeting in the Colored YMCA Negro preachers read paper after paper praising Russia and saying more about Joe Stalin than about the Lord Jesus Christ."

DISLIKES THE EAGLE

He paid a very spacial compliment to The California EAGLE and its publisher by saying, "That Charlotta Bass sheet ought to be thrown into the garbage can," and quoted as the "height of the preposterous" a statement in a feature article, Russia and The Anglo-American Bloc, by Cyril Briggs, Managing Editor of The EAGLE that, "The domination of the world by an Anglo-American bloc with its concepts on race would be a major catastrophe."

Perkins placed "full responsibility upon God Almighty" for creating the Negro race different from the white race.

"The Negro's skull is thicker," he asserted. "His lips are thicker, his hair is different, and he has different characteristics altogether. You are challenging God's indestructable law when you try to mix the races." He quoted from Genesis to show that God "made everything after his kind," and this law should not be changed.

Bob Kenny, Phil Connally, and other liberal leaders Rev. Perkins called "mad dogs that ought to be chained." He said members of the Communist party "are Red crawling maggots that are infesting the body politic of America" and should be driven out of the country.

Perkins took great comfort in the last primary election, and said it showed the trend of America was away from the Roosevelt New Deal, which he said was "the most undemocratic thing in the world" and predicted the day was coming when "it will no longer be popular to talk about Russia in America."

McCLANAHAN ALSO RANTS

Meade McClanahan, who was recently ousted from the City Council by the citizens of the 13th councilmanic district, was a guest of honor at the meeting and was greeted with applause as a martyr to the cause of "free speech." He whined briefly about The California EAGLE publishing "extreme statements," and declared the majority was being persecuted by the minority groups. He admitted that he had tried to hire halls for Gerald L. K. Smith, although during the recall campaign he maintained he had not done so. He said he tried to rent the Olympic auditorium, but it was refused him.

Next Sunday Perkins will speak on "Does the Bible teach that God has a Master Race?"

certain members of the council with "stalling." He pointed out that three sections of the resolution had been adopted by the council and that the whole thing was hanging fire because they were wasting time on adopting the last section, which calls for the stepping up of workers' in pay when they operate more dangerous and more different equipment.

Councilman Bennett, acting on the various changes which the discussions suggested, offered a substitute Minority Report to cover the section of the resolution which had not been adopted.

Councilman Rassmussen was sharply criticized by Councilman Harby for championing a rezoning petition. Councilman Harby accused the Planning Committee, of which Councilman Rassmussen is a member, "of some very funny doings."

Las Vegas News

By VERLENE STEVENS

The oldest living resident of Las Vegas is Mrs. Parmalee Tigner. Mrs. Tigner, it was revealed, was born January 6, 1841, in Richland, Parish, La. A daughter of slaves, she grew up under that regime. The 105 years of her life have been lived simply and quietly. She has no criticism of the younger generation, for her own family have been law-abiding and respected citizens. She has no theories regarding longevity.

Mrs. Tigner is the mother of four sons, with only one of them still living. He is Rev. N. W. Tigner, retired minister, now employed at Henderson. Active in Democratic politics, he recently made the trip by air with other delegates to the Ely Convention. Rev. Tigner is the father of five children: Mrs. Jeanette Carr, Las Vegas; Alec Tigner, Kansas City; Mrs. Harry Jackson, and Mrs. Mary Jones both of Los Angeles; Mrs. Minnie Lee Estes, Louisiana. There are two great grandchildren, Miss Juanita Jordan of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, and Mrs. Dessie B. Roberts, Las Vegas.

The concert sponsored by the Methodist men of Zion Methodist church, was a success. Juanita James has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice, and will rise to take her place with Dorothy Maynor and Marian Anderson.

Miss James stays in Ogden, Utah, June, from there she goes to Chicago and will continue to other points east. William Stevens was at his best at the piano.

Miss H. Scott, assistant supervisor of the Westside USO, has been transferred to San Francisco, where she will continue her duties. Miss Scott will long be remembered by the youth of the Westside, for her one interest was planning activities for them.

Calif.-Arizona Conference sponsors Sam Huston college, visited and sang in First Methdist church, Las Vegas, last Sunday, on their way to the coast. Assails Use of Food as Weapon

NEW YORK—"Lasting peace cannot be attained if food is used as a political weapon or if the atomic bomb is held over the heads of the peoples of the world as a military threat," Elmer A. Benson, chairman of the executive council of the National Citizens Political Action Committee, said this week.

Benson assailed "the stream of excuses" being given for the administration's failure to meet food needs abroad "or to live up even to our UNRRA commitments." He challenged official claims that the world food crisis struck without warning, accused the administration of "piddling around with the Hoover-Anderson 'Eat-Less' plan," instead of taking effective measures to check the spread of famine.

"We can win the fight against famine if we choose to do so," he said, "and the only conclusion we can come to, after looking over the record is that some of our officials have not chosen to do so.

"The world food crisis is a political crisis. We must either maintain the Roosevelt policy of Big-Three unity to write a lasting peace or follow the Churchill policy of an Anglo-American alliance to strengthen the British empire and to prepare for another world war. The first course requires that we make good on our promise of 'freedom from hunger' and that we increase our stockpiles of food, while the second requires that we draft more young men into the army and add to our stockpiles of atomic bombs."

The National Citizens PAC supports the first course, he added.

Congress Readies New Anti-Labor Bills

Sneak tactics and gumshoeing surround six pieces of anti-labor legislation, which congress is quietly pushing along with the hope of a successful finesse over the voters.

As quiet as it's kept, President Truman's strikebreaking bill (HR 6578, S 2255) is still full of life, with the house and the senate reaching almost complete accord on the matter.

The ancient Hobbs bill, which would impose fines up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to 20 years on persons interfering by "robbery or extortion" or by "threats of violence" with movement of goods in interstate commerce, was dusted off and is now on the senate floor. This bill was designed to be twisted for use against strikers.

To ward off inflation the President must veto the OPA bill as it stands with is camouflaged crippling amendments.

Here is a sleeper. The Wagner act has been threatened by the Elliot rider, passed by the house and sent to the senate, excluding from the rights of the Wagner act all workers defined as "agricultural" in the social security act. This is a blow aimed directly at thousands of fruit and vegetable workers and opens the door wider for more attacks against larger groups of workers.

Another sleeper is the Ball-Russell rider which forbids payment of salaries to federal employes belonging to any organization which claims the right to strike against the government.

The Andrews bill, HR 6035 and S 2140, would bar workers fired under illegal super-seniority from getting lost pay. This one was sneaked through the house and is now before the senate.

has said is infiltrated with Klansemen.

Asked if he considered the Klan a threat to Los Angeles citizens, Reed said, "I have no evidence the Klan committed any of the acts."

Gertrude Stoughton, reporter, told the chief that she and other witnesses had heard Le Roy Burke, a police officer, openly state, "Sure, I recruit for the Klan" as he was patrolling his beat in Pershing Square.

"I have taken no action against Burke," Reed said.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Editor-Publisher of The California EAGLE, in reply to Chief Reed's assertion he had not received any evidence to work on, cited an organization which holds meetings at the Embassy auditorium to spread Klan racist doctrines. Mrs. Bass suggested that the police department investigate this organization for possible Klan connections.

Further action to force legal action against the Klan will be a "Peoples' Lobby" day at City Hall on Tuesday, July 2, when scores of Los Angeles citizens are scheduled to meet with the police commission, the district attorney said the city council, according to William Bidner. Councilman John Roden will present a resolution before the city council requesting the police and fire commissions to begin an immediate inquiry into the status of Klan investigation.

"Every Los Angeles citizen interested in preserving peace and decency in this city is invited to be part of this peoples' lobby," Bidner said. We're going to keep on demanding action against the Klan until we see some results."

Legion Urges Gov't Aid to Negro Vets

INDNANAPOLIS, Ind.—A resolution urging the government to provide adequate schooling and on-the-job training facilities for Negro World War II veterans has been adopted here by the national committee of the American Legion. Implied in the wording of the resolution was Legion support for the traditional jimcrow set-up.

Following submission of proof by the department executive committee of Missouri that repeated requests to the Veterans Administration to use funds on hand for rehabilitation training of Negro veterans had gone unheeded, the Legion's governing body unanimously adopted the following:

"Be it resolved, that the government be requested to provide adequate training facilities for these veterans in the same manner that it provided camps and cantonments during the recent World War."

Paul M. Marshall, militant and dynamic pastor of the church, has arranged an impressive service for young men, in which the Hi-Y boys will play an important part.

Sharing in this service by the Altruist Hi-Y club marks the beginning of a campaign designed to inject greater religious emphasis in the club program of the branch, through participation in other community church activities.

Thursday evening, July 11, at 8:30 p.m. in the main sanctuary of the People's Independent Church of Christ, the Cathedral Choir will present its fourth annual festival of music. The music department of the historic church is known for its unusual presentations of the finest in sacred and secular music. This year the department will feature the new singing aggregation known professionally as the Albert McNeil Octette, a new male glee club; harpist Eleanor Simpson, pianist Gloria Roberts; a Hollywood dramatist who will feature poems by Negro poets; a popular young baritone recently discharged from the service, and the Cathedral Choir of fifty voices. The choir will be under the direction of Albert John McNeil, assisted by Fannie Evelyn Benjamin, church organist for many years.

The same aggregation will present Mendelssohn's oratorio "Hymn of Praise" in the late fall.

DR. ZETAR SAYS:

Our methods attack the basic cause of many common ailments. Backache and joint pains and most of the rheumatics, such as neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, arthritis, neuralgia and sciatica, etc., are due to joint distortions or toxemia, therefore, unless the basic cause of these ailments are treated only temporary relief can be accomplished.

It is no illusion with me after years of successful practice, but it is a scientific fact, based on exact observation and correct thinking that Chiropractic treatments do bring wonderful results, especially in the rheumatics, joint-distortions, nerve and circulatory disorders and most of the gastro-intestinal ailments; also Dr. Zetar has specialized in the correction of Foot Disabilities for many years, so if you are in need of FOOT COMFORT, why suffer, when there are tried and proven methods of treatments to help you. You will not go wrong to consult us on these problems.

LOVE

There are three precious words—faith, hope and love—but the greatest of these is love. Faith is but the beginning, hope looks forward to the end, but love fills up all the space between.

True love never snatches; this sacred emotion never goes to law courts, nor does it contend violently for its rights. Rather, it is continually giving, doing good and bringing happiness to those who walk in its path. People who seem to have no love in their hearts for their fellowmen are to be pitied, and the mean things they do, forgiven.

Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column for many years and find it just as interesting now as when I first started. I get a great deal of information from your topics, which are so timely and helpful. I trust you will always continue this kind of work, to help those who need it so badly. Sincerely yours, M.W.

S.H.C.—Does he really want to marry me?

Answer: Probing into the matter I find that this young man P.K. is very fond of you, but sometimes he feels that he is not ready to marry yet because of financial matters. You are both quite young, and it might be a good plan to wait at least another six months.

W.P.—I left some things at a lady's house and I didn't get them all back; will I get my things?

Answer: It seems to me that the only thing that was missing was a spread, which I am sorry to say I don't vision your getting. Through no fault of this person's it was lost in handling.

T.M.B.—Will I have any children?

Answer: Because of the nature of your question I suggest you write in for a private reply.

L.D.F.—I am suspicious of several people. Are they trying to make trouble for me?

Answer: Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet Indicate a change in your luck and these people you have in mind will not be able to do you any harm.

F.M.B.—I am a constant reader of your column and I enjoy it very much. Will you please answer this question for me. Will I receive the money I am expecting?

Answer: Probing into the matter I find that you are destined to receive a sum of money in the near future, and it will probably be that which you have been expecting.

B.R.—Should I marry this man?

Answer: Concentrating upon your question I find that marriage to the man in question would prove satisfactory, as you are both in love with each other and would make a nice couple.

M.K. — Will I be able to go back to school?

Answer: I feel that you will be able to attend school this fall and enjoy all of the benefits and fun that the others will have, look forward to this.

AT LAST, A HOME

Viveca Lindfors, the great Swedish star recently imported by the Warner Bros., and who has been house-hunting since arriving in Hollywood several weeks ago, has finally obtained an abode by agreeing to take care of the owner's pup—a huge St. Bernard!

N. W.—I have been reading your column for sometime and find it both interesting and helpful. Would you please help me with this problem. Will I be successful in my undertakings?

Ans.—According to your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet your luck is going to change and you will be able to carry out your plans and find happiness and success.

Mrs. J. F. M.—Will I receive the money I am supposed to get?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals a sum of money coming to you in the very near future. I suggest you handle this money carefully and save all that you can, for the future reveals a time when it will be needed. So act wisely when you get it.

Mrs. E. M. A.—Will he ever come back?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, I find that your husband had no intentions of remaining away from you and the baby any length of time. He is trying to find employment that will be successful so that he can send for you.

C. McD.—Will I marry the man I am interested in?

Ans.—It appears to me that marriage will enter your life within the next six months. I vision your being very happy. I am sorry that I was unable to answer your question sooner, but due to the limited amount of space in the column it is very hard to answer all of the questions at the time they come to me.

R. T.—Dear Prof. Herman: I have had my book With God All Things Are Possible for two weeks and have read it through twice. It has certainly proven a help to me. Thanks again for recommending this wonderful book to me. I am telling my friends about it also.

J. T.—Do you think my husband will send for me?

Ans.—Probing into the matter I find that your husband will probably return home soon, for he was somewhat disappointed in the situation and feels that it would not profit him to remain there.

J. W. B.—Will we be successful in obtaining a permit to build soon?

Ans.—It seems to me that you will be able to obtain this permit in the very near future. The only trouble you might have is in getting material and labor to build this building you have in mind.

W. S.—Will everything come off as I have planned?

Ans.—Yes, your wedding will be a success and it will be quite an event because of the various details you are carrying out.

Grand Jury Warns Of Contractor Racket

Los Angeles homebuilders this week were warned in a county grand jury report to investigate before making advance payments to contractors who promise that they can supply critical materials to complete construction of homes.

The report pointed out that the money so advanced becomes the property of the contractor "absolutely and unconditionally," with a long drawn-out civil suit for breach of contract being the only recourse.

Rents, Prices Skyrocket As Price Controls Lifted

By CYRIL BRIGGS

The American people this week were confronted with a grim picture of rapidly spiralling prices marked by almost astronomical increases in rents, as manufacturers, wholesalers, retail stores and landlords moved in for the kill within a few hours of the suspension of price controls.

Reports from across the nation indicated that the foes of OPA lost no time in exploiting their victory, hiking prices after the expiration of the price control act at midnight Sunday. At the same time they released a barrage of siren propaganda intended to lull the rising anger of the public "assurances" and "pledges" that business would exercise "self-restraint," while pen prostitutes on the more reactionary daily papers cooked up figures to "show" that prices "remained stable despite the death of OPA."

WHY THE VETO

The government's price, rent and wage controls died by benefit of congress which at the eleventh hour sent to the White House a spurious price control bill which President Truman vetoed on the grounds that the badly crippled OPA measure merely offered a choice between "inflation with a statute and inflation without one."

Had he signed the bill, Truman said, the people of the country would think they had a workable price control law but would soon come to a "bitter realization" of the truth.

"It is only fair to tell them the fact now," he said.

Rents led in the sprint to an inflationary boom and bust such as followed World War I, with an early increase in food prices indicated by huge mark-ups by manufacturers and wholesalers.

RENTS UPPED 300%

In Los Angeles, landloards had handed out notices of intent to raise rents as much as 100 per cent, according to City Councilman George H. Moore. Tenants trooped into the local OPA rent "control" office at 1037 S. Broadway all day Monday with stories of notices raising rents from such figures as $30 and $40 to $90 and $100 and from $55 to $155 a month.

One man said his landlady had slipped a typed memo under his door Sunday night, upping his apartment rent from $52.50 to $150 a month.

At Laguna Beach, Calif., Ted Hodges, a white newspaperman, had his rent raised from $35 a month to $10 a day, or $300 a month.

At Indianapolis, Ind., tenants who had been paying $45 monthly were told the rent was $150 a month, effective July 1.

A Miami Park owner of an apartment hotel hiked rents threefold and abolished maid and linen service.

One large Wilshire blvd. apartment hotel served its guests with eviction notices. The owner of a duplex in Hollywood announced an increase from $75 a month to $125.

The Beverly Oil Co., owner of a string of studio apartments, jacked up rents from $50 to $60 for singles and doubles, respectively, to $200 and $250 monthly. So much for the "self-restraint" of the nation's landlords.

DOLLAR NOSE DIVE

Housewives got another ominous warning of how the American dollar, already worth less than 59 cents, was taking another nose dive when the federal government disclosed how wholesale prices skyrocketed on the very first day without price controls.

Leonard M. Kearns, chief of the food price section of the bureau of labor statistics, after receiving quotations from all over the country, issued a report showing sharp rises in prices which are not yet reflected in the retail stores.

When the retail price mark-up is added, the figures will be even higher.

Kern's figures showed increases of 10 to 12 cents in the price of fryers and broilers; 10 to 20 cents for butter, 8 to 10 cents for dressed beef, pork up 4 to 6 cents.

Oranges, bananas, cheese, milk, and canned goods all joined the parade.

Prices of live hogs soared to $20—the highest in 27 years; the first $2 wheat since 1925 was reported at Chicago and an alltime $22 high for cattle, compared to last week's $18 OPA ceiling.

Similar advances were reported in wool and cotton futures, certain to be translated in increased clothing prices if price controls are not re-established by congress.

In some cases of price increases already reported, Black Market prices for the same commodities were surpassed.

In vetoing the spurious OPA bill passed by congress, President Truman called upon the congress to extend OPA powers for two or three weeks while a new bill is drafted by congress. The house on Monday voted an extension to July 20 by a vote of 283 to 61, but senate foes of price controls have blocked action in that chamber.

Meantime, Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican leader and arch foe of OPA, threatened that "the bill which the President will

CITY COUNCIL GETS RESOLUTION ASKING POLICE ACTION TO HALT KLAN ATTACKS

Eastside Aroused by New Wave of Assault Cases Early This Week

On a city-wide scale crime has subsided to the usual number of petty thefts, robberies and minor burglaries but Eastside citizens were alarmed this week over the increasing number of rapes in this community.

Three such cases have been reported to Newton Street police, who have already made two arrests.

On Tuesday night, shortly after midnight police answered a call at 1313 E. 22nd st. where it was reported that a man was beating a woman. When police arrived they were met by Mrs. Mary Williams, landlady, who told them that a man was beating a woman in he rear yard.

They proceeded to the rear to a chicken coop where they discovered Ernest Daniels, 23, laborer, 926 E. 31st st., leaning over Miss Mary Reed, 1312 E. 22nd st., lying on her back on the floor, her face covered with blood and her dress up around her waist with her undergarments torn off. Police said that Daniels was naked from the waist down and that he had blood on his hands and on his face.

Daniels was arrested on the spot and an ambulance was called for Miss Reed who was unable to make a statement.

Bilbo, Rankin Winners In Mississippi Primary; Negro Vote Challenged

JACKSON, Miss.—Sen. Theo G. Bilbo, who campaigned on a white supremacy platform, had a majority of a few hundred votes over his four opponents as The EAGLE went to press. More than three-quarters of the state's had been tabulated at that hour from Mississippi's first state-wide [illegible] while the constitutionally guaranteed franchise of Negro citizens was legally recognized, although widely challenged by the terroristic methods of Bilbo and his supporters.

Bilbo's lead over his four opponents was 771 yesterday noon, contrasting with a peak of 3706 the night before. Unless the combined opposition of his four opponents can overcome that lead, pile up a majority between them, Bilbo will stand re-elected.

Should the opposition overcome his lead, a run-off would be necessary, with Tom Q. Ellis, his leading opponent, contesting the final election with the hate merchant. Latest tabulations showed Ellis with 54,270 votes as against Bilbo's 86,704.

In the first congressional district, Rep. John E. Rankin, another hate merchant and a leading member of the un-American committee of the

Lawyers Guild Protests State Bar's Recognition Of Jimcrow L. A. Outfit

SAN FRANCISCO—The National Lawyers Guild this week protested plans of the Conference of State Bar Delegates to seat the delegates from the Los Angeles Bar Association while the latter continues to exclude Negro and other racial minority members of the State Bar from its membership. The conference meets at Coronado in September.

In a letter to Edwin R. Heafey of Oakland, chairman of the conference, the Lawyers Guild demanded that certification of the Los Angeles Bar Association be withdrawn on the ground that on its own statement, the Los Angeles group is no longer a "bar association."

Bay City Rents Hit Dizzy Height

SAN FRANCISCO—Rent increases in this city since last Monday range from 10 to 500 per cent, with an average of 35 per cent, a survey by the OPA reveals.

The survey also showed a dizzy increase in general prices, with food jobbers quoting butter at 85 cents a pound, milk 21 cents a quart, cheese at 11 to 14 cents over OPA ceilings.

Prices of wholesale meat revealed an even greater jump and are certain to be reflected soon in retail shops.

Meat Prices Up 50 Percent

Wholesale meat prices yesterday soared to approximately 50 per cent over OPA ceilings.

At a meeting of packers, wholesalers and retailers, it was agreed that the increase should be passed on to the consumers.

Mother, Seven Children Face Eviction by City

With tre 15 per cent increase granted to landlords by the city council, many people will find it harder to stretch their meager earnings but Mrs. Mary V. DeRouen, 2306 Griffith ave., with seven children and her mother-in-law to support, has been having a tough struggle right along. Now she faces eviction from her store front home by the city health department with not even a room to move into.

Mrs. DeRouen, who has been ill since the birth of her last child a few months ago, has appealed to the housing authority and every other agency, but she

Mobilization, CIO, Other Groups Urge Council Adopt Roden Motion

The city council's police and fire committee yesterday took under advisement a council resolution calling for concerted police investigation of incidents attributed to the Ku Klux Klan.

The resolution, presented by Councilman John R. Roden, called for investigation to determine what action has been taken by law enforcement agencies to prevent and prosecute cross burnings, threats to lives and homes and the destruction of property "in a well directed attempt to promote racial and religious bigotry."

At hearings on the resolution Tuesday, representatives of the Mobilization for Democracy, the CIO and other organizations urged the committee to report favorably on the resolution.

Officers of the Public Affairs Forum and the People's Lobby criticized the proponents of the resolution as "enemies of democracy," and called the incidents "in all probability imaginary, or pranks of school children."

The resolution also calls for a special police detail to investigate all Klan-type incidents, and probing of "restrictive covenant organizations through a coordinated program including the state attorney general, the district attorney and sheriff's office."

Dying FEPC Warns Truman: Postwar Job Bias Revival Menaces U. S., World Peace

WASHINGTON—With its expiring breath the Fair Employment Practices Committee warned President Truman that since V-J Day the war-won industrial gains of Negro, Mexican-American and Jewish workers were "being dissipated through an unchecked revival of discriminatory practices."

In its final report, the agency which died at midnight June 30, said that discrimination extends even to war veterans in these minority groups. It warned that dire consequences might follow a failure to eliminate it completely.

"This denial of equal opportunities, if allowed to become permanent cannot fail to create civic discord and to be a cause of embarrassment to the United States in its international relations," it said.

FEPC recalled that during the war the Axis cited instances of U. S. racial discrimination in its propaganda.

And today, it added, "our

Conference Stresses Growing Power of Negro Press, Need of Scholarships for New Recruits

By CARRIE MILLER

NEW YORK—With the motto, "People are reading the Negro press, let's make it worth their reading." a group of nearly 60 representatives of newspapers owned and published by Negroes from across the country, met recently in local hotel quarters for the purpose of discussing means of upholding the motto.

The Annual Conference of the Negro Newspapers-Publishers Association took into account its shortcomings and trends of progress.

A new wave of stress was applied to the fact that no longer is it safely acceptable to the reading public that the typical Negro reporter be a part-time minister, insurance collector, etc.

Another point at issue was the proposal that funds of money

San Diego Girl Drowns at Gay Beach Party

SAN DIEGO—Esterlyn Cheaves, popular daughter of one of San Diego's most prominent families, was drowned here this week during a gay party of young San Diego and Los Angeles socialities at Pacific beach.

The party had gone to the beach for an early afternoon swim. During their frolic in the water, a heavy rip-tide swept in from the sea and carried Miss Cheaves to her death. The group included Lena Torrence, daughter of Mrs. Irene Torrence of 2707 Raymond ave., Los Angeles.

Miss Cheaves was to have been married next month to Charles Picard, son of a prominent Washington, D. C. family. A graduate of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., she planned to return to Hampton after her marriage to join the faculty.

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

MANY letters have come to my desk answering Jennie Wainsworth's defense of the Ku Klux Klan vs the Reds.

It will not be possible to publish more than one of the answers in this issue in which, according to promise, I must explore the first chapter of the history of the Ku Klux Klan as we have it under such title in the United States.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, the present Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was organized in 1915 on Thanksgiving night on Stone Moutain, near Atlanta, Georgia, by William Simmons, a preacher.

From the Know-Nothing movement of 1846-50 it inherited opposition to the Roman Catholic Church; from the original Ku Klux Klan, its hatred of the Negro.

ITS first real growth occurred after World War I when the people were suffering from the hysteria of the conflict and its resultant economic crisis.

It readily appealed to all the bigots and hypocrites who dared not act openly, but used the Klan to settle private grudges with their neighbors as well as to strike at the Negro and other minority groups to gain, at their expense, political power and to open a way for graft.

The Klan gained its greatest strength in the South and Middle West. In 1922, 1924, and 1926 it began to decline, and rapid disintegration followed exposes of corruption, villainy, acts of violence, and political bribery in the organization. Following this last war it has again raised its ugly head.

THIS, briefly, is the history of the KKK.

In your letter, Mrs. Wainsworth, you ignore the lesson of the catastrophe that overtook the Herrenvolk, precisely because the rest of the world united with the (exception of Hitler's puppets and his Japanese and Italian allies) against the philosophy of a master race.

You also ignore the lesson of the Fifth Column. For instance, if Negro people were convinced that your racist ideas were representative of the majority of white people in this country, they would have no alternative but to turn to some other nation as their friend and ally. The relation of forces in this country has changed, however, since the Klan was first organized. The Negro is not alone today. He has powerful allies in the camp of labor, and among progressives.

ON the international front, too, the relation of forces has changed. Imperialism is being challenged as never before.

THE LETTER:

Dear Editor:

This is in response to your column "on the Sidewalk" in which Jennie Wainsworth attempted to answer the question "Who is the enemy of peace—the so-called "Reds," or the Ku Klux Klan?"

Here is your real answer, dedicated to Jennie Wainsworth, Rev. Perkins, Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, and all those who are still too stupid to realize that equality among races has now been gained.

I do not dare accuse the entire White Race of bigotry because a larger percentage of the White People are doing everything possible to help the Negro Race advance.

SO FAR as the Negro Race being treated as the Jews in Germany . . . this is not Germany—and no matter how hard you and your kind of people try to make it the same as Germany, you will always be a failure and a disgrace to the race you represent.

God (that is if you can read) created all men equal. HE DID NOT MEAN FOR ONE RACE TO THINK ITSELF SUPERIOR TO OTHER RACES.

The Negro People are not afraid of being kicked around. This is the twentieth century. Getting into white sheets and veiling faces does not frighten anyone.

JENNIE WAINSWORTH speaks of the Whites not wanting Negroes to live in the same neighborhoods with White People. IF THE WHITES DON'T WANT TO LIVE IN THE NEIGHBORHOODS WITH THE NEGROES, LET THE WHITES MOVE ON AND KEEP MOVING ON!

The Negro editors of newspapers print the news. That is what they are for. They do not have to print "dope" to make the Negro People feel "happy and contented." Of that I am sure.

The Negro People will never listen to Gerald L. K. Smith, Senator Bilbo, and any other individuals with ideals such as theirs.

The more attention that is given to the subject of "EQUALITY OF RACES," the more your hopes fade of having a superior race in this country.

It is you and your kind that is getting the Negro people in a fighting mood, and you are doing a good job of it too.

NOTHING that is Communistic will ever die, but will live and burn brighter by the day. It is your ideals of superior race that will soon vanish completely.

Look about you, Jennie Wainsworth, and all you who are intoxicated with bigotry. You see Negro and White people and all other races working, playing, going to school, and living their lives together. You see Negro lawyers, physicians, editors, and workers, the same as those of the white race . . . and you see Negro soldiers of the U. S. Army . . . they too, have fought for this freedom that you and I enjoy.

It is as much the Negro's America as it is any other race's. They have helped to defend this country abroad, the same as they will defend their race from any other race that tries to gulp up this freedom of opportunity in a moment of selfishness and greed.

NEWS FLASHES

Erroneous reports and rumors that the 20 per cent federal luxury taxes on jewelry, cosmetics, furs, and luggage have been repealed were scouted by Collector of Internal Revenue Harry C. Westover, who declared today that these taxes are still in effect and that congress has indicated no repeal date. Retailers of these articles are warned to continue collecting the taxes.

Superior court judges are overwhelmingly in favor of increasing their number in Los Angeles county from 50 to 60, presiding Judge Dudley S. Valentine reported yesterday. A formal request to the next session of the State Legislature for creation of the ten additional $12,000 posts is being contemplated by the jurists, Judge Valentine said.

A strike vote was authorized this week by West Coast longshoremen if an agreement is not reached with water-front employers by Sept. 30 for a new contract.

From now to July 15, Los Angeles County taxpayers who feel that their tax bills are higher than they should be, may file a petition for a hearing before the county supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization. "Beefs" from taxpayers will be heard only if the amount levied is higher than that of similar property in the same class of locality.

Per capita tax levies in Los Angeles county for 1945-46 averaged $42.55 for each of the 3,534,000 people in the county on Jan. 1, 1946, California Taxpayers' ass'n., stated yesterday, reporting on the second section of its study of the property tax bill in California counties.

Picket lines were thrown around ten Hollywood film studies this week in a strike of four unions over failure of the Association of Motion Picture Producers to sign contracts covering wages, hours and working conditions.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Pfc. Francis Smith of California was one of 116 enlisted personnel at Lockbourne army air base to receive promotions this week. All grades are temporary and range from private first class to staff sergeant.

County Supervisor Raymond V. Darby announced yesterday in a statement to the Chamber of Commerce construction industries committee that 108,000 unemployment insurance checks were issued in May, that 95,000 persons were on relief in the county and that GI benefits were being extended to 60,000 veterans.

Job openings for construction examiners and valuators in both journeyman and junior grades, were announced this week by Walter O. Christian, manager of the 11th and Flower sts. office of the United States Employment Service.

Measles in epidemic proportions prevail in Los Angeles county with 556 cases reported for the week end Saturday, as compared with 546 the week before, Dr. Roy Gilbert, acting county health officer, revealed in his weekly report yesterday.

U. S. Voilates Pledge to Quit China Territory

WASHINGTON—The Truman Administration this week reneged on its promise to withdraw troops from China as soon as Japanese soldiers in that country had been repatriated, and at the same time charged Russia with faiulre to live up to the Postdam surrender terms for Japan.

The development followed ten days of bitter criticism of American policy in China by both the Chinese progressives and the Nationalists.

The charge against Russia involved the alleged failure of the USSR to repatriate Japanese soldiers who surrendered to the Red Army.

The State department at the same time revealed that the U.S. had completed the job of repatriating 1,000,000 Japanese soldiers who surrendered to Chinese nationalist forces, but added that American forces will be kept in China until "law and order" have been restored.

County Supervisors Reject Rent Control

A proposal by Supervisor Roger Jessup that the county counsel prepare an ordinance to control rents charged in unincorporated county territory was defeated yesterday with Supervisors John Anson Ford, Raymond V. Darby and Board Chairman William A. Smith voting against the measure.

Supervisor Leonard J. Roach was absent. Ford said he was in favor of rent control by the county government, but wanted the ordinance to include control of food prices. When Jessup failed to agree to this, Ford cast a "no" vote.

"If the county would adopt a thing of this sort, it would be nothing but a dictatorship," Supervisor Smith asserted.

Youth Twice Tries Suicide In County Jail

Vernon Taylor, 16 year old youth, of 4026 Morgan St., who is being held in the county jail on a violation of probation charge, tried for the second time to end his life, according to sheriff's Captain Charles Fitzgerald.

After an attempt several days ago to end his life by twisting towels around his neck, Taylor was transferred to another cell with older boys who were told to watch him. Early Saturday morning, Taylor looped a belt he had snatched from an older boy around his neck and then put it through the top of the cell. Holding on to the end of the belt with one hand, he jumped off a bunk.

Other inmates heard him struggling and notified the guards. He was treated by Dr. Marcus Crahan, who said he will recover.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT
Approves
1200-MILE GAS PIPELINE

ASSURES ADDITIONAL GAS SUPPLY FOR GROWING SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

On May 31, the Federal Power Commission approved construction of a Texas-California pipeline project to be completed at a cost of more than $70,000,000. Based on applications of Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Companies and El Paso Natural Gas Company, the project is to augment California's natural gas supply from the extensive reserves in Texas and New Mexico. To be completed for the Winter of 1947-48.

You and your 3,500,000 neighbors enjoy living standards set by Southern California's fabulous Horn of Plenty . . . a wealth of natural resources, a climate that is unsurpassed, a fuller, better way of life.

But as we grow, the demands on our resources are increasing steadily, and maintaining these standards is a challenge . . .

The continuance of a plentiful supply of natural gas, for example, is viral for our millions of homes and future development. The energy that natural gas already delivers to Southern California is tremendous; and our postwar building program has yet to start!

Future Supply

Southern California has met the challenge of the future with vision and daring enterprise:

Construction of a spectacular 1200-mile pipeline to transport a continuing supply of natural gas from the Mid-Continent Fields in Texas has now been fully approved by the California Railroad Commission and the Federal Power Commission. California gas companies will construct the portion of the line from the California border westwards, and the El Paso Natural Gas Company, which will supply the gas, will build the balance of the line.

Southern California is indeed fortunate in being able to tap the abundant reserves of the Mid-Continent Fields. The new project will put to use a large volume of gas now being wasted for lack of a market . . . and still greater reserves are available for future needs!

Big Project

This 1200-mile pipeline, crossing the Continental Divide, is to be one of Southern California's great engineering undertakings. It is the largest, long-distance gas transmission line ever built, with a pipeline measuring up to 30 inches in diameter!

The natural gas it is to transport would care for every home in the four metropolitan cities of Akron, San Antonio, Des Moines and Indianapolis combined. At its ultimate capacity, it will deliver the equivalent energy daily of 47,000 barrels of oil . . . or 189 carloads of coal . . . or three times the electrical energy produced by Boulder Dam.

Work Started

Preliminary work is under way: orders for the 258,000 tons of pipe have been placed; a survey of the 1200-mile route has nearly been completed.

Actual construction will provide more than 4,000,000 man-hours of work. It starts early this Fall and will be ready for the Winter of 1947-48.

The approval of this project, so vital to Southern California's future development, is a gratification we believe every home owner can share.

Unveils Bronze Plaque Honoring Memory of John Brown's Wife

At 11 a. m. today (Thursday) a bronze placque honoring the memory of Mary Day Brown, wife of John Brown, and the wives of his followers associated with him at Harper's Ferry, will be unveiled at the John Brown Farm at Lake Placid, New York.

This marks another step in the long succession of tributes paid to the memory of John Brown.

Organized in 1924, the John Brown Memorial Association, Inc., held as its objective the formation of a John Brown Cult, the making of annual pilgrimages to his grave, and the building of a monument to his memory.

In 1935 the association erected a bronze monument at the John Brown Farm, Town of North Elba; and in 1941 a glass and bronze covering was placed over the headstone of the grave to protect it from severe weather.

Indian Resistance Leaders in S. Africa Face Jail Sentences

NEW YORK—Cabled information to the Council on African Affairs from Indian sources in the Union of South Africa reveals that the government of that country is attempting to crush the passive resistance movement inaugurated there on June 13, in protest against discriminatory legislation, by the tactics of arresting the resistance leaders just as the British have done in India.

Dr. M. P. Naicker and Dr. M. D. Naidoo, president and secretary respectively, of the Natal Indian Congress, were among several Indians arested on June 21. All but these two leaders were discharged. They were remanded for sentence.

Durban in the Natal Province, where the majority of the 250,000 Indian residents of South Africa live, is the center of the passive resistance movement which has been launched by Indians joined by African and white supporters. Objective of the campaign is to secure abrogation of the Asiatic Land Tenure and Indian Representation Act, better known as the "ghetto bill," whereby the government of General Smuts aims to invoke property and land restrictions of a discriminatory character upon the Indian people similar to those under which the eight million Africans in the Union already suffer.

Camping in tents in so-called restricted areas, the Indian resisters have defied the law and continued to hold their ground despite nightly attacks by white hoodlums who, in one instance, set the tents on fire, and in another, caused the hospitalization of five Indians including one woman, and also despite repeated arrests of the Indians by police.

Non-Indian supporters of the resistance movement who have been arrested, include Rev. Michael Scott, a white minister of the Church of England. Rev. Scott was instrumental in organizing the Campaign for Right and Justice on behalf of Africans two years ago. He recently exposed the extent of the Africans' enslavement in the South African dominion by demonstrating that it was possible to purchase a black baby for $20.

The cable received by the Council quoted Dr. Naicker as stating, "No amount of hooliganism will stop our just struggle to vindicate our rights. We shall continue to resist."

5 GOP Solons Flout Congress Tribute to FDR

WASHINGTON—President Truman and members of congress paid tribute to the memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt on Monday, but even the brief and brief and solemn memorial services were not free from partisan politics.

As the Chief Executive and members of the two houses gathered in the house chamber for the joint memorial session, five Republican members pointedly remained in their senate seats on the opposite side of the Capitol.

Wife Asks Court To Jail Husband

"He beats me all the time, and I want him in jail."

So said good-looking Mrs. Mildred Surratt, 31, of 3718 Griffith ave., about her 35-year-old, husky husband, Asa, in municipal court this week. After defense attorney heard his client described as "brutal" for beating up his wife, blacking her eye and bruising her face, Judge Wilbur Curtis ordered the husband arraigned in superior court July 12.

According to police who arrived on the scene of the alleged beating last month, Surratt had been drinking when he got home and allegedly took out his wrath on his wife by beating her with his fists.

Action Conference, July 12, to Hear U. S. Agencies Report On Discrimination In Vets Program

NEW YORK — Reports from Washington agencies responsible for the administration of the G.I. Bill will have priority on the agenda of the National Action Conference on Minority Veterans Problems when it convenes' in New York City July 12. Called by the American Council on Race Relations, the conference is a follow-up on the national emergency conference which met in April.

Participation by more than 100 veterans' groups and civic organizations is expected at the conference, to be held at the Willkie Memorial Building, 20 West 40th st., to hear officials of federal agencies tell what progress, if any, has been made in the elimination of discrimination and inadequacies in the veterans' program. Representatives from national veterans' groups will discuss how their respective organizations are meeting the special problems of Negro, Japanese-American and other minority group veterans.

Women in the armed forces will be represented by former WAC Major Charity E. Adams, commanding officer of the only Negro WAC unit assigned for overseas duty; Lt. Harriet Pickens, one of the first three Negro women inducted into the WAVES, and Mrs. Estelle Massey Riddle, president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses.

Charles H. Houston, vice president of the American Council, will act as chairman of the conference.

"In addition to deciding the continuing action necessary, this conference will accomplish two important objectives," said A. A. Liveright, executive director of the American Council.

"First, it will show the degree to which government agencies have acted upon recommendations made to them by the special committee appointed at the last conference; and secondly, it will indicate clearly what position the various veterans' organizations will take with respect to the very urgent problems confronting minority group veterans," he concluded.

Rogers Blasts British Policy In Palestine

Stalling by the British government is reponsible for current bloodshed in Palestine, Will Rogers, co-chairman of the American League for a Free Palestine, stated in a telegram to President Truman. The Democratic nominee for U. S. senator from California urged the President to see that the recommention to admit 100,000 Jews into Palestine is carried out.

On releasing his telegram to the President, Rogers warned that mass suicides among the destitute Jewish people in Europe are a grave possibility. He pointed out that European Jews still in concentration camps are becoming desperate at their pight and their uncertain status.

"In refusing to follow the direction of the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry, the British government is playing a dangerous game," Rogers stated, "We cannot allow Mr. Bevin to play power politics with human beings as pawns."

Cost of Living Hits 20-Year High in L.A.

While congress was emasculating the OPA, the cost of living in Los Angeles hit a 20 year high. Moreover, figures released this week by A. Roumassett, economist for the U. S. bureau of labor statistics, don't include price increases on bread and milk granted by the OPA during June.

The consumer's price index now stands at 134.2 percent of the 1935-39 average, according to Roumasset.

"Living essentials in the area have risen 3 percent over last year, almost 2.5 percent since V-J Day and are now 33.5 per cent higher than they were at the start of World War II in August, 1939," he stated.

Food prices took a sharp rise of 1.1 percent over the 30-day period ending May 15, and are now 59 percent above the August, 1939 figure. Clothing prices are now 47½ percent above the 1939 level. House furnishing are now priced 46 percent above prewar.

Phil Connelly Given Catholic Goodwill Award

Philip M. Connelly, CIO leader, is the recipient of the 1946 Blessed Martin de Porres award of the Catholic Interracial Council of Los Angeles for outstanding service by a Catholic layman for interracial justice.

Presentation of the award was made at the annual dinner of the Council, with Dr. Thomas Roy Paton, new Council president, presiding. Father George H. Dunné of Loyola university made the principal address.

The award was a figure of Blessed Martin de Porres, Negro Dominican brother, who has been declared the patron of social justice in Peru, where he lived over 300 years ago.

The citation, read by Daniel G. Marshall, executive committeeman, praised Connelly's vigorous advocacy of economic rights of minority group members and his leadership in opposing racial discrimination in union organization.

In accepting the award, Connelly told of the plans of CIO unions to obtain increased work opportunities for minority group members by white unionists waiving job seniority rights.

Houston to Keynote Convention Of Nat. Negro Insurance Assn.

Norman O. Houstotn, president and comptroller of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., will deliver the keynote address at the 25th annual convention of the National Negro Insurance Association in New York City, July 10-12.

"The Job Ahead" is the subject of his address. Greater service to the public and more efficient operation of their businesses is the job facing American business in general and Negro companies in particular, according to Houston. Representatives of 51 association member companies which control combined assets of $70 million and employ 10,000 will be in attendance at the meeting.

Immediately before leaving Los Angeles, Houston represented his company in a conference of the Pacific Southwest area of the National Association of Manufacturers. Donald Nelson and public relations heads of national firms in attendance were questioned on NAM's unfair labor practices.

Negro Press Commended On Fight for OPA

NEW YORK—The Negro press was commended for its part in helping to maintain effective price controls through its news and editorial columns by Paul A. Porter, OPA administrator, this week in a greeting sent to the Negro Newspaper Publishers Association convention in this city.

"The effective support given to price and rent control by the Negro press exemplifies the foresight and thoroughly American spirit of the publishers of these newspapers," Porter said.

"I am sure you are aware at this time of the precarious future faced by this country if the crippling legislation now under consideration by the congress becomes law," Porter continued. "There is no doubt the low income groups will be the hardest hit by the inflation which would be certain to result. You have a definite stake in the issue. I know you realize it fully and will continue to give these important economic programs your intelligent interpretations and widespread publicity."

We are diligently concentrating..... on providing service to waiting applicants as fast as it is humanly possible to do so

Every effort is being made to improve the quality and efficiency of our service

Directing our efforts as we have to render service as rapidly as possible to all who want it and to make our service even better than it has ever been before, the 2,886,000 telephones in service as of May 31, 1946, include an increase of 254,000 since V-J Day, of which 183,000 were added in the first five months of this year—an unequaled increase in any similar time period in the history of our company.

The telephone increase since V-J Day exceeds by 67,000, or 36 per cent, the 187,000 increase in the year 1943—the largest yearly telephone increase ever recorded by our company. The telephone increase for the first five months of 1946 exceeds by 69,000, or 60 per cent, the 114,000 increase for the entire year 1945.

New applications for service—totaling 340,000 for the first five months of this year—increased 107 per cent over the corresponding period of a year ago. Of the 286,000 prospective subscribers at the first of the year whose applications had been necessarily deferred due to shortage of facilities, we are glad to report that 183,000, or 64 per cent, have been cared for. Due, however, to the time necessarily involved in the installation of complicated switchboards—in many instances new buildings are required to house them—together with the large number of new applications and the continued materials shortages and disturbed conditions throughout the country affecting manufacturers' production, 229,000 applicants are still waiting for service.

We are diligently concentrating, notwithstanding the difficulties in obtaining adequate apparatus and materials, on providing service to waiting applicants as fast as it is humanly possible to do so. Likewise every effort is being made to improve the quality and efficiency of our service.

Construction of additional toll and long distance circuits has gone forward with rapidity and continued improvement is being made in the service even though the volume continues at record high levels—the calls being 20 per cent greater than in the corresponding five-month period of a year ago.

Our company has recently made substantial further postwar increased wage adjustments, aggregating $6,000,000 on an annual basis, as a result of collective bargaining negotiations with the unions. These added wage increases are over and above the postwar adjustment wage increases made in December of last year which aggregated more than $18,000,000 on an annual basis. Thus, this recent wage increase, embodied in a contract to run until March 1, 1947, brings the postwar adjustment wage increases, arising out of collective bargaining, to more than $24,000,000 annually—the increase in our postwar wage rates being 19 per cent. The recent collective bargaining negotiations between our management and the unions extended over a period from April 24 to May 18, 1946, and at no time throughout the negotiations did the unions or the company fail to realize that the public interest came first . . . Net Income has been adversely affected by increased costs of operation, particularly the large added wage expenditures.

City Council Okeys Increase In L. A. Rents

In an emergency session called by the president, Councilman Moore, the city council on Monday unanimously passed an ordinance to freeze Los Angeles rents at the June 30 level for a two month period.

The following day, however, the council adopted an amendment to the rent freeze ordinance to permit a 15 per cent increase in rents above the OPA ceiling. It voted down a 20 percent proposal offered by Councilman Allen.

The swift passage of the "rent freeze" ordinance followed the receipt of a flood of protests from irate tenants whose rents had been promptly jacked up by local landlords following the death of OPA. Rents began skyrocketing all over the city as early as midnight, June 30, when OPA controled expired.

The emergency ordinance provides for fines of $500 and six months imprisonment for violators. It also has clauses covering evictions which parallel those of OPA, and implementing state laws requiring 30 days notice in evictions of monthly tenants, seven days for weekly tenants or roomers.

Passage of the ordinance was threatened by a debate over an amendment offered by Councilman J. Win Austin for a 15 percent increase in rents. Speaking against the amendment and urging immediate action to freeze rents were Councilmen Roden, Allen, Timberlake and Warburton. Championing the landlord amendment were Councilmen Cronk, Davenport and Harvey.

Opposing the rent freeze ordinance on the first roll call were Councilmen Austen, Christenson, Cronk, Davenport, Davis, Harvey, Henry and Holland. City Attorney Christenson stepped in and saved the day, however, by urging immediate passage of the ordinance without the Austin amendment. The ordinance was then passed unanimously by a 13-0 vote. Councilmen Bennett and Rasmussen were absent during the entire proceedings.

GOP Real Basis of Rankin's Strength, Says Rep. Douglas

"Once again it was proved that a vote for a Republican is a vote for Congressman Rankin," said Helen Gahagen Douglas yesterday after the House voted 240 to 87 in favor of contempt proceedings at the request of the so-called Rankin Committee. She continued:

"If the Republicans did not support Mr. Rankin, he could not effectively continue his campaign of intolerance. Only 19 Republicans, seven of them from New Jersey, stood up against him. This is the usual picture an dhis Republican support is the real base of his entire program for, if the Republicans did not almost bodily vote for the measures which he advocates, the few Democrats that follow him would never have enough votes to carry through Mr. Rankin's program. Many of the public believe that the Republicans are the Negroe's friends, but one cannot be a friend of both Rankin and Negroes."

The contempt citations were against Corliss Lamont, chairman, and Rev. Richard Morford, executive director, National Friendship, and George Marshall, chairman, National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, now merged with the Civil Rights Congress.

Mrs. C. A. Bass Urges Church Members to Support NAACP

Reaffirming their belief in the work of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, members of Hamilton Methodist church, 18th and Naomi, filed up to the front of the church Sunday morning to enlist in the membership drive of the NAACP.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE, as a board member of the NAACP, had issued the call to those present to demonstrate their support to the fight being waged by that organization.

Included on the outstanding 11 a.m. service was an address delivered to the graduating students of Ascot elementary school, Carver junior high school and Jefferson high school, by Professor Charles Eason.

Urging young people to examine the color of their education, Prof. Eason pointed out that too many people look upon education merely as an opportunity to advance their own selfish ends, instead of regarding it as a means of contributing something to the uplifting and welfare of all people.

"Think of humanity as a whole, instead of yourself as an individual," he urged, adding, "When we are greedy and try to grasp for our own happiness, others must suffer."

Rev. . DeWitt Turpeau, pastor of Hamilton, thanked Prof. Eason for his scholarly address and added his voice to that of Mrs. Bass' in urging church members to support the NAACP.

The dollar today is "only a little better than a 50-cent dollar," Mayor Fletcher Bowron declared in his weekly radio talk. The Mayor criticised practices in the disposal of surplus war material and protests by taxpayers organizations of recent increases in the city budget.

Pets shouldn't be taken into surrounding mountain areas because of rabies among wild animals, vacationists were warned this week by C. O. Harvey, chief communicable disease inspector for the county health department.

Eastside Aroused by New Wave of Assault Cases

Daniels who made vulgar and unprintable remarks, told police that he and Miss Reed had been out together and had indulged in heavy drinking. He brought her home but after leaving, he said that he saw two policemen whom he thought might arrest him in his condition.

He said he then returned to Miss Reed's to wait until the police left the vicinity but when he got there he discovered her in the above described condition. He said that she told him that someone had grabbed her, beat her and raped her, whereupon he told her that if she had been raped once she could stand it again. He told police that he then raped Miss Reed.

Daniels was identified by Miss Reed and by neighbors who heard what they thought was a fight.

Another fiendish deed of this sort was the attack upon the person of Miss Mildred Jessie, 1668 E. 23rd st., who told police that she had been assaulted by Archie Mirams, Vets Hospital.

Police described this attack as one of "bodily force." Mirams followed Miss Jessie to a playground where he tried to force her to drink some wine. He made her leave the playground with him and attempted to rape her on 32nd st. She fought Mirams, but he struck her across the forehead with the wine bottle and attacked her. Police have arrested Mirams.

The third case of the week was an attempted rape described by police as "assault with intent to commit rape."

Miss Gertrude Loquet, 4313 Lima ave, accepted a ride from an unidentified white man. He drove her home where he beat her and attempted to rape her. Miss Loquet resisted enough to foil the attacker and fled from his car. She described her assailant as white, weighing 165 lbs., medium build, light brown hair and hazel eyes and wearing sport clothes.

Charles M. King, president of the Southern California Meat Company of Vernon, this week pleaded guilty to five counts of charging over OPA ceiling prices for the custom slaughtering of meat. At the same time, King pleaded guilty in behalf of the company to 11 counts before Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor. The government said the defendants collected over $20,000 in overcharges in 1944.

Conference Stresses Growing Power of Negro Press, Need of Scholarships for New Recruits

be made available so that promising young journalism students can continue training on a scholarship basis. In this manner trained personnel would be available for staff positions.

True the Negro press, like any other, is ever in need of higher standards of reporting the news to the public and it is interesting to note the feling at this meeting regarding the fact.

Advertising was discussed and it was pointed out that there exists a continuous need for information regarding the Negro buying and selling market to be relayed to national advertisers.

Elections of officers of the Association included a new board of directors. Members are: Thomas W. Young, of the Norfolk Journal and Guid; C. A. Scott of the Atlanta Daily World; D. A. Murphy of the Balt. Afro-American; J. E. Michell of the St. Louis Argus; L. E. Martin of the Michigan Chronicle; W. O. Waler of the Cleveland Call & Post; Dowdal H. Davis, of the Kansas City Call; John Sengstacke of the Chicago Defender; and Carter Wesley of the Houston Informer.

Frank Stanley was re-elected as president by the voting members. Stanley is of the Louisville Defender, Ira F. Lewis of the Pittsburgh Courier and H. Murphy of the Afro, were re-elected vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The body of members attending retained Louis Lautier as White House correspondent and as acting executive secretary. In all the conference was successful in terms of some indication of post-war attitudes for a better Negro Press as expressed by the speakers in the various discussion panels.

No doubt the eyes of the world are upon the Negro press as a symptom of Negro attitude, action, and living philosophy. It is indeed a challenge that the Negro Press be kept up to par.

Three Armed Bandits Escape with $1000

Forcing an apartment house manager to open a safe containing $1000 at gunpoint, three unidentified bandits successfully held up an apartment house late Friday evening at 2025 West 29th street and escaped on foot with the loot.

Victim of the holdup was Mrs. Herbert Simpson, the manager, who was ordered to open the safe containing rent money. Herded into her apartment when they attempted to interfere with the robbery were Mrs. Allene Williams and Allein Kimbro, resident of the apartment, and Mrs. Marie Hunter, of 3414 3rd avenue, a visitor.

but merely a "social club."

The Guild's letter made the further point that funds of the State Bar, paid into its treasury by all members of the State Bar according to law, cannot properly be spent to assist an organization that excludes some members of the State Bar because of race or color.

The Guild characterized the recent action of the Los Angeles group in voting to continue a policy of racial exclusion as "a flagrant violation of the public policy of the state, the nation and the United Nations Organization."

Pointing out that there is no scientific justification for discrimination based on race, creed, color or national origin, the Guild noted that such discrimination equally has no "proper place under the constitutions and laws of the United States and California."

Citing the rules and regulations of the State Bar as requiring that bar associations entitled to certification shall be devoted in a businesslike way to the welfare of lawyers and improvement in the administration of justice, the Guild's letter declared that these are not functions of a "social club" as the L. A. Bar Association now claims to be. The letter warned the conference not to be persuaded by the name of the L. A. group, since the rules and regulations provide that the name of an association "is immaterial with respect to its right to recognition."

Court Gives Sailor Suspended Sentence

Because he just couldn't stand seeing his shipmate arrested, sailor Thomas F. Lee, ship's cook 2/c, let his feelings get the better part of his judgment.

As a result, he was found guilty by Municipal Judge F. Ray Bennett for interfering with an officer at 12th st. and Central ave. Judge Bennett nodded sympathetically as heard a police officer quote the 21-year-old sailor as saying: "I just wanted to help my buddy. I realize now I was wrong."

And the judge told the sailor, stationed at Terminal Island, that he would suspend his 30 day sentence and place him on probation for one year.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Inside Story on the RR Strike

PM has published a special section on the recent railroad crisis in which it tells the story of the railroad strike from the Union's point of view.

John P. Lewis, managing editor of PM, visited A. F. Whitney, president of the Railroad Trainmen, in his office in Cleveland, Ohio. Here he also met Alvanley Johnston, Grand Chief Engineer of the Locomotive Engineers, and together the two railroad men told of conversations with President Truman, which they had on file, to prove that they had been double-crossed in the strike negotiations.

In three different telephone conversations with John R. Steelman, the President's labor aide, and with President Truman himself speaking at the close of one conversation, it was agreed on May 18 to postpone the strike five days, from May 18 to May 23.

According to all records which the railroad men have on file, there is every reason to believe, says PM, that this postponement was made in bad faith and that its only purpose was to provide time and a platform for the President's crackdown on labor six days later .

Both Whitney and Johnston hurried to Washington, only to be given the runaround and to be told the operators were not in a mood for discussion just then, and that they better wait a while. No direct negotiations with the railroads had been held, and both railroad men were on the point of leaving when, at the special request of President Truman, they decided to stay. This was just one day before the new strike dead-line.

The next day both railroad men spent most of the time at the White House with Steelman, but nothing happened. There was no meeting with the Railroads Conference Committee until 4:05 p.m. that day, five minutes after the delayed strike was again in effect. Whitney and Johnston then read transcript of their telephone talks with Steelman and the President. The management said they had never heard of it.

So the strike was on. American transportation was tied up. The American press screamed. And the stage was set for President's dramatic address to the American people and his appeal to Congress in which he asked for these things:

1. Give the President power to end strikes on his terms at his own will in essential industries.

2. Provide penal terms for union officers who do not end strikes in plants over by proclamation.

3. Strip striking workers of their jobs, seniority, and other rights if they fail to obey the President's request to return to work.

4. Put defiant strikers in the army.

This is the anti-labor bill still pending in the Senate.

Let's Clean Our Own Back Yard

Why can't we stay at home and mind our own business?

Why don't we demand that Great Britain do the same?

We're referring particularly now to Palestine, which England seems to have taken under her cudgels of defense, and has ordered her soldiers to hunt the Jewish patriots from house to house.

England just can't let anyone work out his own salvation. She just must shoulder the "white man's burden," and make everyone else's affair her own.

In our own case, there is China. Both the Communists and the Nationalists have staged demonstrations telling us to get out of there. Why don't we do it? Why must we meddle in everyone's affairs?

Both England and America have enough to do at home. The very politicians who formerly complained about our going into Europe, when that was done for humanity's sake, are loudly now demanding that we get air bases everywhere, that we meddle in all the elections of the little countries of Europe, that we superimpose OUR democracy everywhere.

We must oppose Russia, they say. Yet Russia is strictly staying on her side of the fence. Never once has she attempted to come to America and try to force her political way of thinking on any of the little countries of Central or South America.

If we MUST meddle in Europe, why not try Spain? Defend the people of Spain against the aggressions of Fascist Franco. That would be a sample of real democracy and real helpfulness.

If You Have Tears, Shed Them Now

For several long days and weary nights the American renters and buyers, those in the lower wage bracket especially, had their ears peeled, listening for the President's decision on the OPA bill.

Flashing across the either waves Saturday came the news that the President had vetoed the compromised OPA bill. And this was good news, the best we have heard from Washington in quite a spell.

Already on the local front there had been some twisted talk about some California representatives voting against the OPA.

Now, the facts are these. Three California Congressmen, realizing what had happened to OPA, refused to sign the bill with the hope that it would get President Truman's veto. The three were: Representatives Helen Gahagan Douglas, Ned R. Healy and Ellis E. Patterson, Democrats. Their objections to the bill were similar to President Truman's.

An attempt to override the veto was made Saturday and on the side to override the veto were: Jerry Voorhis, San Dimas, Calif.; Harry Sheppard, Yucaipa; Democrats; Gordon McDonough, Hollywood; Carl Hinshaw, Pasadena; And John Phillips, Banning; Republicans.

Those voting in favor of the veto and on the side of the President, and incidentally of the people, were: Helen Gahagan Douglas, Ned R. Healy, Cecil R. King, Clyde Doyle, and George Outland, all Democrats.

Our Republican friends who are able to continue to pull the wool over the eyes of some of us, need not complain now about having enough of the New Deal, and its OPA.

It is not a matter of the New Deal or the Old Deal that concerns us at the present. It is the killing of the OPA, of price control, which means the hiking of rents and the increase in food costs.

As the prostrate OPA struggled to hold on, rents started skyward, especially in the sections where the poor people are forced to live. And likewise food costs threaten starvation after the fashion of '29.

Hats Off to Gov. Arnall

Undaunted by the Ku Klux Klan's threat on his life, Georgia's militant Governor Ellis Arnall continues his fight against the Klan.

It takes courage for a man in the position of Governor Arnall to stand up and face his opponets, no doubt a majority, in his state and fight the forces of race hatred.

Georgia, you remember, is in the deep "South," where few seem to know that a Civil War has been fought and that the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments to the U. S. Constitution, setting the Negro free and giving him all the rights of an American citizen, have been adopted.

The governor of this southern state is forcibly bringing these facts home to the white citizens of Georgia, and reminding the Negro citizens that they need have no fear to stand up and be counted on the side of democracy. That is their right as citizens of the United States of America.

We say "Hats Off to Governor Arnell" for the difficult and splendid job he is doing. We have been writing letters and sending telegrams to our representatives in Washington, to force them to do their work. How would it be to send a letter of congratulation to Governor Arnall, thanking him for his strong and courageous stand and assuring him of our support? Even men in high places like to know their work is appreciated.

Incidentally Governor Arnall is doing more in his difficult position than the governors of many states where a comparable stand would be comparatively easy.

Philip Murray, President of the Congress of Industrial Organizations has sent greetings to the 10th Anniversary Convention of the National Negro Congress, it was revealed this week through the publication of Murray's letter to Revels Cayton, Executive Secretary of the National Negro Congress.

Put the blame where it belongs. We heard people say: "These unions should get the street cars running again. Get it right: It's the company, not the union, that kept you walking. The raise in pay the workers asked for is a pittance compared with the millions the company earns daily.

When crooks fall out, just men get their reward. It looks like this prophesy is coming true right under our eyes. Some of our neighbors who have waxed fat on their garbling earnings must pay off, it seems.

Locke Tells Story of Negro GI In Current Britannica Year Book

Almost 700,000 Negroes were serving in the U. S. army at the end of World War 11, and 165,397 more were in the navy, according to the 1946 Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the year. Nearly 8000 were army officers, 50 held officers' commissions in the navy and 60 women were enlisted in the WAVES, says the year book.

Included in the year book's report on outstanding Negro combat records are the achievements of the 92nd division in the European theatre and the 93rd division in the Pacific which "earned over-all creditable service and combat records, with numerous instances of unit and individual citations." The 92nd division sustained 5,752 casualties and received a total of 12,096 awards, the publication points out.

Author of the article on American Negroes, Alain LeRoy Locke, professor of philosophy at Howard university, says, "In the last stages of the European campaign, especially in the 1st and 7th armies, combat integration of white and Negro troops was successfully tried."

Locke's article reveals that 2,800 Negro vounteers were involved in dangerous engagements during the Battle of the Bulge, the seige of Bastogne and the rapid advance across the Rhine as far as Nuernberg. At the Bastogne seige, the Britannica Book of the Year reports, Capt. Charles J. Thomas Detroit, Michigan, received the Distinguished Service Cross and the 614th tank destroyer battalion won a special unit citation.

Thirty-two Negro units received the Amphibious Invasion Award, according to the year book. Locke also points out that the 99th pursuit squadron and the 332nd fighter squadron, with a record of 261 enemy planes, received seven Distinguished Flying Crosses, as well as many other individual awards and unit citations.

Col. B. J. Davis, Jr., who commanded the Negro air force units in Italy, was presented with a merit award and was assigned to command the new 477th composite group at Godman field, Kentucky, according to the new article.

Locke states in his report, "The official consensus about the Negro's war efficiency was favorable, and Negro army re-enlistments, at 18 per cent, far exceeded both army and population quotas."

• THINGS I SEE •

By Marian Inglewood

"Do you hear the tick of the metronome?"

And in the midst of the roar of the ocean, of planes flying, and of the static on your radio, you heard the "Tick, tick, tick," the heartbeat of a fleet that was being sacrificed 5000 miles away that naval authorities might know if the atomic bomb is really as destructive as its makers say it is.

The sheep and the goats, and the thousands of other little animals also being sacrificed doubtless heard it too, but they went on contentedly eating and sleeping or browsing about their comfortable quarters on board the doomed ships, blissfully ignorant of the bomb that was going to snuff out their lives within a few seconds.

Then suddenly you heard, "Bombs away!" Then silence, with the roar of the ocean, of course, and the static. In a few seconds—excited shouting, unintelligible, as if persons were groping their way in murky darkness. Then, more clearly, a description of the awful flame and the white cloud rising thousands of feet into the air, pushing its way above even the clouds riding high in the sky.

A great many people were disappointed because they didn't hear a frightful explosion. But, folks, some of the deadliest actions are performed so quietly we scarcely know anything has happened until it's all over.

For example, on Sunday at midnight, just a few hours after the atomic bomb had been dropped, two laws which were more important in our daily lives than the atomic bomb, died quietly. They were the OPA, Office of Price Administration; and the FEPC, Fair Employment Practices Commission. Both were measures of our friend, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. One controlled our rent, the prices of our food and clothing. The other granted us the privilege to work wherever we chose, in spite of race or color or creed.

Now both these splendid laws for the benefit of the common man are gone, and it looks as if we were going to be as helpless under the onslaught of higher prices and discrimination as the guinea pig fleet and animals were to resist the atomic bomb.

There's a chance that the OPA will be revived by Congress. President Truman has asked Congress to adopt a resolution to extend the OPA as is, until a more favorable law can be enacted. We must write or wire our senators and representatives in Washington at once. Thousands of letters and telegrams are already pouring in. We must continue to pile them up.

Then here in California, thanks to the leadership of our Assemblyman Gus Hawkins, we shall have the opportunity to vote in November for a State FEPC. We should be working continuously for that, beginning right now.

"When, oh when, will the labor movement wake up to the fact that we must get going on political action in order to stop cutting our own throats?" writes L.C.B. in The Public Record, the official organ of the United Public workers of America C.I.O. "We talk a lot," he says, "agitate ourselves a lot but when election comes around we find ourselves playing ball with a pick-up team."

He then goes on to tell how in his Congressional District in New Jersey they have a Congressman who "is probably the closest competition that Rankin has. . . If he is not a paid agent of the NAM they certainly are saving money. . . . He is the worst foe of price control in the Congress.

"My Local did nothing about the elections. A little conversation and that was that.

"If we had a functioning PAC committee, working all year round, we would not be forced to accept the deplorable failure of Congress to take care of our needs."

That goes for all of us, whether we are members of a Labor Union or not.

Fortunately for those of us who live in the Fourteenth Congressional District of California, we have a member of Congress who is ever in the forefront fighting and leading the fight for every measure that will benefit the Little Man—Helen Gahagan Douglas. It isn't due to our intelligence, however, or to "our working all year around" that we have her. There must be something to "luck," or to a kind Providence. That and the dogged perseverance and the persistent digging-in qualities of her campaign manager, Ruth Lybeck.

So far as State Senator is concerned we surely elected a "close competitor to Rankin" in Jack Tenney. And we may feel something of the kind three or four years hence about the governor we elected June 4.

Do you hear the tick of the metronome?

Tick! Tick! Tick! Tick!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

We are making a direct appeal to you to help us continue the work of the University Religious Conference. At the campus of UCLA and the Los Angeles City college we are reaching, year after year, thousands of young Americans of all faiths, bringing to them the principles of religion, of interfaith co-operation and of respect for individuals of different beliefs. It works.

Then, through speaking teams of young men and women, who appear before high schools, service clubs, women's groups and fraternal orders, we take the spirit of religion and co-operation to the community.

The organization has the full approval of the leaders of the major religious groups of the city.

We have accepted the responsibility of raising the budget of $50,000 for the fiscal year, and we hope you will recognize the value of the organization and make a serious financial contribution, in order that we may continue its program.

Sincerely yours,

The Committee,
George L. Bagnall—GR. 3111; Harry G. Johansing—MU. 5371; and Sol Lesser—AS. 42931, Chairman.

W. J. Wheaton Says

It is pitiable and our hearts go out to them: those benighted and self-doting people who dub themselves "superior people" and we sympathize for the same reason that impels us to have pity for any who are demented and whose mental capacity has deteriorated through softening of the grey matter under the skull. When the brain softens it often rots and the residue forms a putrid mass, a breeding swamp for the poisonous vipers and other loathsome creatures so odious to clean thinking people. Those demented minds, with such egoism that they imagine they are the sole creation of the Deity and no other of His creation have a right to inhabit this earth. Well, they are the people whose grey matter has so rotted that it has become the source of venomous hates and racial intolerance.

Instead of truthfully expounding the Bible, it is distorted to fit the minds of sordid, sadistic followers. They seek to inflame unthinking minds and exhort them to deeds of violence through twisting and turning Biblical writings and inciting lawlessness through their preachments.

Our America was not born in the crucible of hates. The world is beginning to be conscious, beginning to wake up to the reality, the fact that it is evolving from the extreme of nationalism to one of international brotherhood. It is hard to subordinate national and race chauvinism. An inevitable trend to the spirit of international comity.

That was a beautiful tribute paid American Negro women Sunday, June 30. No greater contribution to America's greatness has been made by any group than that made by the Negro women of America. Their sacrifice during the American Revolution and their fight for the foundation of the nation is known to but few. Their exploits have been buried in the tomb of forgetfulness. But thanks to an energetic, race-loving coterie of Negro women who have dug deep, cleared away the dust and cobwebs, and part Negro women have played in the formation of this nation, has been brought to light. It is a record that has few peers, even among the Daughters of the American Revolution, that coterie of ladies which objects to Negro artists giving light to their culture in the building which the DAR occupies.

Not only have the Negro women contributed to the culture and welfare of America, but throughout the world their fame has been written in the annals of history. It is to be hoped that in the near future, means may be developed to delve deeper into the archives and resurrect the historical treasures of Negro womanhood. It will be a light to the world. Let us have the history of Negro womanhood. We are sure some of the younger Negro women will undertake the task.

On July 1 the senate and house met in joint session to memorialize the death of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The former ambassador to England, Winant, personal friend of the late president, was the eulogist; a member of the Metropolitan Opera sang the "Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The service was impressive and worthy a great character which will gain in strength as the years go by. Listening to the service, the last verse of "My Captain" (poem by Walt Whitman, written at the death of President Lincoln, came to mind. It is the last verse and answer to "O Captain! my Captain! wake up and hear the bells."

"My Captain does not answer, his lips are pale and still,
My father does not feel my arm,
he has no pulse nor will,
The ship is anchored safe and sound, its voyage closed and done,
From fearful trip the victor ship
comes in with object won;

Exult O shores, and ring O bells!
But I with mournful tread
Walk the deck; my Captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead."

Roosevelt, as did Lincoln, saw victory, but did not live to participate in the formation of Peace. We the Negro citizens have a task to perform, a task that will tax us to the utmost and test our courage and ingenuity. It may at times become odious, but it must be done. The denizens of hates must be educated, their minds renovated and converted to Good.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

Certain reactionary anti-labor publications have editorialized the claim that a veto of the Hobbs Bill cannot be justified. They have based their whole argument on Presidential action and statements regarding the vetoing of the Case bill, assert that if the President vetoes the Hobb measure, he will do so for political reasons.

First of all the Hobbs bill, as they have pointed out so effectively, is aimed particularly at the Teamsters Union. It would impose fines up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to 20 years on persons interfering by "robbery or extortion" or by "threats of violence" with movement of goods in interstate commerce.

They say that if the President vetoes the Hobbs bill he will have to use the same argument which he used in the vetoing of the Case bill, i. e., that the bill failed to protect the rights of striking and peaceful picketing. It follows then, they claim, that his argument is fallacious, since these rights are amply protected elsewhere. Then various pro-labor legislation is cited, including the first amendment of the constitution.

Now all of this is merely a sly defense of the Hobbs bill. And for this reason a very apparent fact was left out.

As innocent as it appears, the Hobbs bill could be twisted and used against all strikers and all labor unions. Any strike under this act could be construed as "extortion."

Perhaps we'd better explain this. Suppose that you are not satisfied with your pay and your working conditions and your union makes just and reasonable demands on your employer that these conditions be remedied. Your employer refuses to grant these demands. Then your union considers that a strike is necessary. Right here is where the Hobbs bill could be used against organized labor. The considered strike could be construed as a "threat" and the demands could be contrued and "extortion and robbery."

Thus if the President vetoes the Hobbs bill, and if he sees fit to use the same argument he used in vetoing the Case bill, the reasoning will be entirely sound. The Hobbs bill fails to protect the rights of striking and peaceful picketing and leaves the door wide open for crippling injunctions to be served against organized labor. This bill is a cleverly camoflauged flank attack upon organized labor and must be defeated.

The President vetoed the Case bill because of united labor and people's action. There is no reason why such action cannot be repeated for the veto of the Hobbs bill. Let our President know you are opposed to the Hobbs bill and all other anti-labor legslation.

Pest Control

SELECTING YOUR PEST CONTROL OPERATOR

Choosing a pest-control operator to get rid of ants, flies, bedbugs, mosquitoes, beetles, rats, mice, roaches, or other pests from your property is a job which should be done carefully. You want to get the best service possible at a reasonable price. You want your operator to use modern methods of control—much has been learned since the days when burning the house down was the only sure way to get rid of bedbugs.

These are some of the facts you should consider in choosing YOUR pest-control operator:

1. Ask him to show you his state license. Many companies list their license numbers in the yellow telephone directory; others are glad to show them to you. Unlicensed companies are working against the law and you cannot expect good service from them.

2. If possible, select a PCO who has done good work for someone you know. Ask him for references if you are in doubt.

3. Select an operator who has had a good education. There is a trend toward the requirement of a college degree in entomology, chemistry or a related science for all PCOs. The more your operator knows about your problem the more help he will be able to give you.

4. Select a company which has a good reputation. Call the Better Business Bureau if you have questions.

5. Don't be fooled by cheap prices. The operator whose price is considerably lower than the price estimated by the other companies can't give the same service they offer.

6. Know what you are getting. Ask questions. Does the price you pay cover service calls for a period of time, say 30 days? Or will you have to pay another fee if the operator returns? Is the service going to eradicate all the pests bothering you or will it take care of only one or two? Know these and related facts before you receive service.

World Peace and the OPA

By HELEN CAHAGAN DOUGLAS

(Congresswoman from the 14th District, Los Angeles)

What do the peoples of the world want most? PEACE!

We desire peace not only because we do not want to be separated from our husband, our son, our sweetheart, not only because we may be bombed, not only because we may lose our business, our home, all our possessions, but because another war with the release of atomic energy, bacteriological warfere and future scientific discoveries, means our civilization, as we know it, is finished.

What does this have to do with OPA and price control? It has everything to do with it.

Every important domestic decision we make affects the whole future health of our economy—affects the international program of unity and stability that we are trying laboriously to build. We cannot make any decision that will not have far-reaching results. Results which finally we all will share.

To take the ceilings off prices at this time when the demand for goods is still far greater than the supply and when added to that demand there is more cash in people's pockets than at any time in our history is foolhardy—and will prove disastrous.

The Republicans insist that the result will be good for business, will produce goods, get them on the market. But a majority of the Democrats and a few Republicans know that a 50 percent rise in living costs will be as ruinous to our economy as the atom bomb was to Hiroshima. They know that the way advocated by Senator Taft and his followers show a recklessness for the future that staggers the imagination.

GREEN LIGHT FOR INFLATION

Under the leadership of Senator Taft, the Republicans have said to the National Association of Manufacturers, in effect: "Go ahead. Charge all you can get—all the consumer will pay."

To the little businessman, who cannot weather inflation and whose business will be wiped out, he promises free enerprise sometime in the future.

To the veteran, he says: "I haven't repealed the GI Bill of Rights. It will always buy you a package of cigarettes."

He hasn't told the $1200 - year farmer, and there are many of them in Ohio, where the farmer is going to get the extra $600 to see himself through the next year, with the lid on prices taken off.

Nor has he told the federal worker earning $2400 a year where he can go to get the extra $1200 a year to meet the 50 percent rise in the cost of living.

And to the industrial worker, earning a dollar an hour in factory work he has said in effect: "If you can't live on what you are getting, strike for a dollar and a half an hour."

To the older citizens, whose pensions will no longer have any meaning, he says: "Pull in your belt."

The only thing that has stood between the people and the joy ride to destruction proposed by Senator Taft and the National Association of Manufacturers was the OPA.

BONDS DEPRECIATED

Tackle the Republicans! Let them know how you feel. The majority of the Democrats are for you and the OPA. It's the Republicans you must convince.

Taking the lid off prices means the government of the United States repudiates the solemn pledge made to the American people—the pledge to redeem dollar for dollar the billions of dollars spent for war bonds which will affect every family in the nation—rich or poor—Republican or Democrat.

Oh yes, when you go to cash in your $100 bond, you will get your $100—of course. But that $100 might just as well have printed across its face, "Good for what little you can buy with it."

Congress by lifting price ceilings repudiates the pledege made to the American people when it made a drive from one end of the country to the other urging Americans to buy war bonds—to invest in the future of their government.

Republican leadership in congress now proposes to throw that future out the window and jump after it. Into the wonderland of inflation.

Inflation is something like this:

Suppose you woke up one morning and you were the same size as when you went to sleep but everything around you was a hundred times bigger than the night before. Your bed 300 feet high—the door so big you couldn't reach the handle—food in the icebox out of reach—well you get the the idea. That's the way inflation is.

Food is there but suddenly the food is out of reach. It is there, but you won't be able to buy it. Clothing is out of your reach. Your wages are never quite adequate for that new coat. That automobile you have been waiting for so anxiously is finally there in the salesroom but not for you. And the doctor whose medical attention your child needs is also out of your reach. His fee will go up faster, you see, than your wages ever will.

Everything is bigger than you are.

That's inflation!

Why are we thinking of taking off price ceilings then? Who is responsibilble? What insanity! Who ever had such an indea in songress? The Republicans primarily and Senator Taft. And a handful of Democrats.

This isn't campaign oratory. The President, the majority of Democrats, would be happy if the Republicans in congress in this hour were fighting to keep price controls instead of destroying them. But the blame must be placed where it belongs in order that we may avoid this fatal mistake—in order that you may know to whom you must make yourself heard.

SPURIOUS OPA BILL

The Republicans in congress voted in committee, in conference and on the floor almost as a group, with an exception now and then, for changes in standards that would make it impossible to hold the line by the OPA bill which congress sent to the President. You know just passing a bill with the title OPA, but with no power to hold the price line, cannot and will not withstand the tidal wave of inflation.

But that is exactly what the Republicans have done!

"Get rid of the OPA and you have whatever your heart desires." That's what they said.

Whose heart? And whose desires?

That's no $64 question.

Oh yes, a rise in prices will mean that we will have a boom—for a short time. There will be those who will make money out of it too—for a short time. Make no mistake about that.

The boom will look for a few short months to almost everybody. And then the inevitable will follow. The boom will bust and black and deadening depression will settle over the land—known as the Taft depression.

BREADLINGS IN OFFERING

And then the despair and tears that accompany depressions will follow. Breadlines and relief rolls will reappear. The gradual disintegration of millions of people hopelessly pounding the pavements, walking the country roads, looking for jobs that don't exist will rot and eat the heart of America.

What a reward for patriotism! What a bonus dividend on the GI Bill of Rights!

This is no partisan issue although partisan stupidity can ruin us.

Senator Taft aside from backing other crippling amendments has his own little proposal to make.

Tht Taft amendment means passing directly to the consumer the entire net increase in business costs since 1941.

The precentage of profits on sales in 1941 was at a peak greater than at any time either before or after the war. But remember that we had an excess profits tax on them. The excess profits tax was removed by congress this last year in the hope that it would be a stimulus to greater business production.

We have no excess profits tax now to cut down the percentage of profits on sales so Taft's amendment is just another grab from your pocket to fill the pockets of those who don't need it. That's what the Taft amendment proposes. Taft and the Republicans in congress are all for it.

Those who fought the hardest to kill OPA are the very ones who are complaining the loudest about the slowness of peacetime production.

But it wasn't and isn't production evidently that they are talking about. No, it's profits. That's what they are really talking about. Profits for a few. If they were concerned with production they would be fighting today to retain ceilings.

OPA HELD THE LINE

Why? It took us two years to convert for war. Only fools and Senator Taft could believe that we could reconvert for peace the day after the shooting stopped. To lay the blame at OPA's door because you can't buy an ice box, a radio or an electric iron, or a white shirt or a pair of shorts is idiotic. It shows ignorance of the economic problems confronting us when the fighting was brought to an end. We have in a large part overcome those economic problems.

We are today at the point where we can begin to swing into full production. That is if we don't now upset the applecart. Physical adjustments have been made and are being made at a rapid pace. And what is equally important, price adjustments have been made and are behind us. Price adjustments in heavy consumer goods—automobiles, radios, electric irons and many items have been made.

Price adjustments have been made in food and commodities. Rate adjustments have been made in wages. All major strikes are settled and are behind us.

Those who say that prcies would go on rising even if the OPA were continued with its original powers are not telling the truth or don't know the facts.

PRICES CONTROLLED OR CHOAS

If we keep price control, prices will stay in line—wages will stay in line and we can look forward to industrial peace and vast production, and the white shirts and the ice boxes and the automobiles and the nylon stockings you all want and are waiting for will be yours.

But with the lid off and the cost of living allowed to soar when we are finally ready to do business, we will have a rioting of prices—strikes will follow—we will again have industrial warfare and no production.

We will be back to V-J Day—only worse.

All the work done by the OPA all these months to get production under way in a stabilized economy will have been for nothing.

The proposed amendment to the OPA Bill mean—strikes and economic chaos—inflation.

But inflation means still more. As I said at the beginning, we can make no major decisions on the domestic front that will not affect our international program.

To the exact degree that our currency fluctuates, just to that degree we undermine the stability of the international bank. The loans we have made to the ravished, war-torn countries of the world so they can buy from us the heavy machinery they need to put their economy on its feet will be worth a third, a fourth, or even a fifth of their value.

Each dollar of these loans too should have printed on it, stamped with the United States Seal, "GOOD FOR WHAT LITTLE YOU CAN BUY WITH IT."

What does that mean?

The "globaloney" dollar.

What does that mean?

It means that the seeds of World WAR III are planted. Can we afford such wantonness?

The people of America for whom their representatives speak must in this hour take their affairs in their own hands—must make themselves heard on Capitol Hill before it is too late.

Inflation will mean that we have our back on tomorrow.

SUMMER COMPLAINT

One of my very young patients, through her mother, called me to her bedside recently. The young lady, only 18 months of age, was obviously in pain. She was feverish and her mother told me she had been vomiting. The mother, who was very much upset herself, also said the baby's bowels had been moving frequently.

It did not take long for me to determine the child had "summer complaint," or, as doctors call it, infant diarrhea. This disease has become known as "summer complaint" because it usually strikes children in hot weather. It is most common among children between one and two years of age. Because of this disease, mothers are apt to be particularly anxious about their children during their second summer.

Betty, my young patient, had a bad case of diarrhea. It was necessary to take her off all food and to let her have only water, which had previously been boiled. I told the mother to keep the child in bed and as quiet as possible, to sponge her with water whenever she became restless, to clothe her lightly and to keep the air in the room as fresh as possible—and by no means to give her any food.

There had been several cases of summer complaint in town and one or two children had died of it. We kept careful watch on Betty until she responded to treatment.

Summer complaint may be caused by one of a number of things or by a combination of things. Probably the most frequent cause of infant diarrhea is impure milk or spoiled food.

The utmost care should be taken to see that the child's milk is pure. From the time the child first begins to drink cow's milk, pasteurized milk should be used if it is available. If it is impossible to obtain pasteurized milk, then the milk should be boiled and stored in the refrigerator in containers which have been carefully washed, then sterilized in boiling water.

Food spoils more readily in the summer than winter and so extra precautions must be taken in hot weather to prevent food from spoiling. Left-overs should be covered and stored in the refrigerator. If the refrigeration is not adequate for the family's needs, then the amount of food prepared at one time should be limited to what is necessary for immediate use. Food that shows the least sign of spoilage should be thrown away. It is cheaper, in the long run, to throw out food than to have a sick child.

Food should also be protected from flies. These insects often carry germs. They may leave germs on food, then the food, when eaten, causes the child to be sick.

Every precaution should be taken to protect the child's food. This means not only that the milk and solid foods must be pure and uncontaminated but also that anything which touches the milk or food must be clean. The mother should wash her hands carefully before preparing meals and before touching utensils or dishes the child will use in eating.

If the child eats food that is not pure, particularly in the summer when it is harder for him to digest food, a poison is created which his body tries to throw off and which causes diarrhea.

It is important for the child to get rid of the poison and not to eat any food until he has. That is why I gave strict instructions for Betty to have nothing at all to eat. At the end of 24 hours, Betty was greatly improved and it was possible to give her small quantities of pasteurized milk. The feedings were gradually increased until she was normal again.

Summer complaint frequently causes the child to be gravely ill. It is far more than an ordinary stomach upset and should be treated as such. It is always wise to consult a doctor at the first signs of diarrhea.

If the child is dressed comfortably in light clothes during the hot weather, if great care is taken to see that his food is clean and pure and if he is put to bed in case of a cold, the chances are that he will safely go through the hot months without summer complaint.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

ANENT JENNIE WAINSWORTH

Did you read one Jennie Wainsworth's letter to Publisher Charlotta A. Bass in last week's California Eagle? It was a scream! Or was it? Well, this column though it would be interesting to sample the reactions of some persons who had read it, and thereupon set about Thursday morning with a copy of The Eagle in one hand and a pad and pencil in the other.

Upon meeting a person who appeared to have enough time for our purpose, we would say, poking out The Eagle, which had been previously prepared by marking the corners of "ON THE SIDEWALK" by C.A.B. and underscoring the names of Bilbo, Perkins, Gerald K. Smith and the K.K.K., "Here are some fine suggestions from a lady friend of the race as to how you should consider yourself, and who you should consider your real friends."

In each case the person, once he had begun reading, continued to read to the very end, including C.A.B.'s reply. All but some of the older heads first expressed genuine surprise that a person having such ideas in her head was yet to be found anywhere in the world. The younger heads were sorry the paper did not give her address so they could see what she might look like.

Of two men who read the letter together, one regretted that it was given such prominence and was sure that it should not be answered. "Why not ignore such stupidity?" he said; while the other only wished she was a man so that he might handle him as he would like. But, on the whole, the younger persons looked upon the woman as an oddity, while the older persons considered her act as that of a loyal follower of the Gerald-Smith-Bilbo-Perkins racist demagogues who had even the timidity to deliberately jump at the opportunity to invade the columns of the very paper that Racist Perkins had castigated in his Sunday night tirade at Embassy auditorium, in order to propogate their poison.

SAME OLD LINE

As we read the letter we were impressed with how completely it followed a pattern of thought on this subject which we have been hearing or reading since we were a boy. And we were reminded of an experience we had had with another woman with these ideas just a few years ago. We were at a state conference of social workers in Denver. Atty. Carey McWilliams and a panel on race relations were holding forth in the section we were attending. There were various other sections over the large building and among them was a high school interracial panel.

One woman who had evidently just left the youth panel discussion, came into our group and as soon as she could get the floor she proceeded to protest the findings of the youth panel which stated that youth of various races could get together at dances and have a good time were it not for the "old" folks. "The Lord never meant for the races to be together," she began, "And they should be kept apart."

When white people in the group had given her a good going over for her "anti bellum" (as they called it) ideas, and had assured her that dancing together was O. K. even though it lead to intermarriage, which she dreaded with all of her emotions; she arose and declared "I am not by myself in this matter, I have talked it over with some intelligent Negroes in Texas, and they agree with me that the races are better off if kept apart.

Being the only Texas Negro in the room we felt called on to reply to this indictment. We explained to her that we did not doubt her story. We learned early in Texas that when a Negro talks about such matters with persons like her it is best for economic and physical reasons that he at least appear to be in agreement with her. "But" we continued "the average intelligent Negro in Texas does not care to talk with the average white Texas woman on any subject, to say nothing of this one, because he knows that she is treacherous and is certain that she is responsible for more lynchings and more racism in Texas than anyone else."

"Yes, our advice is to beware of female racists. They don't address audiences at the Embassy but they plant it in their children and propogate it socially with far more devotion than do the men of that ilk. And as Kipling has said, "The female of the species is deadlier than the male."

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THIS POST WAR 4th OF JULY is being enjoyed to the fullest, with such familiar settings as Val Verde, Elsinore, Santa Monica and Griffith Park ranking high on the list of "just the place to go." Many Southlanders started vacation treks over the week-end and by now are well in the swing of enjoying life in the great out of doors.

A. T. Patrick, local dental tech.; Dr. Ed Ford and Dr. N. A. Fearonce were genial hosts to a barbecue Sunday at Dr. Fearonce's Lake Elsinore cottage. A gay throng of their friends attended and enjoyed swimming, dancing and dining. The glamourous Dorothy Towles, was among those present, and gave bits of vivid description on barbecuing done on a large scale. Drs. C. W. Hill, Frank Zetar and Charles Williams represented the frat brothers of Phi Beta Sigma. Dr. Lincoln Shumate and wife Hazel were among those present. The Mrs. did a bit of swimming in an eye-catching suit of black and white jersey. The Virgil Gorees, Leon Stewards, D. Hodge of Golden State, and Elois Ford enjoyed playing games along with Ruth McKinney, Everette Petties and other members of the party. Over 75 were in attendance.

PERSONALITY PLUS

Sherril Luke, the popular Los Angeles high school graduate, is still receiving honors. It was a $1000 scholarship presented him Friday night at the home of Mrs. Fay Allen, where the Political Youth forum, of which Sherril is a member, held a social meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lindsey, adviser and sponsor of the group, proudly selected Sherril for the scholarship that was given by Mr. J. Jobe, a local fruit grower who presents a $1000 scholarship to some worthy Negro student each year. Miss Fay Allen and Mr. Gilbert Lindsey rotate in selecting the scholarship recipients. No financial worries for Sherril from now until he graduates... Congratulations are in order.

On Saturday afternoon, Barbara Lambert and Delores Bell will bid farewell to the Angel City. For the past year "Dodie" has been attending USC and has taken a definite place in the hearts of the college setters. She returns to her home town in Massachusetts to complete her education if entrance into the university there can be arranged. If the veteran quota causes an exclusion of new students, she will return to L. A. next Sept. "Bobbie" is vacation bound. She plans to spend some time with Deloris, and will see other parts of the East before returning to L. A. at the end of the summer.

The two popular debs were entertained with a gala farewell party Saturday night given by Barbara's mother and aunts, over in Pasadena. The guest list was exclusively L. A. with the exception of Gloria Bunch of the Crown City. Spotted in the merry crowd were Otis Bowdion, Gloria Ford, Fay Hopkins, Artis Grant, Anita Hippard, Ruddy Henderson, Jesse Sparks, LeRoy and Leonard Beavers, Yvonne Cole, Samuel Strain, R. B. Porter, Jane Criner, Don Barksdale, Wallace DeCuir, Elaine Broady, LaFrance Browning and a host of others.

CUPID'S LISTINGS

I have reached the conclusion that a local week-end just can't roll by without Cupid taking the limelight. The elaborate description of the Elbert Hudson and Marilyn Williams wedding held Wednesday night at 8th and Towne is still being discussed. Chatted with Connie Duffy at the reception, enjoyed watching the gents get extra chummy with Ann Cunningham, who presided at the champagne bowl along with Barbara McMorris; left the beautiful affair convinced that the honeymoon locale would be kept a deep secret. The bride didn't know where her better half was taking her and the groom was "mum" on the question. By the way, the couple will be at home to friends in their Kenwood apartment during the latter part of the month.

Am quite sure the Williams household is a very lonesome place with Marilyn and Mr. Williams away. The famed architect departed for the Hawaiian Islands on Tuesday, where he will be busy for several weeks drawing up housing plans.

Mrs. Leslie King (Jessel) is feeling quite proud over exercising her role as a gay matron with a definite knack for cooking. When she entertained with a shower honoring Mel Temple Friday afternoon she spent the whole of the morning preparing fancy delicacies for her guests. Corine Jones, Jo Spearman, Sis Russell, Mighnon Smith, Mary Johnson and the rest of the guests voted the recent bride as an A-1 cook. It was a linen shower and Mel received many lovely packages.

Jennard Worsham and Harry Porter exchanged vows Sunday at Lincoln Memorial church. The bride's maids wore pink gowns and the bride was lovely in white satin and net. It was a beautiful affair followed by a reception at the Arlington. Paulyn Garner Fisher and Austin Burchett, listed as members of the original wedding party, were unable to take part.

Interesting to a wide circle of friends is the betrothal of Mildred Gauthier and Gregory Murray. Gregory is back in the city from Howard university in D. C., where he is a senior in the Med. School. No date has been set for the wedding. Mildred mentioned that they may take to the center aisle following Gregory's graduation... In a few weeks her future sister-in-law will be in the city to attend the AKA boule. While here she will be Mildred's and Vernell's house guest.

Another popular deb to become a bride-elect this week is Gloria Hawkins, of Pasadena. Her fiance is William Harrison.

IN THE CITY

Bobby Brewington has received his discharge from the navy and is home again, with a wealth of experience... McFraddie Robinson, Phoenix school teacher, is spending the summer in L. A. with relatives and friends. She plans to take part in the Boule... The handsome gent seen with Audrey Jones at the dance Wednesday night was her nephew, the future Dr. Hickman, senior at McHarry Med. school. He will spend the entire summer here. By the way congratulations go to Audrey on her new position in the social agency field... Paulette Defoe's sis, Parmelia, arrived Tuesday... The local chapters of AKA sorority have completed boule plans and out of state sorors are arriving weekly.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Lois Prelue has given Cupid the cold shoulder and thrown marriage out of her mind... The Sir Debuteers were hosts to a grand party Saturday night... The Spencer Colemans (Marian) are very busy, making preps for Doc Stork... Josephine Spearman and Althea Warren have returned to the campus at UCLA to take more education courses... Alphonsine Paltrone was the only woman graduating in the school of public accounting... Sorry to hear that the Cal Jacksons and Wilber Fishers are headed for the divorce courts... Josephine Marshall will be honored with several wedding showers this week-end... The Pyramid invites are out for a semi-formal on July 8, at the Valley Park Country Club. Sounds very interesting. On reaching the deadline, the Crop 'N' Tail formal hasn't taken place. By the time you read this, the dance will be over. A regular mix up...

'TIL NEXT WEEK

MR. AND MRS. ELBERT HUDSON stand beneath the bridal bells with members of their elaborate wedding party. This scene was taken following the wedding held at historical 8th and Towne church Wednesday evening, June 24. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Paul R. Williams, noted architect. Front row, left to right: Flower girl, Sandra Lee; ringbearer, Ronald Vaughn; candle girls, Judy Jones and Ann Bradford. Second row, left to right, maids: Lula Green, Paulette Coleman, Jean Brown; maid of honor, Norma Williams, bride's sister; Mr. and Mrs. Hudson; Antheness Marrie Hill, matron of honor: maids: Barbara Lambert, Delores Bell and Jacqueline Banks. Last row, ushers: Donald Bowdoin, LaMarr Hill, Roger Terry, Dr. Hudson, groom's father; best man, William Duffy, Donald Derricks and Robert Kennard. (See story.) —Griffin photo.

GOING THROUGH TRADITION of cutting the cake was an important part of the reception for Marilyn and Elbert Hudson. The felicitations were received by the couple in the gardens of the Paul R. Williams home on West 35th st., immediately following the wedding ceremony. The large group of guests sipped champagne and munched reception delicacies far into the night, while the strains of the Durousseau ensemble made the bridal setting complete.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY PORTER have eyes for none other. The popular couple climaxed a schoolhood courtship when they took marriage vows Sunday, June 30, at Lincoln Memorial Congregational church. Mrs. Porter is the former Jennard Worsham, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Worsham and the late Dr. Oscar B. Worsham. They will be at home to friends following a two-week honeymoon.

Paul R. Williams Gives Daughter in Marriage Uniting Two Prominent Los Angeles Families

Two of Los Angeles' oldest and most prominent families were united when Marilyn Frances Williams, daughter of noted architect Paul R. and Mrs. Della Williams, became the bride of Elbert T. Hudson, son of Dr. Claude Hudson, former local NAACP head. The elaborate wedding was held at historical 8th and Towne First A.M.E. church, with Bishop Noah W. Williams, of the Fifth Episcopal district, who flew here from St. Louis to officiate, reading the vows.

SETTING DESIGNED BY FATHER

A capacity group of guests witnessed the impressive double ring ceremony that was held in a celestial setting of towering white columns, with gardenias and palms emphasized by unusual lighting effects. The interior setting was designed by the bride's father, who is rated as one of the country's six leading architects.

The modern all white color scheme was carried out in the bridal party. Wearing a gown of French silk tulle featuring a period style of long sleeves with round neck line and a three-quarter length rhinestone spangled veil, the bride was beautiful. She carried a prayer book, covered with white orchids, and wore a single strand of pearls around her neck. The bridesmaids wore white taffeta gowns featuring hooped skirts and carried bouquets of American Beauty roses tied with red satin ribbons. Norma Lucille Williams, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; Antheness Marrie Hill, matron; Paulette Coleman, Jacqueline Banks, Delores Bell, Jean Brown, Barbara Lambert and Lula Green were bridesmaids.

Dr. Claude Hudson, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Roger Terry, William Duffy, Robert Kennard, Donald Bowden, Lamarr Hill and Donald Derricks were the ushers. Little Ann Bradford and Judy Lee, flower girls.

Vocalists were James Miller, noted concert singer, who sang "Because," and Paul Lamkoff, who delivered "O, Promise Me." Miss Gloria Roberts presided at the organ.

GARDEN RECEPTION

The reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1271 W. 35th st. Hundreds attended and felicitated the young couple, who stood with wedding party at the entrance to the pavilion, where champagne, fruit punch, and individual ice cream cakes were served. Holding the center of attention was a huge five-layer bridal cake weighing more than 200 pounds, decorated with gardenias. The entire lower layer was made of fruit cake. Mrs. Bess Gant assisted in arranging the reception and service.

White gladioli and white wedding bells adorned the interior of the home, where an array of expensive wedding gifts of every description was on display. Music by the Durousseau string ensemble was featured throughout the reception. The bride's mother received in an aqua crepe gown, trimmed in gold sequins.

On Monday night, preceding the ceremony, a wedding dinner was given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Irene Givens Morris. Marilyn presented her attendants with gold compacts. The bride is a junior at USC and is a Pyramid pledge. The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of California Los Angeles campus, is attending the USC school of dentistry.

The popular couple will be at home in their Kenwood ave. apartment after July 15.

Mrs. T. Reeves Feted by HPA Members at Buffet Luncheon

Mrs. Tommie L. Reeves, treasurer of the Home Protective Association, was honored at a luncheon Friday afternoon at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laws, 1235 E. 92nd st., by club members who assembled to bid her bon voyage.

Leaving Los Angeles this week, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, well-known in civic, business and church circles, will make an extensive trip east. Traveling on the train, they will go as far east as New York, making many stop-overs.

Those attending the buffet-style luncheon included Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE and president of the HPA; Mrs. Kathryn Wicks; T. L. Appleton, Lois Newman, and Yvonne Shepherd.

Mrs. Anna Laws and her two daughters, Dolores and Pauletta, served as the gracious hostesses.

Mrs. Dunlap is the mother of Mrs. Grace Sevier, president of the Grace Conservatory of Music in New York, and half sister of Mr. Wendell Albright and Mrs. Rufus Marshall of this city.

Joseph Coopers Celebrate 11 Years' Marriage Bliss

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 30.

Mrs. Cooper will be remembered as Althea Pollock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pollock. The wedding at Wesley Chapel church on Sunday, June 30, 1935, was quite a social event. The Coopers have two children, Althea Viola and Joseph Simeon, Jr.

For over ten years Mr. Cooper has been one of the property owners in the Watts area where he and his family have resided. His anniversary gift to his wife was a beautiful home at 3753 S. Arlington.

Their many friends are wishing them countless joys and pleasures along life's future way.

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

Scott's Methodist church held a capacity congregation all day Sunday, paying homage to the former pastor, now President of Samuel Houston college, Rev. Carl Downs, and the Samuel Houston Choir. While in Pasadena, Rev. Downs did a wonderful work for young people, and he is continuing his magnificent work at his college in Texas. He and the choir are making this tour to raise money for the school. They have traveled all over California and will leave this week on their return trip. The choir under the direction of Los Angeles' Gilbert Allen presented a wonderful concert for the night service. A great deal of money for scholarships was raised, with the Club Ideal contributing $100. The Phalanx and the Czars also contributed. I think that all clubs that weren't present should send a donation, no matter how small, for it will help some student get through school.

Mrs. Downs and Pasadena's Jackie Bunch traveling with the choir were able to see and talk to their many friends and members of their families. Some of the persons who turned out to support these programs were Cookie Cooke, her cousin from New York State, Becky Cooke, Arthur Callier, Herman Sperlock, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Harrison Bailey, Alva Rae Neblett, Mr. Henry Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, Esther Owens, Frances Moody, Barbara Durham, Bill Duncan, and many others.

Ples Andrew Griffin and Herriette Peterson have returned from Chicago where they attended the Baptist Congress. Ples dropped by the other day to tell what a grand time he had and of all the interesting places he visited. He was a guest of Dot Mims, her aunt and uncle, Attorney and Mrs. Dickerson. They saw "Anna Lucia", which was very good, he said.

Just 25 years ago, Saturday, June 29, Erma and Charles Perry said, "I do," of course they had to celebrate this event with all their family and friends. A beautiful table was set and their many friends showered them with lovely silverware and silver dollars. Some of those partaking of the champagne punch were Mr. and Mrs. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon, Maude White, Rosa Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Hudson, Dr. and Mrs. George Gordon, Maudeetaoinaao Bowlin, Ernestine Cole, and Constance Washington.

The Origineaux Cocktail party was a huge success. The affair was held at Pecolia Coleman's. Mr. Penn, father of Mr. Jimmie Penn, and his wife are visiting California and will go to San Francisco this week-end. They are the house guests of Constance Washington, while in our town from Kansas City, Kansas.

July 4, we are celebrating Independence Day. Thousands will be traveling to the beaches, mountains, desert and resorts. Remember take it easy! More disasters occur over this holiday than any other. Everyone was excited about the Crop N Tail Dance, last night they were all at the Rancho in their Sunday best and ready for a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lambert, Bobby and Eddie Johnson, Bill Edson, Mary, Bernard and Alice Harris entertained Sadie Booker from Frisco.

It's another girl for Rev. and Mrs. Hill.

Hasta Luego.

Husbands and Friends Feted by Poinsettias

The Poinsettia members held their annual club party at the local Rumpus room for their husbands and boy friends. Following, and carrying on with the party spirit, Mrs. Sallie Johnson entertained the group with a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Three changes of bridge were played. First prize went to Mrs. Jessie Watson, second to Mrs. Robbie B. Slocum, and consolation prize to Mrs. Margaret Fisher.

Guests at the affair included Mmes. Thomas, Lampkins, Benjermon, Miller, Edds, Jones, Griffith and Reid. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Morgan on July 7.

Tuskegee Alumni To Entertain

On Saturday, July 6 from 8 until 12, the Los Angeles chapter of the Tuskegee Alumni will have its first social of the year. The scene of the activities will be 5014 Wall street, according to Frank Godden, president. All friends and former students of Tuskegee are invited to be present.

At the recent June meeting, heads of the various committees were named. Chairmen are as follows: Demmit Griffin, finance; Jack L. Jones, executive; R. N. Sanford, entertainment; Augustus Glover, hospitality; Mamie Hamilton, constitution and by-laws; A. R. Mosely, building and J. Cullen Fentress, publicity.

New members present were Lionel Gordon, I. S. Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Wm. H. Laster and Ashton C. Kitchens.

GWBA Members Enjoy Plays

The regular Tuesday night play of duplicate bridge was held at the Golden West Bridge Association clubhouse, 1054 East 54th st., June 25. Mrs. Louisa Roane and Mrs. May Denton won first place. Preceding the play M. L. Milligan, certified master bridge instructor, presented his course of instructions as scheduled every Tuesday evening at 7:30. His courses of instructions are becoming increasingly interesting to beginners as well as master bridge players. Every one interested in scientific bridge play is invited to take advantage of this course.

On Friday night, June 28, there were nine tables of duplicate bridge playing the Mitchell system as distinguished from the Howell system which features the Tuesday night plays. Mrs. Julia Scott and J. Weldon won first place east and west positions, and R. J. City and J. Tucker won first place north and south positions. Mrs. Louisa Roane, Dr. A. L. Wallace, R. J. City and J. Tucker tied for winning positions as the tox six pairs of winners for the Friday night play for the month of June

The mixed team of four play on Saturday night, June 29, consisted of 10 tables of board of match play. This regional play was won by Mrs. May Denton's team, and was composed of the following: Mrs. May Denton, captain and leader; J. B. Dunn; Holly Steed and Mrs. Julia Asbury. The team of which Ellis L. Vail is captain and leader won second place.

The open pair play will be held at the clubhouse on July 20 and 21, and promises to be as great treat. All participants are urged to register as soon as possible for this play. The public is most cordially invited.

Local AKAs Ready to Host First Post War Boule

Local chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha are ready with completed plans to welcome and entertain over 800 sorors from all over the nation who are arriving to take part in the first general boule since the war. With the theme, One World—A Challenge to Alpha Kappa Alpha Women, the conclave will be held from Aug. 8 to 13 at the Unitarian Center, 2936 West 8th st. Registration begins on Aug. 7 at the Woodlawn branch of the YWCA. With graduate basileous Atty. Martha Williams welcoming the sisterhood, the following meetings will be chaired by Ann Beachman Brown, Western regional director of the sorority.

As a preliminary to the convention proper, the Non-Partisan Council of Public Affairs will hold an Institute on National ahd International Affairs, with practically all sorors planning to attend the sessions which will have definite bearing on the general theme of the boule.

Although serious business will overshadow gay social activities during the five day meeting, the graciousness of other local Greek letter societies and the plans of the hostess chapters have filled every available moment with elaborate and diversified social affairs. Aside from business meetings scheduled for the opening meetings, the public will be invited to attend meetings devoted to Alpha Kappa Alpha Health Project on Friday, Aug. 12, and the Non-Partisan Council Saturday, Aug. 13.

Due to the overwhelming number attending the summer sessions at the University of California at Los Angeles, sessions of the boule will be held at the Unitarian Center rather than at the earlier announced location.

Credit for hostessing the affair will be tendered to joint committee of Hospitality, Transportation, and Housing who have arranged to greet sorors arriving by train at the Union Station in a space reserved for this purpose by the station officials. Careful arrangements have also been made to care for those arriving by air and by automobile.

Mrs. D. E. Wallace Feted With an Elaborate Luncheon

Fifty of the city's social matrons were in attendance and several out of town guests. Among those present were Mrs. Ann Robinson of Houston, Texas, Mrs. Manilla Hickman of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Miss Isabelle Paul of New Orleans, a sister of Mrs. Wallace.

Dr. D. E. Wallace, husband of the honoree, and his brother Dr. A. L. Wallace, husband of the hostess, dropped in to pay their respects to the ladies.

Bridge was played throughout the affair and a grand time was had by all.

This group has just completed the first courses of a six week series in charm, millinery, bridge and physical fitness. Because of the popularity and increasing demands, a second series of six weeks has been started.

Excellent leadership for each of the various interest groups has been secured. Women interested in joining in with this newly organized young adult group are urged to call the YWCA, ADams 14103, and register. Dinner is served at 6:30, preceding classes.

Mrs. Marie Williams Smith is chairman of the Business and Industrial Council and Mrs. Joan J. Willis, chairman of the Young Adult Committee.

YWCA Campers Having Enjoyable Vacation

YWCA girls who registered for the Day Camp are eagerly looking forward to each day with renewed anticipation because of the various places of interest they have been and intend going. Enthusiasm reached a new high when Miss Eda Lioy, former Ballet Russe dancer, began her instruction in ballet dancing.

The Day Camp is under the leadership of Mrs. Inez Allen, program director for younger girls, and Miss Thomasina Ayers.

Registrants for YWCA, Camp Seeley, located 75 miles outside of the city limits, in the Crestline area, gleefully departed on Monday, July 1, on the first period of a ten day session, to enjoy fun, outdoor life and fellowship. Camp Seeley is an interrecial camp and is owned by the Los Angeles Young Women's Christian Association.

Teen-agers of both the Tri-Y and Hi-Y groups spent a most enjoyable week-end at Val Verde, which included horseback riding, swimming and out-of-door life. Integration of all ages into the policies of the YWCA is the purpose of this "Summer-of-Fun" now being offered.

What do you do when the recipe calls for sour milk and there is none at hand? Home economists of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture suggest making up a substitute by adding acid in the form of lemon juice or vinegar to "sweet" milk. The usual rule is: Add one tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar to one cup of milk. Stir and let stand about half an hour. Then use as sour milk in biscuits, cornbread, etc.

These are the correct answers to last week's quiz:

No. 1. With AKQJ combination against a suit contract first lead the King, then the Jack, against a No-trump lead the Ace, then the Jack (Knave).

No. 2. With three cards in partner bid suit the correct lead against the opponents' No-trump contract is the lowest card, but against a suit contract lead the top.

No. 3. The correct opening bid is three spades, you have 2½ H.T. and six winners.

Bridgers, last week's quiz was very short—but very effective if you use it. I would like to see, by the time the Nationals are held here next year, two strong teams prepared to win in most of the events. I am willing to devote the remainder of this year with such ambitious people, providing they are sincere.

The following name players are good timber if they will study and apply what they learn consistently: Clay & Davis, Ellis I. Veil & M. I. Milligan Sr., Mrs. Mae Denton & Lucelle Mack, Estelle Bryant & Ruby Veil, Viola Henry & Woods, Dr. A. L. Wallace & J. D. Dunn, Joe Henry & Clyde Maddox, Jimmie Lawson & Andrews, Louis Beal, Louis Woods & Tom Hinton, Mattie Hinton & Eva Gordon. If these teams would enter any contest of bridge skill with the best, you'd find them on the winning side without any improvement. With a little study, and application of their knowledge consistently they would make the four Aces look like novices under their withering barrage of scientific bidding and plays. Eh what, old timers? Let us get busy now for the Nationals in August, and the day they are to be our guest. Now is the time.

By Grace Fisher Atkins

Summer school at Jefferson Adult Evening school at East 41st and Hooper avenue, will include two courses in costume design. One will offer complete instruction in Couturstat procedure. The other course will consider practical clothing problems.

Couturstat, the process of manufacturing clothing by means of photography and mathematics will be offered each Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 9:30. The ten sessions will include the total process of Couturstat, from beginning to end.

Students may learn to draft patterns and make garments. Emphasis will be placed on the drafting of patterns from photos. Each minute detail has been planned to meet the demands of full student participation. Taking pictures or rather snapping them will be done by students.

Successful students will find employment in the now forming Courturstat Corporation. Accurate and efficient draftsmen and cutters are needed. Current salaries will be paid.

The practical problems in clothing construction will be studied in the second part of the course. Each Thursday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 individual and practical problems will be considered. At this time students may have alterations of ready to wear dresses, suits or coats, changes in old clothes, cutting of new garments and the like.

Thursday evening is the "miscellaneous night", when anyone can receive clothing aids. A list will be provided on the first evening of this class, July 11, in order that all requests may be taken in order. No problem is to take longer than 12 minutes at any one time.

Persons wishing clothing aids may achieve greater service if they have their problems prepared for inspection. That is, it will help if the individual knows what is desired in general.

Enrollment will start at 6:00 p.m. July 8 and 9, for these classes in room A-118.

Much emphasis will be placed on the clothing of children also.

Rents, Prices Skyrocket As Controls Lifted

get next time, if he gets any, may go further toward decontrol than the one he has vetoed."

Taft assailed the President for exposing the fact that the Taft amendment made a farce of the OPA extension bill.

The Republican party officially also opened up on Truman's price control action, with its Tennessee-born national chairman, Carrol Reece, attempting to pass the buck to Truman, ignoring that the Republican party primarily was responsible for writing into the act the crippling amendments which invited the veto. Reece indicated that the GOP now intends to present itself as the "friend" of price control.

WARREN DUCKS ISSUE

Meantime, Angelenos received some measure of relief this week when the city council froze local rents for 66 days. However, the next two months. However, the council also permitted landlords to raise rents 15 per cent above OPA ceilings.

Similar action was taken by the governors of several states. In California, however, Gov. Earl Warren ducked the issue, declared "there is simply nothing a governor can do." He admitted he was aware of a New York state law passed earlier this year which enforces OPA rent ceilings on all but new housing, but ignored a request by the CIO that he call a special session of the legislature to curb skyrocketing of rents and prices in California.

In Los Angeles on a two-month vacation, Warren asserted that fixing of prices and rentals is not a state but a federal responsibility.

PEOPLE MUST ACT!

Labor, veteran and civic organizations have swung into action throughout the country to collect signatures to petition to congress, demanding resumption of price controls immediately. Congress already is receiving a flood of protest telegrams, letters and postcards with every indication that the protest will grow as the people increasingly find their wages and savings under attack by price profiteers.

In many quarters a buyers' strike is being advocated, with consumers being urged not to buy anything they can do without.

uncorrected discrimination enters as an adverse factor in the peace councils."

The report urged the President to continue to press for fair employment legislation, and warned him that the "future status of minority groups workers depends . . . on the course of action to be taken by the congress."

The agency's doom was sealed several months ago when the coalition of northern Republicans and Southern poll tax first cutting off its funds, then filibustering to death a bill to discontinue the agency.

house, won renomination, which is equivalent to election in one-party Mississippi.

The campaigns of both men were marked by violent attacks on the Negro people and on the recent decision of the U. S. supreme court declaring unconstitutional the all-white Democratic party primaries in the South. In his campaign speeches, Bilbo repeatedly advocated physical violence against Negroes to bar them from the polls.

State-wide reports show that Negroes, particularly World War II veterans, defied the terroristic attempts to bar them from the polls. Several were brutally beaten, many others had previously been barred from registering on various pretexts, chief of which was the claim that they were not able to "interpret" the state constitution.

Approximately 3000 of Mississippi's 5000 registered Negro voters participated in the ballot. At Pass Christian on the Gulf coast and several other places, Negroes were turned away, however, after a few had been allowed to vote—for the record.

At Natchez and at Mound Bayou, an all-Negro town, Negro citizens were permitted to vote, but their ballots were challenged.

Walter Sillers, speaker of the state house, asserted that "no coercion" was being used to keep Negroes from the polls, but admitted their ballots were being marked, thus making a mockery of the democratic principle of the secret ballot.

Sillers said the marked ballots would be thrown out later if the Negroes were found "not to be qualified."

The challenged votes were placed in special envelopes and will not be counted until the Democratic county committees pass on the right of the voters to participate.

In Washington, D. C., Atty. Gen. Tom Clark, acting on numerous protests against Bilbo's violence-inciting campaign, last week announced that the federal government would act to punish any act of violence designed to bar Negroes from voting.

Early this week the senate privileges and elections committee voted down a resolution to investigation reports that Bilbo had urged "red-blooded Mississipians" to keep Negroes from voting in the primary.

The demand for the investigation was made by Sen. Glen H. Taylor, D., Idaho, who accused Bilbo of borrowing "Hitler's tactics" in an effort to insure his re-election.

Yesterday another accusation was hurled at Bilbo when former Rep. Ross Collins asked the senate to investigate charges that Bilbo had received $25,000 from a Mississippi firm in "flagrant" violation of federal and state statutes.

Mrs. Sally W. O'Day, head of the O'Day Realty Co., was also in the office at the time and an eye witness of the accident. She attributes her own escape to the fact that the front wheel of the car was caught on a brick as the car lunged into the office window.

Investigation of the accident is being conducted by Officers Southwick and Gilbert.

has been informed that only veterans are being given aid.

Her husband left her in December and has only contributed $17 per week since, for the support of his seven children and his aged mother. When DeRouen deserted his family Mrs. DeRouen sought court action and was granted this sum since DeRouen earned only $35 per week. But now he earns as much as $75 per week and the courts have not forced him to contribute more.

The city health department has ordered the family to move from the store building because it lacks adequate sanitary facilities and ventilation.

☆ Youth Activities Throughout The Nation ☆

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

It's vacation time for millions of young people throughout the nation. That means it's play-time. Fun time.

In this first post-war vacation period, people—adults as well as youngsters—are all set for the fun they dreamed about during the long years of World War II.

Know something, chum? Los Angeles definitely plans to take care of its own. All over the city, community centers, playgrounds, parks, schools and agencies are all set to offer extensive programs of supervised play, with organized activities beginning in most instances at 10 a.m. and continuing until 6 p.m.

One of the most attractive features about most of these vacation plans is that everyone comes in for his share of fun. You see, programs have been outlined for adults as well as youth.

However, of all the plans I've read about, chum, one which strikes me as being particularly outstanding is the summer recreational projects for underprivileged children. It's being offered at the University Camp, under the sponsorship of the University Religious Conference at UCLA.

This camp, opening July 8 and continuing through September 4, will accommodate 600 children of all races, creeds and colors during six sessions of ten days each.

I'd like to tell you a little of the history of this University Camp, chum. It's really interesting, as you'll soon agree. Organized in 1934, it's under the direct supervision of the Student Board of the University Religious Conference. I understand that it's a pet charity of the UCLA student body and faculty.

During each Spring semester, over the past 12 years, a donations drive has been conducted among the students for support of the camp.

A total of $3,400 was contributed to the project this year. Supplementing this fund will be a contribution by the Chaplain's Service Corps of the conference. Part of the contribution will be used to send youngsters to the camp and the rest to furnish new camp equipment.

Kids who might not otherwise get into that great outdoor world, now have a chance to find out what it's all about.

Equally as important, UCLA students, who act as counsellors, have an opportunity to teach these youngsters the democratic way of life. Some of the kids will be coming in contact with youth of other races, creeds and colors for the first time in their lives. It'll do them a world of good, believe me.

From what I hear, the camp site is ideal. Embracing 11 acres, it is located on the south fork of the Santa Ana River in the lovely San Bernardino County, near Seven Oaks.

Final arrangements for the camp are being made by Virginia Hogaboom Radford, camp director, and Robert Jaffie, chairman of the Student Board and Social Service Director of the Religious Conference. Fourteen student counsellors will be assigned to each camp session, with Joan Phebud, vice-president of the UCLA student body, and Hal Michels, UCLA varsity basketball player, acting as head counsellors.

The little lassies get a break because they'll begin the first 10-day camp session. The boys will go the second session and the rotation will continue in that order throughout the summer.

A bang-up line-up of outdoor sports is scheduled. There'll be swimming and fishing, hiking and boxing, tumbling and instructions in signaling, trail blazing and dramatics, and even journalism, including publication of a camp newspaper.

Special activities included on the calendar of each session include a boxing match, swimming meet, treasure hunt, all-day hike, sports jamboree and Sunday chapel.

Sounds great, doesn't it? Enough to make you wish you were a youngster again. Between the ages of 9 and 14.

And you know something, chum, even though Los Angeles has made plans for vacation activities for adults as well as youngsters, I still can't help wishing I was 14 years old again.

Your chum,
YVONNE.

STOP THE KLAN!—Despite Klan threats to call off the mass youth anti-Klan rally, young people of Los Angeles marched into the CIO Hall Saturday evening to hear youth leaders launch a program calling on the Mayor to stop the Klan terrorists.

Youth Hold Anti-Klan Rally; Launch Campaign Calling on Mayor to End KKK Terrorism

The KKK received a ringing challenge to its reign of terror Saturday evening when, despite Klan threats to call off the rally, over 200 young people staged a street demonstration on 56th st. between Main and Broadway to protest Klan activities.

Launching a petition-letter campaign, youth called upon the Mayor of Los Angeles to investigate Klan influences in the police department; fire patrolman LeRoy Burke and all other police defenders of Klan lawlessness; and seriously track down and jail Ku Klux Klan terrorists.

Those responding to the call of American Youth for Democracy to join the battle against the un-American activities of the Ku Klux Klan heard prominent youth, civic and theatrical leaders urge an all-out fight against the illegal Klan.

"We demand that our city officials ferret out these sheet-covered scoundrels who are spreading their venom of racial and religious hatred," declared Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE.

Tommy Amer, young Chinese-American veteran who wears the Purple Heart, told the crowd assembled in front of his home of the attempt of fascist-inspired men to drive him out of his own home.

"When we knocked out Japan and Germany, I thought fascism was dead," he declared, "but it still lives, right here in America."

Mr. H. G. Hickerson, in front of whose home a fiery cross was burned, voiced his determination to continue the fight against organized terrorism and thanked the thousands of people throughout Los Angeles who have joined in the struggle.

Kenneth Van Leuden, SC student prominent in the fight against Klan activities, and Rebecca Horne, AVC, issued ringing challenges to all people to unite in the fight to drive the Klan out of America.

Following the street meeting, young people marched over in a body to the CIO Hall, Slauson and Avalon, to hear William Bidner of the Mobilization for Democracy urged them to continue lending their strength and support.

Other youth speakers included Ike Adams, Joe Gavon and Charles Bruck.

Youngsters Aid Rat-Riddance, Clean-Up Drive

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The fearful menace of huge and vicious rats and terror they struck in the hearts of children, has been virtually done away with at Shipyard Homes, thanks to a concerted effort by young and old tenants of the housing project.

Young and old alike pitched in on the rat riddance campaign. As part of the drive, which began June 3 and ends July 14, yards were cleaned, rubbish and garbage secured in metal containers, grass cut, streets cleaned, lawns trimmed and flower gardens cultivated.

The drive is succeeding in not only exterminating the rats, but in beautifying the project in every respect.

PAC to Mobilize Youth Division

The formation of a Young Citizens Political Action Committee to rally young people behind progressive candidates is in process, according to an announcement recently made by Dr. Frank Kingdon, chairman of the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

Dr. Kingdon stated that the new youth division is expected to play an important role in coming congressional elections, adding that polls of national opinion indicated that an approximate four million young people who have matured to legal voting age since the '44 elections showed themselves solidly supporting progressives.

It is believed that state groups will grow out of the national nucleus when formed.

P. Schuyler Will Be Soloist With New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra July 13

NEW YORK—Philippa Duke Schuyler, 14-year-old composer-pianist of this city, received the greatest honor of her honor-filled career this week when Mrs. Charles S. Guggenheimer, chairman of Stadium Concerts, announced that the talented young pianist had been selected as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra at the Lewishon Stadium on July 13, playing Saint Saens' Concerto No. 2 in G Minor. The famed orchestra will be led on that evening by Thor Johnson, talented young American conductor.

Young Miss Schuyler, who has been in the public eye since the age of two years because of her unusual precocity, recently won first and second prizes in a hemisphere-wide contest open to young composers and sponsored by the Grinnell Foundation in collaboration with the Detroit Public Library and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Her first prize winning composition, "Manhattan Nocturne," has been played by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Her second prize winning composition, "Rumpelstiltskin," was played by the American Youth Orchestra in New York on April 7, led by Dean Dixon, brilliant young conductor.

She was soloist with the Boston "Pops" Orchestra on June 25 and 28.

The appearance of the young pianist at the famous Lewishon Stadium will mark the first time that a colored American has appeared as piano soloist there with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Vital Problems Tackled at Texas College Workshop

TYLER, Texas—The Fifth Cooperative Community Education Workshop seeking to implement the services rendered communities through the school room, the church, and other uplifting agencies brought to Texas college a score or more of outstanding celebrities in the fields of education, religion, industry, business, social services, government, and related areas.

The discussions, forums, and classes of the Fifth Cooperative Community Education Workshop, which began Monday, June 3 and ends Friday, July 5, centers around vital problems encountered by the people in their every day life and had as its objective bringing the problems of the people to the council table for the purpose of carrying back to the people solutions for the vexing situations in which they found themselves.

DAR Rebuffed by Honor Graduates

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Two American girls, Florence Kauffman and Betty Goldberg, top ranking seniors at Seward high school are proudest today of having refused medals from the Daughters of American Revolution than of any of their other achievements.

"I refuse to accept anything from an organization that discriminates like the D.A.R.," said Florence, who is valedictorian of her class with a 96 average.

Exclaimed Betty, "I'm prouder to refuse the medal than I would be to accept it. After all, we have all races in our school and we have practiced tolerance. We get along together fine, so why should I do anything to recognize the D.A.R. which discriminates against Negroes especially?" The girls give much of the credit for their tolerance to their history teacher.

Transports Jimcro To Virgin Islands

Students attending the Christiansted high school at St. Croix, Virgin Islands, got their first taste of the deep-seated race prejudice practiced on the mainland recently, when Virginia Parsons, a white student from Boston, Mass., admitted to the teachers of the island high school that she had written a letter branding the native students as "animals" and the native inhabitants as "n——."

Organization to Subsidize Fight Against Jimcrow

NEW YORK, N. Y.—To combat racial intolerance, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc., will spend $1,500,000 to subsidize social science research in American schools, it was announced last week.

Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, retiring president of Vassar college and delegate to the International Conference of Christians and Jews being held in England July 30 to August 6, expressed the belief that courses in human relations, similar to the one at Harvard, give a partial answer to the problem.

L. A. City School Students Below Par in "Basic Skills"

Los Angeles City school students are three months behind the national average where "basic skills" are concerned, a Los Angeles Board of Education report disclosed this week.

The report revealed that, while pupils in elementary schools are almost on a par with those in other cities, students in junior high schools are appreciably below the national average and high school girls and boys are as much as 15 months behind in certain studies.

Maurice G. Blair, assistant superintendent in charge of the curriculum division said the purpose of the survey was to find the weaknesses in the school system determine their causes and prepare corrective measures.

To do this, 85,00 children of the total 300,000 enrolled were given a series of tests during the first semester of the 1945-46 school year. First test established the intelligence of the Los Angeles student above the national average with an IQ rating of 102 as compared to 100 nationally. However, results of the six "basic skills" tests including reading, writing and arithmetic indicated that students are behind the national average.

Some of the principal factors in the low showing include crowded classrooms, shortage of teachers, language handicap, lack of refresher type courses, text books 20 years old with new cover design, and the California system whereby the state establishes extsts to be used.

Lauds Negro's Role In America's Life

WAVERLY, N. Y. — Although there are only three Negro famlies in this quiet little village of 5,000, the prep school youngsters are apparently alertly conscious of America's number one social problem. The valedictorian of the '46 high school class selected as her thesis "The Contributions of Outstanding Negroes In The History of America".

Heads City College Student Newspaper

George Lundgren was recently appointed executive editor of the "Collegian," Los Angeles City college student newspaper. Outgoing editor is Robert Knepper.

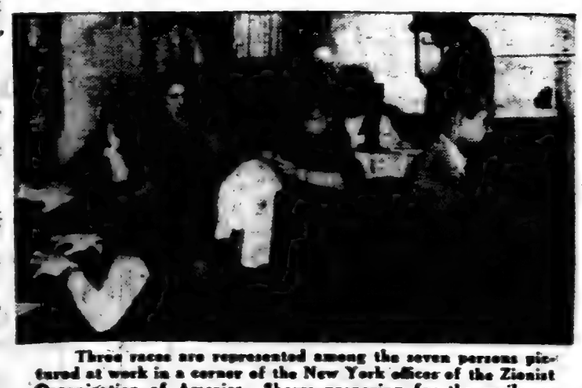
Bodie Berger, this semester's managing editor, received the Clifford Kuhn Memorial Award, given to the outstanding City college reporter of the year by GDU, men's honorary journalism society.

Charges Chicago Medical Schools Guilty of Bias

CHICAGO—Charges that Negro students are excluded from the Northwestern and Chicago university medical schools were made here last week at an Institute on College Quotas sponsored by 40 civic groups at the initiation of the Chicago Council Against Racial and Religious Discrimination.

Grounds are being sought for a suit on the contention that all citizens help support tax-free Northwestern university.

According to Dr. A. G. Falls, a member of the staff of Provident hospital, discrimination at Northwestern began when a Texan was added to the faculty. No Negro students are now admitted to the school.



Three races are represented among the seven persons pictured at work in a corner of the New York offices of the Zionist Organization of America. Shown preparing for the mails an appeal for immediate transfer of 100,000 European Jews to Palestine, (as recommended by the Anglo-American Inquiry Committee, are (left to right) Tappy Gottlieb, Florence Benson, Clara Brown, Sylvia Berliner, Irene) Eaton, Thelma Sampson and Ethel Flores. LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

BOXING NEEDS TO BE SENT TO THE LAUNDRY

Looks like Jersey Joe Walcott has been given the old heave-to by Uncle Mike Jacobs in favor of Tami Mauriello insofar as the next opponent (or should we say victim?) of Champion Joe Louis is concerned. We do not think that Uncle Mike is prejudiced. It's more the fact that his brain cells resemble dollar signs, we think. Mike doesn't experiment with the green stuff that buys groceries. He tries at all times to make his promotions pay to the utmost. He is probably afraid of matching two Negroes in a heavyweight title match, knowing that he'll get a larger crowd if Joe's opponent is white. This is quite true. Say what you will but the fans of all races will go for a mixed fight much quicker than they will for members of the same race in competition. If the present champion were white the crowd wouldn't be as great if he fought another white fighter as it would be if he were matched against a Negro or a fighter of another nationality.

WORTHY CHALLENGERS IGNORED

We think this is quite unfair insofar as splendid fighters like Walcott, Ezzard Charles, Jimmy Bivins and other sepians are concerned. These men have reached the peak the hard way in order to be possible challengers for the world's heavyweight crown and that they should be denied it because of color, despite the fact that the champion is also a Negro, seems ridiculous, unless you look at it through Jacobs' eyes. We all know that Joe's days in the ring are becoming limited. He knows it too and when he feels that he no longer has the stuff he'll probably retire of his own accord, which is as it should be. Meanwhile what are we going to do with the growing list of young Negro prospects who are springing up all over the nation? All heavyweights dream of the pot of gold at the end of the fistic rainbow. That prize is the world's heavyweight championship. All comers, white or black, should have a fair try at it. No money-grabbing financiers should be allowed to pull the strings that deny this chance. We wish that the fans themselves would become conscious of this factor. If the sport is to remain clean and aboveboard some of the dirty things that cling to it should be cut off at once.

GAME NEEDS AN INVESTIGATION

A demand that the government investigate boxing and the activities of Mike Jacobs was promptly suppressed recently. The Justice Department said that there would be no investigation. Why? The good Lord above knows one is very definitely indicated. The champion should go all over this country and other nations defending his title against all challengers but instead persons in the know say that Jacobs exclusively directs his moves and this seems patently true. Practically all of his fights have been in New York City, the lair of Jacobs, promoted by Jacobs, the opponents selected by Jacobs. This is grossly unfair. There are plenty other promoters in other large cities that would like to show Louis in their towns against the leading challengers of their states. They should be allowed to do this. The National Boxing Association, backed by a membership of some 48 states, seems to this writer one of the weakest organizations in the nation.

JACOBS ALLOWED FREE SWING

Nothing has been done to curb the monopoly Jacobs has on boxing, a monopoly that may be traced even as far back as the time when the state of New York started creating world championships of its own and would have nothing to do with the NBA. Jacobs seems to care nothing about world titles held by NBA champions. If the fighters who battle for him are New York State world champs it is sufficient reason for the staging of title contests at Madison Square Garden or Yankee Stadium. Boxing will be in a mess until the NBA and New York Athletic Commission get together, break this appalling monopoly and map a program to set the sport on the high plane it deserves in the American way of life. The way things seem to me Jacobs is the czar of boxing, New York City the crown city and New York State the owner of private world champions. The best matches are made there and the orders to the fighters are issued from the throne. Other states in the Union are just, well,—other states, with no say-so whatever, shorn of power to "do anything about it," confined to the borders of their respective states, free to dictate to the mediocre fighters within these borders but powerless to deal with national situations in boxing. I may well be wrong but in just observing boxing over a long period of years and studying the manner in which the game is being conducted I am almost convinced that the above state of affairs is true.

FIGHTERS MOST ABUSED

No follower of the sport can truly say that everything is hunky-dory. It just isn't. It isn't anything you can readily put your finger on but it is there just the same. The change over was subtle and took quite a few years of shrewd planning but now the boys that are running the game (or shall we say racket?) have things in the careful order of a well-oiled piece of expensive machinery. The fighter himself is the most abused part of the entire setup. There are many boys who have gone from here to the east and failed to get anywhere because they weren't admitted to the charmed circle. As a result they have returned here thoroughly discouragd. The general hope of every budding young fighter is a Madison Square Garden main event. Even if he is considered a topnotcher in his home town he'll be lucky to get into a four-round prelim at the Garden and he's got to be a world beater to get a six-round semi-final spot. These are the kind of things that need straightening.

CLEANUP IS INDICATED

Mike Jacobs isn't the sole person to blame for the setup. As we figure the thing it is the result of organized effort. It should be broken up very soon before boxing in the entire United States becomes stagnant, the victim of a germ bred in its own blood stream and strangles to death for want of sterilization. United action on the part of the public will do much to help the situation. Let's send boxing to the laundry and hope that it comes back clean. At least let's try to get some of the dirty streaks out of it.

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA—Riding to glory in the second race when he scored on Aunt Mariam for his first winner on a recognized track, 17-year-old apprentice jockey Cotton Rankin met instant death in the eighth race when his mount, The Leach, fell and sent the little mite over his head to his death.

In the seventh race the first spill of the day came when Chiquero with Jockey D. J. Wagner fell. When Wagner regained consciousness he was rushed to the Mercy hospital in San Diego. Chiquero had to be destroyed.

Moot Question won like a good thing at even money and made the money-takers weep. In the ninth, Sweeping Charm, the favorite, refused to leave the gate until her field was away and finished dead last.

The daily double paid $108.40 with the combination of Aunt Mariam and Cleo Mic and the quiniela rewarded backers of Boothill and Whiteford Own, $42.40. Only five public choices won out of the twelve race program.

Next Sunday will be the biggest day in Mexico. The people will go to the polls to elect their president for the next six years. Joe Adams In Radio Interview Of Stars and Celebs In Theatre Foyer

NO FOOLING

By Eddie Burbridge, Theatrical Editor

UNFAIR TO RADIO ANNOUNCERS

Up until last Week Joe Adams was the personable young radio announcer of bronze complexion with his "GOLDEN GROOVES" record program over KXLA every Saturday and Sunday. As you might or might not know the life of a radio announcer on the air depends solely upon the response of the public. Joe received some response from white listeners but almost none from Negroes at whom the program was aimed by the Gold Furniture Company, sponsors of the air time. Gold's is located on the Eastside at E. Washington Blvd. and So. Central avenue, and caters to a lot of Negro trade. Because of the lack of response on the part of Negroes the program was cancelled and Mr. Adams found himself one sweltering summer day with the assets of ability but no program on which to exhibit it. Joe saw the handwriting on the wall long before it happened. He appealed through this newspaper and others for letters from Negro listeners. It is quite evident that the appeal was wasted. Radio announcing is a new field for Negroes, comparatively speaking, and as it has been so often proven, anytime a Negro enters a new field he catches merry hell. Your letters could have helped him keep that program. We know that it is too late on this particular incident but Joe may get another program. When and if he does we are asking you now to mail in letters and requests to the station or his sponsor. The only way the entire race can attain success in new fields is for you to help in any way you possibly can if someone has managed to get a foot in the door. Get behind him or her and push like heck. Please REMEMBER this, IT IS IMPORTANT! !

Record News And Reviews

One of the favorite jazz tunes of all times, Irving Berlin's great hit of another decade is given new expression by the King of Swing. The Goodman arrangement of BLUE SKIES is a "barrelhouse" session in swing, with the band swinging easily into a party written, partly improvised interpretation. Benny takes the first chorus on clarinet, coming into the beautifully arranged sax ensemble passages in flowing, rhythmic style.

I Don't Know Enough About You, the reverse side of this special Goodman release, is a lazy, provocative tune which remains popular among swing enthusiasts. With impelling rhythm and lyrics which seem to fit the mood of the melody, this song is a natural for a Goodman interpretation. Benny and the band do it up brown, and again Art Lund sings the vocal.

Together, these two new sides by Benny Goodman, Art Lund, and the band are a worthy follow-up to the great Goodman records of the past, showing off the new Goodman orchestra in top form and adding one more swing classic to Benny's enviable collection.

CANADA LEE UNDER CONTRACT TO HAMP-TONE

Mrs. J.T. Gipson's Candid Comments

EDITOR'S NOTE—RALPH WEAVER, well-known actor, dancer and former cosmopolitan stage player, writes our column this week while we continue to recuperate from a recent operation.
—GERTRUDE GIPSON

I COVER THE TOWN

This is yours truly, Ralph C. Weaver, pinch-hitting for my girl friend (or should I say, I'm gonna attempt to.) Mrs. Gip, as many of you guys and gals already know, is still very much on the sick list but I might add, she is mending beautifully.

I just returned from San Diego where I had the unfortunate pleasure of trying to entertain an audience that just didn't wanna to be entertained . . . it also seemed as though our completion wasn't so highly appreciated. This spot of entertainment is of course, "Patrick's" located at 4th and "F" St. in the heart of what one might easily mistake for Texas or any other southern state, instead of San Diego. The vice squad makes it a point to keep the performers miserable, by walking right in and telling you what you can do and what you can't do. Dixie Gibson, one of the finest comedienne's in the business was plainly told after the first show on opening nite that the song, "Around the Clock" was a good number, but that it was no morale builder for service men, for as you probably know San Diego is but definitely a FLEET TOWN.

Tena Toni (she's what Lana Turner should have been) a prize package of entertainment if there was one and a dancer, the shake type . . . didn't shake in San Diego because the vice squad said, "NO! You can't get that no more."

I stopped in the Dunbar Grill t'other day to chew up on a mess of vittles (food to you). I sat right down beside Earl (Fatha) Hines. I started spieling off with some clatter (of which for some reason he lent a willing ear.) Fatha said, I quote, "Princess Stareletta has got a lot of talent, and I'm waiting on a letter from my partner in Chicago now—there is a possibility of the Princess & Company going into the El Grotto." Unquote. Wow! Won't that be something for those would-be entertainers to talk about—already talking about her in unnecesary phrases. If they don't stop—I'm gonna tell more—and if I did, it would be a most mess' o roue.

Bettye Quincey is beautiful but that's not all—she can dance and did you dig Micheal's body. Wow! what a body. Yep it's Phelan & Quincey for my money. They're in their 8th week at Cafe Society.

Yep, birds of a feather do stick together—and I say that to say this! I'm not on the floor show, but I might have been—so, if that Central Avenue barber ever makes another remark about that floor show as he did the other day—I'm gonna tell where he bought that Ziron ring that he thinks he's fooling everybody with.

Charles (Drifting Blues) Brown of The Three Blazers and yours truly were not only born in the same town, but went to the same school together, and belonged to the same church and I sang in the choir while Brown himself, was the pianist.

It's remarkable how the Japanese in "Little Tokio" and the Negroes are getting along together. I'm told that the police department was very dissappointed. Yours truly has just added two lovely ladies of the Oriental type to his class list.

Did you know Oscar Harrison is back. Yep, and he looks good too. Italy, France, Germany and South America with a USO unit, all of these gay places on foreign soil saw him but he came back to Los Angeles. He had a good reason. Oscar, as many of you know, had a brilliant start in the movies, so he's going to resume his career.

What's this I hear about a jealous spat between THE PRINCESS AND SNOOKS DAVIS (of Snooks & Allen). What I've been trying to figure out is who's jealous of who. From where I stand both acts are great.

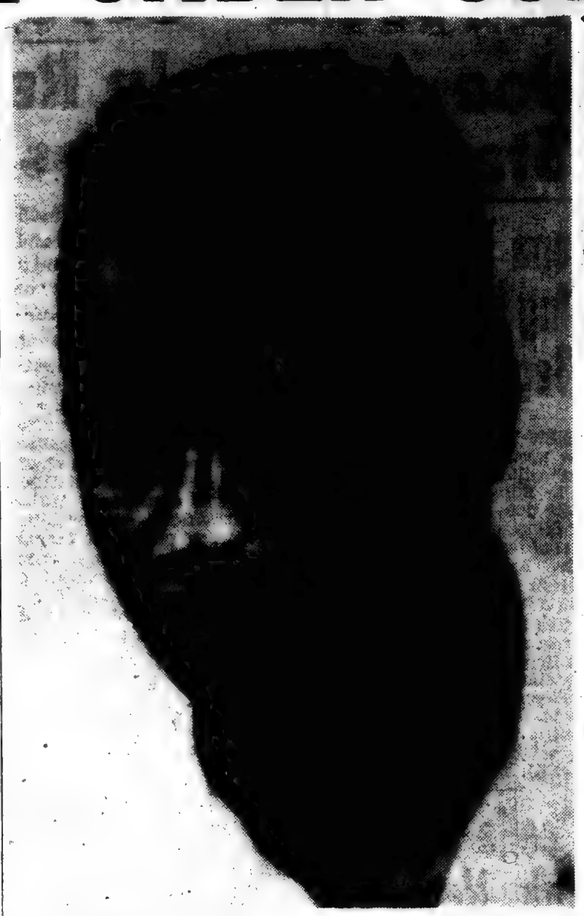
Tom-Tom Conley, the lad who beats out the boogie beat on the tom-tom has put show business down for a while.

Carolyn (Sherry) Dotson is the chorus cutie with the kissable kisser.

Sincere appreciation goes to Al Ramsey, Sr., owner and proprietor of the Yesmar Hotel in San Diego for that kindly and trustworthy favor he so willingly bestowed upon yours truly and the other four members of my company while we were in that city.

Sammy Flouche used to close the show at the Alabam this way. I quote, "Until the war is won, you better pitch in—if you don't you won't have a pot to pitch in! "Unquote. Now the war is won, but if you didn't have at least one bond—I doubt if you'll have any fun.

—Ralph C. Weaver



INKS CONTRACT—One of America's top-ranking dramatic actors in the person of CANADA LEE has just recently signed a contract with the Hamp-Tone Recording company, of which Mrs. Lionel Hampton, wife of the bandleader, is president.

Noted Actor Added To Artists Roster

NEW YORK—Mrs. Lionel Hampton, Hamp-Tone president, announced during an interview last week that Canada Lee, one of America's ranking dramatic actors has signed a contract to record on the Hamp-Tone label.

In commenting on Canada Lee's addition to the grow-ing Hamp-Tone organization, Mrs. Hampton said: "This achievement represents a great step forward for Hamp-Tone. When our company was formed, I said our policy would be to offer the best in entertainment. With the signing of Canada Lee, we feel that we are taking the first step toward guaranteeing our audience over the country oa representative repertoire of the highest in quality entertainment."

Mrs. Hampton especially urged Negroes over the country who are interested in the distributing of Hamp-Tone records to write to her or Charles P. Browning, Hamp-Tone's secretary, at Hamp-Tone headquarters, 40 West 46th Street, New York City.

First on the Hamp-Tone list is "Hey Ba Ba Rebop" by the Hampton All-Stars featuring Wynonie Harris on Parts One and Two. Arnett Cobbs, tenor sax ace, cut "Shebna" while on the flipover, Pianist Milt Buckner hit with "Down Home." This is a rare item inasmuch as both artists are featured on the same platter.

Billed as "Mr. Blues," Wynonie Harris comes back with an indigo-tinted biscuit on which he calls "Good Morning, Corinne" and "In the Evening Blues," backed up by the Hampton All-Stars.

Roy Milton's fine sextet makes his Hamptone debut with "To Be Alone With You" and "I'll Always Be in Love With You" on the reverse side.

Deep River Singers At Wiley July 15th

MARSHALL, Tex.—The Deep River Singers, a star cast from the original "Swing Mikado," will appear at Wiley College Monday evening, July 15 as the first cultural event on the summer calendar. These singers are rated as an outstanding group of entertainers, dramatically gripping, delightfully humorous and musically different.

CITED FOR HEALTH AID—Lena Horne, lovely MGM star, holds the citation presented to her by the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. for her outstanding work on the 1945 Christmas Seal campaign.

Lucky Millinder Plans To Offset OPA Defeat

SAN ANTONIO—Lucky Millinder, the colorful bandleader, has joined the chorus of opponents to congressional action that would spell an end to the OPA. The dynamaestro of swing has gone even a step further and offered a concrete plan of operation should the price con-trol agency be voted out of business. Millinder has proposed to his office in New York that future dates be accepted with payment in merchandise rather than cash should the OPA be discontinued.

According to the creator of countless hits, entertainment values will be as unstable as that of many other commodities therefore although prices might remain high the revenues realized will not permit musicians to buy and live on the level to which they have become accustomed. Not only did Millinder lay down his ultimatum but followed it up with a bristling telegram to his congressman in which he demanded aggressively active support for the OPA because "entertainers and artists will suffer as everyone else in the chaos of inflation and wild spending that is sure to result therefrom."

Millinder and his band are in this city to play an engagement at the Municipal auditorium.

SINATRA'S SURPRISE

Frank Sinatra pulled a surprise at the end of his speech before 25,000 Chicago school children that had all 25,000 cheering for five minutes.

The surprise was—Peter Lawford.

As a skin conditioner, Claudette Colbert uses pure almond oil three times each week to remove her make-up. She also rubs a few drops of the oil into her hands.

New Film Company To Open

After months of investigation and first-hand study of Hollywood and the distribution field, Sepia Films Productions has completed its organization. It has perfected a plan of producing Class A all-colored cast motion pictures, a distinct revolution in comparison to the limited avenues that have all through the history of the industry been available to Negro artists.

Specializing in musicals, the plots will be natural, modern, and true to life, devoid of the stereotyped and burlesque roles that have caused growing complaint by both Negro fans and friends of the race. Yet they will provide real entertainment for both metropolitan and neighborhood theatres, in any part of the world.

Eddie Green, famous radio and screen star, is president of the new, well prepared company; Seymour Simons, business manager, and Harry Levette, newsman, a long experienced stage and screen actor, is publicity director. Shooting on the first of the series is scheduled to start late in July.

During the years immediately preceding World War II, seven countries had lower infant mortality rates than the U. S.—richest country in the world.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

Record Attendance of 15,000 At National Sunday School, Bapt. Training Union Congress

CHICAGO—The National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress recently closed a very successful session here in Chicago. The meeting is said to have been the largest attended in the history of the organization. Nearly 4000 enrolled in the various classes of the Congress in attendance. The great coliseum and there were more than 15,000 on Wabash Street where the general assembly of the Congress met was filled at each session.

The commencement exercises of the Congress was held Sunday afternoon in the coliseum. It presented a wonderful spectacle for it was a thrilling sight to observe 3000 anxious students marching in procession to take seat and receive the "Course Cards", forty-eight of whom were awarded "Certificates of Progress" (Diplomas).

Dr. G. W. Reed of Los Angeles presided at this session of the Congress. He also presided as master of ceremonies at the Faculty banquet on Thursday evening. Dr. W. H. Jernagin of Washington, D.C., is president of the Congress and Dr. A. Franklin Fisher of Brooklyn, New York is dean. All encumbent officers were reelected to serve for another year.

The National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress is the largest organization of its kind training leaders in Christian religious education known anywhere. It has a faculty of more than 200 instructors and leaders. Dr. Jernagin, the present president has served in that capacity for twenty-one years.

Dedication of a trailer camp which will house approximately 150 homeless veterans will be held Tuesday, June 4, at the camp site, 12703 S. San Pedro blvd. Applications may be made to Robert Nelson, 933 W. Gage or at the camp site.

Annual Session Of CME Church Set July 10

BERKELEY—The 37th annual session of the District Conference, Women's Missionary Society, Sunday School and Epworth League Conventions of the Los Angeles District, of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, will convene at Phillips Chapel church, California and Derby streets, here on July 10. Bishop F. L. Lewis will be the presiding bishop, Dr. G. L. Hays, presiding elder, and Rev. J. H. Dorn, host pastor.

Dr. Hays recently returned from the General Conference of the C. M. E. Church, which was held at St. Louis, Mo. He made transcriptions of the entire proceedings of that body for 13 days and nights. Every song, sermon, speech, exortation, etc., was recorded and can be reproduced at any time. Dr. Hays is proud to have been the first, so far as is known, ever to attempt such a task, which turned out to be a success.

Dr. Hays also attended the commencement exercises of Mississippi Industrial college at Holly Springs, Miss., and Lane college at Jackson, Tenn., and recorded the programs. He makes a specialty of recording religious services and programs with the novelty of playing back the records as soon as the performer has finished.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Sarah Smith who departed this life in Phoenix, Arizona, June 23, 1945.

You think her 'out of reach,' your dead?
Nay, by my own dead, I deny
Your "out of reach."—Be comforted:
'Tis not so far to die.

O by their dear remembered smiles,
And outheld hands and welcoming speech,
They wait for us, thousands of miles
This side of "out of reach."

A devoted husband, Mr. Scott Smith; a loving son, Mr. Oscar Smith; an affectionate daughter, Mrs. Dorena Flewellen; and a deeply-attached granddaughter, Mrs. Sarah L. Amos.

Baha'i Lecture

Social Welfare will be the subject of the address to be given by Willard P. Hatch on Sunday, July 7, at Los Angeles Haha'i Headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, at 3:00 p.m.

Abdul Baha more than 30 years ago, in 1912, said, "The question of socialization is very important. It will not be solved by strikes for wages. All the governments of the world must be united and organize an assembly, the members of which should be elected from the parliaments and the nobles of the nations. These must plan, with the utmost wisdom and power, so that neither the capitalists suffer from enormous losses, nor the laborers become needy.

A nation is the unity of a people. —Coleridge

Reception for New Bishop

MRS. F. L. LEWIS

BISHOP F. L. LEWIS

Bishop F. L. Lewis, elected bishop at the recent general conference of the C. M. E. Church and assigned to the California Conference, will be tendered a welcome reception at Phillips Temple, 43rd and Wadsworth ave., at 8 p. m., Monday, July 8. The public is cordially invited to attend.

This will mark the first visit of the new bishop to his new field and the first new bishop this field has had in 39 years.

Bishop Lewis succeeds Bishop Charles Henry Phillips, organizer in 1902 of what later became the California Conference. The Conference was formed in 1909 and Bishop Phillips presided until he retired in May of this year.

For 12 years Bishop Lewis served as kingdom extension secretary, in which capacity he rendered outstanding and valuable service to the church. It is predicated that before many months pass the west will know that there is a new man on the ground and his church reassured that it made no mistake in elevating him.

The charming, faithful and efficient wife of Bishop Lewis will accompany him here. They will also attend the District Conference of the L. A. District, which convenes in Berkeley, July 10.

God is Father, infinite, and this great truth, when understood in its divine metaphysics, will establish the brotherhood of man, end wars, and demonstrate "on earth peace, good will toward men."—Mary Baker Eddy

To Be Presented In Concert Sunday

The popular Smith Jubilee Singers of St. Louis, Mo., are rendering a concert Sunday evening, July 7, at 8:15 p.m., Phillips Temple, 43rd and Wadsworth.

The public is invited to attend.

Christian Science Lesson Text 'God'

"The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." This declaration of the prophet Habakkuk will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Lesson-Sermon passage from Jeremiah reads, "Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid. . . . For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord." Matthew reports that "great multitudes came" to Jesus, "having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: . . . and they glorified the God of Israel."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says: "To ignore God as of little use in sickness is a mistake. Instead of thrusting Him aside in times of bodily trouble, and waiting for the hour of strength in which to acknowledge Him, we should learn that He can do all things for us in sickness as in health."

Vacation Church School at Avalon Center Gets Underway

Already sixty-three children and youth, ages 4 to 14, are enrolled at the Vacation Church school, at 4272 Avalon blvd., June 24 to July 14. This experience in Christian Education is sponsored jointly by the Avalon Christian church and the Avalon Community Center.

The theme is "Living Together in God's World." The supervision of the educational program is provided by the Church Federation of Los Angeles. The instructors are: Beginners, ages 4, 5 and 6, through first grade, Mrs. Gertrude Worley; Primary, ages 7, 8, grade 2 and 3, Mrs. E. W. Randle; Juniors, ages 9, 10, 11, grades 4, 5 and 6, Mrs. Ellymore F. Adams; Intermediate, ages 12 to 14, grades 7, 8 and 9 are serving as assistants in other departments.

The daily session extends from 9:00 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. including a period for lunch. Each child is asked to bring his own lunch. A nourishing drink and graham crackers are served by the staff.

Each parent is asked to provide 50c per week for each child to cover cost of drinks and supplies necessary for use in the various classes.

The closing session will be held Sunday night, July 14, at the Avalon Christian church. Parents and friends in the community are invited to visit the school at any time and especially to be present and share in the closing program.

REV. G. L. HAYS will serve as the Presiding Elder at the 37th annual session of the District Conference of the C.M.E. church at Berkeley on July 10.

Methodist Conference Calls for Abolition of Religious Jim Crow; Halt of U. S. A-Bomb Manufacture

Proposals for the abolition of "Jim Crow jurisdictional segregation" in the Methodist Church, and cessation of the manufacture of atomic bombs and the destruction of the United States' entire stock of such weapons, featured the Southern California-Arizona Conference of the Methodist Church. The conference, held in Pasadena, closed its sessions yesterday.

The conference took a progressive stand on many vital social questions. It excoriated race discrimination and Jim Crowism, advocated fair employment practices laws for California and the nation, attacked restrictive covenants, urged world disarmament and voted to ask governing churchmen to appoint a Negro bishop to preside at one of its annual sessions within the next four years.

Significantly, the attack on racial discrimination was led by the Georgia-born executive secretary of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, Rev. Jack R. McMichael of New York.

This country "will not exercise moral leadership in bringing about a democratic and brotherly world by holding on to religious and racial discrimination," Rev. McMichael told the delegates.

He declared that elimination of the poll tax in his native state was symptomatic of a trend "contributing to the building of a democratic South, capable of taking leadership within the progressive stream of America."

Representatives of the federation's Southern California chapter announced that the chapter had filed briefs with the California supreme court opposing restrictive covenants.

A resolution adopted by the conference asked the general conference of the Methodist Church in 1948 to end racial discrimination in religion and bring all Methodists, regardless of race, into one conference.

The conference gave a jolt to the proponents of the profit system, going on record as recognizing "the higher ethical value inherent in the co-operative as over against the competitive motive," declared that "as co-operation is emphasized and competition subordinated we approach more nearly to the teachings of Jesus. We therefore encourage the extension of co-operative technique and other similar means of bringing about economic justice and brotherhood."

The commandments of God are the bread of life for the nations. —Roswell D. Hitchcock

Say You Saw It in The Eagle

DR. ZETAR SAYS:

Our methods attack the basic cause of many common ailments. Backache and joint pains and most of the rheumatics, such as neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, arthritis, neuralgia and sciatica, etc., are due to joint distortions or toxemia, therefore, unless the basic cause of these ailments are treated only temporary relief can be accomplished.

It is no illusion with me after years of successful practice, but it is a scientific fact, based on exact observation and correct thinking that Chiropractic treatments do bring wonderful results, especially in the rheumatics, joint-distortions, nerve and circulatory disorders and most of the gastro-intestinal ailments; also Dr. Zetar has specialized in the correction of Foot Disabilities for many years, so if you are in need of FOOT COMFORT, why suffer, when there are tried and proven methods of treatments to help you. You will not go wrong to consult us on these problems.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late E. J. Stewart, of 1362 E. 33rd Street, wishes to thank their host of friends for the kindness shown through cards, telegrams and the many beautiful floral expressions sent at the time of his passing. He was a beloved husband and a loving father, he had also adopted many young people that loved him as a father. He had lived in the City of Los Angeles, for the past 37 years and was highly respected by all that knew him. Special thanks goes to Rev. F. D. Jordan, and the members of the First A.M.E. Church for their loyalty to the family, to St. John Lodge No. 5, The Order of the Eastern Star and the entire Masonic family for the comfort and interest they took in the family. Too much praise can not be given Fishers Mortuary, for their excellent service. L. L. Stewart the oldest son of the deceased was the contractor and builder for Fishers Mortuary, the saddest day he ever spent in the building was when he saw his father lying in state there. The Stewart, Mallory and City family shall always be grateful to their loyal friends.

L. A. Drug Workers To Strike July 12

Four hundred wholesale drug workers in Los Angeles and San Diego will strike on July 12. This decision was made following a meeting in the offices of U. S. department of conciliation in which Commissioner Pfau attempted to conciliate the difference between union and employers.

Plants affected will be McKessen & Robbins, Brunswig Drug Co., Morgan & Sampson and J. S. O'Callaghan.

Issues in dispute revolve around demands for increases of 18½c an hour and a Union shop. At present, the basic wage for experienced workers is 93c an hour, to which the employers have offered an increase of 5c an hour. To replace a maintenance of membership clause now in efect, the employers have demanded an open shop clause, both of which proposals the union has rejected.

Phone Co. Hikes Height of Its New Building

The new downtown telephone building, now under construction at 434 South Grand avenue, will be a 10-story structure instead of four stories, it was announced this week by J. M. Bidlake, division manager of the Southern California Telephone company.

The additional six floors will be used for the installation of telephone equipment and offices, including radio network and high frequency equipment on the tenth floor.

The complete building should be ready for occupancy during the first part of 1947, Bidlake said.

TIME FOR THOUGHT

An individual should meditate, concentrate, ponder, weigh, reflect upon, and digest what he reads in good books.

It is not how much food we eat which benefits our body, or where we travel, but how much we assimilate this knowledge to our best advantage.

The same applies to anything we do, for most of us try so hard to see how quickly we can accomplish a task giving little thought to how neatly, or well the job is done.

Dear Prof. Herman:

It has been some time since you heard from me, due to the fact that I have been quite ill. But I feel much better now, and I am writing you for that wonderful prayer and meditation combination, that you have. All during my illness I read the book With God All Things are Possible and derived consultation and peace of mind. Thanks again for all you have done for me.—R. Q.

Soil Conservation a 'Must' For Farmers of The South

Better health, better education, and better opportunities will come to the white and colored farmers of the South with the application of improved soil conservation practices, says former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana, in an article appearing in a recent issue of the U. S. department of Agriculture publication, Soil Conservation.

"Despite our obvious dependence on the land for our very existence," says the former Louisiana governor, "this nation as a whole is seeing its soil material washed and blown away throug washed and blown away through erosion at the rate of three billion dollars a year. At least 500 million dollars in soil is being washed from the states of the South into the Gulf of Mexico each year.

Pointing to the low standard of living on the farm, former Governor Jones says that before the war, Louisiana farmers cverage only $186 a year in cash income. Continuing, he said, "Louisiana was no exception . . . the average income of the South's people as a whole was $25 per capita per month, the cash income of our owner farmers was $15.50 a month, and of our tenant farmers, $6.25 a month."

The former governor also states that before the war, 30 percent of the Louisiana farms had no milk cows, 27 percent had no hogs, 16 percent, no gardens, and 11 percent, no chickens. And he says that the state was importing 50 million dollars worth of livestock and seven million dollars worth of poultry that could have been produced by Louisiana farmers.

However, he says that the situation is changing. "Already we have the most complete soil conservation set-up in the nation." We are wiping out our deficiencies in livestock, says the former governor. "In 1941 we had no agricultural lime plants and we placed only 10,000 tons of lime on all Louisiana farms. In 1944 we had three lime plants in operation and placed 300,000 tons of lime on our farms and pastures. We need three million acres of improved pastures."

Department officials point out that 17 Negro soil conservationists and seven field service contact representatives are playing an important part in the overall program of the South by helping to encourage colored farmers to adopt sound soil and water conservation measures. Of the 270,166,120 acres in farms of the South in 1940, Negro farmers operated 30,192,000 acres, of which they owned more than a third. Louisiana colored farmers owned over half a million acres.

Former Governor Jones says that if the white and colored farmers of his state will continue to conserve their soil and diversify their farming program, the rural people will be healthier because of improved nutrition, their schools and churches will be better, and their opportunities in general will be improved.

Contractor, Shot By Police, Sues For $102,440

Major Carter's $102,440 suit for damages against the city after he was shot while attempting to get into his own car last February 7 is now in the hands of the city attorney's office.

The 50-year-old wealthy contractor claims he was shot without provocation. The police report claims that Officer E. N. Walker (white), 31, of 5854 South Denver ave., a member of the metropolitan squad, shot Carter because he drew a .38 calibre revolver on the officer.

Carter's car was parked in a service station, where he had kept it at night for more than a year, located within 100 feet of his home at 3703 Avalon blvd. He had just returned from taking his daughter to work and was locking his car, he stated.

Shot in the abdomen, Carter was taken to the hospital in serious condition. In the police report he was named as a "suspect" in an assault with a deadly weapon charge.

His attorney, Hugh MacBeth, branded the offending officers as "white police just out looking for 'bad' Negroes."

Talks on Prejudice

United States commerce with Latin-America will never reach desirable proportions until white Americans shed their age prejudice, Dr. Osgood Hardy, professor of history at Occidental college, told the Foreign Trade Association this week.

"You people are interested in foreign trade," Dr. Hardy said, "and you're not going to get all you want as long as Latin-Americans believe we have race prejudices."

As an example, he told of the visit of some Panama businessmen who accompanied him to this country and were Jim-crowed by Miami, Florida, hotels, restaurants and officials.

LONDON—The Moscow radio said this week that the Russians have perfected a three dimensional motion picture and now are completing the filming of Robinson Crusoe.

LAY OF THE LAST MINSTREL

True love's the gift which God has given
To man alone beneath the heaven;
It is not fantasy's hot fire,
It liveth not in fierce desire,
With dead desire it doth not die;
It is the secret sympathy,
The silver link, the silken tie,
Which heart to heart and mind
to mind
In body and in soul can bind.
—Sir Walter Scott.

A Golden Wedding Day—It was our pleasure to attend the Golden Wedding anniversary of the Henry S. Merrys. It was a beatiful thing. The bride garbed in a gown befitting a princess out of a fairy tale, was white in color, with gold trimmings. Mrs. Merry looked as sweet as she must have looked 50 years ago when she said "I Do" to Henry S. Merry. The Merrys were wedded June 16, 1896 and on that bridal day, 50 years later they went through the ceremony again.

Fifty years married. Contrast that with today's marriages. Last year we had over 19,000 divorces in Los Angeles county alone. It seems today that people take their oaths too lightly. They hurry the minister, the judge or the justice of the peace through the words "for better, for worse, for poorer, for richer—forsaking all others, etc." to get to mumbling "I Do" and kissing part.

We hope that some of you who may get married this month or in the future or those of you already married, will think about the Merrys before you get hitched and those of you who are thinking about divorce will do the same. If you cannot get along with one person, how can you expect to get along with others? We know that there are exceptions to the rule—but check most couples who cannot get along together—generally cannot get along with other people.

The verse at the head of this column, we believe adequately describes the type of love that the Merrys have had for each other over 50 years. Read Scott's poem and make your wife much happier. And girls, marriage is not just a thing for a man—you are a partner—you have your part to do.

GUESS WHO?

Well, we finally got around to our own little brand of a quiz. We know that those who have followed the world of entertainment, especially those of the histrionic world will immediately guess the identity of the men we are about to describe.

Both these men made a great contribution to the field of entertainment. One is white, the other was black. Both won great fame and fortune. The white earned millions, the black earned as high as $63,000 a year.

The white made his dough on the screen—the black his on the fling in pictures and the white stage. Yet, the black had a brief had a brief stay on the stage.

Are you beginning to guess who they are? Read on:

Both were British subjects. Both made all their money in the United States and neither of them ever became an American citizen.

Both men were members of what we termed today as "minority groups." Yet despite the handicap of belonging to these groups—both rose to the top in their respective fields.

Both men were regarded by the laymen as comedians—actually both men were tragedians—geniuses at the art of pantomime.

Surely by now you must be red hot as to who these men are.

Both men were deeply social conscious. They made their fortunes depicting the man farthest down the ladder. Although in private life they amassed great fortunes—they never forgot from whence they rose.

Both men spent a great deal of their life in California, especially around Los Angeles and its environs.

The black one is dead. The white one is very much alive.

If you haven't guessed it we are talking about Charles Spencer Chaplin and Egbert Austin Williams—known as "Bert Williams." Williams was born in the Bahamas.

2 Farmers Net $900 By Scaling Timber

WASHINGTON—Two farmers, Arnie Royster and W. B. Brooks of North Carolina, netted $900 by consulting with a farm forester and having their 17 acres of timber scaled, according to reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture from North Carolina extension service.

The farmers had been offered $3100 for their timber by white sawmill men, but refused to accept the offer until the timber could be scaled. It turned out that the 17-acre tract contained 300,000 feet of lumber which brought a scale price of $4,000.

Old Resident Dies

Mrs. Lizzie Norman, 63, of 2727 Glassell st., a resident of Los Angeles for 42 years, died at a local hospital recently. She was a native of La Grange, Texas.

The funeral was held in the Ivory Chapel of the People's Funeral Home on June 10 with the Rev. C. H. Davis officiating. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Norman's survivors include her husband, W. C. Norman; four sons., Delaney, James, W. C. Jr., and Charles; three daughters, Mmes. Myrtle Hines, Esther Branch, Martha Robinson; one brother, Charles Smith; 28 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, all of Los Angeles.

The path of duty lies in what is near, and men seek for it in what is remote. — The work of duty lies in what is easy, and men seek for it in what is difficult.—Mencius.

VISITING LOS ANGELES—Rev. John A. Alexander, D. D., pastor of First African Methodist Episcopal church of Indianapolis, Ind., one of the largest churches in the denomination, who is visiting Los Angeles with his wife, Katherine Bedell Alexander, who heads the women's activities of her husband's church. Outstanding among their achievements is the installation of a unique prayer room, only one of its kind in any Negro church in the nation. While in the city, Rev. Alexander will be guest speaker at First A. M. E.; Neighborhood Community; and Second A. M. E. churches. The Alexanders, who are visiting their brother and sister-in-law, William E. and Virginia Alexander, are staying at 4073 So. Central Ave., apt. 5. Assail Atty. Gen. Clark's Attack on Minorities, Other Groups in Speech

Attorney General Clark's failure to protect the rights of Negroes and other groups was under a double-barrelled attack from two different organizations this week.

In New York, the Civil Rights Congress called upon President Truman to remove Clark, charged Clark not only with dereliction of duty but with allying himself with the Wood-Rankin Un-American Activities Committee and, through his recent Red-baiting attack on organizations demanding justice for the Negro and organized Labor, affording Rankin, Bilbo and the Klan a "bridgehead in the cabinet."

Simultaneously, in Cleveland, the convention of the National Lawyers Guild assailed Clark for "his failure as attorney general to protect" the rights of minorities," and denounced a recent Chicago speech by Clark in which he assailed trade unions, labor leaders, Communists and "revolutionary lawyers."

The attack on Clark in the Guild convention was led by California Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny, who was elected president of the organization.

Kenny accused Clark of attacking "those lawyers who fight most actively for the liberty of the people," quoted him as saying that "bar associations with a strong hand should take those too brilliant brothers of ours to the legal woodshed for a definite and well-deserved admonition."

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

MY contention that the Ku Klux Klan has been in operation continuously for 20 years in the State of California was borne out this week when Ray J. Schneider, former Kleagle of the Los Angeles County Ku Klux Klan was arrested.

Schneider, on occasions, boasts of the fact that he is a Klansman. His nimble finger-like mind has been seen in many places and in acts of Klan violence . . . conspicious among them the Ku Klux Klan vs the CALIFORNIA EAGLE in a court battle 20 years ago, the Ben Carter Big Bear Case a year ago, and State Attorney General Robert W. Kenny's recent investigation of Klan activities in the State of California.

SCHNEIDER'S arrest came about when, under cover of night, he was caught in the act of removing Klan literature from KKK headquarters at 730 S. Grand ave.

There is an adage: "Murder will out." Perhaps Schneider and his hooded BRETHREN would have gone on and on spreading race hate, aiding in establishing restrictive covenants and serving as the big link in the far-reaching chain of fascism that threatens to engulf our Democracy, had it not been for the big pistol peaking from beneath a seat blanket that caught the eye of Patrolman J. M. Oaks, on duty at that spot.

THE fact that the former Kleagle, at the time of his arrest had in his possession Klan literature, and an electrically wired 7x4 ft. cross, is evidence that the organization, known as the Ku Klux Klan, is the real threat to the peace of the nation. Unless stopped in its terroristic divide and rule tactics, based on the Bilbo White Supremacy plan, the Klan will wreck our present State and setup a pro-fascist government that will blossom into a Hitlerized America.

AMONG the many answers to Jennie Wainsworth's exposition on White Supremacy is the letter which follows:

My dear Editor:

IN your column recently, I was greatly incensed at the article of Mrs. Jennie Wainsworth, of Los Angeles, pertaining to the Colored Americans. She stated they were set aside by God, and it is wrong for them to be mixed.

I will ask, through your paper, that she read in her Bible the 12th chapter of Numbers and she will find out that Moses, God's anointed, married an Ethiopian woman who was black. When Moses' sister Miriam was incensed over his marriage to a black woman, God cursed her Himself. Miriam became as white as snow—leprous. Her brother Aaron appealed to Moses to go before God in behalf of his sister Miriam to redeem her from the curse. God answered Moses' request.

MRS. Wainsworth stated that God never intended for the black people to be raised on the same level with the white race. I would like to ask Mrs. Wainsworth if she has ever seen a white person. Snow is white. I have seen colored people tinged with a pinkish cast, some reddish, and others with either a yellow or brownish cast.

Mrs. Wainsworth referred to Rev. Perkins. He, like yourself, Mrs. Wainsworth, and others of your kind are

Senate Exempts Meat, Poultry From Ceilings

WASHINGTON—Republicans in the senate, supported by some Democrats, voted on Tuesday to eliminate from the pending compromise bill to revive OPA all price ceilings on meat, poultry, eggs and foods made from them.

This action tore the heart out of the bill to revive the price control agency for one year.

The prohibitions against the ceilings on meat and the other foods was offered by Sen. Wherry (R., Neb.), and was backed by a majority of the Republicans and a few Democrats.

At the same time, Sen. O'Daniel (D., Tex.) made a move to tie OPA to fair employment practices legislation in a maneuver to line up Southern Democrats against the OPA measure.

"I'm against FEPC," the Texan told the senate, "but like OPA it's a bad bill. I don't see why we don't have both of them in the same bag." He added that both are "stinking things."

O'Daniel could not get a vote on his amendment on Tuesday, but threatened to call it up later. He asked help of other senators in his delaying tactic.

He recalled that similar tactics had prevented a vote on a permanent FEPC and said that is why he now offered it.

From all sections of the country come reports of soaring prices on foodstuffs and other products, despite an attempt by some business interests to play possum, hold back price increases until congress has acted on the pending OPA bill, lest public indignation rise to such heights as could not be ignored even by the present congress.

Hillman, PAC Chief, Dies of Heart Attack

POINT LOOKOUT, N. Y.—Sidney Hillman, prominent labor leader and head of the CIO-PAC died at his home of a heart attack early yesterday morning. His death come as a severe shock to the progressives throughout the nation.

Hillman, 59 at the time of his death, played a leading role in the re-election of President Roosevelt in the last presidential campaign.

Fire Sweeps Offices of N. Y. Paper

By CARRIE MILLER
(Special to "Eagle")

NEW YORK—The office of the Peoples' Voice newspaper at 210 West 125th Street, Harlem's business section was engulfed in flames during the early hours of last Monday. No estimate of dollar for dollar loss of office equipment, files, back-issues and photograph morgue had been made up to the time this reported received a telephone call that smoke was pouring forth from the building and early morning stragglers rushed to the scene to watch firemen control the fire.

Apparently beginning in the circulation department and laid to spontaneous combustion, hours of work on advertising layouts for the paper's forthcoming issue and editorial work, were almost completely destroyed.

This dissasterous incident leaves the owners, Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, and Charles Buchanan faced with negotiations with the Insurance company holding the fire policy and Doxey Wilkerson, Managing Editor with a headache.

Not only was the office itself charred and left water-soaked, but the Woolworth Five and Ten Cent store beneath suffered damage from the firemen's activities. A neighboring business owned by Mrs. Francis K. Reckling, prominent Harlem handler of music, instruments, books and music-teacher in her own right suffered slight damage.

As this story was being written, it was announced that the next issue of the paper would appear on the stands as usual.

To Gather Evidence of Jimcrow Oppression to Meet Request of the UN

NEW YORK—In response to an invitation for additional material on the oppression of the American Negro from the Secretariat of the United Nations' Commission on Human Rights, Revels Cayton, executive secretary of the National Negro Congress, which petitioned the United Nations for an investigation into the plight of 13 million Negro citizens, announced yesterday that a series of nation-wide People's Tribunals will be held throughout the country to take additional testimony regarding current acts of oppression in cooperation with all similarly interested groups.

Cayton who is the grandson of the late U. S. Senator, Hiram Revels of Mississippi, first Negro to serve in that capacity, also

Bilbo Seeks State Law To Stymie High Court's Ban on White Primaries

JACKSON, Miss.—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo this week celebrated his victory in the recent Mississippi primary with the projection of a new scheme to circumvent the ruling of the U. S. supreme court outlawing lily-white state primaries.

Indignant that 3000 Negroes were permitted to vote in the primary which gained for him a third term in the U. S. Senate, Bilbo said he would urge a special session of the state legislature to revise the state's election laws with the objective of keeping "primaries all white."

Klan Leader in Court Today as Theft Suspect

Ray J. Schneider, former kleagle of the L. A. county Ku Klux Klan, was released from the county jail Saturday on $1000 bail. He has been ordered to appear for arraignment on Thursday (today) at 1:45 p. m. in dept. 44 of the municipal court on charges of suspicion of robbery.

Schneider was arrested Friday as he was leaving the former KKK headquarters at 730 South Grand ave. with a hand truck loaded with Klan literature. He told police that because "the Klan is through in California" he was cleaning out the place.

Patrolman J. M. Oaks noticed a pistol protruding from beneath a blanket on the seat while leaving a parking violation on Schneider's car. Schneider admitted ownership of the pistol and also Klan leaflets found in his car. Three months before, his permit to carry the weapon had been revoked because of his Klan activities, police stated.

A seven-foot ceremonial cross was found in the lobby of the Klan headquarters.

Schneider boasted that he was "the oldest active Klansman in California" during the hearings.

Mayor's Veto of Wage Increases Hit in Council

Members of the City Council this week protested Mayor Bowron's veto of an ordinance to increase the wages of some of the city's lowest paid workers in the humane and public works departments.

At the same time the council moved to postpone until next Monday action on an ordinance which would allow one of the Mayor's executives, Frank Cummings, director of the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency, to hire two assistants directors in the $575-$715 monthly salary bracket.

The Mayor said that wage increases for animal inspectors, animal license collectors, janitors and custodial workers would be too costly because other low-paid city workers would also demand increases, thereby disarranging the financial plans for the present fiscal year.

Councilman G. Vernon Bennett, leader of the wage increase fight, said he was "very disappointed" by the Mayor's veto.

"Some Councilmen have said that they will not vote for increases in the higher brackets if they aren't first given to those in the lower brackets," said Bennett.

"In that event," he warned, "there would be no increases anywhere along the line, including the Mayor's office."

Bennett protested the hiring of two assistant directors for the Bureau of Budget Efficiency. It was held over by a ten to one vote with only Councilman John C. Holland taking the negative position.

First Group of Negroes Hired Two Days Ago, Jobs Seen for Others

Backed by a letter to General Motors from Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, the movement on the part of Local 216 UAW, CIO, to break the jim-crow policy of hiring in Los Angeles finally succeeded when ten Negro veterans went to work on Tuesday at the huge South Gate General Motors plant in Los Angeles.

The United Auto Workers, largest union in the CIO, has consistently followed an anti-jimcrow policy even to the point of striking so that qualified Negro workers would be hired by the automobiles companies.

During the recent visit of Reuther to the West Coast, the local asked the aid of the International union in conbatting job discrimination by General Motors.

The international union then sent a strong letter of protest to the corporation urging that California GM managements be brought in line with other plants where Negroes long have been employed. Only here and in Oakland has a lily white employment policy been pursued.

After receiving medical examinations last week the first contingent of Negroes workers were put to work on Tuesday. Eight of the ten were put to work as janitors and warehousement positions formerly held by white workers. However, Eugene Judd, secretary of the local said that the union was satisfied that normal procedure had been followed in assignment to jobs by the company on the basis of need.

But other opportunities loom for Negro workers at this and the new Van Nuys plant where 15 per cent of the personnel will be colored.

The 1100 employed at the time of the strike has been upped to 2500 and will go as high as 400 when production reaches its peak at the South Gate plant.

Another 5000 workers will be hired at the Van Nuys plant and will be organized into a separate local by the international.

White union members at the plant have welcomed the Negro workers with open arms, proud of the fact that they are aiding in the fight against Jim-crow.

Woman Stuns Court, Admits Slaying Mate

One of the most sensational "blow-ups" in recent superior court murder trial history occurred late Monday morning as Mrs. Lillian Kirby, 52, charged with killing her husband with a gun last May 2, threw judge, jury, defense attorney and courtroom into pandemonium by pleading guilty to manslaughter in the midst of her trial.

The trial was just ready to commence its third, and probably final day, when Mrs. Kirby suddenly threw up her hands, and sobbed a few words into the ear of her attorney, Earl Broady. The lawyer, obviously surprised, then approached Judge Charles Fricke, and stated his client wished to plead guilty to manslaughter, carrying a one to 10 year prison sentence.

The astounded judge accepted the plea and sent Mrs. Kirby away to Tehachapi.

The amazing part of the dramatic climax is that court observers, noting the manner in which Broady had completely baffled the prosecution, believed Mrs. Kirby had an even chance for a not guilty verdict.

The defendant was accused of shooting William Kirby in their home in East Los Angeles, at 2918 Michigan avenue. But in the trial it was brought out that although Kirby had been shot several times, only one slug was found. She contended he had been shot by someone else, and never changed her story, saying she pled guilty "to get it all over with."

Late News FLASHES

NEW YORK—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey this week appointed Lawrence E. Greenbaum as special investigator in the Freeport case, involving the murder by a white Freeport, L. I., policeman of two Negro brothers. Dewey's action followed several months of determined agitation by the New York Committee for Justice in Freeport to force the governor to order an investigation of the murders and the subsequent whitewash of the guilty policeman.

The Home Protective Association, which has led the fight against restrictive covenants, is holding a banquet Friday evening, July 12, at the Crystal Tea Center, 48th and Avalon, at 7 o'clock.

Prominent speakers are scheduled to be presented. The HPA will also present the third of its series of educational pamphlets dedicated to the fight against racial residential restrictions and the KKK.

Organized to defend the Henry Laws family of 1235 E. 32nd st. in their struggle to occupy their own home, the HPA has gained nationwide recognition for the important contribution made in the fight to outlaw restrictive covenants.

The supreme court of the State of California is expected to hand down a decision in the Laws case some time in October.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the California EAGLE office, 4071 So. Central ave.

AIRMAIL BETWEEN SOUTHLAND CITIES—In a combined experiment the Army Air Forces and the United States Postal Department are conducting a 30-day test to determine the feasibility of airmail service between cities not far apart enough for regular airmail. religionists and not Christians. I thank God there are thousands of our people who realize that of one blood God made all humanity, and everything that inhabits the earth is in colors.

THE flowers that grow on the earth, the birds of the air, the cattle on a thousand hills, the beasts of the forest, even the clouds that form the canopy of the skies are in colors. And now members of the race that caused the coloring of God's creatures want to turn their backs on their own blending.

You stated the Colored Americans, by agitating for equality, will experience the same fate the German Jews got. Remember the seed you sow, you also reap. Bodies may be killed, but the spirits live on.

GOD says the meek shall inherit the earth, and the righteous shall live thereon. Is it not better to be meek here and now, so as to gain eternal life? This is a free country, to love and to live in, to be friendly to all people, to help those who have been deprived of human rights.

As far as Mr. Bilbo and his kind are concerned, hell is full of such trash.

YOU further stated the only good point about Colored Americans is that they are naturally religious. I must say if they were just religious, this world would have been torn to pieces long ago. They are Christians, trying to walk in the footsteps of Jesus so as to have eternal life. Remember the rich man and the poor man in your Bible, if you have one. If not I will be pleased to give you a Holy Bible.

Hit-Run Driver Held for Death Of Movie Actor

Preliminary hearing was conducted early this week for Y 1/c Frederick P. Wells, 31, 3337 So. Ashland st., San Gabriel, who was booked on suspicion of hit and run felony after his father turned him in. Trial was set for July 24.

Victim of the fatal mishap was James Robinson, 61, 515 E. First st., one time movie actor who was best remembered for his role in "Imitation of Life."

Robinson, who was struck at Ramona blvd. near the Brooklyn bridge about 2 p.m. on June 23, died instantly. A night watchman close by the scene of the accident heard the thud when the car struck Robinson. He called police and an ambulance.

It was the opinion of the watchman that Robinson was struck on the curb or very near it. Investigating officers, after seeing the condition of Wells' car, assumed that the car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

Robinson, who never married, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mollie Wilson of Fort Worth, Tex.; has two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Johnson and Mrs. Lizza Hayden, both of Los Angeles, and one nephew, Lee O. Mack.

RECEIVE MUSIC AWARDS—Honored at the pre-convention concert given by the California State Association of Negro Musicians last Sunday at Second Baptist church, the three noted figures pictured were presented association awards by Charlotta A. Bass, publisher of The California EAGLE. They are, at left, William Grant Still, distinguished American composer; Mrs. Netta Paulyn Garner, internationally famous concert pianist, and Rev. George Robert Garner III, her husband, and internationally known singer.

Pre-Convention Concert of State Musicians Honor Geo. Garners and William Grant Still

An outstanding musical event in the history of the city was held before an appreciative audience at 3 p. m. last Sunday by the California branch of the California State Association of Negro Musicians.

Mabel Massengill, state president and representative of the national body, was responsible for the affair which was staged at Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith avenue, with an imposing array of musical figures gracing an excellent program. William Grant Still, distinguished American composer, Netta Paulyn Garner, internationally known concert pianist, and Rev. George Robert Garner III, of fame both in this country and abroad as a talented singer, were the honorees and were presented organization awards by Charlotta A. Bass, publisher of The California EAGLE.

Thelma Pearl Brown presented the Marjorie Tucker Music Award in the form of a $25 cash scholarship to the association through its treasurer, Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson.

It was announced that the state annual conference would be held in Pasadena, August 4, 5 and 6.

Mabel Massengill was highly commended for her work in the musical field. She overcame many obstacles to complete her training and graduate from the Cosmopolitan School of Music at Chicago and since coming to Los Angeles from that city has done much to develop the musical culture here and to advance budding local talent in the musical world.

Echo Robinson presented Mrs. Bass, who said in part that she felt that the organization was doing a good job in preparing to become a part of the great musical family of the world. However, she said that to her the organization was like a fraction added to the whole which comprises the musical talent of the world, but she hoped that the day would soon come when they would not be referred to as Negro musicians, but simply as outstanding musicians regardless as to race, color or creed. Mrs. Bass also congratulated the honorees on their contributions to the field of music.

The program opened with the selection "Lift Every Voice and Sing" by the audience with Vonnie Mathew at the piano and Fannie Benjamin at the organ. Ever Brewer Hudson delivered the invocation. Edna Hammett Porter served as Mistress of Ceremonies and Clarence Hargrave spoke.

Rev. George Garner gave a talk after which two vocal selections were rendered by J. Alvan Brantley, baritone. They were "Black Pierrot" by William Grant Still and "Prologue Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo. Mabel Massengill addressed the gathering.

A piano selection, Hungarian Rhapsody No. 11 Liszt was given by Julius Jackson-Haywood and the vocal selection "Life and Death" by Coleridge Taylor and "Ah Love But A Day" by H. H. A. Beach were rendered by Elizabeth Garrott. Florence Cadrez Brantley served as accompanist on the program which was assembled by Gertrude De Verney Russell.

GOSPEL HARMONIZERS — The Volunteers, well-known radio and recording artists, who will present a program of Negro spirituals and gospel songs at a presentation scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday, July 14, at the Village Baptist church, 1521 E. 111 st., Watts. All local residents are invited. This quartet, which has appeared in several Southern California cities, sings with no musical accompaniment, relying instead upon the rhythmic quality of its harmony.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF MOTHER AND INFANT CALM AS STATE DEMANDS DEATH PENALTY

Joseph Burke, alleged murdered of 16-year-old Jeannie Woods Wright and her 6-months-old child, went on trial yesterday for his life.

Before a jury composed mostly of women, the prosecutor, J. Miller Leavy, in his opening statement said that the people will try to prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, upon the evidence submitted by Newton st. police and upon the testimony of prosecution witnesses, that Burke is guilty of the crime charged.

Leavy further stated that most of the evidence to be submitted would be of a circumstantial nature, since there were no eyewitnesses to the crime.

Ellery Cuff, public defender and attorney for the defense, will base the defense on the contention that whatever admissions Burke made, were made under duress, charging that he had been beaten not once, but many times by the police after his arrest on April 13, 1946.

Burke appeared very calm on the opening day of his trial. During the proceedings for the selection of the jury he toyed with a pencil and occasionally smiled. The youthful defendant, clad in a brown pin-striped suit, chatted with police officers during the recess.

Burke was arrested by Newton st. police on April 13, while they were combing the area surrounding the scene of the murder on Long Beach blvd., about a quarter of a mile from where they found the battered bodies of Mrs. Wright and her baby.

Police have expressed the belief that not only is Burke guilty of this crime but that he is also guilty of two others—the murders of Ruby Wiley and Goldie Arnall.

RECOGNITION

Outstanding in the field of journalism is Miss Jessie Mae Brown, Society Editor of the California EAGLE. Her clear interpretation of the news people like, easily places her in front as Los Angeles' leading and most popular society scribe.

The Cosmos club, composed of a group of ex-servicemen, presented Miss Brown with a token of their tribute on last Wednesday evening in appreciation for the inspiration found in her column "What's Doing in the Younger Set."

The entire presentation came as a surprise to Miss Bown, who was taking part in the Crop 'N' Tail Riding club summer cotton formal given at the Riverside Rancho. Carlton Moss, able M. C. for the club, turned the mike over to Joe Oliver, president of the Cosmos club, who cited Miss Brown for the part she has played in moulding a definite society here in Los Angeles, and the contribution made in keeping up the morale of men overseas through her column.

Don Barksdale, member of the Cosmos, made the presentation of a bronze plaque with the inscription "To Miss Jessie Mae Brown, for her outstanding jounalistic achievements and contributions to Los Angeles Society, presented by the Cosmos, July 3, 1946."

Miss Brown's journalistic career on the EAGLE started in 1941 when she was a senior at Los Angeles high school. Having a slight interest in journalism she wrote for the Lafayette junior high school newspaper and did features for the L. A. high school daily. She was encouraged to choose journalism as a permanent field by the late John Kinloch, nephew of Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE.

Miss Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, pioneer residents of the city. She is a native Angeleno and majored in sociology at UCLA with a journalism minor. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Regular Fellows Organize Ike Taylor Elected Head

Film star Hattie McDaniel, Lillian Randolph, radio actress; and Jack Chase, former state middleweight boxing champion, were among the celebrities attending the initial cocktail party staged by the Regular Fellows Social Club at the Villa Arlington Sunday evening. Music was furnished by Dickie Wells and his combination.

The club is an outgrowth of a similar club in Dallas, Texas, and most of the present members formerly were connected with that group.

With plans to become one of the most popular organizations in the city, the club aims "to help raise and maintain better social and civic standards in the city."

The next meeting will be held at the club's headquarters, 5440 S. Central ave., next Wednesday. Officers and members are:

Ike Taylor, president; Leo LaCour, vice president; P. D. Wadley, secretary; James Williams, assistant secretary; R. E. Wadley, treasurer; Horace Stockard, assistant treasurer; Richard Smith, business manager; Willie Lawson, sergeant-at-arms; Lawrence Sarpi, Huey Jones, Henderson Ford, James Dixon, Warren Johnson and Wendell Thompson.

sissippi Democratic primaries are operated by the state and financed by public funds. Thus, the state comes under the high court's ruling that Negroes must be permitted to vote.

Bilbo asked that the legislature turn over all primaries to the Democratic party. Should the party operate and finance the elections, then it could presumably make all regulations as to who shall vote.

Bilbo is holding a victory celebration today (Thursday) at which he will speak on "Brotherly Love and Sisterly Affection."

Meantime, the race hate peddler was assaulted on at least two fronts:

A demand that he be disqualified from serving in the senate was made by Clark Foreman, president of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. Clark made his demand in a telegram to Sen. Edwin Johnson (D., Colo.) acting chairman of the senate elections committee.

Emanuel Bloch, counsel for the Civil Rights Congress, returned from Mississippi disclosing that he had found evidence of assaults on Negro veterans, of intimidation of Negroes by election officials and private citizens. The Congress sent telegrams to the justice department, and the senate elections committee demanding an investigation, with FBI protection for any Negroes who might testify.

Assail Clark

This, Kenny said, "is indeed a call for legal vigilantism."

In a sharply worded resolution, the convention said Clark's Chicago speech "invites a witchhunt against labor unions and their members; it seeks to promote intolerance of democratic rights by suggesting that the efforts of certain groups to vindicate their rights are insincere and artificially stimulated by outsiders of ulterior purposes; it seeks to set in motion a purge of lawyers who serve minority groups. These charges are in the shameful traditions of Bilbo and Rankin," the resolution said.

"The reasons for the attorney general's assertion that the complaints of minority groups of violations of civil rights are a 'plot' conceived by outsiders, lie in his own failure as attorney general to protect those rights," the lawyers said.

MEXICO CITY — Miguel Aleman, candidate of the government's party, PRI, yesterday claimed victory in Mexico's Presidential election on the basis of reports from PRI observers throughout the republic. Official results will not be available until July 11.

Johnice Ruby Graves Makes Lovely Bride

Ralphe Porter's Casa Rafael was the scene of the marriage ceremony for the former Johnice Ruby Graves, daughter of Mrs. Ida Ruby Mason, and Mr. Joseph Bertram McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie McCullough of Pittsburgh, Penn.

The wedding was small and beautiful, with the bride wearing traditional satin and carrying an orchid laden bible. Miss Thomasina Ayers served as maid of honor and Mr. William Love served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Casa Rafael. Hostesses were Misses Gwen Washington, Cullie Hubert, Annette Harding and Mrs. Adrian Howard. The couple enjoyed a brief honeymoon before taking up housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Burris Are Honored

Scores of persons attended the reception given Sunday evening by Mrs. Lorraine Armstrong, prominent real estate broker, announcing the marriage of her daughter, Richadene Marie (Dicki), to Charles T. Burris, popular young architectural student.

The affair was given at the home of the bride's parents, 2915 S. Western. Assisting Mrs. Armstrong were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Harriet Burris; Miss Odell Stubblefield and Clarence E. Armstrong, the bride's father-in-law.

The couple was married on May 25 in New Mexico. They will leave on a delayed honeymoon shortly.

Both are well known among the city's younger set.

To Gather Evidence

made public the summary record of the meeting on June 6 between Petrus J. Schmidt, secretary, Commission on Human Rights and representatives of the National Negro Congress, Dr. Max Yergan, president; Revels Cayton, executive secretary; Charles A. Collins, vice-president and Dr. Herbert Aptheker, executive board member.

At that meeting, held at Hunter college, New York City, Schmidt stated the secretary general of the UN had asked him, as secretary of the Commission on Human Rights, to accept the document presented by the NNC. (The EAGLE published the NNC petition several weeks ago. This week it begins publication of documentary evidence of the oppression of the Negro—on page 7.)

In answer to a question by Dr. Yergen, Smith replied that the Council had not yet taken any definite decision as to the relations with non-governmental organizations. He added, however, that the recommendations of the Commission on Human Rights, headed by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, contained certain references to non-governmental organizations, and those recommendations have never been put to the Economic and Social Council for decision.

NAACP Drive to Close July 28 With Mass Rally

The current membership campaign of the local NAACP has been extended to July 28. The drive will close with a huge mass rally on that date, featuring a stellar program, details of which will be announced later.

Campaign co-chairmen Emma Spencer and Edward Atkinson are not satisfied with production records, and at the last report meeting the workers asked that the time be extended for at least two weeks so that they could make up for time lost in vacations and other important community activities.

Thomas L. Griffith Jr., president of the local branch, and Leon W. Steward, campaign coordinator, agreed that although the campaign thus far has exceeded all previous efforts, the goal of 25,000 is still both desirable and attainable.

Plans are all set for a drive in the Central ave. and other business districts during the next two weeks. Theatres and night clubs will be covered by membership solicitors. A special committee will solicit support for the campaign from the business men of the district. Those business establishments supporting the NAACP will be given signs for display.

Report meetings are held each Tuesday and Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the campaign headquarters, 1105 E. Vernon ave. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

CHICAGO MOUSE LEAPS TO DEATH

CHICAGO — Chicago residents are wondering whether City Hall politics had anything to do with the death leap of a small gray mouse from a fourth floor window of the City Hall bldg., in perhaps the first rodent suicide since the Pied Piper went through Hamelin.

Witnesses, including two reporters, said the mouse crept out from behind a radiator climbed up onto a window ledge in the press-room. It crinkled its moustache, glanced around, then jumped to its death.

County Limits Rent Increases

The Los Angeles county government this week passed an emergency rent control ordinance, effective immediately and continuing to September 1. The vote was four to one in favor of the ordinance, which limits landlords to a 15 per cent increase over OPA ceilings.

Single dissenting vote was cast by Supervisor William A. Smith, who commented that "he was the only Republican left on the board."

Is Mississippi a Part of Our Own United States?

If the American people keep on talking about democracy, and then practice it the way it was demonstrated or degraded the other day when Mississippi sent back to the United States Senate for the third time, Theodore G. Bilbo, other peoples and nations will begin to think our democracy is a sham or worse, a cover for our shameful disregard for honesty.

Our gad-fly democracy, that flitters all over Europe, tells the Jews it's wrong for them to go home to Palestine, interferes with China's internal political affairs and criticizes most severely Russia's demands in the fulfillment of treaties signed by the Big Four when consolidation was expedient, should look at home.

But that same democracy cannot interfere with what goes on in Mississippi, where Bilbo's rights are supreme, and not even the Federal government can meddle.

It is said that Bilbo made his appeal to whites to continue in the old ways of "White supremacy," and suggested that this line should not be interfered with by Yankees and Communists. These, he claimed, are working for social equality and a Federal Fair Employment Practices Act.

Indignant that 3000 Negroes were permitted to vote in the primary election which gained for him a third term in the Senate, Bilbo declared that he would support a special session of the Legislature to reverse the State's election law and put Negroes back to 1876 when their brief period of suffrage met an early death under President Rutherford B. Hayes.

Bilbo has not degraded Negroes, Jews, and other minority groups, but he has degraded the American people.

Now if Mississippi is a part of the United States, it's about time something is done about Bilbo. Impeach him or lock him up in an asylum for madmen.

It is a sad commentary on how we ferret out Russian spies and some people called Communists, and charge them with conspiracy to overthrow our government and then fail to take any action in the case of Bilbo, a man who conspires to overthrow everything that is democratic and even decent.

As long as Bilbo lives and rants, our loved ones who were sacrificed in World War II have died in vain.

Who Killed Cock Robin?

It is a shame and a disgrace—what goes on in the Congress of the United States of America.

All the checkers and ex-checkers show that the majority of the people favor price control. But the stuffed shirts, we the people send to Washington as Senators and Congressmen at a salary of ten thousand dollars a year, spend their time and our money defeating the legislation designed to bring forth the democracy we fought a bloody war to win.

Monday morning, July 8, the battle to save OPA started what some say is its final round in the Senate.

The measure, if it wins, will extend OPA in a modified form for one year, and would halt rent increases started a week ago when the old price law expired.

While the opposition led by Senator Robert A. Taft, R. Ohio, is making every effort to kick the very life out of price control, the housewives, especially the poor helpless ones living in the Ghettos, move from shop to shop trying to find something priced within their reach.

Our friends, Helen Gahagan Douglas, Ned Healy, Ellis Patterson, and other liberals, fought vigorously in the House to save OPA. President Truman rallied to the support of the people by vetoing the spurious control bill previously passed by Congress.

The changes and revisions offered in the Senate, as we see them, are devices either to kill outright or to strangle the bill to such an extent that it will be meaningless.

Then these stuffed shirts, especially our good Republicans who have voted and planned the OPA kill, together with the bad Democrats, will ask, who killed Cock Robin?

They will not only ask who did the killing, they have the unadulterated nerve to ask Abe Lincoln's children to do their duty by sending them and some more like them back to the Senate.

There are a few newspapers and magazines left in this country which are willing to tell the truth. We advise you, especially you low wage earners,—you who have been too short-sighted to find shelter in Labor Unions—read the records and know for yourselves who destroyed the OPA and pointed the way to a bread line, for you and me, but not for our false Senators.

They tells us, those same Senators, to "keep our heads" and everything will come out all right. What, may we ask, will keep our stomachs?

The Question—To Lend Or Not To Lend?

The question of lending $3,750,000,000 to Great Britain is at present being debated at great length in the Congress of the United States, and in the open forums on the park benches.

The general feeling seems to be opposed to the loan. The American public just does't like some of the things Bevin and his English government are doing.

But, as has been pointed out in PM, the money that will be lent to England will come back to the United States in the form of purchases made by the English interests. If the money is not spent directly in the United States, it will nevertheless be spent in countries with which the United States does business. And that will benefit us.

Significantly the loan in Congress is being opposed primarily by the reactionaries —Taft, Bilbo, Capper, and among the newspapers such reactionary sheets as that of the Hearst press and the Patterson-McCormick press. "They know that helping Britain at this stage means strengthening international cooperation," says PM. "Their preference, however, is for a world of isolated 'nationalisms' perpetually competing, arming, and fighting."

It would be a short-sighted policy, claims PM, for the liberals of this country to fall into the trap laid by the reactionaries. We must not look to our emotions in this matter, but to whether or not it is a stable business policy.

"The economic relations of two great nations," said former President Woodrow Wilson, "are not based upon sentiment; they are based upon interest."

The debaters on the park benches, however, the common people who act according to their emotions rather then from pure business, argue that the British government is not altogether living up to the standard it set when it was first inaugurated. They are especially incensed by Bevin's foreign policy. They call to mind how commentators have told them repeatedly of the propaganda being spread in favor of the Arabians in Palestine, and how this propaganda is being paid for by oil interests.

Oil seems to be at the bottom of the attack against the Jews and of the refusal of the Arab chiefs to permit any more refugees to enter Palestine. If Bevin and his colleagues could be persuaded by some miraculous means to deal only with the common people, Jew and Arab, instead of with the conniving Arabian politicians, interested only in collecting as many millions as possible on their oil interests, the Jewish question in Palestine could be settled in a matter of a few days.

Nevertheless, in spite of our feelings and our sense of justice, "good business" will tell us to approve the loan to Great Britain. Could we not suggest, however, when we hand the check for almost four billion dollars to the British government, that it might be wise to think of the pledge the peoples of the world made a little more than a year ago to bring justice to all the nations of the earth, especially the little nations and the oppressed colonial peoples.

Hail To Our Bob Kenny!

Robert W. Kenny, chairman of the Mobilization for Democracy, and a member of the Lawyers Guild of California, was elected president of the National Lawyers Guild at its tenth annual convention held last week in Cleveland, Ohio.

This is an honor well deserved by our friend, Bob Kenny, who has worked and who we know will continue to work unstintedly for the cause of all minority groups. He has done this in California as our State Attorney General, and as our leader in the Mobilization for Democracy. Now his scope is national. We congratulate the National Lawyers Guild upon its choice.

In line with their selection of so outstanding a citizen as Bob Kenny as their president, members of the Guild also voted a denunciation of United States Attorney General Tom C. Clark for his failure to protect the rights of minority groups and for speeches he has made in which he "sought to intimidate lawyers into an abandonment of the vitalization of democracy through a defense of democratic rights."

Name Russell for Police Commission of L. A.

A committee of representatives of what is thought of as the Negro community called a conference of Negro and white citizens to make a request to Mayor Bowron that the present opening in the police commission be filled by some one from the community acquainted with the needs and the conditions of the community.

We go so far as to name for this position the Rev. Clayton D. Russell who over a period of years has kept his hand on the pulse of the community and recognizes its needs and conditions. We make this suggestion in view of the fact that more than 30,000 of the electorate favored Rev. Russel in the recent election for supervisor in the Second Supervisorial District.

THE DESTINY OF CHINA

A tremendous destiny lies before China. The great celestial empire embraces thrice the total area of the United States and contains more people than North and South America combined.

The Chinese people are marked by certain qualities which have enabled them to survive all through the ages and withstand the shocks of internal commotions and foreign onslaughts. The great Mongol invasions in the 13th century inflicted upon China the same desolation and horror which the barbarian depradations entailed upon Europe. But the ethical and moral qualities of the Chinese people proved of immense asset in the process of recovery which a long line of Chinese rulers carried out in cooperation and in unison with the masses.

The dogged perseverance under adverse circumstances, sobriety, habits of thrift and labor, patience and cheerfulness in the midst of distress and sorrow, and intense family loyalty and filial devotion—these are some of the qualities which the Chinese nation embodies in its moral and social constitution.

So great is the aversion of the Chinese people to evils of drink and drug that before the advent of the Europeans there was hardly a person who indulged in spirituous liquors and harmful drugs. The opium war was forced upon the Chinese by the British to save the East India Company from financial bankruptcy and financial ruin by all the contrivances of secret diplomacy and fraud. The same devilish arts were brought into play in China which were practiced on the African races by European intruders for the spoiliation and enslavement of heathen ious consequences for the future of China and the world. That China with its countless millions, immense resources of wealth and power, and with the ambition of retrieving past misfortunes will usher in a colossal revolution in the whole scheme of international relations, no one will care to deny.

The great Napolean, who was gifted with extraordinary comprehension of nations and events, and who knew the working of political forces in Europe and Asia in their minutest detail, did not hesitate to say that China, when awakened from its lethargy and internal maladjustment, would shake the artificial society of Europe to its very foundations. Never did human sagacity speak a greater and a tion of one of the greatest military geniuses is being fulfilled by the astonishing regeneration which is taking place in every phase of Chinese national life. The great Empire of Cathay is being born again—born again to reveal its eternal mystery and play a significant role in the affairs of the world.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

The Rodger Young Village, in a pocket on the edge of Griffith Park, is fast becoming one of the show places of Los Angeles. It is the very first housing project built by the Federal Government for returned war veterans and their families.

"Built" is perhaps the wrong word. For the project is still in the process of construction, and as long as it is in that stage, visitors are decidedly not welcome. An official at the entrance on Riverside Drive is kept busy turning back jaloppies and jeeps and cars filled with the curious who want to see what this new village looks like and to find out what it's all about.

"You see," he explained, "there might be accidents. And then," he added, to show the precautions taken were not prompted by pure humanitarianism," the construction company could be sued for damages."

But when the project is completed, anyone may enter and drive down the wide boulevard which stretches from the entrance on Riverside Drive through the length of the Village to Griffith Park Drive, and wander around through the many side-streets, whether or not you know any of the villages or whether you have any business there or not.

If you wish information about the Village the official gatekeeper will be glad to give it to you. Your interview, punctuated by frequent interruptions, will likely go something like this:

"There are 115 acres—No, mister, I'm sorry you can't go through here."

"There are 115 acres in the project.—Lady, no visitors are allowed here. Not unless you know a family you want to visit."

"There are 175 fam—Hey, I'm sorry, but you'll have to turn back. No one's allowed in here."

"There are 175 families here now. There'll be 1500—Say, mister, did you want to visit anyone? You can't come in here unless you want to visit some particular family."

And so on until you learn that Rodger Young Village will eventually have some 1500 families with a population of about 6000. A school will open in September. Plans are made for a market, a beauty parlor, a service station, bowling alleys and a recreation building, a medical building with ex-service physicians in charge, and all the other necessary and unnecessary institutions which go to make up our complicated American life.

The houses in Rodger Young Village are quonset huts, 750 of them with two family-units in each hut. But a two-family quonset hut is not at all like a duplex home on a wide, tree-bordered street. There are no trees in Rodger Young Village, no shrubbery, no flowers, no grass. There may be all of these later on, for flowers and shrubbery and trees grow fast in California, but today there is nothing but bare earth and dust in the part of Griffith Park which had formerly been the National Guard Airport, with the whole of the 115 acres surrounded by a high wire fence.

The quonset hut was designed originally for our fighting forces in the Arctic regions. The huts are made of pre-fabricated material, and are manufactured in Quonset, Rhode Island. Hence the name. Much of the material is light steel, and the roof is made of corrugated iron. They can be easily shipped, and are easily assembled once the "hang" of the work is mastered.

They have been variously described. Some one said they look like barrels sawed in two and laid flat on the ground. Another, that they look like great culverts half buried in the ground. To me the village looked like pictures of covered wagon days, in a camp for the night.

The quonset huts, it is said, made snug, comfortable quarters for our soldiers in Greenland, Iceland, and the Aleutians. Never once were they disturbed by the severest Northern blasts. But in California With their corrugated iron roofs - Well, let's hope there won't be too much hot weather before some shade can be found somewhere.

The Village was named in honor of Pfc. Rodger Young, of the 37th Inf. Division, Ohio, widely known as the Buckeye Division. On July 31, 1943, his platoon was attacked by Japs in a jungle on New Georgia, one of the Solomon Islands. The boys were being surrounded and were raked by a machine gun. Escape seemed impossible. Then Rodger Young spied the machine gun, crawled towards it, and diverted its fire from the platoon upon himself. He was killed but his buddies withdrew successfully. He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously for this deed of valor, and his name stands first on the list of America's heroes of World War II.

If mankind had wished for what is right, they might have had it long ago.—William Hazlitt

W. J. Wheaton Says

What's in a name? Not so long ago there were certain occupations and vocations held chiefly by Negroes which were termed menial and looked askance as such. In the main they were renumerative and offered sources of employment which soon caught the eye of others who saw great possibilities in them. Could the menial conditions attached through the names be eliminated? So barber shops became tonsorial parlors; the job of the man with the pail of lime and a white wash brush, interior decorator; boot black stands blossomed into shining parlors, and so on. infinnitum. The janitor has blossomed to maintenance engineer, and as the names attain dignity employment for the Negro grows less.

The professions, once the goal of the ambitious Negro, are no longer looked upon as the badge of superiority. This is the age of science and mechanical ingenuity. The man who invents something of use and public good, is the man of the hour, and not to be snubbed. It is a splendid sign and a hopeful one when we note the trend of our youth toward the more useful and lucrative occupations. They are not ashamed of the overalls nor the smut on the face nor grease on the hands. When that is backed up by brains and the will to do, theirs will be the salvation of the economic loss which came through dignified names.

The political puzzle, caused by the late primary vote, seems more intricate. Here, in California, the unprecedented victory of Gov. Earl Warren has blinded us to the political situation elsewhere. For instance take the situation in some of the key states. New York: What about Dewey? Ohio: What about Taft? Michigan: Vandenburg looms great as a Republican presidential nominee.

Looking over the situation, we wonder if Taft's cuddling up to the southern element in his coalition efforts has given him the hope that in event of his getting the GOP nomination he can carry any part of the Democratic stronghold? We can readily understand why the political strategist would like to encourage a Warren-for-president boom. As we have before stated, California voters are the most unpredictable in the nation. Four years ago Robert W. Kenny was the sole state representative of the Democrat party elected. This year he loses the party nomination to Warren. When Mr. and Mrs. California get behind that curtain and pull the lever to the voting machine, don't make any bets. You are more than liable to lose.

There is a certain commentator who claims to always state the facts and with bias. Yet it does not take close attention to his talks to note that he is not alone biased but vindictively so. He colors his observations with cultured vitriol. Let him have a pet peeve and the air reeks with it. His latest peeve is the OPA. Having a farm down Maryland way he no doubt has all of the butter and other necessities that he and his family needs. He bitterly opposes every act of the OPA and suavely advocates the plaint of Big Business that it is not getting enough profit to produce and manufacture the goods needed. He has no thought of the little fellow who must stand the raise in price, nor does he give a whoop! There are many of us who remember the price of food and other necessities, that skyrocketed after World War I. It is US, the little fellows, who are desirous of seeing that price restrictions remain and are stabilized.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

In this column I have quoted many "good" and many "bad" articles which have appeared in other newspapers but I take particular pride in quoting and tearing down reactionary anti-labor editorials.

And as usual these editorials always appear as innocent, for-the public good articles which, according to the writer, is just by way of "informing and "educating" the people who might be gullible enough to believe said articles.

The topic of our discussion is an editorial of this sort which appeared in one of the Los Angeles metropolitan dailies. (The name of the paper would be mentioned but we do not make a practice of giving free publicity to reactionary newspapers.)

And now we quote. "There has come to our attention an official government publication, issued by the Labor Department and printed at the government printing office at the expense of the taxpayers, a circular entitled 'Women's Stake in Unions.' It is outright propaganda urging women to join up and pay dues, and recites a series of so-called benefits the Labor Department Women's Bureau says women have received through becoming union members."

It continues "Whether this propaganda is true, false, or a mixture of both, it is obviously no part of the government's business to put it out, especially at public cost..."

Needless to say, the paper in which this comment appeared, has pounced upon labor by attacking the labor department of the United States.

But when it comes to public cost they have forgotten to mention that millions upon millions of the taxpayers' money are spent annually in the state department and in the department of commerce in behalf of big business.

Here this paper is, protesting the publication of a small pamphlet by the labor department, while it remains thunderously silent on the vast expenditures by the department of commerce, promoting foreign trade, conducting surveys for business interests and generally acting as a special agent for American big business—all at public cost. Then, too, since they brought the matter up, all of the material gathered and compiled by the department of commerce is printed at the government printing office and mailed free of postage to the various interested firms and parties with free return postage inclosed.

And when it comes to the part about not being the government's business, we scoff. Question: What is the business of the labor department if it isn't to advise and help labor, just as the department of commerce advises and helps big business?

This part of the article is a dilly. "But Unions are private organizations and it is no more proper for the government to promote them than it would be for the government to urge citizens to join the American Legion, the Sons of the Revolution ..." This brings to mind another poser. What about the government's promotion of good old "private and free enterprise"?

Live and let live, fellows. You can't have your cake and eat it too.

☆ Our Pledge ☆

By DAN MORRIS

There's a lot of us that didn't come back.

On the islands of the Pacific, the plains of Europe, the mountains of Asia and the sands of Africa, crosses and the Star of David on their graves stand today as bleached, white reminders of the price they paid so that the world—and America, would be a better place to live. A better place for the children they never saw, or the children they never had.

They died in far-off places where officers hid the insignia of their rank and told their men to call them "Joe". They died in places where it was an asset to be black and men caked their faces with mud to hide the white of their skin.

They didn't like to die. They didn't want to die. But they had no choice.

We did not die. We came back. Back to the country for which they spilled their blood and guts.

"A better country" we were told it would be.

But we came back to black markets, racketeering, inflation, race hatred, bigotry, internal strife, no houses, no classrooms.

Back to a country whose people were more concerned about the lack of a cube of butter than they were the slow starvation of millions of people for whom our buddies died—so that these people might live and be free.

We came back and discovered the war was not over. The shooting had stopped but the war went on. Our enemies, we discovered, were harder to find. They weren't lined up in front of us in foxholes. They had dug in much deeper.

But we are adaptable. We are trained. We will ferret them out. And we will spearhead the fight against them. Not with bullets and barookas and bombs. Not with the deadly instruments of war.

We will fight them with the deadlier instruments of democracy. With speech and the printed word and peaceful demonstrations and ballots.

It will be a long campaign. A bitter campaign. Our enemies, the internal enemies of our country who value their pocketbooks more than they do their patriotism, will fight back.

'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

DR. MARY McLEOD BETHUNE will speak in behalf of the Metropolitan Council of the National Council of Negro Women, Sunday, 3 p.m. at the Independent Church of Christ. The famed personality will be honored Monday afternoon at the home of Dr. Veda Somerville, president of the Metropolitan council and vice president of the National.

Friendship Baptist church was the setting for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wright's third wedding anniversary. They celebrated their anniversary renewing the marriage covenant and a reception following. Rebie wore a beautiful white gown and fingertip veil. She carried a large bouquet of gladiolus, and came down the aisle on the arm of Mr. Roy Turner. The bridesmaids wore various shades of formals: Bertha Woodard in purple, Christine Armstrong in blue, Carey Humdy in yellow, and Lora Soares in blue. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of American Beauty roses.

The matron of honor was Rebie's sister, Lucille Davis, who wore blue. The best man was Marvin's brother, James Wright, and the ushers Hank Allen, Clifford Valentine, Alfred Williams and Eddie Arnold. The flower girl was Tommy Nelson's daughter Judy, the ring bearer was Master Bobby Hutchinson. Frances Moody sang "Because" and Barney Durham Jr. played the organ music for the ceremony.

The family, including Mrs. Winfrey, Mrs. Wright, Mr. Short, Mrs. Della Poynter, Mrs. Bailey, took their places in the front pews just before the ceremony began. The lovely flowered covered arch was made by Rebie's brother-in-law, Robert Poynter. Mrs. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Berson, Mrs. Calmore Harris helped with the serving of the punch and cake. The wedding cake was a beautiful four tiered masterpiece.

Noted Edna Griffin with her fiance, who will be taking their vows Sunday. Irene Huff looked very charming in a green sport dress. Bernice Gordon looked very cute. Chatted with Clara Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Durham, Mrs. Slater and Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright were showered with many lovely presents by their many friends.

It seems as though every club in "'Dena" tried to give a dance last week whether invitational or pay. The KKA's came out of hibernation to give their returned fellow club member, Doris Prince, a surprise party. She was indeed surprised even though Ralph McAfee called her up and asked her whether the KKA's were going to have a party, of which she knew nothing. It wasn't a very big party, for the club just wanted to have Doris' old friends. Her sister Lois Prince, Bill Irving, J. T. Morgan, Harrison Bailey, Arthur Callier, Herman Sperlock, Pearl McAfee, Jerry Thorton, Lora Jacques, Naomi Bowins, Jean Brown, Fred Valentine, and Jerri Coe were there. Bert Hollands, Ralph McAfee, Bernice Cunningham, Bob- by Ann Berry. Barbara and Eddie Johnson dropped in. Mary Collins came in and took me out to see Bill Edson's new car. Of course you know that his chest stuck out.

The Ebony Earls' Atomic Ball was well attended as usual and George Brown and his band played. Talked to Robert Farlice about his trip with the band. Roscoe Devour told me about the Barons' forthcoming dance, which should be a grand affair, by his description. Imogene Thompson and her fiance were over from L. A. Myrtle Cunningham, Lillie Brown, Joe Cunningham, Elizabeth and Alfred Williams all seemed to be having fun. Aletha Carey and Bump Cunningham were twosoming it, as seems to be custom. Jerri Coe, Ollye Guillory enjoyed jitterbugging.

That same night at the Riverside Rancho, the Crop N Tail's cotton formal was in full session. Was so sorry we couldn't make it but they tell me it was really grand and everyone had a wonderful time. Of course Phillippa Jones and Ivan Houston were there, as were Roscoe and Tony Jones, Barbara Durham and Thomas Floyd, Thelma Jackson, Audrey Boykin, Mary Scott, Symanthia Hester, Felix Williams, Delores Carroll, Joe Collins, Lora Jacques, and several others.

The Fourth of July found thousands of people at Val Verde. They tell me that there was hardly sitting room. The Rhythm Rascal had the Club House rockin' and reelin'. Some of those out in the hot sun were Alva Rae Neblett and Harrison Bailey, Betty Brown, Bill Duncan, Jean Brown, Aaron Fairfax, Marie and Johnny Morrow, Bill Harris and others. Some went to Elsinore. We went to Murray's Dude Ranch and had a grand time as always. The Murrays have built new cabins and are doing a rush business. If you haven't ever been up there we'd recommend you try it out.

After a tiring day it was very refreshing to see some fireworks in the sky just west of Upton. When we arrived in Pasadena the fireworks were just starting at the famed Rose Bowl. The Czars and the PCAC's decided to give affairs on that night. The PCAC's cocktail party wasn't so well attended but they made quite a bit of money. I wonder why???? Sammy Franklin's Sixtet played for the Czars' dance. Those who had energy to dance after the long day were M. L. Jackson, Honest Griffin, John and Francis Moody, Betty and Jefflen Brown, Grady and Ruby Hickambottom, Jessie Arnold and oodles of others.

Hasta Luego.

Shower Hostess

Josephine Marshall, who will take her vows on Sunday at the Neighborhood church, was given a beautiful Hankie and Apron shower, at the lovely home of Edythe K. Owens.

The young socialites were there to extend to her their best wishes.

Mary Bethune Here For Annual Women's Council Fund Campaign

Dr. Mary Bethune, president of the National Council of Negro Women, arrived in Los Angeles this week. She will address a public meeting Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Independent Church of Christ.

"Women today are in a unique position," she said during an interview in the home of Dr. Vada Somerville, president of the L.A. Metropolitan Council, NCNW. "We are free to take stock of ourselves. We are free to think, to plan, and to work for the role and the goal which we, ourselves, may determine."

Dr. Bethune thinks that the future of Negro women and the race, generally, is virtually in their own hands and that they can build and mold a new world.

"The National Council of Negro Women calls upon every alert woman, regardless of race, creed or color, to join us," she continued. "We shall think, plan and work for the future of the world and our children who will come after us.

"It is a great adventure calling for unyielding faith, dauntless courage and selfless service. Together we can build a new world of abundant creative living for all."

Recognized as one of the most dynamic leaders of her day, Dr. Bethune figured significantly in the administration of the late President Roosevelt as head of the Negro Affairs committee.

Purpose of her visit to Los Angeles is to open a fund-raising campaign for the metropolitan council whose program is directly concerned with jobs and security, family planning and citizenship responsibility for colored women. The general public is invited to Sunday's meeting.

A 71st birthday celebration will be held Monday in Mrs. Bethune's honor, from 4 to 7 o'clock in the Somerville Garden, 2104 S. Harvard. A thousand women are expected to attend.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson was a charming hostess at breakfast Friday morning at her home in East Vernon ave.

Edited by Yvonne Shepherd

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

By Y. S.

Dedicated to the memory of my childhood chum, John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism.

Dear Chum:

Remember that national 4-H club convention I wrote about a few weeks ago? The one from which Negro 4-H clubbers were excluded.

Well, the whole stinking story has come out in the wash. And believe me, it smells to high Heaven.

You see, chum, Agriculture Department officials contended that colored 4-H club workers were not allowed to attend the national camp, recently held in Washington, D. C., because there would be objections from white southern delegates.

To quote from the record, Ralph Fulghum, information chief of the Agriculture Extension Services and Miss Gertrude L. Warren, director of 4-H club work, stated that Negroes were excluded because "if they were invited, white delegates from the south would ignore our invitation."

Well, do you know what I've learned, chum?

It was a lie. A dirty, rotten lie.

While I'm fighting mad about the whole darn mess, I feel a twinge of exultation when I remember one of the most important features of the entire hoax. And it is this! White southern delegates who were queried by reporters said they had never been questioned as to their attitude. But more than that, they declared they would never have objected to the presence of Negroes at the convention!

Prize-winning delegates Delmas Rushing, Jr., of Bullock County, Ga., was surprised as all get-out when he heard of the statement of Department of Agriculture officials.

'Smatter of fact, to quote young Rushing:

"I can't understand why the colored boys and girls aren't here. I'm a delegate but I was never questioned on the matter of colored people attending our camp. If I had been I would never have objected because I wouldn't have missed this trip for the world!"

To express myself in coloquial terms, chum, "That ain't all!"

Rushing was asked if he would object to competing his 4-H prize winners against those of colored 4-H workers in the state of Georgia. His reply? "They don't allow us to compete against colored down there, but I don't know why. I'll match my cows and pigs against any cows and pigs raised by anybody in the state of Georgia."

Perhaps he's an exception, you think. Not by a long shot.

Another white delegate, a Miss Luree Jones from the city of Tyron in Lincoln County, Oklahoma, declared:

"It's not right! I never was asked, but I never would have objected."

So there it is chum. The truth. Our own government officials trying to foster bias among the youth of our nation. Youth who, according to their own desire, are willing to be lined up with other youth.

You've yet to hear the crowning point of irony, chum.

The national convention, which was attended by delegates from 48 states and special guests from Puerto Rico, Alaska and Hawaii, had as its sub-theme. "Know Your Government." Yes. The jimcrow session sought to stress the importance of "democracy" to the American way of life.

Enough to make you laugh, isn't it? That is if you aren't busy trying to keep from blowing your top.

And it was at the Lincoln Memorial that the Agriculture Department staged a ceremony honoring 49 of the 175 delegates who had just reached voting age this year. It was there that M. L. Wilson, director of the Extension Services, called upon the new voters to chant that part of the Declaration of Independence which states that all men are created equal and endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

At the close of the confab, the Agriculture Department stated that a committee of extension service leaders has been authorized to select sub-committee from leaders of the Negro land grant colleges which will be empowered to set up a jimcro national camp for Negro 4-H club workers

It sort of takes your breath away when you think of it, doesn't it? Like someone punching you in the stomach when you're off guard.

Well, we've got to catch our breath and plunge right into action. As I see it, either we've got to raise such a stink that the whole idea will be shelved, or if this fails, we've got to reach our 4-H Negro boys and girls and urge them to boycott the meeting.

How about it, 4-H'ers? It's up to you.

Your chum,
Yvonne

Interracial Crew of Students In South Work on UNRRA Ship

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, Va.—A fellowship crew of 32 students and leaders representing 17 southern colleges assembled recently at Hampton Institute in preparation for work on a UNNRA relief ship scheduled to sail for Europe last Wednesday.

The group, recruited by the Fellowship of Southern Churchmen for the Brethren Service Committee and UNRRA, will work as livestock attendants on a cattle ship designated for Europe and will sail as a unit under the Brethren Service Committee project known as "Heifers for Europe."

An all-time high in the summer session registration at the University of California at Los Angeles has been attained with a record enrollment of 6,424 students, of whom approximately 4,000 are veterans, Director J. Harold Williams announced this week.

AYD Stages Street Parade to Mourn, Protest Death of OPA

To protest the death of OPA, members of American Youth for Democracy held a demonstration in downtown Los Angeles Saturday afternpon with four pall bearers carrying a casket on the sides of which was written "Here Lies OPA."

Young men representing Senators Taft, Bilbo, Wherry and O'Daniels dressed in full mourning, including black top hats, appropriately bore the casket containing the dead OPA.

Signs carried by the line of 20 mourners filing behind declared: "If you don't want to bury OPA, wire senate leader Barkley today." "We want a real OPA—No crippling amendments!"

In a little skit, Senator Taft condemned OPA as unconstitutional," charging that it should be sent back to Russia from where it came.

Interracial Confab Continues Despite Klan Threat of Fire

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C.—Despite Ku Klux Klan threats to burn down the camp at Camp Highland Lake, about four miles from here, white and Negro delegates and staff leaders attending the annual YMCA-YWCA six-day interracial conference remained at the confab until it concluded as per schedule.

Seething with resentment over the increase of interracial goodwill, whites in the vicinity have been spreading Negro-baiting reports of the activities of the interracial gathering.

Four white men, reported to have been drunk, warned officials in the camp office that the camp would be burned.

Refusing to become alarmed, members of the adult staff took turns keeping watch all night while delegates sang and performed stunts until early morning. Camp leaders fought a bitter battle to get the sheriff and two state highway men to stand on guard.

The camp burning did not materialize.

City to Set Up Recreation Centers in Housing Projects

A summer program of recreation for children in 22 sections of Los Angeles not served by regular municipal playgrounds was launched this week by the city recreation commission. The program is being financed out of a recent $20,000 special appropriation of the city council.

The recreation service is being set up in the Bunker Hill district and in 21 housing projects of the city housing authority with 24 recreation directors. Superintendent of Recreation George Hjelte is in charge.

Children from the housing projects and all others in the respective neighborhoods are welcome to use the facilities.

The commission stated that the Bunker Hill area, overcrowded section northwest of the downtown district, has frequently been the center of juvenile disturbances and that the department will organize children and youth there in activities designed to provide summer fun and prevent delinquency.

Edwards, who compiled a splendid record as a navy student on the Marquette campus, entered the navy at Detroit in August, 1943. While doing complete justice to the stiff naval schedule at the university, he participated in such extra curricular activities as football, track, basketball and boxing.

Member of Lincoln Memorial Church Sent to Mexico City As Youth Missionary Worker

Miss Jane Johnson, third year student at UCLA, who grew up in the Sunday school of Lincoln Memorial Congregations church, has attained some of the highest honors accorded a church youth.

From among all the highly qualified youth, Miss Johnson has been sent to Guadalajara, Mexico, as a Youth Missionary for the Congressional churches of Southern California. There, she will organize youth work in Mexico City and surrounding communities despite the great hostility in Mexico against Protestant churches. Prepared to perform her work in part through her knowledge of Spanish, Miss Johnson is expected to remain in Mexico until Setpember 15.

Another honor recently bestowed upon Miss Johnson was her election last month as vice president of the National Pilgrim Fellowship at the General Conference of Congressional churches which convened at Grinnell, Iowa. This is the first time a Negro youth has held this position of honor in the national youth organizations of any church.

Honors were first accorded to Jane Johnson in 1943 when she was elected president of the Southern California Congregational conference Pilgrim Fellowship. Miss Johnson, who was among the first members of Pilgrim Fellowship at Lincoln, has remained one of its most loyal and diligent workers.

Pilgrim Fellowship at Lincoln is in full swing this summer. With Mr. and Mrs. Brice Taylor as new club sponsors, the organization plans many activities, including a meeting on Audry Clauds' Lawn one Sunday; at Cabrillo beach next Sunday; and a splash party today at the 28th st. "Y."

Unity Council Seeks End of Jimcro School

GARY, Ind.—In a history-making mov toward greater democracy in Indiana's second city, the Gary Unity Council demanded last week that the city school board take steps immediately to eliminate segregation of white and Negro pupils in all the city's schools.

The historic recommendation was signed by Rev. L. C. Weddington and Rev. Kenneth B. Seeley, co-chairmen of the recently-formed Unity Council.

Executive Secretary of the Urban League Joseph C. Chapman urged that community agencies — churches, luncheon clubs, business organizations and veterans' groups—be asked to promote actively a policy of non-discrimination.

"All activities in all schools should be open to all pupils," he declared.

Draw Gun on Billy Grant in Olympic Fight

By Scoop DeJoie

Billy Grant, 173, Orange, N. J., bronze light-heavyweight, had a gun stuck in his face at the Olympic Tuesday night. After doing everything a fighter is supposed to do and earning a clean-cut 10-round decision over Fitzy Fitzpatrick, 169½, the best the 1-4 short-ender could get was a draw from the officials, who evidently were figuring on the high price of meat when they should have had their collective eyes on the ring.

7500 fans saw Grant make his debut the hard way, first by meeting the tougest opponent that could be dug up, and then, after a splendid effort, being robbed of a just verdict. Grant matched Fitzpatrick at every style he tried and piled up a tremendous amount of points while Fitzy landed about three solid punches during the entire fight.

Mario Trigo, 131, kapoed Chico Gonzales, 130, in the second heat of the scheduled 6-round semi-windup with a smashing right to the jaw.

In the 4-rounders: Morris Corona, 143½, scored an easy nod over Del Campo Provost, 148½, who became frightened before the bout when he saw the single word "Texas" on the former's robe; Malcolm Smith, 155, drew with Leroy Anderson, 156½; Romero Lopez, 127, nodded Mike Barragon, 120½; and Joe Rocha, 150, drew with Ray Thomas, 144.

Cabanella Fites Ramirez Friday

Speedy Cabanella, hailed as the greatest Filipino fighter developed in the Islands since the days of Pancho Villa, will meet Pedro Ramirez, fast-moving bantamweight out of Mexico, in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night.

Cabanella has beaten every boy in his weight around Manila and Ramirez is known here for several good fights.

Bobby Jackson Whips Scally

Bobby Jackson, 128½, in splendid condition, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Roscoe Scally, 132, at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night.

As the result of some potent blows Jackson had Scally bleeding from a bad cut over the left eye and the nose and mouth during the bout.

Johnny Eaton, 155, kayoed Reecy Davis, 153, in the third round of the scheduled six-round semi-windup.

Results of the four rounders—Al Calderon, 149, dec. Gene Loughridge, 148; Bernardo Ramirez, 132, dec. Darnell Carter, 132; Wallace Bates, 145, t.k.o. (1) Jess Humble, 146; and Bee Jiminez, 123, dec. Sid Hitchens, 162½.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

SPARKS FROM THE FLINT

According to Bert Lewis, manager of John Thomas, no contract has yet been signed by his protege for a championship bout in August with Ike Williams, the NBA lightweight titleholder. It seems that there is a slight hitch somewhere that hasn't yet been straightened out. This Scribe has only this to say on the matter. A title fight takes a lot of building up to assure box-office success and if this battle is to be held in August it is high time all matters were ironed out and some sort of an announcement made to the public. If the fight isn't to be held it would also be the right thing to announce the fact. Mr. Lewis says that the promoters asked him not to accept any fights for Thomas until after the championship contest. However, while countless sessions are probably being held on the fight (a deep and dead secret to the Negro press) Thomas still has to eat so he's booked to fight the 10-round main event next Tuesday, July 16, at the Olympic against Arturo Barron. Thomas can take care of himself, the promoters need not worry. The time has come for decisive action on the fight, which is being staged for a fine cause, the proposed new Westview Hospital, and we hope they'll get on with it, but fast . . . SAID LARRY MAC PHAIL, co-owner, president and general manager of the New York Yankees, to Al Wolf, writer of SPORTRAITS in the L. A. Times: "I recommend that the present Negro leagues be straightened around and admitted to organized ranks. After that, the colored players would be subject to draft and purchase just like any other minors. As it is now, they're being raided."

HEARD ON THE GRAPEVINE

At Cambridge, Mass., last Saturday, bothered by the wind, Herb McKenley, West Indian speedster, a junior at the University of Illinois, took 21.3 seconds to negotiate the 220-yard run in the city of Cambridge centennial games at Harvard Stadium. McKenley ran the 440 in 48.5s. . . . American Army Forces in the Pacific will start their year's sports program with a track and field meet in Tokyo on July 27 . . . Ray (Sugar) Robinson will engage in his last fight before meeting Marty Servo for the world's welterweight championship, when he battles Joe Curcio at Madison Square Garden on Friday night. The Sugarman meets Servo on August 21. Robinson has been training at his camp in Greenwood Lakes . . . If the fight is staged and if Ike Williams gets over John Thomas here during August he will open Madison Square Garden's fall season for Uncle Mike Jacobs in a bout against Tippy Larkin, the new junior welterweight champion. If he doesn't get over Thomas, and we do not believe he will, it is possible that the new lightweight champion may get a call for an appearance in the Hall of Maul . . . Bobby Yeager, stablemate of John Thomas, takes on a tough one in Frankie Moore at Oakland, Wednesday night, July 17. Frankie is the scourge of the north in the lightweight division and holds many scalps of the best in his weight.

SHORT SPORTS BY JOHN M. LEE

Our former Pal while whaling away at his trusty typewriter in New York for Continental Features writes in part:

"Recently while Bob Montgomery was in the ring working over Allie Stoltz, Mike Jacobs was in his office checking over the take, but in the back of his mind were preparations for the August 21 welterweight championship battle between Ray Robinson and Marty Servo. The bout will take place at the Yankee Stadium and should be a better attended match than the Louis-Conn duel since both Servo and Jacobs have been giving Sugar Ray the run-around for some time. Many of the sports scribes have taken periodic pokes at Uncle Mike for his indifference to Ray's repeated requests for a crack at the crown, and a lot of public interest has been built up for this match.

"It will be a fifteen round go, and already there are predictions that Sugar Ray will dance out of his corner in one of the early rounds and plant a hay-maker on Servo's nose. Servo backed out of a scrap with Robinson on one occasion, claiming that he had a broken nose. Ray will bear that in mind when they meet, and will try to bust the proboscis again. Some of the boys who get the dope straight from, only they know where, claim that Servo is so afraid of Ray he gets goose pimples every time somebody says Jack Robinson fast. Anyhow he won't be the first frightened pug to face a dangerous opponent in the ring at Yankee Stadium, and he can study the current fight pictures and learn how to run around the end, and duck through the middle.

JOE LOUIS AND TAMI MAURIELLO

"While the heat and the customers are raging at their highest, Mike Jacobs is wearing out his gold-plated brains trying to figure out a way to talk Tami Mauriello into taking a 17½% cut for a September match with Joe Louis. Tami, a stubborn, determined fellow both in and out of the ring, is holding out for a 20% take, the same slice that was given Billy Conn for an evening of slow waltzing and whispered pleas. Tami figures he will be taking the same chance Conn took, and maybe more, for he isn't the kind of fighter who runs away. Of course he has never fought Louis before, and thus had no reason to run, but as things stand now, he is entitled to the same percentage that Billy received."

Headline Card At Olympic

John Thomas, classiest lightweight in this neck of the woods, tackles an aggressive opponent in Arturo Barron in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night, July 16.

A capacity crowd is expected to jam the Grand Avenue Palace of Punch when the Pacific Coast contender for the world's lightweight crown toes the mark with Barron on that night. In two recent bouts Thomas easily defeated Maxie Shapiro, highly-touted easterner, and stopped Tony Chavez, the latter bout taking place in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Fight fans are especially anxious to see what shape Thomas is in just now as he is being primed for a shot at the title held by Ike Williams, late in August.

Matchmaker abe McCoy has arranged an excellent brace of prelims for Tuesday's boxing show.

Kenny Watkins Wins Decision

Kenny Watkins, 162, stablemate of John Thomas and Bobby Yeager, used a fast left hand to gain a 10-round decision over Jimmy Coleman, 160½, in the main event at Ocean Park Arena Monday night.

Coleman waged a good battle but was unable to avoid the clever left hand of the winner, the difference between victory and defeat.

Mushy Callahan refereed the bout.

In two of the fours carded: Garfield Coleman, 163, stopped Johnny Garcia, 166, in the second heat, and Wilson Mackey, 161½, decisioned Spencer Coleman, 157.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

HIPODROMO DE TIJUANA — Racing will be resumed this Sunday with 12 races and two feature events at the Hipodromo. Due to the national election in Mexico the track was dark last Sunday. At this writing we were informed that the popular peoples' choice Miguel Aleman was elected and will serve our neighbor country for the next six years. Ninety per cent of the voters of Baja, lower California, (Mexico) supported Aleman. No disorder prevailed in the Baja district and Tijuana was calm and quiet as an estimated 10,000 voters lined the streets to cast their ballots.

Hollywood Park now going into it's seventh week of racing will close Saturday, August 3rd and all records for attendance and mutuel handle will have been broken. Saturday, July 13, the famous Hollywood Derby, at 1¼ miles with an added value of $50,000 will be run. This race will bring together the best fillies and colts ever seen in California and this writer picks the grand little sweetheart bred in California, Honeymoon, to win. The Hollywood Gold Cup will be run Saturday, July 27th, at the same distance as the derby, with an added value of $100,000 and will be the attraction of the summer meeting. This writer will give you a full line on each horse starting in the feature event. I'll try to pick the winner for my readers and tell you why. So until next week go to Hollywood and Caliente. So-long, GEORGE.

The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League on whose roster Kenny Washington and Woody Strode are listed start training on July 29 at Compton College for a game against the College All-Stars in Chicago August 23.

L. A. Boxers in N. B. A. Rankings

PATTERSON, N. J. — Los Angeles boxers were sandwiched into the quarterly ratings of the National Boxing Association released by President Abe J. Greene this week.

Billy Smith, now of L. A., was ranked third under Champion Gus Lesnevich, in the light-heavyweight division; John Thomas was sixth in the lightweight ranks and Alfred Chavez fourth among the flyweights. Manuel Ortiz still ruled the throne as the world's bantamweight champ.

Reginald Siki Wins Mat Bout

Reginald Siki, bronze wrestler from Brooklyn, made his Olympic Auditorium debut last Wednesday night a winning one by defeating Hardy Kruskamp in one of the bouts on the card which featured a main event draw between the Swedish Angel and George Becker.

GOES TUESDAY—The popular JOHN THOMAS, above, West Coast contender for the world's lightweight title, will meet the aggressive Arturo Barron in the 10-round main event at the Olympic auditorium, Tuesday, July 16.

LOOKING AROUND AND UP AND DOWN

YVONNE MAACHEN, beautiful New Orleans girl, is one of the several Creole type lovelies who have found success in show business. Miss Maachen has assumed the lead role in the Broadway stage production, "Anna Lucasta" . . . DOLORES CALVIN, young columnist of Calvin's News Syndicate, celebrated her nineteenth birthday on July 1. She writes the syndicated theatrical column "SEEIN' STARS." Celebrated her natal day by consuming a chocolate ice cream soda . . . JACK McVEA and Ork, after successful engagements in Frisco and the Bay Area, back in town. Opened at the Swing Club in Hollywood last Sunday . . . THELMA CARPENTER, who stood out on the Eddie Cantor radio show, proved a hit at the N. Y. Apollo theatre last week when she sang "They Say That Falling In Love Is Wonderful" and other solid tunes . . . NAT (KING) COLE has been getting some funny lines on the Kraft Music Hall radio show. He gets a kick out of going through his routines with Edward Everett Horton and Eddie Duchin . . . EDDIE (ROCHESTER) ANDERSON and Kitty Murray were teamed together again on the stage of Loews State theatre in N. Y. last week and seemed to go over big with audiences . . . LOUIS JORDAN is off on 71 one-nighters. He's scheduled for a theatre appearance here at the Million Dollar theatre in the near future . . . The Broadway plays "ARE YOU WITH IT" and "ST. LOUIS WOMAN" closed last week. June Richmond was a decided success in the former . . . HAZEL SCOTT'S baby expected at any time now. We guess that Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, the father, has already started pacing the floor.

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT OTHER PEOPLE

Entered the sacred portals of the Joe (Radio Announcer) Adams home in South Los Angeles the other night where his efficient (she works at the EAGLE office) wife Emma served as a gracious hostess. There was a crowd around (Emma's sisters) and we had a nice pow wow before Joe hied himself off to do his stuff at the Cobra Club . . . Never saw so many pretties as those who turned out for the Crop N'Tail dance at Riverside Rancho last Wednesday night. Floyd Ray and ork laid down the music and it was groovy. Saw Parmalee DeJoie, sister of Paulette, at the dance among many, many others. . . . The hot weather brought a million persons out to the various beaches last Sunday . . . Jimmie Shifflett and frat brothers preparing to entertain 800 women at the Boule next month. They've already commissioned me as an escort. This will be a boon to the social life of the city and possibly some of the members will like California and make plans to come back and live. Yes, we do live out here, after a fashion . . . Jennie Woods created quite a sensation at the Crop N'Tail dance . . . What we liked about that dance, although a formal, was the fun enjoyed through the informality of the down-to-earth people that attended . . . Jessie Mae Brown, EAGLE society Editor, received a beautiful plaque from the Cosmos Club for outstanding work in the field of journalism . . . Ernie Whitman, emcee of the popular "Jubilee" radio program over NBC, said that the shows will be resumed in about two weeks . . . Norman Bell and wife Annabelle looking for a room. Their landlady has been served with an eviction notice and everybody in the house has to clear out. If you hear of anything for a nice couple without children, let me know and I'll tell them . . . Gertrude (Candid Comments) Gipson still on the mend. She'll be with us again soon.

HOT OFF THE GRIDDLE

The COSMOS CLUB is rapidly completing plans for the concert appearance here of the distinguished American pianist, EUGENE GASH . . . LEIGH WHIPPER, talented actor, is in New York City . . . ETHEL WATERS and DUSTY FLETCHER wowing audiences at the Club Baron in old Noo Yawk . . . SEPIA PRODUCTIONS of L.A. newest Negro film endeavor, is getting set for the turning out of above-average films . . . PIGMEAT MARKHAM is a pronounced success in the flicker, "Pigmeat and His Rent Party." Lou Swarz plays the role of Mrs. Johnson in the pic. They say the movie is a side-splitter. Just having "Pigmeat" in it assures it of laughs. You'll remember him from his long and successful stay at the Lincoln theatre here . . . The MODERNAIRES and PAULA KELLY are really solid. They recently appeared on a "Jubilee" program and won many friends with their pleasing songs and easy manner . . . CAB CALLOWAY and band followed ROCHESTER into New York's ZANZIBAR CLUB. Pearl Bailey there also singing "Legalize My Name" and "It's A Woman's Perogative" with her own inimitable style. Smooth that off with the Peters Sisters, the Miller Brothers and Lois and Claude Hopkins and orchestra, and it seems that the Zanzibar has the classiest show in Gotham . . . TENNYSON PARKER, Berkeley beau brummel, now residing in L. A., is going to take voice training. We know he's got volume if nothing else and a good pair of lungs is essential to warbling . . . When COUNT BASIE returns to the Acquarium Cafe on Broadway in N. Y. on July 25 for a four week stand he will return to the airwaves after an absence of more than a year and a half. At the Acquarium he will get no less than 15 coast-to coast broadcasts a week, including five half-hours on NBC, which are being added especially for his engagement. . . . BILLY ECKSTINE, singing bandleader, was guest star for the second time on the new CBS airshow, "NITE LIFE," after which he departed on a lengthy road tour which eventually will bring him out to the Pacific Coast . . . JIMMIE LUNCEFORD and ork concluded an engagement Tuesday at the Trianon. He will soon be featured in a musical short for Warner Bros. Pictures. . . . IT HAPPENED in Raleigh, N. C., where Buddy Johnson and Band were conducting their "Fine Brown Frame" contest to determine the girl with the finest brown frame in that city. Although his wife was in the contest Al Wilson applauded enthusiastically for another contestant. His wife "playfully" slapped him. He slapped her . . . Period. Wilson was hauled into court for assault and battery and received a 60 days suspended sentence. Buddy Johnson almost missed a one-nighter attending the court session by special invitation of the gendarmes to serve as a witness.

Lucky Millinder Pens Theme Number for Elks Convention

DALLAS — Lucky Millinder, the dynamaestro of swing who has written and introduced a dozen or more novelty song hits, announced here last Tuesday that he had completed a song honoring the BPOE, largest Negro fraternal organization in the world. Title of the Millinder composition appropriately enuogh is the traditional greeting of the members of the antlered herd, "Hello Bill."

After completing the song, Lucky submitted it to J. Finley Wilson, Mr. Big of the organization. Wilson after persuing the song gave it his enthusiastic endorsement. Mr. Wlison has alos arranged for a formal introduction of the song at the annual conclave of the organization in Buffalo, N. Y., late August.

Millinder has committed himself to personally introduce the new song at the convention and if possible to bring his entire band to the Empire State city for the premiere.

La Fitzgerald Disc Sets Mark

NEW YORK—A nationwide survey on the reception given the sensational Calypso novelty recording by Ella Fitzgerald of "Stone Cold Dead in the Market" reveals that the famous Tisket-Tasket girl has set another all time mark for other popular song singers to shoot at. With only three weeks of activity behind it, the recording has racked up an all time mark for that period of nearly a quarter million sales.

All-Male Show Box Office Hit

PHILADELPHIA—For the first time in the history of show business in this city an all male show (with not a female anywhere on the bill) played to a solid week of SRO performances as Cootie Williams' band supported by Bill Robinson and Maurice Rocco drew capacity audiences all week at the Earle Theatre here.

Thelma Carpenter Big Hit at Apollo

NEW YORK—Thelma Carpenter, the Brooklyn born lassie, returned to New York for her first theatre appearance in her home town since her sensational run on the Eddie Cantor coast-to-coast radio show when she was a feature on an all star bill at the Apollo theatre with Dizzy Gillespie, the re-bopper.

Bob Hope, Other Stars On Program For Worthy Cause

The night of July 22 marks the initial benefit which will eventually build West View Hospital. Al Jarvis, long a fighter against intolerance presented his Make Believe Ballroom, in person at the Hollywood Bowl on this night. The entire net proceeds of the event will be turned over to tthe West View Hospital, Inc., to start building on this much needed facility.

Mr. Cal Kuhl, one of the finest producers in Hollywood has offered his services to put on this show, which insures one of the most spectacular and entertaining events of the year. Jarvis will have at least five top name orchestras and many of the most famous names of screen, radio, and record world. It is to be stressed that these stars will appear in person—for on this night the Make Believe Ballroom steps into reality and Jarvis will parade an array of talent on the Hollywood Bowl stage never before seen in a single show—and all for charity.

Already promised to appear is that sterling comedian, Bob Hope, who promises to out do himself for a cause that is as worthy as this; Stan Kenton and his entire orchestra; Larry Adler the King of the Harmonica; and the sensational Slim Gaillard Trio; and Art Tatum, the famous pianist. These names alone could put on a show worthy of this cause but many many more will be added between now and July 22.

The hospital will be open to every race, color and creed. It will be operated on a strictly non-profit, non-discriminatory basis, and it goes without saying that this will be a great asset to the people of this district.

The property at 54th and Main Streets was originally bought by twenty-five of our own Doctors and was turned over—free and clear—to West View Hospital, Incorporated. Dr. Dickerson A. Hawkins, is President of the Corporation, which includes many of the most well-known doctors and dentists of this area.

Ground will be broken on the site at 54th and Main Streets, shortly after the Bowl event.

Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained at the Hollywood Bowl box office, Southern California Music Co., and all Mutual Ticket agencies. Tickets are also on sale at the West View Hospital office, 5334 So. Main st.

Mrs. J.T. Gipson's Candid Comments

EDITOR'S NOTE—My guest column conductor for this week is Leon Hardwick, former managing editor of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE. Mr. Hardwick at present is general manager of the Pacific Press Syndicate (news and advertising organization) and executive secretary of the International Film and Radio Guild. I am very glad to announce to my many friends who have been so kind to me during my illness, that I will be back on the job next week when I will pen my own column again. Thanks a million to guest columnists who have done such a splendid job writing for me.

—GERTRUDE GIPSON.

By LEON H. HARDWICK

MY GOOD FRIEND, Gertrude Gipson, still on the sick list, has inveigled me into once more taking up the typewriter torch and knocking off a "guest column" for her. I'm glad to be able to be of service to Gert but feel a pang of sympathy for those who are called upon to read this hastily arranged tripe. Not being the wonderful breezy type of writer like dear Gert, I hope my more humdrum brand of scribbling won't drive too many of Mrs. Gipson's hundreds of thousands of readers from her. So without any further ado, let's get down with it:

Los Angeles' famous Lincoln Theatre, Central avenue landmark for more than two decades, was reopened Monday night under a new policy. Stage shows have returned, only this time the very best in top ranking entertainment will be offered. It's the expressed hope of the new owners (Sherrill Corwin and company who also control the Orpheum and Million Dollar downtown) that the Lincoln will take its place alongside the almost legendary theatres of other cities—the Apollo in New York, the Royal in altimore, the Regal in Chicago and the Howard in Washington, D. C. The next few weeks will tell whether Los Angeles Negroes have yet approached the high plane of cooperation which marks the case in other places.

Because the Lincoln is steeped in tradition and because its fame is potentially nationwide, the Lincoln should be the kind of a house of which the Negro community of this city could feel proud. Famous figures have trod its boards in years past. The old Lafayette Players added dignity and class to the house during the few years they operated there in the late 20s an dearly 30s.

That it will be an uphill battle to regain the former popularity enjoyed by the Central avenue house is a foregone conclusion. The new owners have started off in the right manner and have shown they intend to put only the very best into the house. This includes entertainment as well as equipment. In view of this fact they certainly deserve support of the first water. Whether they get it or not is another question.

Unfortunately the Lincoln, in the last few years, has been allowed to run down horribly. Overshadowing even its terrible physical degeneration have been the rotten shows oftimes put on. Pigmeat Markham's brand of "humor," which held sway for months, served to drive the average decent patron away.

The black mark placed on the Lincoln by Markham and others can be erased—and no doubt will—by the presentation of clean, live entertainment. Certainly Los Angeles Negroes can support a first class theatre in the same manner in which the Eastern brethren support the Apollo, Howard and kindred houses. THE LINCOLN CAN REMAKE CENTRAL AVENUE! Negro performers the country over now can look toward Los Angeles as another haven. With the proper public relations program, backed up by first class entertainment, the Lincoln can and certainly should once more assume its rightful role in the community!

RAMBLING THOUGHTS WHILE TYPING

HOWARD HUGHES cracked up just as we were about to unload our best artillery on him in seeking to get his cooperation in producing a picture, or pictures, sympathetic to the Negro cause. . . . Hattie McDaniel, at the Regular Fellows cocktail party Sunday eve, excited about her much postponed vacation which begins in a few days. Miss McDaniel will spend a short time in Nevada and then will head for the East, returning in time to resume her Amos 'n' Andy radio show next September. . . . Spent the Fourth at Elsinore, guest of George Moore, owner of one of the niftiest motels to be found anywhere.

THE DELTA RHYTHM BOYS, after breaking all existing records at El Rancho Vegas hotel in Las Vegas recently, have headed Eastward. The popular combo is set to play club and theatre dates in New York, Detroit, Baltimore and Buffalo. They're still undecided as to whether they'll resume their Amos 'n' Andy broadcast next fall. . . . Mabel Scott, who gained a terrible following here with her risque songs, last week was freed of assault charges in New York. Mabel, currently appearing at Club 845 in the Bronx, was defendant in a case brought against her by her ex-husband, William Ward. Miss Scott explained satisfactorily to the court that a recent argument between the two climaxed years of disagreements, finally ending in physical violence on Ward's part, and that he was stabbed as she tried to protect herself.

AN IMPORTANT EPISODE in racial history will be enacted in the Hollywood Bowl on Aug. 22 when Rudolph Dunbar, gifted Negro musician and well known London figure, will conduct the Los Angeles Symphony orchestra. Dorothy Maynor, distinguished soprano, will be guest soloist, assisted by an all-Negro chorus comprising local talent and some of the finest artists in the country. Mr. Dunbar made a notable debut as a conductor in London several years ago and subsequently received widespread acclaim when he conducted the Berlin and Paris symphony orchestras. Mark August 22 on your calendar.

I SUPPOSE THAT'S enough to fill your column, Gert. So until later, may we bid our customary theatrical thirty!

Louis Signs Contract With Negro Soft Drink Company

By Dolores Calvin

NEW YORK CITY—(Calvin's News Service)—Following a series of mysterious incidents, it was finally revealed this week that Joe Louis, Heavyweight Champ of the World, signed a contract just two days after his fistic triumph over Billy Conn which will probably result in being the most profitable business dealing of his entire fighting career.

What kept the country agape in wonder of what the new contract specified and moreover, what it concerned, came to light when it was discovered that Joe Louis himself is giving full support to a new soft drink named in his honor, the "Joe Louis Punch." Though negotiations have been in operation since last November, the final papers were only just signed by Joe.

"Joe Louis Punch" is a product of the newly formed All-American Drink Corporation, a half million dollar project with offices at 55 West 42nd Street, New York City.

We awaited more information as secretaries buzzed the conference room. Soon, out came spokesman William B. Graham, who heads the firm, right into what we were waiting to hear.

"At the moment we are a half million dollar corporation," Mr. Graham said in part, "and intend to increase capitalization in the near future. Our punch will hit the market Octboer and we have great plans for its expansion. We first take it to Mexico, South America, Russia, Honolulu, Australia, and Scandanavia, among other countries. We expect the sugar situation to be relieved by early Spring. Then we can hit other sections of Europe. Of course, America will be drinking it first," he smiled.

The Punch itself, which they expect to pack a wallop, as does Joe, will arrive in a bright 7 oz. bottle. The sparkling water and gingerale will come in quarts.

AT SEAVIEW BEACH HOTEL—Savannah Churchill, beautiful songstress, opened a limited engagement at the Seaview Beach Hotel night club in Virginia Beach, Va., Wednesday. She introduced several new songs which she will record when she returns to New York.

Christian Science Subject 'Sacrament'

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be from I Corinthians: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

In a Lesson-Sermon citation the Psalmist says, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people." "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; . . . He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation."

"The Bible teaches transformation of the body by the renewal of Spirit," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration." "Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality."

An invitation is extended to the public to worship at services each Sunday morning at the Masonic Hall, 1050 E. 50 street.

Rev. J. E. Evans, associate pastor; Rev. J. E. Pius, minister.

St. James Notes

Stamps.

Mrs. Smith will sing on Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service July 14. She will sing "The Lord Will Make a Way Somehow."

The West Coast Southernaires will sing tonight, Thursday, and Sunday afternoon at 3.

Friday night, July 12, at 8 o'clock the Furgerson singers of St. Louis will render a full program. Pastor will preach at the 11 a.m. service, subject: "At the Forks of the Road."

28th St. Christian Church in Impressive Mortgage Burning

A momentus hour was struck in the history of the East 28th Street Christian Church, Sunday, July 1, at 4 p. m., when the church mortgage was burned in an impressive ceremony. W. T. Bryant is pastor.

The church has been in its present location for the past four years, and under the spiritual guidance of its present pastor, Walter J. Bryant, for the past five years.

Too much credit cannot be given the pastor for his method of self-denial offerings whereby the members defrayed the mortgage expenses.

East 28th St. Christian Church felt a keen sense of pride in having as highlights of the afternoon's program Rosa Page Welch, National Ambassador-of-Goodwill for the Disciples of Christ, who sang two solos. Pastor R. L. Peters of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, speaker of the afternoon. Remarks apropos to the occasion were made by several visiting ministers of the Christian Churches of Southern California.

A signal honor was accorded Mrs. Sterling Leeo, a member of long-standing, who was chosen to strike the match which set ablaze the mortgage paper. All members and friends who attended the ceremonies will cherish the memory of the afternoon. All left with a prayer of thanksgiving for His many blessings bestowed.

Victory Baptist to Burn Mortgage Sunday; Creates Record in Freeing Church of Debt

When the pastor, officers and members of Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley avenue, hold their mortgage burning services Sunday afternoon, July 14, at 4:00 o'clock, Los Angeles will witness an unprecedented occurrence in the history of Christendom in this city. For this congregation and their pastor, the Rev. Arthur A. Peters, hold the proud record of having organized, purchased ground, built an imposing edifice from the ground up and paid same completely out of debt within a period of two years.

Having its beginning in a store front, with a handful of members, Victory Baptist Church now has an active membership of over fifteen hundred. The present building is already crowded to capacity. Plans are now being worked out for the erection of another building adjoining the present edifice, which will cost approximately $15,000. The building is expected to get underway before the year is out. The church also plans to install a Hammond organ in the near future, and a donation of $100.00 to apply on the same was just recently received from an interested follower.

Rev. A. S. Bowles, secretary of the Los Angeles City Mission Society, will bring the special dedicatory sermon on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Horace Mays and Rev. L. D. Revolal will also deliver greetings from Western State Baptist convention and the Los Angeles Baptist Union respectively. Special music will be rendered by the two choirs of the church, under the direction of R. L. Hatter, by the Victory Baptist Trio, and the Smith Jubilee Singers. "A Look Backward," and "A Look Forward," giving the past history and present outlook of the church will be presented by one of the officers and the minister, respectively, and promises to make a highly interesting story.

The public is cordially invited to be present at this service and join with this enthusiastic minister and congregation as they dedicate this beautiful House of God, free from debt, to His service.

Baha'i Lecture

The Glory of God is the subject to be discussed by Vira Jewell Paxton on Sunday, July 14, at 3:00 p. m., at Los Angeles Baha'i Headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire avenue.

"The Glory of God shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea." As the sun rises in the east and its rays penetrate to the west, so shall the Glory of God appear in the world. He brings with Him not only a quickening power which gives life to the spiritually dead bodies, but reveals as well a social program which will better all mankind and the conditions under which we live.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES will be observed Sunday, July 14, at 11 a.m. at Second Baptist church for the late Dr. T. L. Griffith, who passed in 1940. The church was built under his pastorate. The memorial sermon will be delivered by Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, minister, who has just returned from vacation. At the same time the memorial will include all deceased members of the church who have passed during the past year.

INCREASE RENT
This was not done to get money, but try and get possession of properties. Owners, under the old OPA system, waiting six months for possession, are sleeping in streets, hallways, parks, garages, and City Hall lawns, are waiting to get in homes they now own. We don't want an increase in rent, instead we will take a decrease of 50%, if you allow these poor people to move in.

Mother Kills Tots To 'Oust Evil Spirits'

HALTS NEGRO ARMY ENLISTMENTS, BARS WACS FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

AUDREY DIGGS, 2 ... One of Two Victims

MRS. EASTER I. DIGGS ... Murder Suspect.

Religious Fanatic, Once Asylum Inmate, Admits Suffocating 2 Children

When a mysterious oil concoction failed to "drive the evil spirits away," Mrs. Easter Lavaria Diggs, 28, of 1761 East 119th st., covered two of her children's nose and mouth with her hand "until they toppled over," she confessed yesterday to sheriff deputies, who are investigating the youngsters' deaths.

Mrs. Diggs, being held on suspicion of murder, told deputies that she had been reading her Bible last Sunday when her three children came home from church. "I started to teach them verses from the Bible and asked them to repeat the verses after me. Wesley, Jr., 3½, and Audrey, 2, would not recite the verses," the woman asserted.

"I then annointed them with oil to drive out the devil, but they still failed to respond. I then put my hand over the nose and mouth of each child until

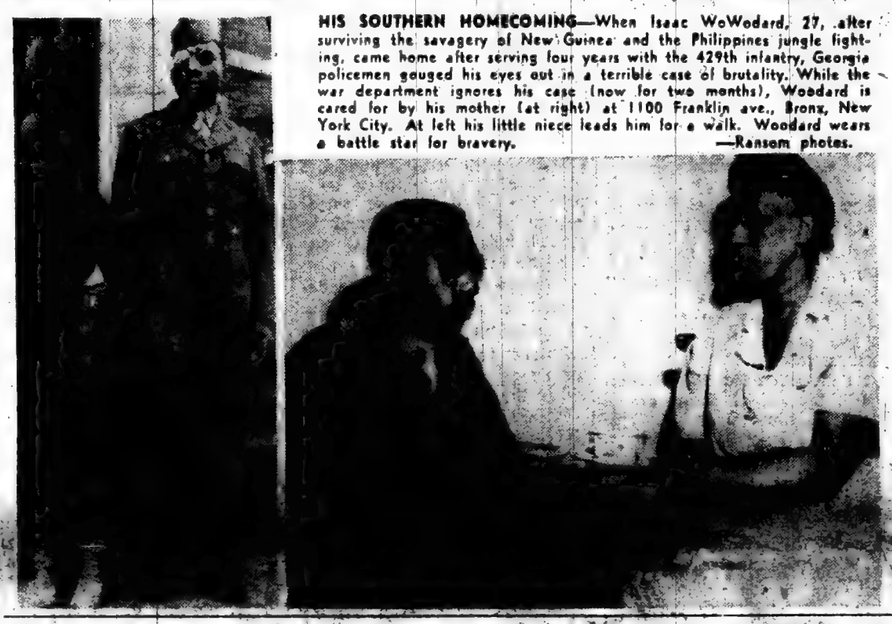
Federal Gov't. Acts To Halt Purge Of Negro Votes In Georgia Primary



HIS SOUTHERN HOMECOMING—When Isaac WoWodard, 27, after surviving the savagery of New Guinea and the Philippines jungle fighting, came home after serving four years with the 429th infantry, Georgia policemen gouged his eyes out in a terrible case of brutality. While the war department ignores his case (now for two months), Woodard is cared for by his mother (at right) at 1100 Franklin ave., Bronx, New York City. At left his little niece leads him for a walk. Woodard wears a battle star for bravery. —Ransom photos.

ATLANTA—The storm of protests which swept the country following Senator Theo. Bilbo's defiance of the U. S. government in seeking to bar Negro participation in the recent Mississippi primary had its repercussion here this week as the federal courts and the Justice department moved to consider the mass purging of Negroes from the voting lists in politically embroiled Georgia.

Thousands of Negroes who registered for the first time in the July 17 Democratic primary—the actual election—have been disqualified under one pretext or another. The purging in some counties is still under way.

The latest unofficial figures show that 134,351 Negroes have registered to vote for the first time in Georgia. This compares with a white registration of 1,[illegible] whites outnumber Negroes 3 to 1 in Georgia.

Federal Judge Frank M. Scarlett at Brunswick ordered a halt to wholesale disenfranchisement of Negro citizens in Atkinson county. Registrars of

Too Many Enlist, Says War Dept., Ex-Wacs Can Re-Enlist for U. S. Only

WASHINGTON—The "overwhelming response of Negroes to the regular army recruiting campaign" has resulted in a suspension of Negro enlistments, except in special categories, the war department announced late yesterday.

The announcement failed to make clear whether Negroes will be called in the September draft.

In its announcement, the department said that all quotas for Negroes are greatly oversubscribed, indicating fear of an "unbalanced" army with more Negroes in the army than the brass hats consider expedient.

The disproportionate number of Negro enlistments is a result of job discrimination in private industries, which has forced many Negroes to seek a career in the army.

(Special to The EAGLE)

WASHINGTON—(PPS—The War Department confirmed the story that "no Negro WACS are wanted for overseas service," in a semi-official statement issued here Monday, following a barrage of inquiries by the Negro press on its policy toward Negro WACs.

The statement, approved by department officials including Marcus Ray, civilian aide to the secretary of war, was as follows:

"The re-entry in the Women's Army Corps is open to Negro women who have been honorably discharged from the service. They have been and will continue to be accepted and placed in jobs in the continental United

On The Sidewalk

By C. A. B.

I FEEL a keen responsibility to relate all I can dig up and find about the history and background of the Ku Klux Klan.

We know why the Ku Klux Klan was organized in the first place—to negate the fruits of victory and to deprive Negro and poor white workers the gains won in the unfinished revolution (Civil War) and to oppose the reconstruction measures (1865-76) of the United States Congress.

At that early period the name Ku Klux Klan generally applied not only to the KKK but to other like societies, such as the more powerful Knights of the White Camelia, the White League, the Invisible Circle, Pale Faces, etc. Staff officers of the Klan bore such fantastic titles as Genii, Hydras, Furies, Gohlin, Night Hawks, Magi, and Monk. Private rank and file members were appropriately called Ghouls.

THE early history and development of the Klan was from 1865 to 1868. Its greatest activity was from 1868 to 1870. From that time until the close of World War I Klan activities were apparently nil. Now at the close of World War II there is a furious revival of Ku Klux Klan activities.

In many places and in numerous ways the Knights of Ku Klux Klan work, and I am afraid unless checked now, will not only destroy our way of life, but will cause our nation to meet the same fate of Hitler's Germany.

Deep are the roots of the KKK. Its first major job was to defeat the anti-Poll Tax Bill. Then to destroy the FEPC, crush labor, with the final knock-out of the OPA.

LONG and fierce are the fangs of the hooded enemies of Democracy. They have declared by their acts of violence that there shall be no unity in the ranks of labor—Among the Jews, Negroes, and other minorities. That especially Negroes must be subjected to every humiliation in the book—restrictive covenants, a denial of their civil liberties, the right of a fair trial in the courts.

While our taxes are used to fly Secretary of State Byrnes back and forth to Paris to bring justice and order to foreign countries, blind Isaac Woodard, Negro veteran who served in the South Pacific, asks why something isn't being done about the injustices here at home in the United States.

AFTER four years' service with the 429th Infantry in New Guinea and the Philippines, Woodard had his eyes gouged out by Klan inspired Georgia police.

And this is but one of the many cruel rewards meted out to Negro returnees in the uniform of Uncle Sam, here in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Won't you come home, Mr. Byrnes, and do something for Isaac Woodard and the others like him?

The letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Wainsworth,

AS C.A.B. said last week, your letter is indeed provocative and challenging. Although you quote Bilbo, you write like one of Westbrook Pegler's disciples. He too is one of those "right thinking Christians" of the same ilk as Rev. Perkins and Gerald L. K. Smith ("real friends of the Negroes," if they stay in their places). Here's hoping you were prepared when you threw down the gauntlet to C.A.B. and her Little David Goliath killing readers, because our record with the pen (the pen is mightier than the sword), is comparable to Joe Louis' ring record. Fares To Be Hiked In San Diego By July 29

SAN DIEGO — San Diego citizens, already plagued by the increased cost of many commodities since the death of OPA, will have to pay more for bus and street car rides beginning Monday, July 29, as the result of a decision by the state railroad commission in San Francisco.

The decision trimmed the transit company's request for a 25-cent increase in weekly pass revenue to 10 cents, but gave substantial comfort to the company, whose assistant general R. F. MacNally, this week said the company was "hopeful" the new rates will enable it "to make out very satisfactorily." Plans for the shift to the new rates were being pushed energetically by the company.

Effect of the new rates: three tokens for 25 cents; no round-trip fares in the third zone, and a 5-cent increase in cost of roundtrip fares in all other zones. The fare for Zone 3 rides on and after July 29 will be 15

Mayor Lapham Wins in Recall

SAN FRANCISCO—Mayor Roger D. Lapham on Tuesday emerged the victor in the first attempt in San Francisco's history to recall a mayor.

Complete semi-official returns from the 1193 precincts of the city gave the vote for the recall as follows: No-105,742; Yes-73,673.

Opponents of the mayor scored their highest vote in the "south of Market" sections of the city.

To Seek Early Action On Anti-Polltax Bill

Progressives in the U. S. senate are planning, as soon as the OPA legislation is completed, to bring the much-disputed anti-Poll tax measure to the senate floor for debate.

The bill known as HR 7 passed the house on June 12, 1945, 251 to 105. The senate judiciary committee reported it to the senate favorably on October 5, 1945. Since October 5 it has been on the senate calendar, ready to be brought out on the floor for consideration at any time.

But so far nothing has been

Poles Execute Nine Lynchers, Protect Jews

The U. S. government which recently whitewashed the anti-Negro terror in Columbia, Tenn., this week received a lesson in the functioning of a democracy to protect minority groups with the execution by Polish authorities of nine fascists who were found guilty of setting off the bloody July 4 pogrom in Kielce, Poland. Three others were given stiff prison terms.

The defendants were tried by a military court, set up by the Polish government in a move to stamp out anti-Jewish outbreaks inspired by feudalistic elements who are seeking, with the blessing of the U. S. and British governments, to reimpose their rule upon the Polish people.

The Polish government also ordered its military forces to afford the greatest possible protection to the Jewish minority.

Labor Acts to Cleanse Ranks Of Race Bias

Burke Tells Writer How It Feels to Face Murder Rap

By LEW GARRETT
MNS Staff Feature Writer

What does a young man accused of murdering a 16-year-old girl and her 8-month-old baby think of as he hears himself described as a monster and murderer? What are his emotions as he hears the prosecution demand that he die in the San Quentin gas chamber for the supreme crime?

Joseph Burke, 25 year old veteran, who is now on trial in superior court for just that crime, rested his face deep in his hands, looked out at his pretty wife who was sitting in the packed courtroom, and explained it this way:

"Oh God, I am scared, mad and anxious all at the same time. I wonder about a thousand things—why these men tell these lies about me, what my wife does at night, and mostly about my three little kids.

"I wonder even more if they'll believe me when Cuff (his attorney, public defender Allery Cuff) puts me on the stand. I'll tell the truth, but it's just my word, a colored boy, against theirs.

"They lie when they say I tried to escape. They say that because they know the blood on my clothes came from their beating me into making that confession. I don't know why they do it.

"I think about the church up in Ventura. That's the Olivet

Committee Set Up to Organize Branch of Nat. Negro Congress

Plans were formulated Tuesday night for the organization in this city of a branch of the National Negro Congress at a meeting held in the editorial offices of The California EAGLE.

The meeting, attended by civic and labor leaders, including Phil Connelly, head of the Los Angeles CIO, voted itself an organizing committee and elected Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of The EAGLE, to head the organizing drive.

The program adopted by the recent historic tenth anniversary convention of the Congress, held in Detroit, was discussed extensively and unanimously approved.

Reports on the convention were given by John Dial and William O'Neil.

Buyers' Strikes Sweeping Nation as Protest Grows Over Skyrocketing Prices

Buyers' strikes were spreading across the nation this week as reports piled up of skyrocketing prices for food and other necessities. The move to stop buying all but essentials, was spearheaded by 800,000 members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) who held a work stoppage Tuesday to demand the return of price control and, in the words of Walter Reuther, union president, to usher in a buyers' strike "such as this country has never known." Reuther urged consumers not to buy meat for seven days, starting yesterday.

In Los Angeles, members of more than 30 civic organizations will stage a buyers' strike today. The organizations will hold a meeting tonight at the Friday Morning Club, Olympic and Figueroa, to plan further community activity. Tonight's meeting will be chaired by Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny.

Racist GIs Bully Japanese, Assault Their Women, U. S. General Reveals

YOKOHAMA—Occupied Japan is learning about democracy—Dixie brand. The lesson has been harsh enough to create a major scandal and to draw the criticism of Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth army, in a letter sent to his army units.

Disgusted last month but just released publicly this week, the general's letters deplored the arrogant and bullying attitudes of American troops and demanded such misconduct be stopped because it is "endangering the mission of occupation."

The general said he had received many reports of crimes committed by Americans and that he is convinced of their truthfulness.

"There have been cases of the malicious beating of Japanese by both individual soldiers and by groups," Eichelberger's letter said. "There have been cases of troops breaking into Japanese homes and taking trivial amounts of money from the needy natives.

"There has been destruction of furniture and windows in some districts, of assaults on women on highways and in their homes. And in addition there are many indications of deliberate, arrogant, bullying attitudes on the part of some of our soldiers."

Negroes' struggle up from slavery has entailed continual combat, but it also has netted continual victory. When the last round is over between the Negroes and your Pharoah-type friends (of this "brand by God" race) the Negro will be the Winner and still champion.

I am a young veteran attending USC and I considered changing over to the job training program so that I could make more money for the support of my pregnant wife and four children. My veteran advisor told me to go down to the Veteran's Service Center at 306 S. Broadway because I would get the facts much quicker than by going to USES. Well I got them. The A.F.L. representative told me, and I quote:

"You Negroes have just won a court victory giving you equal rights with the white in the Boilermakers Union, but you can't legislate love for your fellowman. You people got the auxiliary union done away with, and to be frank with you, I think you did yourself more harm than good. I'm from the South and I know what you Negroes have been used to. In fact a colored mammy raised me. You know also what the Boilermakers Union largely consists of—Okies, Arkies, and Texans—and how little they care for Negroes. Despite the court decision, we still have to carry on union business, and you know that would not be possible if some hot-headed Negro came in demanding equal rights just because the court said he was entitled to them. So we have seats up front reserved for the colored and we urge only so many to attend. We put them all up there where these Okies and Arkies can get used to them gradually because I regret to think what would happen if some of them come in blowing their top like they do at me sometimes up here because I have nothing to offer them."

HE went on to say that he had over 80 apprenticeships but he doubted if any of them would accept colored.

Here I am, a disabled vet, and an A.F.L. journeyman ($1.32 man) both before and after the war, being turned down an apprenticeship at probably 80 or 85c an hour, with four years at gov't expense to learn to be a journeyman, which I already am. Please, Lord, how I wished for the FEPC.

I know what the FEPC did for me during the dying moments of its all too short life. Mrs. Wainsworth, how can we have peace as long as the South breeds—Bilbos and Rankins. If the end justifies the means—let me also be a bed-fellow of these so-called "Reds." As C.A.B. says, you have created within me a desire to know more about this dangerous "Red" propaganda—equality of races.

On Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, 1944, I was discharged from the U. S. Army and came home to get back my old job at Calship. They refused, and the draft board filibustered me with hope until the war was over, and then the Atty-Gen'l wrote me a letter saying it was no use trying since the war was over. In the meantime, I applied at Consolidated, and they said I would have to be able to read blueprints and have about three years experience. I said that I would have had that much experience if the war had not interrupted my work. The FEPC and Walter Brown investigated. They found the company had told the following falsehoods: only one year's experience instead of two was necessary; less than 10% rather than 65%-70% of their riggers were Negroes; rigger jobs were not frozen March 31, 1945 as stated; blueprint reading was not necessary. They told me to go down to Consolidated again and tell them if they didn't hire me, they would find me on their payroll whether I went to work or not.

I NOT only got the job, but was welcomed by the head of Consolidated, Ralph Budd. He told me that a man so persistent would undoubtedly be of great value to the company. I worked there until Nov. 1945 when I quit voluntarily to enter USC. My being able to work at Consolidated and getting a coast guard pass, gave the lie to Calship's reason for not giving me my job back. They had said that the Navy wouldn't give me a coast guard pass any more. Although I am a disabled Navy vet, honorably discharged, I worked on two jobs for a year at Calship drawing journeyman's pay on both the graveyard and swing shifts—holding two coast guard passes during that time before entering service.

If these sons of the South don't respect the rights of a disabled, honorably discharged vet who fought to save this country including the poll-tax vote denying South, good heavens, who will they respect!

MY FINAL word of warning to you is to quit advocating Bilbo-vote denying violence, saying that Hitler is dead with your honey tongue, while your heart of gall gives voice to your true sentiments . . . long live Hitler's minority 'persecuting ideals.'

Remember Pearl Harbor and the Roosevelt-Wallace so-called "Red" era it ushered in. How I long for more of those days.

Union Proud of Anti-Bias Fight

WASHINGTON — The United Federal Workers of America, CIO, which recently merged with the State, County and Municipal Workers to become the United Public Workers of America, in its recent convention at Atlantic City, N. J., received a report expressing pride in the union's fight against discrimination in federal service, said to be unsurpassed by any other union.

Among the union's achievements are the abolition of segregation in government cafeterias and the practice of requiring photographs on civil service applications.

Vice-President Thomas Richardson affirmed the union's policy in favor of government workers without reference to race, creed, or color. He said that efficiency can be heightened by elimination of discrimination, and the union could make a real contribution to government service as a career by carrying out the policy.

The union is currently engaged in a campaign to force the abolition of anti-Negro discrimination in the hiring policies of various federal agencies.

L. A. Pastors Are Urged to Aid Anti-Restrictive Covenant Campaign Launched by HPA

Approximately 100 persons turned out to a banquet given last Friday night in the patio of the Crystal Tea Center in response to aninvitation from the Home Protective Association to join the fight against restrictive covenants.

A resolution was introduced at the banquet by Rev. M. Harvey Duvall, pastor of the Macedonia Baptist church, calling upon the pastors of Los Angeles to support the fight against racial residential restrictions, and to sponsor anti-restrictive covenant Sundays in the churches.

Attorney Marburg Yerkes delivered a dynamic speech in which he pointed out the basic evils of restrictive covenants, urging all American citizens to aid in the hard struggle ahead.

The future program of the HPA, including street meetings, parades, drawing up and signing of petitions, and the introduction of political action was outlined by Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor-publisher of the EAGLE and president of the HPA.

Mrs. Henry Laws and Chinese-American war veteran Tommy Amer, both victims of restrictive covenants, were introduced by Mrs. Lois Newman, program chairman.

Other speakers included Rev. John Alexander, First AME church of Indianapolis, Ind.; Helen Danford, Mobilization for Democracy; and Ruth Slade, Congress on Civil Rights.

The first express company in America was established in 1847. It operated between Boston and New York.

NAACP Readies Final Stage of Recruiting Drive

The local NAACP branch this week had passed the 10,000 mark in its membership drive and was putting the finishing touches on plans to line up every neighborhood business in the "Finish the Fight" campaign. This phase of the drive will get going by next Monday, with distribution of special display cards to cooperate business establishments.

Campaign workers last Tuesday night heard G. James Fleming give an inspiring account of the work in race relations which is beinb done by the American Friends and the Philadelphia NAACP. Fleming is secretary for race relations for the American Friends Service Committee and a member of the executive board of the Philadelphia NAACP.

L. G. Robinson, a vice-president of the local branch and a leading campaign worker, presented the highlights of the 1946 NAACP convention in Cincinnati. He outlined the program planned for the year ahead which calls for strong NAACP branches all over the country.

With more than 10,000 new members signed up, the local branch reported receipts of over $15,000 in the current drive. Although the bulk of NAACP memberships this year have been less than $5, a sizeable number have been much larger. Credit for many of these large contributions must go to Clarence Armour, a worker in the Temple district.

Since June 11, the following substantial contributions have been received: E. Maurice Adler, $20; Capt. E. L. Baker Camp, $71; Dept. of Calif. United Spanish War Veterans, $25; Alfred Bloomingdale, $50; Lorenzo Bowdin, $50; Milton H. Bren, $25; Mrs. J. E. Cooper, $100; U. S. Griggs, $50; Mrs. Stanley Johnson, $100; Donald May, $20; Ben Meyer, $25; Rev. M. F. Mitchell, $25; and Charles Schuster, $20.

A-Bomb Jitters

Forty-seven out of every 100 Americans would have the U. S. start an atomic war on grounds of suspicion rather than proof that another nation planned to attack the country with atom bombs, according to a survey by the National Opinion Research Center. Forty-three per cent favored waiting for proof that an attack was imminent.

Unconnected with the NORC survey, but indicative of the sinister influences plotting atomic warfare is the call by William C. Bullitt, former American ambassador to Moscow, for an immediate A-bomb attack on Russia. Bullitt's call for atomic war is contained in his latest book, The Great Globe Itself.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

It's a Disease and It Spreads

It is high time that the government take a hand and stop the lawlessness that goes on in some of the states, and threatens to spread over the nation.

To begin with Bilbo should be disqualified. And unless our senatorial representatimes who claim to be on the side of law and order stand up to be counted in protesting the future presence of not only Bilbo, but all of his kind in the Senate, we the people will know how and where to classify them.

Along this trend Congressman Adam Clayton Powell adresses a letter to Senator Mead of New York. The letter follows:

"I am urging you as the representative of millions of democracy-loving people, and in particular on behalf of 500,000 Negro people of New York State, immediately to take a firm public stand exposing Bilbo and using your power as a Senator and member of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections to have Bilbo censured, impeached, and his recent election declared illegal.

"Bilbo violated the Constitution by calling for armed revolt against the democratic processes of election. He has been elected by the Hitler technique of fear.

"We applaud your recent censure of Foreign Minister Bevin, of Great Britain, for his anti-Semitic utterances. You were 100% correct. You cannot do less in the case of Bilbo. This is America, not Britain. This is a U. S. Senator, not a foreign minister. A resolution of censure can be introduced immediately. A motion should be made before your committee declaring the recent election illegal. Silence on your part and Mr. Wagner's can only be construed as giving approval.

"Mississippi is not on trial now," says Congressman Powell. "America is on trial. Foreigners can well understand how, in a state as perverted as Mississippi—with the lowest rate of literacy and the highest rate of disease, with the lowest per capita income and the highest percentage of poverty—a man like Bilbo can be elected.

"But foreigners, and for that matter Americans, will continue to evaluate American democracy as a farce as long as legally elected Northern Senators like Wagner and Mead condone Bilboism by their silence."

There are people in Mississippi—Bilbo's politically controlled state, as it appears on the surface—who believe that because of the lies told in his campaign, Mr. Bilbo should be disqualified under the Corrupt Practices Act.

The disgusting feature of the Bilbo campaign and bogus election is the report that Negroes were allowed to vote unmolested; when as a matter of fact in the Mississippi Senator's own county there was posted a sign which read: "Negroes vote at your own risk."

Such voting methods, or rather schemes to prevent voting, in the Bilbo election is a deadly disease that will soon spread and destroy our government. We must destroy it before it spreads too far. Bilbo should be disqualified and should be driven from the U. S. Senate.

NAACP Closes Tenth Membership Drive

The local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is closing its tenth membership drive under the leadership of Thomas L. Griffith, young Los Angeles attorney.

Mr. Griffith is heading the organization for the tenth consecutive year. Through his leadership the local branch has been placed high in the rank with other branches in other cities. We predict that this year will top all others not only in the number of new members acquired, but also in the quality of real forcefulness for civic betterment and advancement of human relationships.

Has the American eagle become a vulture? While that smooth and glib customer, Paul Vories McNutt, is telling the world with beautiful speeches and gestures how much he loves us . . . the infamous ell Trade Relations bill . . . would, in effect, permit the carrion birds of Wall street to pick this country clean. — The Philippine Press.

In the state of Mississippi, there is . . . member of the world's greatest deliberative body and most exclusive club, known as Bilbo, the Man. There may well be some justification in making it clear that Bilbo is a man, but the fact that he calls himself a democrat does not make him one—we mean a man.—Johannes Steel in his syndicated column.

New Council Favors Price Control

The New Council of American Business, Inc., has gone on record as being definitely opposed to the killing of all price control, as advocated by the National Association of Manufacturers.

With national offices in Washington, D. C., where the trend of events in Congress can be watched, the New Council of American Business declares there is only a small but very noisy segment of the business of America that has given the impression that all business desires the emasculation of OPA.

Comparing present conditions with those following the first World War, the Council notes that the recipe of supply and demand was not successful then.

"The public just could not buy goods at the peak to which inflation had carried prices. A third of all factory workers lost their jobs. Farm prices collapsed and cut average farm income from $1360 a year to $460; 453,000 farmers were robbed of their farms through mortgage foreclosures. The manufacturers of the nation went into the red to the extent of $55,000,000 in 1921."

"That's what happened then," concludes the New Council of American Business, "when we counted on demand and supply to fix prices in a war-inflated economy. It will happen again if we take the advice of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"The manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers who are members of the New Council of American Business, almost without exception, are enjoying record volume and peak peacetime profits. Business is booming. Jobs are plentiful."

The New Council of American Business wishes to keep things going like that, and for this reason advocates strongly that price control continues. It is heartening to hear this voice in the wilderness of confusion, calling for a sensible view of the situation.

It is most heartening, indeed, to know that the more progressive businessmen of the country, with an eye to the future and not merely with the desire to grab what can be grabbed while the grabbing is good, are battling as earnestly as the common man of the street for the retention of the control of prices.

The Council has a number of charts showing graphically how business has increased under the OPA, and members of Congress have written to the Council for these charts to study them. Every member should be interested enough in the welfare of the country to read this well written literature. We recommend it especially to Senator Taft, the leader who wishes to kill all price control.

Hail to the Queen!

There are two women in America the public acclaims outstanding—one so-called white, the other black.

Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, stands among her sisters, but head and shoulders above in service to her fellow Americans. Her keen interpretation of the needs of all the people and her vision of world fellowship points the way to the new world and makes Eleanor Roosevelt a great American.

On the citadel, standing firm and calling the score in progress made by 13 million Americans, is that other great American woman, Mary McLeod Bethune. Her leadership responsibility is fraught with many perplexing problems. She is not only the interpreter of the needs of her people, but likewise the physician prescribing a cure for their ills.

Mary McLeod Bethune's position is unique. She is acquainted with the problems of her people. She fought her way up from poverty to her present attainment of a national leader whose council and advice is sought by men in high places.

Los Angeles hails the queen. Mary McLeod Bethune is visiting Los Angeles this week.

Not since Japan imposed her infamous Twenty-one Demands upon China, or when Britain presented her harsh terms upon Siam shortly after V-J Day, has the world seen such an instance of a big power trying to brow-beat a weak people into economic slavery as that represented by the proposed Tyding-Bell amendment to the Philippine Independence Act. — The Manila Daily Standard.

Did They Sacrifice Their Sons for This?

From an Indian's Standpoint

By DALJIT SINGH SADHARIA

THE HOLY LAND ON FIRE

The tragic and bloody events that are taking place in Palestine should be deplored by all lovers of humanity and justice and by men and women who are bending all their heroic efforts to bring peace and harmony to a world sadly torn by strife and war. The greatest war through which humanity has just passed has left behind the evil legacy of hatred and unrest which threatens to dissolve the shaky foundation of a loosely-knit world community to atoms.

A single match thrown into a powder magazine will kindle the flames of war and rebellion to the remotest corners of the globe, throwing races and civilizations at each other's throats, plunging the human race into a wild orgy of bloodshed and horror similar to what followed after the dissolution of the Roman empire, and throwing back the onward march of civilization by a century.

The mortal combat in which a great empire is engaged with an oppressed and despised community of 15 million Jews is no insignificant or minor affair as many wrongly suppose; it is a threatening cloud that will envelop the skies in our time with horror and tragedy that will throw into shade the ghastly murders and crimes of World War II.

The English military chieftains are sadly mistaken if they think they can overpower the Jews by a display of brute force and stifle the efforts of the children of Israel by massacring the leaders and patriots of the Jewish people. In more senses than one, the British empire is a defeated power; and it is this shame and humiliation that eggs on the English military sections in their mad and criminal enterprise.

The English war lords propose to restore their lost prestige in the eyes of eastern races and the world by overpowering a little community of Jews by all the vile arts of diplomacy and war. They can no more suppress the Jews than they can hold back the tides of hatred and revenge which are rising mountain-high against them throughout the world. Had it not been for the folly and intransigeance of Hitler there would be no England today. The scientific genius of the Jewish race saved England in the first world war; and it is a matter of base ingratitude on the part of England to massacre the Jews in Palestine in order to bolster their shattered prestige.

The English play with fire when they cook up a mortal strife with one of the most scientifically advanced community in the whole world. The sooner the English military circles give up the vain effort of the destruction of the Jews the better for England and the peace of the world.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

When Ilya Ehrenberg, prominent Russian writer, visited the United States he was interested primarily in the people, not in American scenery. How the people live. What they think. What are their hopes, their plans, their ideals.

And he said the American people were very difficult for a Russian to understand.

He found the American people generous to a fault—in an emergency. Just tell any group of Americans that a little child has been hurt and needs a blood transfusion to save his life. And every one of that group, to the last man, will volunteer to give his blood. Traffic in a large city like New York will be held up while a family of ducks waddle complacently across the street. There are Thanksgiving dinners and Christmas baskets galore "for the underprivileged."

But—

Ilya Ehrenberg said that in New York City he saw a box of cigars that cost $200, and in Tennessee he met a man with a family of six to provide for, and the total income of that family for a YEAR was $200.

And that is what a citizen of the USSR cannot understand.

It's our American way of life, of course. The kind we're continually boasting about, although few of us who do the boasting really understand what we're talking about.

For this boasted American way of life presupposes immense wealth at the top, wealth so great that one can spend $200 for a box of cigars and think no more about it than most of us would in buying a 5-cent cigar or a package of chewing gum. But at the other end of our American system is poverty so dire that a 5-cent cigar or a 5-cent package of chewing gum is an unthinkable luxury. At this end are people, not only in Tennessee or other parts of the South, but right here in Los Angeles, who live in shacks and windowless garages with dirt floors, who suffer from diseases caused by malnutrition because they haven't enough money to buy the proper food.

But there aren't any people going hungry today, you say?

In Los Angeles county alone there are more than 17,000 people getting county aid of $35 a month or less. How many there are in other counties of this state and in other states of the Union, including the South, I don't know. But there are plenty. Think they'll even ever see a $200 box of cigars? How much and what kind of food do you think they can buy after paying rent, etc? For rent and all the other necessities which go to make up our American way of life, are included in county aid.

Yes, this is our American way of life. Extreme wealth at one end of our economic system, and extreme poverty at the other. But it's exactly what the majority of Americans want. We vote for it, year after year. Some of us vote for it directly, but an even greater number vote for it indirectly by simply staying at home and doing nothing about it.

All this hullabaloo about price control NOW is of little avail after we not only nominated but in some instances also elected at the recent primaries the candidates endorsed by the National Associataion of Manufacturers, the organization which is engineering the killing of the OPA in Congress.

"You can't expect your representatives in Washington to lose their jobs by doing what you by your votes tell them you don't want them to do," said a California legislator recently.

Of course we'll have inflation. And then a depression, as we had under Herbert Hoover. But, so what?

"Some of the weaker, according to the law of nature," cynically observed an advocate of the "American way of life" during the Hoover regime, "will naturally die under the stress of the times. Others will not propagate their kind. The strong and hardy will survive and reproduce. Thus the human race will be strengthened."

And THAT, supposedly, is the American way of life

Do you wonder that it is exceedingly difficult for a Russian to understand us Americans? Why, ask those citizens of a country where the welfare of humanity is placed first, do the American people stand for such things?

I don't know. I just know that we do.

Jimcrow Sign Marred Visit, Says Russian

MOSCOW—A jimcrow sign in an Atlanta, Ga., railroad station spoiled his impressions of the U. S. during his recent visit to that country, Ilya Ehrenberg, noted Russian journalist, says in an article in Izvestia.

The Soviet writer relates how greatly impressed he was with the evidences of American inventive genius, adds, "I wanted to say to my nice companion, 'You know how to make human existence easier.'

"But I had no time to say it—I saw a dark, evil-smelling room with the inscription, 'For Colored.'"

W. J. Wheaton Says

Bilbo's victory in Mississippi means that the nation will be burdened with six more years of Bilboism. There is no doubt had there been a democratic expression, had all residents of Mississippi been allowed the opportunity to have cast a ballot without duress, there would have been an end to the representative whose rating, he bordering on imbecility, are odious to all self-respecting citizens.

When the right of franchise can be exercised without fear in the South and the ballot, instead of the bullet, be the deciding factor in deciding the choice of candidates, Mississippians will realize that such representation as they now have, is a reflection, not alone on the moral status of their state, but on their intelligence.

The recent Mississippi primary has one saving grace: national attention was drawn to conditions in the state. The American people, in the name of common decency, will be compelled to use some means to cleanse the "Augean Stable" and purify the political atmosphere, so contaminated by bigotry and racial hates. Adverse as conditions are, or seem to be, we have faith in the ultimate triumph of right faith that justice will prevail. The signs of the times show a tendency to that end. The strenuous exertions, now being made by the bigots, are the "Swan Songs" of a dying cause. The entering of a new generation brings progressive ideas and a new and better concept of responsibilities. It brings, also, the knowledge gained by noting the fallacy of imposing restrictions on their fellows. Contacts and education have done much, will do more to eliminate those evils. There is an old proxerb stating, "The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine."

When the grist of hates, religious, racial and social, is placed neath the millestones of the gods of truth and right, the creed of Bilboism will have been so finely ground that the residue will vanish on the winds, generated through public opinion. That is evidenced through the investigation of the Ku Klux Klan and other organizations.

We must realize that the world is passing through a momentous crisis, and that no great movement was ever proclaimed or promulgated without persecution nor gained without sacrifice, and this applies to the Negro more so than any other of these groups. They must prepare to combat the insidious opposition, racism, and the fanaticism of intolerance.

It can be asked, how is this to be accomplished? Can the instincts which govern the mass of humanity be overcome? Yes as we have said the process might be slow, and at times, discouraging, but the constant application as to the meaning of true democracy will without doubt bring the most abstruse minds to a realizatioin of its true import. Vigilance coupled with unselfish sacrifice, will hasten the end.

San Francisco votes on the recall of its Mayor on July 16. Remember? Well we note among the sponsors against recall are two Negro political organizations. California State Colored Republican Clubs and the Dr. George Washington Carver Progressive Democratic League. We have sought to find some responsible head or leadership but at this writing have no success. We think the Negro people are entitled to show on what basis their organizations are defending Mayor Lapham who has never lifted his little finger to defend the democratic rights of minority groups.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By Martinez Hewlett

Our little offering this week will be in the way of an I-told-ya-so discussion.

Not long ago everybody was pointing the finger of rebuke at the maritime unions because they threatened to tie up shipping by going on strike. Very few people bothered to look into the management side of things. The unions won out, however, but they were still generally considered a bad lot.

Remember how the President wanted to make navy men out of all of the merchant seamen? After reading about themselves in anti-labor newspapers, some seamen I know were afraid to look into mirrors.

But as the saying goes, murder will out. And as far as the shipowners go, it's out in no uncertain terms.

It seems that these boys have monkeyed around with the taxpayers' money — right out of the treasury of the United States, too! Although the full details of their high-handed swindle will come out only after a congressional investigation, many facts have been brought to light.

The shipowners literally took hundreds of millions of dollars in excessive profits from the treasury, aided by a $21,000,000,000 pot appropriated for the War Shipping Administration. According to the facts the shipping companies, just before and during the war, multiplied by many times their assets and net profits.

On top of all of their lucrative enterprises (at government expense) it seems that the shipping lines have come out of the war with a multi-million dollar tax-free pool because the whole mess was government subsidized.

The books of six representative companies have been scrutinized. And guess what? Net profits have been raised from less than $5,000,000 per year to $44,000,000 with net assets rising from $31,000,000 to $127,000,000. When you multiply these figures by 10 for each year, the totals are staggering.

Many of the shipping lines are interlocked with other, big corporate interests — banks, railroads and steel manufacturers, and all efforts so far toward a thorough investigation of this situation have been blocked by congressional friends of the private shipping interests.

This is what we've been screaming from the housetops. The big corporate interests are all in the same boat. What hurts one hurts them all. They fight back with millions, taken from the pockets of honest Americans.

You don't have to be a mental genius to figure that out. Look at what happened in the recent shipping strike. Millions were spent by the shipping interests to attack organized labor and to lure public opinion on the side of management.

Anti-labor forces worked incessantly in congress, promoting labor shackling legislation. Truman was influenced to the point of drafting men into the navy and army and destroying labor unions had this bill been passed.

And these ship owners. Here it is they've been bleeding the United States treasury like mercenary leeches, but to a lot of Americans they were "nice" people who were being "victimized" by organized labor. And with all of this money in their coffers, they had the gall to refuse the paltry union demands.

The same is true of the railroads, the steel industry, the automotive industry and the other big corporations. During the war years they came out of the red and waxed fat with swollen profits derived from government subsidies with kickbacks from other agencies and with exhorbitant charges for all services rendered. All this while our country was fighting for its life.

You'll remember that all through this period the forces of organized labor kept their pledge of non-strikes. But did management and capital display the sense of fair play and patriotism? They did not. They got as much as they could from a government engaged in mortal conflict with an enemy bent on destroying all the vestiges of a free world.

And this government so engaged could not take the time to stop and ask questions. But the time has come.

Then, too, in this postwar period we have seen these same corporate interests in action. Not only did they refuse the just demands of organized labor, but they used everything in their power to vilify the name of organized labor. They worked through out legislative bodies with their paid minions who would "legally" throttle organized labor.

And is this the type of "free enterprise" our men died for? They tell me that robbing one's own government is tantamount to treason. I say that whoever, no matter how large or small, is responsible, should be dealt with just as we would deal with a traitor, who sold out to our enemies.

These are the real racketeers. These are the proponents of inflation. We must recognize these facts and act accordingly.

(In 3 Parts. Part 2)

HEALTH:

This oppression cripples and kills. Sickness, which incapacitates for a minimum of one week, is 40 per cent more common to the Negro than to the white. In 1940, while 45 out of every 1000 white children born alive did not live to reach their first birthdays, 85 Negro children died during the same period. And the proportion of deaths for children from one to four years of age is almost twice as high for the Negro as for the white, while the maternal death rate is more than twice as high. Finally, while a white man could expect, in 1940, to expect almost 63 years, the Negro man's life expectancy was 52; and the figures for white and Negro women were 67 and 55 respectively.

These figures, let this be perfectly clear, are "no more than a difference of mortality for different economic classes," they do not represent some innate "racial" characteristic. Moreover, as the children's bureau of the Department of Labor showed, the infant mortality rate for Negro families whose fathers earned less than $450 per year was practically the same (indeed, a little lower) than that for white families of a similar economic status.

EDUCATION:

The attempted degradation of this entire people includes, and is concentrated upon, unequal educational opportunities. This fact of undemocratic education may be demonstrated in dozens of different sets of official figures issued by all or some of those 17 States where separate—Jim Crow—systems are reqdired by low, and where the majority of the Negro people live.

The latest compilation coming from the United States Office of Education states: "Data for any given year show the wide differences which still exist in many states between educational opportunities for white and Negro children."

All phases and facets show this discrimination. Thus, for 1941-42, while the load per white teacher was about 28 pupils, it was 36 for the Negro teacher; while the average number of days a white child attended school was 144, it was 126 for the Negro; the average annual salary for the instructional staff (including supervisors, principals, and teachers) in Alabama was $923 for whites and $458 for Negroes, in Arkansas $740 and $441, in Florida $1,282 and $671, in Georgia $961 and $460, in Louisiana $1,303 and $547, in Mississippi $712 and $226, in South Carolina $1,038 and $465, in Virginia $1,133 and $765.

The 11 Southern States that reported expenditures on transporting Negro and white children to the schools spent a total of $1,329,095 for Negroes, while the single state of Alabama spent $1,994,018 to transport its white children. In this regard, South Carolina, whose Negro children number very nearly the same as the white children (212,630 and 262,580) spent $1,222,226 for transporting the latter and $6091 for the former! Again, for "promotion of health" the State of Georgia spent $30,426 on its white children and $1571 on its Negro children, though the latter equal well over half the former in total numbers.

In terms of figures, one may summarize by stating that the level of support of the median classroom unit per year in the South for Negro schools equalled from $400-$499, and for white schools it equalled $1,100-$1,199—and some people still prattle about "separate but equal" facilities!

The tragedy behind these statistics was forcefully brought before the American people during the late war. The percentage of draft registrants deferred because of educational deficiency (illiteracy) from May 15 to September 14, 1941, was 11 times greater for Negroes than for whites! This was, of course, the result of the educational system provided for them, and of nothing else. Thus, within 15 states the rejection rates for Negroes was lower than the total percentage rate of white rejections, and in 26 northern states, the rejection rates for Negroes were less than they were for the whites in ten of the southern states.

This inequality of opportunity exists not only in elementary education, but also, and to an even greater degree, in higher education. This becomes crystal-clear when one realizes that, in 1940 the median school year completed by the Negro, throughout the country, was 5.7 while it was 8.4 for the white. Over 40 per cent of the total Negro population, as of 1940, had been forced to complete no more than four years of formal education, as compared to 13 per cent of the white population. The abominable situation has been summarized, officially, in this sentence: "There is a definite lack of availability of higher educational facilities for Negroes in those states maintaining separate schools."

OTHER PUBLIC SERVICES:

Privileges and rights, other than education, normally associated with full American citizenship, are likewise very largely denied the Negro. Thus, to quote again the summary remarks of a government publication: "...in cities paving, lighting, sewerage service and police protection often cease where the Negro residence section begins . . . In many areas there is no hospital service of any kind available to Negroes, and the medical and nursing service is often wholly inadequate if not lacking altogether."

And, in many sections of the nation Negroes are "either excluded or permitted to occupy only some special section" so far as museums, art galleries, theatres, concert halls, public auditoriums, parks, gymnasiums, and swimming pools are concerned!

Library service for Negroes in the South (where, remember, over nine million Negroes live) is utterly insufficient. Thus, in 1939 there were in 13 Southern states a total of 99 poorly equipped public libraries which served Negroes. This was less than one-seventh of all such institutions in the area, and meant that while 43 per cent of the white people of the South are provided with public library service, but 21 per cent of the Negroes have any such service.

On Man's Best Friend

By SNOOP THE SNITCH

In keeping with our promises unlike many campaigners these days) we shall continue our little enlightening discussion on the boys who cause other little boys truckloads of woe. We said that we would present, analyze and discuss for public information and education, three good reasons why good men harbor dark thoughts against certain of their fellow men. So here goes:

1. THE SMOOTHIE—Ah, the glamour boy a la Esquire, Hollywood and Vine and other dress influencing institutions. Every second-class emporium, commercializing on sensational styles can thank this fellow for staying in business so long. For the fairer sex he has mastered three or four corny routines contrived to throw them off balance so that they can compliment him on his rather peculiar attire. He speaks in low tones and flourishes a pair of sun glasses during the course of a conversation. He is always doing some sort of mysterious work for a barber, pub proprietor or poolroom manager. You can spot him in an instant. Just find a large mirror and he'll be there admiring himself.

2. THE SHARK — This guy brags about cheating at cards and being able to throw dice on any point he so desires because he knows the combinations. This would be a worthwhile achievement if this crap-shooting genius wouldn't rely on crooked dice. He can walk into a pool hall and run a dime up to ten dollars by taking the suckers. He spends half his life practicing the various arts and sciences dealing with crooked gambling odds and what have you. His intimates consider him an authority and would swear that if the other fellows weren't cheating too, he'd be rich. Every now and then some poor fool comes along, blind in both eyes, and gives him a chance to break him. With his watch pocket stuffed with crumpled bills he proceeds to run his money up by wagering on the ponies. You see he knows the odds. But the gol-darned horses just won't do right. So we find our hero back in the pool hall, with cue in hand, purposely missing easy shots to lure some unsuspecting non-pool player into a "sociable" game.

3. THE RAT — You've seen this fellow scurrying along through alleys with a dirty, neck, throwing furtive glances over his left and right shoulders every four feet. He's the small time rat, despised by almost everybody, even the cats and dogs who consider back alleys as their favorite places to hang out. He's always volunteering information to the wrong people and ends up on the wrong end of the stick. For a drink he'll even manufacture up a little mess. But then there is the "Big" Rat. He's the character to look out for. This guy uses every front imaginable to camouflage his S-2 activities. Especially around election time. Not only does he throw rocks at his grandmother but he would even hock her Sunday teeth for a buck from the wrong politician. He's difficult to spot because he comes in all shapes, sizes and professions but you can get an inkling by finding out who's voting for who.

Before we take our accustomed bows for this latest literary gem we will ask our dear readers to write us at this newspaper and criticize our work (your favorite and mine) constructively or otherwise, we will be more than glad to peruse it with an eye toward publication. Exposes are our specialty. We might even delve into long forgotten mysteries. Who knows?

Colleges Get First Share Of 1946 Fund

NEW YORK—A first distribution of $300,000 is being made to the 33 member colleges of the United Negro College Fund out of the proceeds of the 1946 campaign, according to an announcement by W. J. Trent Jr., executive director of the fund.

"This money," said Trent, "is sent to the member colleges prior to the close of their fiscal year in order that they might be able to close the year either without deficit or with a reduced deficit. The manner of distribution is based upon a formula which the colleges themselves have worked out and consider fair and equitable."

The 1946 campaign to raise $1,300,000 is still under way in practically all of the major campaign cities. As of July 1, the fund had received through contributions or commitments a total of $850,000.

Fund headquarters are located at 38 East 57th st.

Committee Shelves Minimum Wage Bill

WASHINGTON—The hopes of millions of underpaid workers for relief in their losing struggle to make both ends meet went glimmering this week as the house rules committee shelved the administration-backed bill to raise the national minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour. It is feared that no action on the bill will be taken until the next session of congress.

Action on the bill was postponed at the request of Rep. E. E. Cox (D., Ga.), who is going to Georgia for the state primaries and "wants to be here when we vote on this bill."

IF THERE'S INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Every mother in town, I believe, called me within one week last summer when there was an outbreak of infantile paralysis in a nearby community. Everyone wanted to know what could be done to protect her child from getting polio.

Infantile paralysis is most apt to occur in the summer months. From June to September is the danger period, with the greatest number of cases usually occcurring in September. Undoubtedly there will be outbreaks this summer, too. I want to mention a few points which should be kept in mind about this tragic disease, which often leaves its victims crippled for life.

Many people think of infantile paralysis as a disease of very young children, but older people may get it, too, so everyone should be careful if there is an epidemic.

It is too bad, but there is not any one thing we can do to prevent polio. Nobody knows exactly how the disease is spread and it is very hard to prevent a disease if we do not know how it is spread. There are certain precautions we can take, however, that lessen the danger of catching the disease.

Although we do not know how to prevent polio, we have learned a lot in recent years about treating it. We have learned so much that in many cases crippling can be prevented with proper treatment.

It is, therefore, very important that any child or adult who gets the disease be placed under good medical care at once. It is most unfortunate that sometimes people try all kinds of remedies before they seek medical advice. When the finally go to a doctor, it may be too late to save the patient's life or to prevent him from being crippled.

The first symptoms of polio are often a headache, unexplained fever, a cold or an upset stomach. If there is an outbreak of infantile paralysis and a member of your family complains of any of these symptoms, get in touch with a doctor at once.

Although we say we cannot prevent polio, if people follow a few simple rules they may avoid the disease.

We know that people who are all tired out are more apt to catch polio than those who get plenty of rest. Chills also weaken resistance to the disease, so we should not stay in cold water too long and should avoid sudden chilling. Swimming in dirty water may prove dangerous too. It is just as well, too, to keep away from crowds.

It is important, too, for the individual to keep clean and for the community to be kept clean. Flies may spread infection, so all food should be protected from flies and other insects. Garbage should always be covered, both in the home and after it is taken to the street for collection by city. People should always wash their hands before eating, lest they have touched something that has germs on it and the germs are carried to their mouths.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is ready to help any community which has an epidemic of polio. It will also help individuals who are stricken with the disease. The Foundation, which has its headquarters at 120 Wall st., New York 5, N. Y., has chapters located in many counties throughout the country. The National Foundation or the chapters will gladly tell people what to do in case of an epidemic or your own doctor will tell you what to do. By all means, get in touch with your doctor immediately if polio is suspected.

Farm Employment Up 267,000 in South

WASHINGTON — There were 267,000 more white and Negro family workers and hired hands employed on farms in the South on June 1 than a year ago, the bureau of agricultural economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The largest increase occurred in the West South Central region —Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas—where total farm employment increased from 1,911,000 on June 1, 1945, to 2,045,000 on June 1 of this year.

Hired workers accounted for 21.6 per cent of the increase. Similar increases occurred in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

However, total farm employment in the South was nearly a million less on June 1 than for the same date during the prewar period (1935-39). But wages averaged three times as much as before the war.

A LAYMAN'S VIEW

By Leon W. Steward

NEGRO MARKETS UNDER RESEARCH

Back in early spring the Afro-American newspaper chain received a report from Research Co. of America regarding the buying habits and brand preferences and so on of the Negro market in their immediate trade area, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Some of the findings as reported in Tide March 15 might be of interest to readers of this column, which will soon celebrate its first birthday and never yet has gotten into any groove as to subject matter. Its policy being to stand in one spot, watch events go by, and comment "as the spirit moves." Well, thanks to Tide we bring you something rather new in the field of economics—"Negro Markets."

"Working in the dark because of the dearth of accurate data on the Negro population generally as to size, income and similar factors, the researchers had pretty much to feel their way. However, they decided on a sample size of no less than 1,000 Negro families in each city selected according to 1940 census tract data on Negro sections of each city and the concentration of Negro population within each tract."

"A carefully-briefed and supervised all-Negro interviewing staff, consisting mostly of college students, teachers and social service workers, held hour-long interviews with the respondents, got them to answer an eight-page questionnaire. Numerous Negro groups, including the faculty of Howard university and the Urban League, cooperated."

"So as to provide a basis for comparison of the three Negro urban markets under consideration—with essentially white markets like Milwaukee and Omaha and thus give the figures more meaning, the workers patterned most of their questionnaires after the famous Milwaukee Journal surveys. Where possible, they present their findings side by side with reports of the Milwaukee Journal survey of Milwaukee buying habits for 1945 and the simular 1945 Omaha World-Herald survey.

Interesting Comparisons

The purpose of the study was to show "how the Negro people live with special reference to their buying habits and brand preferences. For national advertisers, the findings are particularly interesting: in most cases they indicate a loyalty to national brands among Negroes studied, equal to or higher than that of essentially white markets, a higher percentage of use of the same type of products as the white markets, a relatively higher percentage of education than the United States national average and fairly high magazine readership.

As to income, however, the survey shows that only 5.7 percent of the Washington market, 4.1 percent of the Baltimore, and 3.9 percent of the Philadelphia Negro market have incomes over $5,000 a year. More than half of all Negroes in all three cities earn from $1,040 to $4,900.

"Despite this, of Washington Negroes, 66 percent are car owners, 55 percent bought their cars brand new and 27.3 percent expect to buy new (as opposed to used) cars when available, 36 percent of the Baltimore market (23 percent of whom own cars) bought their present cars new and 17.5 percent expect to buy a new car when available; 36 percent of the Philadelphia market, 14.9 percent of whom own cars, bought their cars new and 22.5 percent expect to buy a new car when available. An indication of cash on hand: over 30 percent of the respondents said they expected to buy a brand-new car if they could get one, in the next 6 to 12 months."

"The comparative figures for flour use showed equal usage (92.9 percent) in both white and Negro markets. Gold Medal had only a slight edge over Pillsbury as the first choice of Milwaukee purchasers (38.9 percent) as against (37.4 percent), but was more popular in Washington (53.9 percent), Baltimore (67.4 percent) and Philadelphia (65.1 percent).

Whisky and Tobacco

Interestingly enough, the study showed that the Negro markets preferred blended whisky to any other type. Comparative smoking figures indicated about the same number of cigarette smokers, both white and Negro men, but a 18 percent higher number of smokers among Negro women than in the essentially white markets. Brand preferences differed, with the women tending to smoke what their husbands smoked.

The survey turned up some interesting figures in magazine purchases, showing regular purchases by 84.3 percent of Washington Negroes, and half the Baltimore and Philadelphia markets.

All of this goes to show that the Negro market is the American market, that Negroes read, that Negroes read ads, that Negroes are spenders, that TO GIVE NEGROES FULL EMPLOYMENT IS A GOOD BUSINESS POLICY.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

BAHAMA ISLAND tennis enthusiasts are getting a sportsman's pleasure from watching Angel City's Eileen Thornton go through her winning streak of "love all" matches. Holding a comparable record to Pauline Betz of national tennis fame, the tan tone queen of the tennis courts departed a few weeks back to play in the Bahama tennis tournament. At the present time, local players are awaiting her return to take part in the Wilberforce tournament scheduled for August 18 through 24.

Jessie Mae Brown

The Wilberforce tournament will bring to the limelight many outstanding players throughout the country. Mrs. Josephine Brown, of this city, has been appointed to serve on the 1946 tournament committee of the American Tennis Association. Presently she is collecting trophies to be presented to the winners, and is making tentative plans to attend the Wilberforce match. The Angel City Racquet Club has reason to be proud for it is playing a big part in the nationals.

GENIAL HOST

Speaking of sports in the social set, Dr. C. W. Hill, one of L. A.'s leading hosts, honored Kenny Washington with a pre-season social kickoff last Sunday evening at his home (a hilltop show place) in the heart of Hollywood. Among those present were Bob Waterfield, another former UCLA great, and his wife, the glamorous Jane Russel, screen star of "The Outlaw." Believe me, it was an affair that will long be remembered. Mrs. Kenny Washington was on hand wearing a charming tailored suit. While munching tasty bits in the rumpus room, noted Madame Caterina Jaboro, Clotile Woodard, Dr. George Garner and many interesting members of the press. Throughout the affair, guests were entertained by Frank Roane and "The Originaires," formerly of the Great Lakes Navy Bluejackets program. After several rousing toasts to Kenny's success in the coming football season, another one of Dr. C. W. Hill's social fetes reached a climax.

A GREAT WOMAN

At the close of the National Council's party honoring the very gracious Dr. Mary Bethune's seventy-first birthday, I had the opportunity of interviewing the distinguished honoree who had been the champion of Negro womanhood, I should say all womanhood, for many a year. Dr. Bethune is a model, and the women of the Metropolitan council are doing their part to put her program over. Aside from the outstanding club women of the city attending the celebration, Miss Lena Horne was among those present, also Ivy Anderson, popular singer, who attended the famed Bethune Cookman college. The local branch of the council under the leadership of Dr. Veda Somerville has reached its financial quota for the year and is now forging ahead with other plans.

As the date of August 8 comes closer, the hundreds of AKA sorors and other Greek letter organizations bring plans to a close for the grand opening of this first Negro sorority's Boule. Under the leadership of the very charming Atty. Martha Williams, the AKAs held a joint meeting at the home of Miss Jane Criner, last Sunday morning. Committee reports held sway and special emphasis were placed on the public meeting, to be held on the UCLA campus . . . . .

Zeta Phi Beta sorors were hostesses to a Scholarship Tea Sunday afternoon in the garden of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Zetar's South Hobart Blvd home. Many contributors attended the affair between the hours of four to seven . . . The women of Sigma Gamma RHO sorority have scheduled a Grand Fiesta for Saturday and Sunday, July 20-21, at 2058 S. Harvard blvd. A raffle of worth while items will highlight the affair. All proceeds will be used to help prevent juvenile delinquency.

HERE AND THERE

The regular round of younger set parties got under way last weekend with R. B. Porter, of the Cosmos club, celebrating his first birthday at home in the past four years. The former air corps Lt. received felicitations from a gay group of his friends. Among those present were Leonard and LeRoy Beavers, Gloria Bunch, Catherine and Wimpy Stanaslaus, Gamiel Keys, Lloyd Gibbons and Johnnie Ballinger, of the Rhythm Rockers Combo. By the way, Lloyd and the boys have recorded a blues number written about R. B. Porter. They have made several other recordings with Excilsior and will soon leave on a national tour. Back to the guest list, Joe Oliver, Don Barksdale and Jane Hampton, Leonard Grimes and a very charming young lady, who by the way is the object of another Cosmos' affection, and a host of others attended. In mentioning Leonard's name, I see that the latest cover of Crisis magazine carries his photo of Orchid Oliver and another local lovely. The charming hostess of the party was the honorable Porter's aunt . . . .

Adding to the fun was a Saturday night soiree honoring Neal Collins. Many a younger set member was on hand joining the spirit of the evening . . . . The Kinlock club and the Alpha Phraterie club took to Cabrillo Beach with weiner bakes that followed the usual trend of a perfect evening . . . . .

Popular Catherine Randolph, recent S. C. graduate left L. A. Tuesday morning for New York. The deb plans to enjoy a month's vacation along with Wrenna Clark and Paulette Coleman, who reached the big city a few weeks ago. At the close of the month, the deb will enter the Howard university Med school . . . . Alfreda Jackson has departed for Stanford U, to do graduate work, and Evelyn Leonard is enjoying a few weeks rest in the East . . . . Romona Robinson left Tuesday evening in route to Philadelphia to revisit her home state, and spend about two months with her father. Friends there have planned many courtesies during her sojourn . . . Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Galloway are off for a week's vacation in Arizona . . . Dr. Davis and S. Arlington welcomed his better half back to the city following her lengthy vacation in the Lone Star State . . . Fellow scribe Libby Clark has returned as Mrs. Williiams . . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Baruch (Josephine Marshall), are enjoying a honeymoon at some secret rendezvous. The couple were wed Sunday afternoon in a very beautiful ceremony . . . . See that Virginia Gittens plans to join the group of young brides next spring. She is engaged to Irving La Bauve . . . . Miss Yvonne Cole was hostess to a baby shower honoring Tressie G. Jones. Doc Stork beat the scheduled shower date and blessed the proud couple with a daughter, who bears the name Beatrice Jones . . .

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Lunched with Christine Allen during the early part of the week. She has much on her mind, heading the Boule dance committee. . . . Lt. Weaver Turner popped into L. A. en route overseas for the second time. Thought we would meet the new Mrs. but she did not make the trip from N. J. . . . Johnetta Armstrong, the young matron who writes Dena Chit Chat for the EAGLE, is on the infanticipating list. . . . My sis, Fannie DeMan, just blew in from the East with much to talk about; sorry I can't take time to listen, for the old deadline is yet to be reached. . . . Emma Manuel will celebrate her birthday tonight by having a few friends in. With that I leave you. . . . 'TIL NEXT WEEK.

Alert Drill Club Tea Is a Success

The president and members of the Alert Drill Club felt very proud over the success of their tea held on July 7, at the home of the club president, Mrs. Janie Fernell.

A complete program was rendered, including several hair styles modeled by Miss Barbara Davis of the Ree-Ett Glamour Shop. The coiffure was styled by Mrs. Ruth Forman.

The club extends thanks to all who assisted in making a financial success of the affair.

71 YEARS, EACH MAKING HISTORY, was due occasion for the mammouth celebration in honor of Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, given by the National Council of Negro Women, Metropolitan branch, at the home of Dr. Vada Somerville Monday evening. The famous president of the council cuts the cake while screen star Lena Horn, Dr. Somerville, Betty Hill, and other club leaders look on. This affair climaxed a busy week-end for the metropolitan branch of the council.—Sheffield photo.

Dr. C. W. Hill Gives Studded Affair Honoring Kenny Washington

The laurels of fame still don the head of grid star Kenny Washington, who won the hearts of millions while he starred on the UCLA team a few years back. With Kenny's coming debut in the National Football league as a backfield star for the world champion Los Angeles Rams, the prominent Dr. Charles Wesley Hill, one of his most enthusiastic fans, honored him with a "good luck" party at his home on Franklin avenue in Hollywood last Sunday evening.

The affair proved to be a social highlight, with a musical interlude featuring Frank Roane and "The Originnaires," who were on the national Navy Bluejacket broadcast. Dr. George Garner was master of ceremonies of the impromptu program that held sway throughout the evening.

Jane Russell Attends

In addition to Kenny Washington, guests included Mrs. Kenny Washington, Ram quarterback Bob Watterfield and his wife, Jane Russell, of cinema fame; backfield coach Bob Snyder and his wife; Clarence Muse, a host of Kenny's fans, and members of the press. 'DENA CHIT-CHAT

By

JOHNETTA ARMSTRONG

One of the most beautiful weddings this season took place sharply at three o'clock at the Scott's Methodist Episcopal church. Before a flower-bedecked candle-lit altar, Edna Griffin and Langston Trigg were united in holy wedlock by Rev. Robert Hill.

Mrs. Maggie Miller, from Muskogee, Okla., came especially to attend the wedding. Miss Griffin and Homer Griffin, aunt and uncle of the bride, were also present. The couple was showered with many lovely presents. Lucille Wright, Bertha Woodard and Lucille Davis assisted in the ushering. The couple left after the wedding dinner at the Clark hotel for an undisclosed spot for their honeymoon.

Chatted with Mrs. Christine Hill after the ceremony and she says her baby girl is fine. Noted Attorney Ramsey, Louise Acres in a charming horse hair and straw chapeau, with Tona English, daughter of Dr. English. Esther Owens tells me she has the date all set. Mabel Renfro said that she will most likely get married in October. Saw Jean Morrow, who may middle aisle it as soon as she and her family return from a motor trip East. She as well as Babs Durham were surprised when told their fellow soror, Manilla Smith, was married. She is now Mrs. Assa Lee.

Members of the Friendship Baptist church were a little taken back when, after the morning ceremony, Irene Huff became the wife of Stanley Miles. Irene and her sister, Hallie Huff, who was her maid of honor, wore grey suits. Irene looked lovely in her white open-top straw hat, and other white accessories. Her corsage was made of white sweet peas. Raymond Miles, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. D. Carter. Many members of their families and friends were there to see them united in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff, Charlene Huff, Minnie and George Terrell, Jimmie and Clara Stewart were among the members of the family present. Mary Collins was there and one never knows when Bill Edson and she will surprise us all with an announcement or invitation of their marriage. Bernice Cunningham wore a lovely pink and brown creation.

Pasadenans are very happy to see two of their outstanding citizens home again. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Woods of the James Woods Mortuary. They spent six pleasant weeks in the East, taking in the baths at Hot Springs, New York, Baltimore, Cleveland, Chicago, Canada and other interesting points.

Mrs. Belle Dotson celebrated her birthday with a lovely dinner at Garner's Center. A beautiful table was set and a wonderful meal was served. Some of the guests present were Mr. Henry Burton, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Slater, Mrs. Helen Moore, who is leaving for the East soon; Mrs. C. B. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jackson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Marshall, daughter and son-in-law of the hostess; Mrs. Parrish, Mrs. Belle Lawson, Mrs. Fay Bartlett, Mrs. Gillam, Mrs. Lilla Belton, Mrs. Virginia Corry, Mr. and Mrs. Van Williams, Mrs. Wallace from Los Angeles, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Carrington from Chicago. Mrs. Wicks and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were there from L. A.

Mrs. Minnie Badger, sister of Mrs. Carrie Callier, is here visiting before leaving for Mexico. She was given a lovely reception to meet Mr. and Mrs. Callier's friends. Mrs. Sadie Williams was also in the receiving. Talked to Arthur Callier and Herman Sperlock and they will be going to Samuel Houston in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arrington (nee Mrs. Texada) were married June 22 and were given a lovely reception by Mrs. Virginia Cory. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner and Mrs. Andrews stood in the receiving line. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Newtone, Clarice Thompson, just back from Juilliard; Florence Buchannan, Savannah Jones and Mrs. Jones, from San Bernardino.

Sorry I couldn't make it to Jerri Coe's P.J. party. They tell me that Snooky McAfee, Freddy Ward, Louise Smith and many others had a grand time until wee hours of the morning.

The Fine's Introductory Dance was a huge success. The new members are Gwen Morrow, Jean Morrow, Barbara Durham and Anna Harrison. Took note of Wallace Decuir, Don Barksdale, Bettye Brown, Harrison Bailey, Lorraine Cuoton and many others. The PCAC's are going to have a dance at the Masonic Hall Saturday. Don't forget to go out and support these boys in your usual fashion. If you remember, their last dance was really grand and they have something up their sleeves for the near future. Didn't get to Aletha Carey's cocktail party for her cousins from up North. Hear everyone had a nice time.

Speaking of all these recent weddings and forthcoming ones, reminds me that when these couples can celebrate their 52nd anniversary as did Mr. and Mrs. Joe Utley, June 14, they will really have something to brag about.

One of the most beautiful affairs this season was the reception given by Rev. and Mrs. Brown. She is the mother of Floyd Covington. This reception given in the lovely home and grounds of the Browns was for Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Charles Gentry, and daughter Mrs. Ewin Wesley, her other sister Mrs. Aaron Abbott and her sister Lois, Mrs. Vernon Washington, and Mrs. L. L. Woodson from Topeka, Kansas. Other honored guests were Mrs. Charles Wesley from Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Noah W. Williams and Mrs. James Scott from St. Louis. Between 400 and 500 called from 4 to 7.

LOYCE LEONETTA ABBOTT, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron L. Abbott of Topeka, Kansas, is the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. John M. Brown, the former Mrs. Lillian J. Craw, at 849 Lincoln ave., Pasadena. Loyce was a member of the June graduating class of the Topeka high school and an honor student during the entire three years. She was a member of the high school chorus and Glee club, and the Girls Reserve cabinet, and was superintendent of elections during her Junior year. She was awarded scholarships from the Topeka Colored Teachers Association, Delta Sigma Theta sorority, and the State Parent-Teacher Association for high scholastic rating. She plays the pipe organ for St. John A.M.E. church, Topeka.

Mr. Howard was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Howard, a native Washingtonian, who visited relatives in the nation's capital during the last three months.

Prior to their departure for the coast, the Howards visited in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

"If you would that people like you, give them not what is good for them, but what they like." Socrates.

It is regretable that a few of my friends and students are up in arms because I selected a few of the old timers, and one new comer among our group of players that (I think) make a good timber for applied scientific competition, this, of course, does not mean that such staunch supporters of my classes, such as Mrs. Julie Asbery, Ann Daniels, Arie Walker, L. Roan, M. Hale, B. Reeves, the Swaffords and Fords, but like those mentioned including myself must study and apply their knowledge. What I think does not have to be true, it is my personal opinion, and I stick to my opinions without intention to offend, if I think I am right.

The highest efficiency of a system depends on two things: its worth against the weathering barrage of other systems, and the skill of its operators; hence incessant systematised action coupled with unfailing courage gives one mastery over the intricacies of any system and then even a novice will recognize your masterful execution. "Action speaks louder than mere words," "Since the things you do, speak so loud I cannot hear what you say." To my most worthy critics I trust the above adequately explains my position and remember that I did not say that any of those mentioned last week were without fault.

Summer School Enrollment Reaches All High at Jefferson

An all time high enrollment was reached Tuesday evening, July 9, at Jefferson's adult evening school. More than 300 students registered Monday evening alone.

Several classes are closed but waiting lists are available. These are costume designing, power sewing, dressmaking, upholstering, and a few others.

Robert H. Presley, principal, has planned a comprehensive and complete summer program. Presley has urged his faculty members to construct concentrated units of work which will afford a job well done by each student, rather than a "smattering" of an entire field.

COUTURSTAT

By Grace Fisher Atkins

The July meeting of the Nu Sigma chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority was surely one of beauty and loveliness. The garden of Soror Juanita Miller at 645 Michelteno was the scene of ladies and more ladies in the true sense. Red, yellow and blue in all values and chomes. Dainty mesdames and hefty ones, all with soft low voices threshed the pros and cons of coming conclaves.

Welcomes for the Alpha Kappa Alpha girls' national meet was urgent business for the day. Then installation of officers for the coming year made a Saturday complete for the delta meeting. Let's not forget the tasty food that Juanita and Alma prepared. Though they planned for 35 and 20 more came, each had much more than a taste just the same.

Charming Tycine Webb is the new soror president. Gowned in black crepe with soft drapes over each shoulder to the waistline from front to back, Soror Tycine accepted her office with the usual Delta dignity. Soror Hilda Allen, vice president, wore a warm day linen in bright yellow orange color. Her bonnet, decked with red, orange and yellow flowers, blended well into the background of the Miller garden. Synetta Dones-Smith, recording secretary, in a grass-green tailored suit smiled graciously when her name was called. Ida Bowman, in striped green and white in strictly "California" style, bowed in the "serene manner" as she became the new corresponding secretary. Sorer Angie Belle Nicholas twisted elegantly as she took her place beside Soror Bowman as her helper.

The renowned artist, Lorenza Jordan Cole and esteemed soror will guard the funds for the chapter. In light blue wool suit and matching ostrich feathers, Soror Cole stepped into the official row with pride. Vivacious Corine Adams in pale blue and white embroidered suit in summer sharkskin fabric deeply smiled and nodded wistfully as journalist for the coming year. Then last to name is Soror Honore Carey, whose presence was not beheld, honored by election as historian for the group.

Among the new Deltas from afar were Sorors Jessie L. Lathon, Mable Belle Calhoun and Louise Mounts. Visiting Deltas added much to the colorful atmosphere of last Saturday.

The mothers of Deltas also added much to the elegant environment. These fine women, who are the backbone of Delta sorors, were the guests of honor. Not only were they beautiful but they were kind indeed. Imagine, the Delta Mothers' and Sponsors' club voted to give $50 to the Delta treasury. There is nothing like the love and help of mothers.

Designing Clothes Important Art

Costume designing at Jefferson evening school is a study of designing as an art, and the Couturstat method as a procedure. There is no doubt that any process that will manufacture clothing to fit individuals without "try-ons" and alterations is of great value to the garment industry.

Grace Fisher Atkins is personally instructing the process in Room 133 at Jefferson adult evening school. There is much demand for cutters and pattern makers.

Though the class is filled at present, lists are being accepted for the fall season. The class meets each Tuesday and Thursday evening, from 6:30 to 9:30. Visitors are admitted in limited numbers.
